She was the widow of William Moore, who died nearly 20 years ago. They had resided on the farm where she died during all of their married life, upward of 60 years. Eight children survive, one of whom is Mrs. E. S. Blauser of Nebraska, this county.

—Rev. H. A. Bailey announced last Sabbath that special meetings would begin at the Presbyterian church on the first Sunday in February, and that he had the promise of Rev. Wm. Fleming, of Tarentum to assist him during the first week of the meetings. At the evening services Mr. Bailey gave the large congregation present a very complete account of the "Billy" Sunday revival meetings at Pittsburgh, which he had the privilege of attending while in the city recently.

—The mother and three children of the George Sisson family, who recently returned from Hickory township to Warren, will be sent to the tuberculosis sanatorium at Mt. Alto, their traveling expenses being paid by the Commissioners of Forest county, Clerk S. M. Henry being in Warren for that purpose Tuesday. The other three small children of the family will be taken care of by the Salvation Army for the time being and will probably later be taken to the orphan's home at Randolph, N. Y. Physicians stated that the only way the lives of the mother and the first three children could be saved was by sending them to the state sanatorium.

—The publisher of a country newspaper comes in contact with the various phases of human nature to a larger extent than most other people, and especially that particular one. When you carry a man on your subscription book two or three years without pay, thinking you are showing confidence in his financial integrity, and finally insist on his paying up, he will get mad and tell you to go to blazes with your measly sheet, that you have no business to let the account run so long. If you cut his name off when he is only a few months in arrears he will say: "Well, I see you were afraid to trust me to a few months' subscription, were you? Thought I wasn't good for a dollar or two?" And so you see that you are up against it no matter which horn of the dilemma you choose.—Punny Spirit. Just do same on dis side.

—Those of our citizens having ice houses are well on the jump just now in an endeavor to finish the harvest before the threatening breakup occurs. The crop is not just the least ever, but will do for cooling purposes in a pinch. The weather outlook is also not of the best and may catch some a-napping, but as we are having our January fog, which, they say, will freeze a dog, there is still some hope.

—Joseph Black, who has been in jail for some time, accused of the killing of Jerome Weaver, at Tylersburg, was released on a writ of habeas corpus last Friday. Black was immediately re-arrested by the sheriff on an information made by Sebastian Weaver, father of Jerome Weaver, and was locked up.—Clarion Republican. The hearing will be held next Friday. Postmaster J. W. Jamieson of Tionesta will be a witness at this hearing.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gerow, former citizens of Tionesta, and who left Warren about a month ago for a sojourn in Florida, are nicely encoined in a bungalow in St. Petersburg for the present, expecting to take over the Hotel Chautauque, one of the principal hotels of the city, on the first of April. During the winter season this popular hotel serves on an average about 3000 meals a week, and in the summer season the proprietors usually take a rest, their harvest being confined to the winter months.

—An item is going the rounds to the effect that quail in large quantities are starving to death on account of the deep snow that everywhere covers the ground in this region. The item would be important if true, and the reason it is not true is because there are no quail in this section. Time was when there were some quail here, but they were winter-killed, as they always will be should they stray into this country, from sections to the south of us. With pheasants it is different. They will get through a pretty hard winter with what feed they can get from the buds of birch, poplar and ironwood trees, with an occasional relish of sumac buds and fern seeds.

—The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church has secured the services of the Galbraith Brothers, who will give one of their delightful entertainments of melody and humor on Saturday evening, January 31, in the M. E. church. The Galbraith Brothers are an old organization and this will be a rare treat for the people of this community. Their program consists of duets and solos, songs in action, character songs, musical readings, impersonations and instrumental numbers. They are not only artists in their line but are Christian gentlemen, giving an entertainment clean, pure and elevating. No admission will be charged. All are welcome.

—Mrs. L. G. Cooper, on the Reek, Cooper & Co. lease on Cropp Hill, had a narrow escape from losing her house by fire last Wednesday morning. Two of the lease men, Edward Collins and Geo. Rhoads, were thawing out a frozen gas line near the house when the fire caught inside the wall, burning off the back part of the house, a bedroom occupied by Miss Marion Cary, a niece of Mrs. Cooper. Miss Cary lost all her clothes and the bedroom furniture was burned. The men put out the fire after a hard fight and saved the balance of the house, although Mr. Collins burned his hands, and Miss Cary frosted her hands while pumping water. The house being a one story structure, the loss will be small. There was no insurance.

—Roy Dotterer, of Muzette, who is hauling ties from the Berry job on the Curtin tract on Little Tionesta creek, had an experience Monday with a runaway load that he does not care to have repeated. When he started down the hill leading into the creek valley he stopped to put on a "rough-lock" chain but the horses could not hold the load and started to run. At the first big bump Mr. Dotterer was thrown onto the double-trees and from there threw himself into the deep snow at the side of the road. The team and load kept on going to the foot of the hill, where he found them piled in a heap with thirteen ties on top of one of the horses. After getting one horse up he was obliged to hitch to the other horse to pull it out of the tangle. Strange to say neither horse was injured and after making a few necessary repairs he was able to bring the load on to town.

—Suspect My Be Hereabouts.

Did Kane harbor a would-be murderer, last evening, is what a number of people are asking themselves today, particularly some of the local Italians with whom the suspect held conversation?

Stabbed in the abdomen by an Italian whom he tried to arrest Thursday, Policeman Peter C. Scheiwer, of Erie, is in the hospital there mortally wounded. The Italian escaped through Scheiwer's shot him once as he ran. His flight was traced by a bloody trail to Nineteenth and Myrtle streets, where it abruptly ended. State and city police immediately surrounded the section, but as yet no arrest has been made.

There was an Italian in Kane, last evening, answering the description of the man wanted, and from his actions and what he said to a number of his fellow countrymen whom he met on the street, it is believed that he is the man wanted. The Italians with whom he conversed are employed in the woods near that place, cutting chemical wood, and he asked them if they supposed he could get a job from their boss. He was anxious to know whether they were working in the thick woods or not, and when they told him it was only a few miles from Kane he decided to look for a job elsewhere.

He then asked where Endeavor was, but they not knowing, could not tell him. This is a village on the Hickory Valley railroad 8 miles north of Tionesta, and a number of Italians are employed in the woods near there cutting wood, and he might have made tracks for that place. The man did not apparently carry any wounds, but it is thought that the officer's bullet made only a flesh wound and that the fellow was able to conceal.—Kane Republican, Saturday.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Never give a child a cough medicine that contains opium in any form. When opium is given often and more serious diseases may follow. Long experience has demonstrated that there is no better or safer medicine for coughs, colds and croup in children than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is equally valuable for adults. Try it. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. For sale by all dealers. adv

—Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Zahniser were down from East Hickory. They expect to take charge of the County Home about the first of the coming month as the new Steward and Matron. As both are wide awake and energetic, and know what work is, they will undoubtedly make a success of their new positions.

—A surprise was given Miss Esther Wolf last Saturday, when 107 of her friends gathered at her home in the form of a postal shower to help her celebrate her thirtieth birthday. As Esther feels it would be quite a task to acknowledge these separately, she wishes through this paper to thank each one who so kindly remembered her on this occasion.

—A. W. Mong of the Township was a caller at the REPUBLICAN office Wednesday. He has the contract of delivering a large quantity of bark to the Tionesta station for J. G. Jamieson, and this run of sleighing is helping him out nicely, the roads being in fine condition for hauling loads that could scarcely be moved by two teams on wagons and dirt roads.

—The many friends of Reuben W. Moon will learn with sincerest regret of his continued illness from which it is feared he cannot recover, so critical has his condition become. Mr. Moon is suffering from a complication of liver and kidney trouble, the disease having reached such an advanced stage that his physicians can hold out little hope of his recovery to the anxious friends.

—Mrs. Rebecca Watson Downing and Mr. Andrew J. Spangler, both of Kellestville, Pa., were married at high noon on Thursday, Jan. 15, 1914, at the home of the former's brother, George F. Watson, Tionesta, Pa. Rev. H. Lee Dunlavy of the Methodist Episcopal church performed the ceremony. The bride was attended in dark green chapeau. A wedding luncheon followed the ceremony. The dining room table held a centre-piece of pink and white carnations and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler departed for their home in Kellestville on the morning train, Friday.

Dutch Supper.

The Ladies Aid Society of M. E. Church of Tionesta will serve their annual Dutch Supper, Friday evening, January 30th, in the dining hall of the church, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. They are devoting much time and care in the preparation of this supper, so that those who go may be sure that they will receive the best of service. The following "bill of fare" has been arranged: Sauer kraut and wieners, mashed potatoes and chicken gravy, baked beans, squash, cabbage salad, chicken salad, jelly, cheese, Dutch cheese, meat loaf, ham sandwiches, warm rolls, brown bread, nut bread, German coffee bread, and wheat bread, pickles and olives, mince, apple, pumpkin and Dutch pie, cake and ice cream, tea and coffee, home made candy. The ladies extend to all a cordial invitation.

Thirty-Two Years Ago.

Items taken from the files of the REPUBLICAN issue of Jan. 25, 1882:
Mrs. W. R. Coon of Barnett is visiting Tionesta friends.
Mrs. W. J. Bleakley of Franklin is a guest of Mrs. S. D. Irwin.

Ice seven inches thick is finding its way into some of the sawdust houses of town. Thermometers indicated 16 degrees below zero Monday night.
Park Grove came down from Bradford for a few days' visit at home.
Jim Fones, Bovard's wide-awake clerk, had his hand quite severely scorched while emptying an ash pan in which a quantity of kerosene oil had been spilled. As Jim has but one hand to work with he has been considerably inconvenienced by the accident.

Thomas Snodgrass of Sparta, Pa., paid Tionesta a visit Thursday, being accompanied by Mrs. S., who remains to visit her sister, Mrs. J. D. W. Reek, a few days.
The East Hickory school report for month ending Jan. 12, 1882, shows the following daily attendance:

Kellestville.

Mrs. W. L. Watson spent several days with her sister at North Warren during the week.
Mrs. George Klinefelter and son Alton visited friends in Nebraska Friday night. The stork visited our town again this week, leaving its parcel at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jenkins. It proved to be a bouncing big boy.

A sleigh load of the young people of Mayburg drove to Kellestville, Friday evening, and spent a few hours at the Kingsley House.
Mrs. Chas. Pope is on the sick list this week. Vivian Dingle is looking after the work during her enforced idleness.
Miss Nellie Datar returned from her visit in Oil City, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Spangler returned from their wedding trip Friday evening and were treated to all the courtesies the town afforded. A shower of rice greeted their first appearance at the train. The ladies' life and drum band, of which the w'n is deservedly proud, escorted them to their home, where relatives had taken possession and everything that could be thought of in the culinary art awaited them on a tastily spread table. About ten o'clock nearly 200 of the younger element, with all the jingle and noise which usually accompanies such a crowd on such a night, and a goodly number of the older people, gathered at the home and treated them to an ear-splitting serenade. The older people not having much say at this gathering, a small crowd of their neighbors turned out Saturday night and treated them to another booming serenade. Although Mr. Spangler had provided an extra amount of treat nothing remained and he was compelled to escort this crowd down town, where he set up their share of the sweets.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Johnson returned from their visit at Harrison Valley on Thursday.
Mrs. J. Welsh of Sheffield visited relatives in town over Sunday.
Mervin Host is suffering with a bad attack of tonsillitis.

Albert Dunkle walks with somewhat of a limp, having crushed his toe while at work last week.
John Daubenspeck expects to close up his house for a few weeks while he takes a visit with friends until the mill starts again in the spring.

I neglected to mention last week the meeting of the "Truth Seekers" at the home of Miss Hazel Copeland, when the class treated their teacher, Chas. Daubenspeck, to a fine luncheon in return for the surprise he sprung on them some time before. All report a jolly time.

We are glad to note that Mrs. John Pochey, who has been confined to her home for the past three weeks with a severe cold, is able to be out again.
The meeting at the M. E. church was closed several nights last week on account of the scarcity of gas but it is thought it does not get colder that there will be gas so there can be services each evening this week. There was a full house out Sunday evening and a good interest was manifested.
Gerald Watson has been sick for the past few days with stomach trouble.

Clarington.

On account of the snow blockade the following letter arrived too late for last week's issue:
W. A. Royer and John Coon were over to the County seat last week.
W. D. Shields spent Sunday in Brookville.
Mrs. E. E. Heasley, we are sorry to say, is not improving in health very fast.
The M. E. revival closed last Tuesday evening. There were four added to the church. Meetings will begin on Tuesday evening at Blue Ridge, and will close with quarterly meeting and communion on Sabbath.

Raymond Royer is home from Kane. Clara Coon of Kane is visiting her grandfather, Mr. John Coon.
The Presbyterians had service last Tuesday evening. At this service they ordained as elders J. W. Potter, Chas. E. Matthews and Samuel McManigal. There were seven received into the church.

John Hottel is home for a few days.
Chester Callen and wife are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Callen.
A. M. Cook and wife of Cooksburg visited their daughter, Mrs. Wayne Henry, one day last week.
Our basket ball team had a busy week. They trimmed the Wallacestown team twice and on Thursday night the Sigel team came down and we won by the score of 29 to 17. We felt sorry for the Sigel rotters.

Miss H. W. Breneman is home, having spent two months up near Tidoute, where her husband is employed.
L. R. Warner, one of our old veterans is confined to his room most of the time.
The well on the Mary M. Maze farm was drilled through the Kane and Elk sands without finding gas. The well will be tubed having found gas in the upper sand. The well on the C. B. Kerr place is not finished yet, but had a nice show of oil in the Clarion and was drilled through the Bradford sand and it is estimated that it will make a 200,000 gas well. This extends this field two miles further west.

The Bradford Oil Co. have trouble to get the packer to hold in the Matthews well, and the Phillips Co. are having the same trouble with Sianghenaupt No. 1. It is rumored that James Barlett will drill a well at the mouth of Maple creek.

James' Camp.

The river is quite full of ice between Philipston and Red Bank.
Earl Baker's house burned down and all the contents were destroyed.
Wm. Eckles went to Pittsburgh Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fleming spent a pleasant time at Charlie Knight's in Pittsburgh, Saturday and Sunday. Miss Gertrude and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming stendered a fine play at the Harris Theater, Saturday evening. Also visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Gumbert and family, Tuesday evening, returning home Wednesday morning.

A young man of this vicinity by the name of Jason was taken to the Kittanning jail this week.
Homer Brumbaugh went home last week with a very sore eye, but is back again at work.
W. J. James is sawing from 15,000 to 18,000 feet of lumber a day.
Mr. James gave Mrs. W. A. Fleming a fine oak rocker as a present.
Mrs. Chas. Baker of this place has company from Franklin.

Porkey.

Miss Ada Shay of Wellers was in the village last week sewing for Mrs. J. T. Miller, on Main street.
George Downing of Tiona was the guest of D. W. Downey last week, while looking after the South Penn interests here.
Miss Lottie Littlefield was sick last week with liver trouble, but is some improved at this writing.

If one gets off the main roads now the "Rocky road to Dublin" is not in it for a minute. When you made a few miles where the tracks are not visible you have a hard job on your hands.
The New Era installed a telephone on its line at Henrys Mill, in the Wray home, Friday, these people having bought out J. H. Knapp's share and also the call.
Miss Emma Whitehill and her sister, Mrs. John Fitzgerald, of Mayburg, went to Tylersburg Friday to attend the funeral of their grandmother, at Helen Furnace.

Preaching services in the M. E. church at Minister Thursday evening, by the Rev. McDonald of the F. M. church, was well attended and our people hope for a few more of the same in the future.
Mrs. Barnett of Tylersburg visited her sister, Mrs. J. C. Black, at this place last week.

Messrs. McDonald and Wensel, of Phelps, were up Sunday and called on the Black and Rupert families while here.
Mary, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henton, at Minister, has been sick for a week with teething trouble, which later developed into spinal complications, and the little one died on Saturday evening. Funeral services will be conducted at Garland, Wednesday afternoon. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the surrounding community in their sad bereavement.

A sled load from Miller's Mill went to Blue Jay Friday evening and called on the Lobdell family, where they had a fine evening spent in dancing, as Messrs. Rogers and Lobaugh were in the party. The crack caller, Jack Dixon, was also present to direct their movements and a good time was there. Oysters were served at midnight and after a fine visit they returned to their duties and Sunday was certainly a day of rest up there. The roads were not the best and they could not make the best of time in coming and going.

The jury commissioners certainly did a good job in selecting the jury for Feb. term and if not excused there will be a great gathering of Howe to wash fellows there.
The S. & T. passenger train was delayed by an accident to the engine Friday last so as to be very late coming back at noon, but the afternoon trips were on schedule time.

Mrs. Wm. Heasley while going up stairs about her work Saturday fell a short distance down the steps and turned her ankle, but was able to hobble around the house on Sunday.
The deserted hotel building opposite the store front at Fools creek had a part of the roof in under the weight of snow on Sunday last. We did not hear if a bird lit on it or not, but it is possible the increased weight of a bird may have caused the calamity. Several lives were lost—i. e., bed parasites that have made this their abode for many moons. They were what you might call hardshell baptists. Some of them, we have been told, had shells nearly as hard as turtle's. As only a part of the roof went in there is enough left to preserve the strain.
Singing service at the church Sunday night was a very interesting one and several new hymns were learned by those present. We hope the attendance will not fall off as this is helpful to a lot of the young people. Even though we have no great talent here, there is enough to surprise the natives if given a chance to demonstrate. Every one who attends should feel at home and come to the front and take part in the singing, even if you were never in the building before.

Several of our men who have lately got out of work are going to tackle the woods down towards Mayburg. We are glad to know that our men are not choice as to the kind of work they do. It denotes absence of laziness. The porcupines are all workers and hard to beat.
Dode Dunkle and son were down from Hastings to spend Sunday at home and get a clean bite. They are keeping "bachelor's lonesome" at that place and do their own cooking. All women think men are careless about cooking but we know better.

Sheriff School report.—Average attendance for month, 17; average attendance for term, 18; percent of attendances for month 77, for term 85. Those who have not been absent or tardy: Anna Larson, John O'Donnell and Harold O'Donnell. When parents keep their children from school to rock the baby, wash dishes, or "stop" the hog, the thought never occurs to them that the time so lost is never found again and can never be made up, in school the same as any other place, on this beautiful ball called earth. The school is progressing nicely with but little trouble any place; the most trying was the scarcity of gas a few days last week. Miss Adaline Grubbs is the teacher.

Hastings is now a conundrum, but is being investigated, and an earthquake may appear at that place some any time. Get wise, papa, and if it is not your fault we will know soon. It is certainly a shame to have things run in this way. Half of the pupils at this place are not attending the school, which should not be in a civilized country. There is a bog in the fence somewhere and it is being hunted.

Blue Jay is going along fine as a fiddle, and Lory Strickener is doing fine work there. He is being complimented on all sides for his good work and the interest he takes in it. Few of the pupils are on the truant side but all are interested in their work, and success will surely crown their efforts.
Last but not least, old Porkey is still on the map in regard to school and everything is going nicely here. Although we have some mischievous fellows here they are not so bad after all. The attendance is good. Miss Kate Guenther is at the desk in the larger pupils' room, and Miss Treva Hendrickson has charge of the smaller ones.
A supply of stationery and pencils came last week to all the schools which was very welcome as they were all short. Doing all we can to improve the schools.

Excellent for Stomach Trouble.
"Chamberlain's Tablets are just fine for stomach trouble," writes Mrs. G. C. Dent, Arnold, Pa. "I was bothered with this complaint for some time and frequently had bilious attacks. Chamberlain's Tablets afforded me great relief from the first, and since taking one bottle of them I feel like a different person." For sale by all dealers. adv.
