Judge Irwin, who was honored by his fellow citizens with the nomination for Mayor of Tionesta, during his absence last week, was appointed by the court Monday to fill the vacancy in that office. This honor came to the Judge wholly without his knowledge, under which circumstances he feels he cannot refuse to accept it in the spirit in which it is given, and he declares his intention to faithfully administer the duties pertaining to the office, not harshly, but with rigid firmness and justice, in which determination we are sure he will have the loyal support of all our good citizens.

At the annual reunion of the Eighty-third regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, held in Titusville Tuesday last week, the following officers of the organization were elected for the ensuing year: Col. C. F. Rodgers of Cory, president; Daniel Mitchell of Cory, vice president, and Dr. Russell of Union City, secretary and treasurer. The next reunion will be held at Cory.

At the fall meeting of Clarion Presbytery, held at Nickleville on the 15th inst., Revs. H. A. Bailey, of Tionesta, John F. Cooper, of Johnsonburg, J. F. Scherer, of Endeavor, Robert Morrison, of Big Run, and Samuel Davis, of Seneca, were elected to represent the Presbytery at the meeting of the Synod of Pennsylvania which convenes at Waynesburg, Pa., about the middle of October.

A general conference of Sunday school workers will be held at the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, to which everybody is cordially invited. Rev. J. F. Scherer, of Endeavor, delegate to the world's conference at Zurich, Switzerland, will be present and give an account of this great gathering, and in the evening Mr. Scherer will speak on the same theme in the M. E. church.

Mrs. J. H. Fay, of Leeper, Pa., died Sunday morning at 2 o'clock of typhoid fever. Mrs. Fay and daughter Lucille were stricken, both about the same time, with the disease. The mother was not strong enough to stand the ordeal and passed away, while the daughter is in a serious condition. Hopes are entertained, however, for her recovery. There seems to be a serious epidemic of the disease in Leeper, and reports say there are sixteen cases in that locality.

A change has been made in the Erie conference appointments of the Methodist Episcopal church, as originally given out. Rev. John R. Rich, who had been returned to the Polk charge and Rev. J. E. Hillard, who had been named as the minister at Cattaraugus, N. Y., have exchanged places. Rev. Mr. Hillard is by no means a stranger here, having served the Polk charge some years ago and having many friends not only there but in other places in this vicinity.—Franklin Herald, 22d.

J. S. Thomas, lawyer on the Coleman mill at Johns Run, met with a painful accident Friday afternoon. His father, James T. Thomas, of Williamsport, is visiting him and together they went down to the dam at the mouth of the creek to enjoy a few hours' fishing, and had already landed a couple, when Mr. Thomas slipped on the sheeting of the dam and fell in such a manner as to dislocate his right shoulder joint. Drs. Gregg and Henry gave the necessary surgical attention and neighbor Thomas hopes to be able to handle the "levers" at the mill again in a short time.

Rev. W. S. Burton has shipped his household effects to Clarion, Pa., and expects to leave today with his family for his new field of labor. In his two years' pastorate here and at Nebraska the amiable pastor has made a host of friends both in and out of the circles of his churches, all of whom sincerely regret his departure from among them. He is not of the blustering kind of ministers and doesn't believe in doing things with brass band accompaniment, but goes about his work in a quiet, unostentatious way, accomplishing far more for the good of his church and people than by the louder method. His report to conference last week showed a very healthy state of affairs in both the Tionesta and Nebraska churches, with a large increase in the membership of the churches and Sabbath schools at either place. All indebtedness connected with the church has a good working fund in their treasury. Progress has been the watch word with Mr. Burton and right well he has sustained that idea in his work here. Only best wishes from the people attend himself and family in their leave-taking.

Louis Dawson Meets Accidental Death.

Louis Dawson, aged about 24 years, employed at the Hotchkiss Brothers' warehouse on Mead Avenue, was fatally injured about noon Wednesday when he was struck by Wells Fargo Express train No. 14 and buried with considerable force against some cars on another train. An examination made at the hospital showed that Mr. Dawson had suffered a fracture of the skull; he was injured about the chest and both legs, as well as being hurt internally. Mr. Dawson was picked up by friends and hurried with all possible speed to Spencer Hospital, where he died at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The injured man was on his way home to dinner at the time the accident occurred. He started to take a short cut to his home and seeing a train approaching on the Erie tracks he stepped out of the way of one train directly in front of the express. The accident occurred in the vicinity of Torbett Alley. The victim of the accident boarded at 1152 West Street and has a large number of friends in Meadville. He is said to be a young man of splendid habits and a steady workman. He has a brother, who drives for Dreutlein and Klebert.—Meadville, Pa., Journal, Sept. 18, 1913.

The unfortunate young man was a son of Jesse U. Dawson, of near Pineville, Pa., and a nephew of Walter and Jesse Dawson of Dawson station, and Mrs. S. J. Grove of Tionesta. Besides his parents he is survived by four brothers and four sisters. The funeral was held in Meadville Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the body being interred in a cemetery there.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 105 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all druggists.

Caught a Bad Cold.

"Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Iowa. "We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that one bottle stopped his cough and cured his cold completely." For sale by all druggists. adv.

The operation was a success and revealed a condition which had made the operation imperative. His many friends here will be pleased to learn that he is improving nicely.

A large congregation welcomed Rex Wheeler at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning on his first appearance in the pulpit in Tidouche. He delivered a very interesting sermon on the healing of the Syrian General Naaman by the prophet Elisha and it was a sermon properly classified as a "single syllable" address. That is, a sermon in the plainest, simplest language and one understandable by even the children. He received close attention and many words of congratulation. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler may well feel proud of their talented son and his choice of a life work.—Tidouche News.

Recent Deaths.

Nathaniel Carbaugh, a soldier of the rebellion and a member of Cobham Post, died at his home two miles south of Fastunus last Saturday at the age of 71 years. Funeral services were held at the home by Rev. S. F. Marks, and the body was interred in Tidouche cemetery.—Tidouche News.

GLOSSER.

Mrs. Mary Glosser, aged 92 years, died suddenly Thursday night, Sept. 18, 1913, at the home of her son, Fred Glosser, near Leeper, Clarion county. She was born in Baden, Germany, and came to America about seventy years ago with her husband, Joseph Glosser. They settled on and cleared up the farm on which she passed her last days. Mr. Glosser was a soldier in the Civil war and died in Pittsburgh, Pa., during the first years of the war, from a disease contracted in the service. Mrs. Glosser enjoyed remarkably good health and was about the house all day before her death. She came of a long-lived race, her mother reaching the age of 108 years. She was highly esteemed in the community for her many excellent qualities. Surviving her are five sons and four daughters: Wm., Fred., Joseph and Frank Glosser, and Mrs. Joseph Gatesman, of Leeper; John Glosser, of Cornplanter township, Venango county; Mrs. Jacob Hoover, of Lucinda; Mrs. Peter Fisher and Mrs. Michael Gates, of Erie, Frank Gatesman, clerk at the Hotel Weaver, is a grandson and attended the funeral, which was held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Joseph's E. C. church, Lucinda, Rev. Father Heibel officiating.

AGNEW.

Mrs. Margaret Ann Agnew died at her late home in Strattonville, last Saturday, Sept. 13, 1913, after a long illness which had become serious in the last few months. She was the daughter of John and Elizabeth McNaughton, having been born in Millereck township August 13, 1834. She was of Scotch-German descent. She was united in marriage to John Agnew June 7, 1855. To them it was granted to live in happy and prosperous wedlock for a period of fifty-eight years. Five sons and four daughters were born to them and all of them are living to mourn the death of their mother. Surely, a remarkable blessing to have an unbroken family circle for over half a century. Beside the bereaved husband and sorrowing children she had 53 grand children and 29 great grandchildren. She died at the age of 79 years and 1 month and was laid to rest at her former home at Hominy Ridge, Monday morning, Sept. 15, the funeral services having been in charge of Rev. Glenn M. Shafer, of Clarion. When a girl of 13 she united with the church. For 65 years she has been a conscientious, loyal servant of the Master, a tender wife, a faithful mother, a loving neighbor. Such a life does not cease with death, but as is so well expressed in the text which she had herself chosen for her funeral text, "The world seeth me no more, but ye see me; because I live, ye shall live also," and she has gone ahead to await the loved ones whom she made promise to so live as to greet her there. Mrs. Agnew was well and very favorably known to a host of Forest county people in Barnett township, this county, in which community the family had lived for a number of years. The surviving children are: B. A. Agnew, Fisher; Mrs. W. J. Spence, Ella; Mrs. J. M. Buzard, Strattonville; B. L. Agnew, Brookville; H. L. Agnew, Bridgeport, Cal.; Mrs. W. A. Mathers, Grangeville, Ill.; Mrs. C. L. Rankin, Berea, Cal.; J. W. Agnew, Clarksville, W. Va.; and W. M. Agnew, Smithfield, W. Va., all but one of whom were present at the funeral.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT MARIENVILLE.

David Mintz's Large Department Store With All Contents Burns.

Marienville has again been visited by a heavy fire loss in the burning of the large department store of David Mintz at an early hour yesterday morning. Shortly after 2:30 o'clock guests at the Keystone Hotel discovered the fire and quickly gave the alarm, but when the citizens arrived at the conflagration the whole inside of the building was aflame, and entrance from any quarter was impossible, and the only available fire-fighting apparatus at hand—a couple of chemical engines—was inadequate to cope with the seething furnace inside.

The structure was the largest store building in the county, occupying a space 40x150 on the corner of Walnut and Spruce streets, two stories high and of solid brick. Its cost was at least $25,000. It was erected in 1902, shortly after the great fire that wiped out the entire business portion of the town and many of its best homes.

Mr. Mintz had done an immense business since occupying the new store and it was filled from cellar to garret with merchandise of every description. Not a single article was rescued from the burning structure. When the roof fell in the brick walls, excepting part of that on Walnut street crumbled and fell, leaving only a mass of ruins.

The amount of loss on building and stock is only conjecture as yet, but is thought to be well up to the $50,000 mark, with something like $30,000 insurance in the H. A. Shippe Agency. A frame structure near the main building used as a flour and feed store was saved, after about $1,000 worth of the contents had been removed.

How or in what part of the building the fire originated is unknown. Mr. Mintz, as is his custom, was at the store at a late hour and knows there was no evidence of fire when he left for his home to retire for the night. When he was aroused from his slumbers and reached the store he was determined, in his excitement, to enter the building, but was dissuaded by the cooler heads.

The loss of this elegant block is a serious blow, not alone to the owner, but to the business interests of the town as well, and whether Mr. Mintz will rebuild is not yet known, but it is hoped he may if even on a less extensive scale. His property interests in the town are quite extensive and it is thought this fact may induce him to put up another store building.

The only other damage sustained was by Editor Picketts of the Express, whose building on the opposite corner suffered to the extent of about $200.

September Court Was Short.

The regular September term of civil and criminal court practically came to a close on Monday evening.

Owing to the illness of counsel in the several civil cases all of these were continued until the November term, with the exception of that of the Forest County National Bank vs. Vail, which resulted in a non suit, and all the criminal cases being of a trivial nature were disposed of in short order.

Subpoenas in divorce were allowed in the cases of Antonio Donato vs. Dora M. Donato, and Joseph Gregory vs. Frances Gregory.

Phillip Wolf and Joseph Hinderer were appointed appraisers of the widow's allowance in the estate of Aaron Fenstermaker, of Tionesta township, deceased.

The widow's appraisement was also confirmed in the estate of Nelson Swartzfager, late of Howe township, deceased.

The sale of five pieces of real estate in the estate of A. L. Weller, deceased, in Kingsley township, was confirmed.

Permission to sell two pieces of real estate in the estate of A. M. Van Horn, deceased, late of Howe township, was allowed.

W. J. Campbell was appointed foreman of the grand jury. They acted upon one bill of indictment which was found a true bill.

The case of Com. vs. Ray Albaugh and Charles Atwell, charge entering, breaking and larceny, Jacob D. Fries, prosecutor, was the first criminal case called. The defendants plead guilty, sentence being suspended until November court.

The case of the Com. vs. Mrs. Jennie Breneman, charge desertion and neglect of her children, Mrs. R. A. Ishman, prosecutor, was tried and resulted in a verdict of not guilty, and county pay costs.

The case of the Com. vs. Lewis Dahle, charge assault and battery, Lewis Hannah, prosecutor, was not pressed upon payment of costs.

In the Juvenile Court, the case of Com. vs. Lester Hepler, charge larceny, Chas. Dykeman, prosecutor, the counsel admitted the charges made. Sentence was suspended upon payment of costs, and the defendant committed to the care of his parents, subject to the supervision of W. H. Hood, probation officer.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The boiler at the County Home is in bad shape and we recommend that the old boiler be removed and some more up to date heating system installed. Also the plastering in bad shape throughout the entire building and should be repaired. We further report that the glass on roof of jail has slipped down and should be repaired. The jail ought to have a new sink, and the juvenile jail needs some repairs.
