LAUD CREW OF RAMMED SHIP

No Panic Aboard Monroe; Fog Causes Collision

43 DIE IN LATEST SEA TRAGEDY

Nineteen Passengers Go to Death When Liner Nantucket Crashes Into Old Dominion Line Steamer Monroe.

Lost, passengers, 19; crew, 24. Total, 43. Saved, passengers, 36; crew, 55. Total, 91.

The great steel prow of the Nantucket struck the Monroe about thirty feet abaft her port bow. Right through her plates the Nantucket crashed away like a knife through cheese.

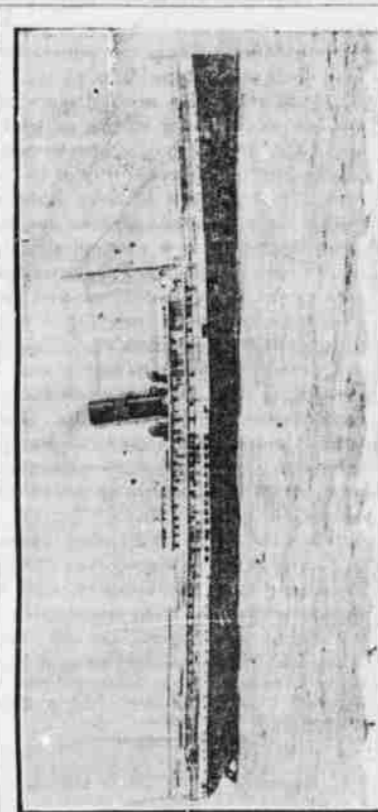

A list of passengers lost from the steamer Monroe corrected and compiled by the Old Dominion Steamship company is as follows:

First Class—Mrs. W. L. Bolton, Newark, N. J. W. C. Clausen, Milwaukee, Wis. Lieutenant L. B. Curtis, U. S. army.

When the crash came practically all of the passengers on the Monroe were asleep. The force of the impact threw them out of their berths.

But there were many passengers and seamen who went down with the ship before ever reaching the deck.

Though the Nantucket was badly damaged her lifeboats were quickly manned and put overboard and the work of rescue began.

DOMINION LINER MONROE, SUNK OFF HOG ISLAND. The Monroe, which sank, carried a crew of seventy and had a total list of fifty-four passengers.

ment such as I would have expected. Everybody worked fast and furiously but very quietly.

EXPLANATION IS FURNISHED

Gompers at Miners' Convention Defends Federation

RESENTS FLINGS FIRED AT HIM

An Assessment For Copper Mine Strikers in Michigan Would Have Wrecked Federation, Says President.

In response to the request of the United Mineworkers that he appear before them and explain the alleged apathy of the American Federation of Labor in connection with the copper miners' strike in Michigan Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, addressed the convention.

"I have given and will continue to give all that is in me to further the strike of copper miners," asserted Mr. Gompers. "You may not know that the miners only pay nine cents a year to the American Federation of Labor."

"The labor movement is a part of my life," he continued, "and I'm going to stick to it. You may drive me out of office, but you can't drive me out of the movement."

Every Reason For Improved Trade Conditions, Says Dun's Review.

Dun's Review of Trade says this week: "Recent improvement in business conditions is in some measure sentimental and certain branches of the industry have not shared in the forward movement to any appreciable extent."

Orders Sale of Wabash

Judge Adams in St. Louis Authorizes Foreclosure.

Because the Wabash railroad receivers were unable to take advantage of a legal opportunity to save the road from foreclosure by paying the defaulted interest, aggregating more than $4,000,000, the sale of the system was authorized by Judge Elmer B. Adams in the United States circuit court in St. Louis.
