

Calendar for November 1913 showing dates from 1 to 29.

WILLIAM SULZER was fortunate enough to fall from the executive chair into the very maelstrom of a local fight with Tammany.

LAST Sunday was the 91st birthday of Henry Gassaway Davis, of Elkins, W. Va., who was the Democratic nominee for Vice President in 1904.

In a recent speech before the New England Textile club, Governor Pothier, of Rhode Island, predicted a commercial yellow peril as a result of the recent tariff legislation.

FREE trade England has enormous trusts. The new tariff law will not disturb trust corporations and combinations.

PERHAPS it needed the setback to unify sentiment for good roads in this state. Many of those who objected to the bond issue are chronic or professional grumblers.

THE enforcement of the new law regulating the employment of women in Pennsylvania may result in hundreds of women losing their places in Philadelphia hotels this week.

THE Clarion Democrat, which fought the good roads bond issue mainly on the ground that there might be "graft" in it, now shouts as follows:

Now, then, let us all turn in to have the legislative and executive departments make a standing appropriation of $5,000,000 annually for the improvement and construction of the roads of the state.

A beautiful pipe dream, surely. As though the big delegations in the legislature from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the large eastern counties were going to be "turned in" to cut out their local appropriations yearly for the benefit of good roads in the country districts which turned down the proposition!

Michael D'Tracey, a Greek employed as a clerk in an Oil City confectionery store, was arrested Friday afternoon by County Detective Hiram Brown on a charge of pandering.

WATER RIVALS FIRE

Does Almost as Much Damage During Blazes at Warren, Pa. Warren, Pa., was swept by one of the most disastrous fires in a number of years. The loss is about $40,000.

The high pressure system was turned into the mains and the automatic sprinkler system in the H. C. Smith Co. department store was turned on, doing damage which, as yet, cannot be estimated, but which will be heavy.

READY TO KILL AGAIN

Condemned Murderer Makes Stiletto and Hides It in Cot.

Rosario Gigliotti, who is to be hanged at Smethport, Pa., Dec. 4 for the murder of Anthony K. Kohlen and Grace Rieger in Bradford, in December, 1911, was removed to another cell after the death warrant was read to him.

Miss Wilson's wedding cake is four inches thick and twenty-two inches across. When ready for the knife the cake will weigh 135 pounds and will be two and one-half feet tall.

TOMMY BURNS KILLED

World Famous Jockey Crushed Under Wheels of Elevated Train.

The mystery surrounding the death of Tommy Burns, the famous jockey, under the wheels of an elevated train in Brooklyn, has not yet been cleared up.

The police suspected that Burns was a suicide but his friends believe that while waiting for the train he threw off his overcoat, fell asleep on a bench on the station platform, started up suddenly as the train approached and while not thoroughly awake, stumbled off the platform.

Burns was one of the world's leading jockeys and was reputedly wealthy. He rode for such owners as W. C. Whitney, William C. Daly and several years ago carried the colors of the German emperor whose entries raced under the name of Count Lehndorf.

CZAREVITCH DOOMED, DOCTORS FEAR

A Coaxer For Noyes

Alfred Noyes after a lecture at Dartmouth college received the following dispatch from President Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols:

Come back to us in winter time, in winter time, in winter time (it isn't far from Boston.)

The college hasn't had nearly enough yet, so won't you and Mrs. Noyes try to return to us later for two or three days? Mr. Knapp is telegraphing your manager for another longer engagement.

The first part of this telegram is a parody of a refrain in Mr. Noyes' "The Barrel Organ."

Come down to Kew in lilac time, in lilac time, in lilac time (it isn't far from London.)

And you shall wander hand in hand with love in summer's wonderland; Come down to Kew in lilac time (it isn't far from London.)

Fourteen in a Bed. Hospitals are so plentiful and so efficient nowadays that we are apt to forget how we have advanced since the "bad old times."

The bedding together of patients was a marked feature, and though the beds were big, it is startling to read of twelve or even fourteen being placed in one. Up to the seventeenth century four posters were in common use, and the brilliant idea that the convalescents might be provided for on the solid canopies was duly carried into effect.

One of Boyle Roche's Gems. In "The Lighter Side of Irish Life" there is an extract from a speech of Sir Boyle Roche, that famous maker of "bulls," when he was denouncing the French revolution in the Irish house of commons. This is one gem:

"There, Mr. Speaker, if these Gallian villains should invade us, sir, 'tis on that very table maybe these honorable members might see their own destinies lying in heaps on top of one another. Here perhaps, sir, the murderous marshal law men, Marsellios, would break in, cut us to mince-meat and throw our bleeding heads upon that table, to stare us in the face!"

"So warm and so light" When you sleep every muscle of your body should be relaxed. Heavy covers are a strain that makes it impossible to get the full benefit of your rest.
