Women's Coats $10 to $25

A Showing That Has No Counterpart.

This Fall and Winter display of Women's Coats centers around the garments that are priced from $10 to $25—for within this range of prices the greatest number are sold. It is a showing, we believe, that has no counterpart in Oil City.

The manufacturers who supply us with most of our coats, confine their lines to us—exclusively—in this city. And they are big makers—who produce a tremendous variety of styles, all of which works to your advantage.

We get very few of one thing.

The styles of this season are exquisite. Heavy appearing cloths give a richness to the garments that is superb; and yet most of them are not heavy, when it comes to weight. It's simply a matter of appearance.

May we fit you to a coat while the assortment is at its best?

Fall and Winter Gloves.

Gloves for every fall and winter occasion; faultlessly fashioned, well-made, reliable, and backed by a house always ready to make good any imperfections that vigilant scrutiny may have failed to detect.

Now You Know.

Once, after exposing the ridiculous blunders of the editor of certain old plays, James Russell Lowell concluded with the remark, "In point of fact, we must apply to this gentleman the name of the first King of Sparta." No one remembered, of course, what this was, but when they looked it up they found it was Endimion.

To Admire and Remember.

"I would then have our ordinary dwelling houses built to last and built to be lovely, as rich and full of pleasantness as may be within and without. . . with such differences as might suit and express each man's character and partly his history."—Ruskin's Seven Lamps of Architecture.

New Knowledge Used.

One day Barrett, who stores up every big word he hears for future use, asked me the meaning of the word "elaborate." I told him it meant "fussy." A few days later his baby brother was crying, and he said, "Mother, Keith is an awfully elaborate baby, isn't he?"

The Millennium.

There can be no industrial peace until labor and capital have attained to the very highest pinnacle of intelligence and undiluted justice and until there is self-conviction on the part of both that they must deal justly with each other.—New York Tribune.

Submarines Dive Deep.

Deep diving is the special mark of progress in building submarine vessels now. The Salmon went down 144 feet recently, off Prudence Island, and remained at that depth 20 minutes.

His Sacrifice.

"I suppose, like all government officials," said the man who sneers, "you are making personal sacrifices in order to serve your country." "Yes," replied the village postmaster; "it's pretty hard to have to keep reading addresses when I'd rather be looking at the pictures on the post-cards."

HER IDEA.

Mr. Hicks—I see that the police are going to stop begging on the streets.
Mrs. Hicks—I hope so. I never did approve of policemen begging.

Starving Out Troublesome Pigeons.
City hall pigeons are once more under the ban in Philadelphia, and Director Porter is the man who is trying to get rid of them. Instead of attempting to do this, as Mayor Reubyn and Director Clay did, by putting up wire screen at the entrance and turning the hose upon the pigeon roosts, the director proposes to try the starvation plan upon the flocks.
He has issued orders to the city hall guards to stop all persons from feeding the birds in the courtyard and on the northeast plaza and to arrest those who persist in throwing corn, peanuts, cakes and bread to them.

Woman Bootblack.

London is to have its first woman bootblack. A woman has just completed arrangements to set up a boot-black stand at one of the busiest corners in the West End. She believes herself to be the pioneer woman bootblack in England and declares that the men in the business need not fear her competition, since she intends to devote herself exclusively to polishing the footwear of women and children.

EXPECT SALMON SHORTAGE

Blasting Washington Kills Over Million and Affects Spawning.
Railroad blasting operations on a tributary of the Fraser river in the state of Washington having killed more than 1,000,000 salmon and prevented the spawning of between 2,000,000,000 and 3,000,000,000 cockeye salmon eggs, the department of commerce announced that Americans might expect a shortage in its favorite article of food three to five years hence. The department pronounces the slaughter of the fish to be a "catastrophe."
"The effects of this catastrophe," it was declared, "will be seen three to five years hence, when the 1913 progeny come back to the river to spawn. How serious the outcome will be can only be surmised." The livelihood of thousands of persons in the state of Washington and in British Columbia depends on the annual "run" of these fish, which return year by year to the same spawning grounds.

Nose and Bones Broken by Thugs.
Beaten into unconsciousness by two thugs, John Fornholt, aged fifty, watchman at a brick plant just outside of Altoona, Pa., was found in a ditch with his nose broken and several ribs fractured and his watch and papers stolen.

Blest Opens Up Mine Workings.

Several miners had narrow escapes in the Diamond mine of the Lackawanna Coal company when men blasting for a sewer in Scranton, Pa., fired a heavy charge, the impact blowing a hole five feet long and almost as wide into the workings below. Men were mining coal only a few feet away.

Englishmen Buy Coal Acreage.

A British syndicate has secured control of the vast output of the New River coal field amounting to 7,000,000 tons annually in West Virginia. The coal deal is said to be the largest ever made in the bituminous coal fields of America. It involves 500,000 acres.

FAMILIAR EPISODE.

The court clerk says in accents slow: "Your're charged with speeding Richard Roe."

The copper says in accents sour: "The rate was eighteen miles an hour."

The chauffeur murmurs with a whine: "I wasn't going over nine."

The judge reads his law book lays: "And says: 'Ten dollars or ten days.'"

DIDN'T SHINE AT IT.

"Do you think you could sell our enamel for stoves?" the manager asked.

"I'm afraid not," answered the salesman. "I can't talk Polish."

Her Crime.

She masqueraded in men's attire. But the police dropped to her little plan. And she was fined by a heartless judge. On the charge of being a self-made man.

Almost Providential.

"I understand your house was entered by burglars last night, Mrs. Jipes," said the reporter. "What did they carry away?"

"O, they got a gold spoon or two, I believe, and a lot of silver plate," answered the smiling matron; "but thank goodness, they overlooked two books of trading stamps that I've been nearly three years in filling!"

All-Around.

"Julius Caesar," said the teacher who was showing her class through the museum, "was the greatest all-around man the world has ever known."

"If he was built like this statue of him," replied little George, "Taft has him beaten to a frazzle."

His Ways.

"My husband," sobbed Mrs. Frivol, "is the most contrary kind of a man."

"How so?" asked her sympathetic friend.

"Why, every time," responded the aggrieved wife, "that I begin dressing up he is sure to give me a dressing down."

Not Happy.

Bill—And you say Jack and Tom throw dice to see which would marry the girl?

Jim—Yes, and Jack won.
"And was he happy?"
"No; after the marriage he accused Tom of working loaded dice on him!" —Yonkers Statesman.

Accents.

"Baron Fuchas speaks English with a slight accent," said the young woman.

"Well," replied Mr. Cumrox, "so do I. But it seems to make a great deal of difference whether an accent falls from southern Europe or the banks of the Muskingum."

Ultra Refinement.

"Mrs. Jobbles is extremely sensitive about her manners. What do you think she said the other day when I advised her to use crude petroleum as a polish?"

"What did she say?"
"How could I expect she would use as a polish anything so unrefined?"

Of Course Not.

"It is rumored that Andrew Carnegie doesn't read many books."

"Why should he? There isn't much advertising to be had from reading many books."

The Dreaded Ordeal.

Bache—I hear that Runtler didn't show up for his wedding?
Nillin—No; he claims that his alarm clock failed to go off.

Bache—Huh! I bet he failed purposely to wind it.

The moisture of the eye is genuine solvent. Many persons have gone to bed troubled with a foreign substance in the eye and have waked in the morning to find it gone. In many cases of this kind the foreign matter has been dissolved by the moisture of the eye.

Not What She Meant.

"I think the baby has your hair, ma'am," said the nurse girl, looking pleasantly at her mistress.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the lady, glancing up from her novel. "Run into the nursery and take it away from him. What will that child do next?"

Ambitious.

"And is it your expectation to support me in the manner to which I have been accustomed?"

"Indeed it is!"

"Then let's call it off. If you cannot do better than that I may just as well remain where I am!" —Houston Post.
