LAST Friday Governor Tener appointed Hon, Frank M. Trexler, of Allentown, former judge of Lebigh county, to the vacancy on the Superier court bench caused by the recent death of General James A. Beaver. The appointment holds till the election next fall, and at the May primaries nominations will be made on the non-partisan ballot,

UNDER the present administration Eng land writes our tariff law. Wall Street dictates our financial policy. At the behest of the rathroads freight competition by way of the Panama canal is to be strangled to death. What is there to be left for the common people? Surely, Johnny Bull can pat Woodrow on the back and say, "Nice boy, you're trimming up your Uncle Sam just to suit me.'

Now THE RE'S Bro. Smith of the Punxy Sririt, one of the most autable and like able of men, still has a peachant for digging un some disagreeable things, when he wants to. For instance he has discovered that "the time is rapidly approaching when thrifty mothers of marrisgeable daughters will be diligent students of the income tax reports, and persous whose names are not to be found therein will be barred from swell so-

THE Hon. W. T. Creasy, Master of the state grange, and who gloats over the part he had in the killing of the good roads proposition before the people last fall, has elected Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket next fall. If we mistake vive him. not the people of Pennsylvania will not be falling over each other to reward that sort of treachery, especially in the elevation of as big a four flasher as Bill

The latest policy of the administration is to raise the embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition from the United States into Mexico, thus allowing Huerta and the rebels to provide themselves with munitions of war without let or hindrance. In other words President Wilson says to the Mexicans, "go to it," Since we can't coax you to let up on the slaughter and rapine, we'll make it easier for you to aunihilate one another and thus bring the war to a speedier close. The scheme is a novel one to say the least and might be called the "policy of extermination without intervention," and strange to say it seems to meet the approval of many christian people in the United States.

AND now it is proposed to repeal the law allowing coastwise vessels of the canal free of toll, the Wilson administration being at this moment engaged in jamming such a proposition through the House and Senate. There is no one clamoring for the repeal but the big railroad interests and old England, both of which interests have fought the canal project from its inception. If vessels owned by citizens of the United States and doing a strictly coastwise trade are obliged to pay the same rate of toll that is charged to foreign-owned vessels then how can the people benefit by any lessening of freight rates between the two oceans? The people of the United States dug the big ditch at an expense of half a billion dollars, why should they not have the say as to how it should be conducted? What right have the railroads or England to dictate terms? Why is Mr. Wilson so insistent to favoring either of them to the great detriment of the common people?

Basket Ball at Clarington.

The Kellettville High School basket ball team, eight strong, came over to play the local High School team, Saturday evening, Feb. 7th, and when the smoke of battle had died away the boys from the Tionesta valley were on the long end of a 32-17 core. It was a nice game all through and every minute was full of action. The Clarington boys, though greatly outweighed, and being handicapped by lack of practice and the non-appearance of suits, ordered three week ago, put up a game fight against their much older oppoents. Kellettville excelled in floor work and deserved to win. Each and every man in the game did himself credit by his hard work and gentlemanly conduct on the floor. Capt. Davis at center was the star for the locals, he outplaying two of Kellettville's stars and proving a tower of strength to his team, while Graham was the bright and shining light for the visitors, he caging nine pretty goals from field and being in a great way responsible for Kellettville's victory. The lineup:

You will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has recognized advantages over most medicines in use for coughs and colds. It does not suppress a cough but loosens and relieves it. It contains no opium or other parcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all dealers.
