Election of County Superintendent.

To the School Directors of Forest County: Notice is hereby given that the School Directors of Forest County will meet at the Court House, in Tionesta, on Tuesday, the 5th day of May, 1914, at 1:30 o'clock, Post Meridian, for the purpose of electing a legally qualified person as County Superintendent of Public Schools for the ensuing term.

J. O. CARSON, Superintendent of Public Schools. Tionesta, Pa., March 30, 1914.

We are authorized to announce J. O.

Carson as a candidate for Superintendent

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT, of the Public Schools of Fore-t County, subject to the decision of the School Directors in Convention, May 5th, 1914.

Announcement.

ED. REPUBLICAN: -At the urgent so-licitation of friends throughout the county, I have consented to again be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Assembly from Forest County at the Primaries, May 19, 1914.
A. R. MECHLING. Clarington, Pa., March 31, 1914.

EXECUTIVE sessions of the United States Senate, except in consideration of foreign relations, are very much of a myth, anyhow. Anything of interest always leaks.

HAVING in mind, doubtless, the recent dry decision on the license question in old Venango, Br'er Bowen of the Oil City Blizard says editorially: "It is difficult to be a good loser when you lose a good

"I STAND squarely upon the record of the national administration," declares candidate Primer. Say, Mitchell, stand "off" a bit. Don't you see your action on on the canal tolls bill is making an awful big dint in the administration's stomach.

IF the Organization Committee bad waited until it heard from the state banks it might have found that there would be capital enough for a regional bank in the Northwest. Placing two of them in the Democratic state of Missouri, the Wilson administration doubtless figured would "hold" Champ Clark for a little while.

A REBUKE so stunning in its effect as to amount almost to a disgrace, came last week from President Wilson's own state of New Jersey, when Don H. Drukker, longs to the Fuelthart family. From the Republican, was elected to Congress to present administration." Besides he William O, of Endeavor, and Mrs. Wm. make pleas of loyalty to the President in after his marriage an opening presented his surrender to Great Britain. Behold itself and Mr. Fuelihart became the probring a tinge of sadness to the adminis- sense of the word. Although his tastes tration's opponents, even. Will be take and abilities had given him ambitions for the hint? No, that party never learns literary developments, he applied him-

It is said that Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Senator Burton, of Ohio, Knute Nelson, Minnesota, Porter J. McCumber. of North Dakota, Senator Root, of New York, and men of that class, maintain that the canal tolls exemption repeal is purely a matter of national bonor. If that be the correct view, there should be no division of opinion on the subject. Eveybody should be in favor of insintaining the honor of the nation. - Punx sutawney Spirit, National nonsense, Bro. Smith. Senator Lodge has said we have a right, under the treaty, to exempt our coastwise ships from toll payments, but that we should forego this privilege in 412, F. and A. M., and also a member of order to show our greatness toward all the I. O. O. F. foreign nations and Great Britain especially, or words to that effect. Fiddlesticks, what's the sense in surrendering all our control over an American property that has cost us close to a half billion dollars, all good American money, simply to please the English and the transcontinental railroads? Who do the Senators above named represent, anyway? Surely not the American people.

right side in the Panama Canal toll ques-tion. He stood for the upholding of our was honorable. A treaty is a pledge, and if we break pledges any time we feel like it, we soon would come to the condition when no country would trust us. A toll for all vessels will give us the revenue to maintain the canal, and we will honestly abide by the treaty with England.-Democratic Vindicator, Exactly. And what about party platforms? Are they made to be kept, or merely to get into office on? Here is a of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was

We favor the exemption from tolls of American ships engaged in coastwise trade pessing through the Panama canal. And here is what Wilson's secretary of state, Col. Bryan, said of platform pledgebreakers in a speech before the Pennsylvania legislature. I lay it down as a proposition, and I am prepared to defend it anywhere, that the representative who secures office upon a platform and then holds the office and betrays the people who elected him, is a criminal worse than the man who embezzles money entrusted to him. * * * *

A platform is binding upon every hon-est man who runs on that platform. But we must not tread on England's toes, no matter whatever else happens. We must surrender our best interests in the canal we built with our own money if England says so, because if we don't she'll say we're not honorable. Is that the argument! Rotten!

No War With Mexico Yet.

WASHINGTON, April 14, 1914-President Wilson today ordered practically the entire Atlantic fleet to Mexican waters to force a public salute to the Stars and Stripes from the Huerta government as an apology for the arrest of American blue-jackets at Tampico last Thursday. The dispatch further intimates that, while the situation is tense, it is not belived that war will be declared, and the whole affair may blow over without any serious trouble.

Tidioute Loses Good Citizen.

As we chronicle the death of our es semed friend, Charles Fuellbart, Sr., of the neighboring town of Tidioute, we are reminded of the Psalmist's expression regarding the inconstancy of man's days upon earth, for it seems but yesterday that we felt his warm handclasp and listened to his recital of interesting experiences of pioneer life. But, "like the flower of the field," the wind passed over and he is gone; yet the world is the better for his baving been here, and we are the richer in thought and purpose for our having known him.

Charles Fuellbart, Sr., was the son of John Fuellhart, Esq., and Philopena Fridenberger Fuellhart and was born in Hochstadt, Grand Duchy of Baden, Germany, Sept. 9, 1843. His was of an honorable parentage, his father, a man of genius, being a University graduate, and his mother, a woman of noble birth, being a person of culture and refinement. From them he inherited his splendid physique, his fine intellect, his loyal, loving, generous heart. Having had the best advantages possible for an education in his home by adoption. His father, who had come to New York in 1854, bad already laid out Central Park under Gen. Viele, in that city, and was in 1859, when the mother and five children crossed the Atlantic to join him, the Right of Way Agent for all the railroads in Northwestern Pennsylvania. His work consisted in the purchase of land for the R. R. companies, and in the survey of the same, Their first home in America, was at St. Mary's, Pa., to which place they came overland in wagons from Olean, N. In 1861, the family removed to Kane, which was then comparatively a wilderness. It was there the fortitude of the brave mother was tested to its utmost while the father and his son Charles were away surveying for the railroads. But with true Spartan courage, so characteristic of her race, every hardship was met without a murmur. Being a dovout christian, a member of the Lutheran church, no doubt the severest test was to be separate so completely from all religious associations, but with unwavering faith she imparted to her children high ideals of honor and integrity, and never forgot her devotions in Porkey.

J. B. Cottle of Tionesta called on O. E. Rupert at this place last Wednesday and as no one was acquainted with him except Rupert his appearance here was shrouded in mystery, and the natives gathered around in groups where they could "pipe off" the proceedings of the two in the pump station. When they inspected some documents the aforesaid audience dispersed and messengers went up the creek to notify the people that a State Warden was at Porkey. As there had been a lot of water fowl on the creek the past few days preceding this visit and some had died of heart failure, it was evident that some one might be guilty and women proceeded to gather in their loved ones from danger. It was a good joke and those who were anxious should take a lesson from it as the real thing might oc-cur at a later time. It doesn't pay to take

An exciting and interesting scene was witnessed by our people Sunday night. As people were leaving the Easter service about nine o'clock, they discovered a black streak in the sky resembling amoke and extending east and west over the town. It lasted about fifteen minutes, then separating in the center and vanished, the western end vanishing first. It was a very strange sight indeed no one being able to comprehend the meaning thereof.

The Easter service beld in the hall Sunday evening was well attended. Strict attention was given, and many pleasing pieces were spoken, which seemed to please all, Miss McBraden gave an in-teresting speech. Rev. Smallenberger, also gave a fine address. The evening was well spent and all congratulate the entertainers and wish them much success.
