ACCORDING to statements given out at Harrisburg last week State Treasurer Young and Auditor General Powell will appeal from the decision of the Dauphin county court in the mandamus proceedings brought by the Highway Department.

The other day an Oklahoma judge, who is given to epigrams defined a technicality. He said that a technicality is a "microbe, which, having gotten into the law, gives justice the blind staggers."

The people generally fail to understand the situation. The state took over 5,000 miles of roads two years ago. Since that time the money that should have gone to the department for the maintenance of those roads has been withheld.

If they were afraid that, without a judicial interpretation of the law, they might be surcharged for the money they pay out, the people generally could be lenient toward them.

YALE TRIUMPHS

Varsity Rowing Event Greatest Ever Seen on Thames.

The indomitable pluck and splendid endurance of the Yale men broke Harvard's long series of successes in the eight-oared varsity race on the Thames at New London.

They have been having Harvard Yale regattas at New London for thirty-six years, but they never had a race like this year's affair.

Yale won the race by four feet, but the finish was so close that it took the judges several minutes to declare Harvard beaten.

Harvard made a tremendous effort at the last and was leading by a quarter of a boat when the crews were fifty yards from the finish, but the men from Yale in those fifty yards by sheer grit sent the boat's bow to the front and kept it there until the pistol cracked.

TWO DIE AT RACES

Auto Driver Killed—Spectator Expires of Excitement.

The dead are: J. E. Shafer of Pittsburgh, driver for the Mercer Automobile company; Dr. Joseph Van Kirk, aged fifty-five, died of apoplexy caused by the excitement of the races.

Mistaken signals at the upper approach of the "S" curve at the Turkey's nest is given as the cause of the accident that culminated in the death of Shafer, the Pittsburgh driver.

The flagman at that point waved the red flag, a signal to go ahead, as Shafer sped down the smooth pike, it is said. Shafer opened wide his throttle and the increased speed, made more dangerous by the declivity, caused the machine to ram the cliff in a narrow path.
