—The Commissioners of Clarion county have recently let the contract for the erection of a new bridge over the Clarion river at a point known as Gravel Lick. The successful bidders are Whittaker & Jehl, at Harri-burg, and their bids were $10,494 for steel construction, and $16,908 for concrete construction.

—W. H. Ellis, painter, paperhanger and decorator, is prepared to make early spring contracts for all work in his line. Having sample books from two of the best firms, Peter H. Riley Co. and Alfred Peet, he can furnish the very best wall papers at low prices. Get your work done before the rush begins. adv

—Wednesday night of last week was another of the cold ones, thermometers in this place registering 14 to 16 degrees below zero Thursday morning. The creek and back channel are again frozen over so that teams are able to cross, and those who failed to get enough ice to fill their houses will have another chance.

—The annual Farmers' Institute convenes at the Court House, Tionesta, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the teachers of the public schools, as well as to all interested in the advancement of agricultural, educational and home interests. A feature of the institute will be the music by the male quartette.

—The new principal of the Clarion State Normal School has begun his thirtieth year of experience in the training of teachers in Pennsylvania. He has guided thousands to advancement and success. If you are not a normal school graduate, you had better see what he can do for you. Spring Term begins Tuesday, March 24. Write for particulars to Andrew Thomas Smith, Clarion, Pa.

—Dr. H. H. Dight of this city and Dr. A. E. Weiss of Pittsburgh, the latter a specialist, one of five selected by the state authorities for investigating matters and things new in malignant diseases, on Wednesday operated on Mrs. J. M. Walter of Fogel Farm, at the city hospital. The operation will afford the patient relief but her condition was such as to make its success impossible.—Titusville Herald.

—Notice has been received from the postmaster general of an amendment to paragraph 11, section 511 of the postal laws, which provides that letters and post or postal cards may be dispatched whether or not any postage is prepaid thereon. Other articles shall not be dispatched unless prepaid at least in part, and in all cases of insufficient prepayment double the amount of the deficiency shall be collected of the addressee. The option of no prepayment or of part prepayment of postage does not apply, however, to either letters or other articles mailed with the apparent intention of avoiding prepayment.

—There's a rare treat in store for the lovers of song and melody of Tionesta and vicinity, in the coming of the Boston Stars, a galaxy of musical artists, that will appear at Bovard's Hall next Wednesday evening, 25th inst. If you are a lover of song—solos, duets, quartettes, sextettes and dramatic readings—and who is not? you will surely come out to hear this unusually fine aggregation.

This splendid entertainment is under the direction of Prof. Henderson, lately of Oberlin College, which is at once a guarantee of its purity and excellence. Do not miss it, you won't forget the date—Wednesday evening, Feb. 25.

—Evangelist Biederwolf and his revival party began a five weeks' engagement of revival meetings in Oil City Sunday afternoon. A tabernacle capable of seating 5,000 has been erected and on Sunday evening it was filled to overflowing, and hundreds were turned away, the fire authorities refusing to permit any more to enter the building. An orchestra of 25 pieces and a chorus of 450 voices will furnish the music for the meetings. Dr. Biederwolf's reputation as an evangelist is second only to that of Billy Sunday, and his eloquence as a speaker is said to be second to none, so that Oil City may well expect an upheaval of religious awakening such as she has never known before.

—In a note renewing his subscription Arthur Buhl, who removed from Marienville to Tulsa, Okla., about six months ago, writes that the weather in that section has been ideal this winter with an exception of a few weeks ago when the Jack Frost handed them out a touch of zero weather, something almost unheard of in that state. "My wife and I," writes Arthur, "are very much interested in the union revival meetings starting here on the 15th. One of the big features of the meeting is a tabernacle with a seating capacity of over 9,000. We enjoy the REPUBLICAN because it keeps us posted on what's going on back in Forest county." Mr. Buhl holds a nice position with the Oklahoma State Oil company.

—Through the agency of C. M. Arner & Son the factory buildings, on River St., that have so long stood idle, have been purchased by A. E. Daniels, one of our successful lumbermen, who will exert himself toward the securing of some manufacturing industry to occupy this splendid site, in which effort he will have the hearty co-operation of all our citizens. The buildings were purchased by the Arner Agency some time ago from A. C. Robertson vice president and secretary of the Commonwealth Trust company of Pittsburgh, which has held the title to the property for some time. Mr. Daniels has a fine piece of property in these substantial buildings, and we predict that his investment will be a remunerative one in the near future. The consideration is private.

—The special meetings at the Presbyterian church came to a close with the Friday evening meeting when the church was well filled with interested listeners, the services having lasted two weeks. The meetings were perhaps the most successful in the matter of accessions to the church than any held in several years past, a class of 21 having been taken into full communion at the Sunday morning services. The hearts of the pastor, officers and members of the congregation were made to rejoice over this most gratifying outcome, and Rev. Mr. Bailey told the new members so in a brief but touching talk after the formality of their confirmation had been completed. The meetings in the M. E. church are being continued this week, and Rev. Mr. Dunlavy is meeting with very gratifying results, and is rejoiced to see the work of the Lord prosper in his hands.

—Mrs. James W. Clawges, a former resident of Marienville, where she was highly esteemed by all who knew her, died at the family home at Nansen, Elk county, on the 16th inst. The funeral was held in Marienville Thursday, Rev. G. W. S. Phillips of the M. E. church, officiating, and the interment was in the cemetery at that place, where other members of the family are buried. The husband and eight children survive.

PERSONAL.

—James G. Carson and Dr. Morrow, of West Hickory, were Tionesta visitors Wednesday.

—Miss Edna Rodda spent several days of last week visiting friends at Warren and Jamestown, N. Y.

—S. P. Whitman, of Lincolnville, and Howard Michlen, of Nebraska, gave us a pleasant call Monday.

—Henry Clark of Tidouite, and N. P. Wheeler, Jr., of Endeavor, were calling on acquaintances in Warren Thursday.—Mirror.

—Toney Rizzle and Geronima Paello, both of West Hickory, were married by legal acknowledgment before Prothonotary Maxwell yesterday.

—Squire John H. Barton and J. B. Campbell of Barnett twp., attending court as witnesses this week, were among our pleasant callers Monday.

—Miss Margaret Haslet expects to return to Chicago next Monday to take up her work as a trimmer in a large millinery establishment in that city.

—Boit Eminger of Duhring, conductor on the T. V. railroad, and J. M. Neal of Marienville, were among the REPUBLICAN's welcome callers yesterday.

—Glen Taft and Miss Evelyn Mathe, both of Endeavor, Pa., were united in marriage at the Presbyterian manse, Wednesday, Feb. 11, 1914, Rev. H. A. Bailey officiating.

—Frank Brink employed at the Coleman mill at Johns run, fell and sprained his back so severely one day last week that he has been laid up since and is still suffering much pain.

—Mrs. Lucy Thomason returned Friday from a visit to her brother, Harry Canfield, at the Oil City hospital, and reports him coming along nicely from his serious operation Monday of last week.

—A. C. Shannon was down from Endeavor Monday to wind up his business as constable of Kingsley twp., and to present his resignation to the court, having taken up his residence in Hickory twp.

—Sam T. Carson was home from Bradford over Sunday with his family. Notwithstanding the heavy snows and inclement weather he has managed to keep busy with his drilling rig in that section.

—Rev. H. A. Bailey is in Wampum, Lawrence county, this week, assisting his fellow minister, Rev. Mr. Taft, in a series of special meetings. He will return in time for his regular appointments here next Sabbath.

—I. S. Thomas, sawyer at the Coleman mill on Johns run, went to Burner, West Virginia, last Thursday, to take a similar job with the Pocahontas Lumber Co. till the mill here starts up for the next season's run, about the first of April.

—Prof. Roy S. Braden, principal of Clarion high school, gave us a pleasant call Monday, while attending court as a witness. He has tendered his resignation to the school board of his district and expects to engage in other lines of work.

—F. J. Henderson returned down from Kellestville yesterday and spent part of the day at the county seat, going from here to East Hickory to pay his father a visit. Frank has been reading so much of late about the depredations of wolves, eagles and wildcats in these parts that he hardly knew whether it was safe for a tenderfoot to be about, but he took the chance.

—The REPUBLICAN had a pleasant call from its wide-awake Porkey correspondent, O. E. Rupert, yesterday afternoon, who was one of the many jurors from Howe township called to court this week. While here Mr. Rupert lifted his commission as Justice of the peace, and he is now prepared to deal out even-handed justice to the good and bad alike in his bailiwick.

—Charles R. Durnell, of Warren, and Miss Ruth Jones, of Innis street, Oil City, were married at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of the bridegroom's uncle, Solomon Durnell, 1410 1/2 Otter street, by Rev. N. F. Boyer, with a number of relatives and friends in attendance. A wedding dinner followed the ceremony. The young couple will make their home in Mayburg Forest county. Mr. Durnell is a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad.—Franklin News, 17th.

—Rev. Mr. Bailey's Sunday school class, numbering upward of 25 members, has entered into a conspiracy to celebrate the birthday of each member as that event occurs with a gathering and social session. The first of the victims was Jay Bankhead, whose birthday occurred Monday, and in the evening the class, to the number of 21, gathered at the Presbyterian church parlor in his honor and spent a joyous social hour. Light refreshments were served by the young lady members.

Meadville Loses Prominent Citizen.

A phone message from Meadville Monday evening to our townsman, County Commissioner J. C. Scowden, conveyed the sad, but not unexpected, intelligence of the death of his aged father, Joseph Scowden, for many years one of Crawford county's most prominent and representative citizens. For several years past Mr. Scowden had been declining health, but his remarkable constitution carried him far beyond man's allotted period of life or the expectations of his family and intimate friends. He was born Nov. 19, 1823, on the old homestead farm which has been in the possession of the Scowden family for more than a hundred years, two miles west of Meadville, and last fall he celebrated his ninetieth birthday, at the home of his son James, near the city limits, where he had received every comfort that tender hearts and willing hands could bestow, and where he could enjoy the companionship of his loving wife still spared to him.

Mr. Scowden was one of the loyal, patriotic citizens of his county during the troublous days that tried men's souls before and during the civil war, and contributed largely of his means and talents in support of the cause of the Union. He was one of the immortal Lincoln's staunchest supporters, and had the distinction of seeing him inaugurated the first Republican president of the nation. He served his county faithfully during three terms as County Commissioner and was one of its stalwart supporters when strong character, official fairness and sterling honesty counted for much in the affairs of men.

Mr. Scowden is survived by his aged widow, four sons and one daughter, namely Edward A. Scowden of Sharon, Pa., Fred B., of Meadville, Joseph C., of Tionesta, James A., and Mrs. Arthur Van Horn of Meadville.

Mr. Scowden left yesterday morning to attend the funeral of his father which will probably be held today.

Thirty Years Ago.

Items taken from the files of the REPUBLICAN issue of Feb. 13, 1884:

Floyd Proper received a valuable dog by express yesterday.

John A. Dawson of Stewart Run has been bedfast for several days with a serious throat trouble, but is now better.

It is stated on good authority that the run of lumber out of Tionesta creek this spring will not be more than a third as great as it was last season. Sucker fishing has begun in earnest, and a number of fine stings have already been caught.

Frank Withers of East Hickory, in charge of the gang mill at Wheeler & Dusenbury's lumbering camp, met with a painful accident in the dislocation of his left shoulder Saturday.

The borough school board has selected and secured the location, on Vine street, for the new school building, and ground will be broken for the foundation soon as the weather is fit.

D. W. Clark arrived home from Macksburg, Ohio, this morning, having been since Friday on the way, owing to impediments to railroad travel caused by the great flood. He says the devastation wrought by the flood beggars description. Feb. 20, 1884.

The result of the borough election yesterday was as follows: Burgess R. B. Crawford; council, C. M. Shawkey, H. M. Foreman, A. M. Douth, J. H. Fones, W. A. Eagles, Charles Bonner; constable, H. H. Shoemaker; Justice of the peace, D. S. Knox, J. T. Brennan; school directors, A. B. Kelly, G. W. Robinson; overseers of poor, W. Y. Siggins, Albert Hayden; judge of elections, G. W. Sawyer; inspectors, J. R. Chadwick, Chas. Raisig; assessor, John Muenzenberger; auditors, P. M. Clark, J. F. Proper.

R. J. Williams called on Mt. Jewett friends Saturday.

Miss Della Hotel, who was home from school last week with the grippe, was able to return Monday.

Sunday school was very well attended Sunday. Twenty-eight present.

Frank Dillon and Harry Hotel spent Sunday with friends at Mt. Jewett.

The dance at Mr. Goodwin's, Friday evening, was very well attended. Good order and good music. A nice lunch was served.

W. J. Kane and sister Marie attended the dance at Hazelhurst Saturday evening.

J. J. Kane and daughter attended mass at Mt. Jewett, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Wansley, who has been on the sick list, was able to be out on Sunday.

Recent Deaths.

CARR.
Mrs. Susan B. Carr, widow of the late George Carr, died at the home of her son Frank B. Carr, No. 257 South avenue, Bradford, Pa., Monday, Feb. 9, 1914, after an illness of six weeks. She was aged 70 years. Mrs. Carr is very favorably remembered in Tionesta, where she resided many years with her family, leaving here about 20 years ago. She was a woman of excellent qualities of mind and heart, a faithful Christian, kind, gentle and sympathetic, an ever-ready help to any neighbor in distress. She is survived by three sons, Andrew Carr of Franklin, and Frank B. and Jay Carr of Bradford.

MICHLEN.
Amelia Keener Michlen, widow of the late Solomon Michlen, was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., July 28, 1851, and died at her home one mile south of Nebraska, Pa., February 11, 1914. Mrs. Michlen's death came suddenly and very unexpectedly. She had called at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hunter, and about 4:30 p. m. started for her home, but had gone scarcely 50 rods from the house when she was seized with apoplexy and fell to the ground. A few moments later Rural Route Agent Charles Johnson drove up and found her and helped her into his buggy and took her to her home, reaching about the stricken woman lived but a minute or two. Forty-four years ago, while residing with her parents in Pittsburgh, she was united in marriage with Solomon Michlen, and about 28 years ago they moved to Nebraska, where the husband was engaged in barge building for Collins, Darrah & Co., and where the family had since continued to reside. Early in life Mrs. Michlen united with the Presbyterian church and her life had been that of a consistent Christian to the last. She was highly respected and esteemed for her many good qualities of heart and mind in the community in which so many years of her life were spent. Surviving her are four sons and four daughters, namely Emma, wife of S. P. Whitman of Lincolnville, Pa.; Anna, wife of Robert Hunter of Nebraska, Pa.; Lucy, wife of W. W. Curll of Tionesta twp.; John Michlen, Lyda, wife of Percy Host, Howard, Wilbert and Edward, all of Nebraska.

The funeral was held at the Zuendel church, German Hill, on Saturday, where the remains were interred beside those of her husband, the services being conducted by Rev. M. E. Wolcott of the Free Methodist church.

BROOMLEY.
Eva M. Broomley, aged 16 years, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. W. Barnhart, of Turlock, Cal., Saturday evening, Feb. 14, 1914. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Broomley, of Meadville, Pa., formerly residents of Tionesta. She is survived by her parents, and the following brothers and sisters: Laura, Mae, Harry M., and Claud Broomley, of Meadville; Josephine of Youngville, Pa. and Mrs. Barnhart of California. She was a granddaughter of the late H. M. Zahniser, of Tionesta, and a niece of the well known Zahniser brothers, five of whom are preachers in the Free Methodist church. Eva was taken sick during her vacation, and continued to grow worse until the doctor advised a change of climate, when she, accompanied by her mother, went to California some three months ago, and while everything was done for her that could be, she continued to decline until the end came peacefully Saturday when she fell asleep and quietly passed away. She had been anointed by her uncle, Rev. A. D. Zahniser of Pittsburgh, a few days before her demise, and had experienced religion several weeks since.

Eva possessed a gentle, kind, loving and winning disposition, which made for her many friends wherever she lived, especially so in Meadville, where her last school days were spent. Both in day and Sunday schools she won her way into the hearts of all. As a token of their esteem she was the recipient of many presents from her schoolmates in the high school, as well as from her teachers and Sunday school classmates. Eva's own mother, Mrs. Nannie L. Broomley, nee Zahniser, died 13 years ago at Stewart Run, Pa. The funeral was held at the residence of L. W. Barnhart, Monday afternoon, the 16th, which was conducted by her uncle, Rev. A. D. Zahniser.

Another Wild Yarn, Probably a Lie.

The chances are that Irvineton will soon develop a bigger liar than the famous "Corry Liar," if a check is not put upon the "special fiend" who seems to be extra busy just now. Following is the latest coming from there under date of 16th inst.:

"John Carson, a well known hunter, who lives in Pittsburgh, had a thrilling battle with a wounded wildcat while he was hunting in the woods south of West Hickory Friday. Carson had been hunting foxes and partridge here for several days, and while returning to his camp late in the afternoon saw a huge wildcat perched in the branches of a hemlock tree. He fired at the animal, which tumbled to the ground and rushed for the hunter, Carson fired again, but the big cat continued to advance, although bleeding from several wounds. Before Carson could reload his gun the wounded animal leaped upon the hunter, tearing his leather hunting jacket with its sharp claws. Carson finally managed to get hold of his hunting knife, and after a desperate struggle, which lasted several minutes, he succeeded in plunging the knife into a vital spot of the big cat, and it dropped. The cat was as large as a small-sized mountain lion, and the largest of its species seen in the forests of this section of Pennsylvania in several years."

First thing that fellow knows he will get some one into a peck of trouble by spreading broadcast the story that there is bird hunting going on months after the close of the season.
