RELIEF POURS IN ON SALEM

Food In Abundance For 18,000 Homeless in Fire Swept City 5,000 TENTS ARE ERECTED

Six Deaths Occurred During Fire, Four of Them Being Directly Caused by Flames—$12,000,000 Estimated Loss.

Measures for the relief of the 18,000 persons made homeless in the conflagration at Salem, Mass., are proceeding with military precision.

Those cared for in the tented camps were of the poorer class, mostly foreigners. Nearly all the well-to-do had found refuge with friends.

The value of the property destroyed by the fire is from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, according to the insurance men, and a little more than one-half was insured.

So far as is now known only four persons lost their lives in the fire and two more died as a result.

The charred body of the infant child of Mrs. Mary Hassel was found in the ruins of 27 May street.

An unidentified body was also recovered, the sex of which has not been determined.

Those who died were Sarah Fiske, a nurse, who passed away while being moved from one hospital to another, and Mrs. Edward McGlone, who died of heart failure when her house caught fire.

Heir to Throne of Austria Is Killed by Assassin

FRANCIS FERDINAND.

Heir to Austrian Throne and Dutchess Meet Death While on Annual Visit to the Annexed Province of Bosnia.

Archduke Francis Ferdinand, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph and heir to the Austrian throne, and the Duchess of Hohenberg, his morganic wife, were assassinated at Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia.

Two attempts were made on the lives of the royal party.

A bomb thrown at their motorcar was warded off by the archduke. Later a young Serbian student emptied his revolver at the royal car and the archduke and the duchess were killed.

The archduke was struck full in the face and the duchess was shot through the abdomen and throat. They died a few minutes after reaching the palace, to which they were hurried.

Those responsible for the assassination took care that it should prove effective, as there were two assassins, the first armed with a bomb and the second with a revolver.

The bomb was thrown at the royal automobile as it was proceeding to the town hall, where a reception was to be held.

The archduke saw the deadly missile hurtling through the air and warded it off with his arm. It fell outside the car and exploded, slightly wounding two aid de camps in a second car and half a dozen spectators.

INTERROGATION POINTS ERASED

Business to Get Its "Constitution of Freedom" WILSON SEES ROSY OUTLOOK

President Addresses Gathering of Editors and Assures Them That Business Depression is Passing.

"A new constitution of freedom for business" is the object of the administration's trust legislation program, President Wilson declared, addressing a party of Virginia editors at the White House.

The president said that a temporary business depression at present was sure to pass as soon as business realized that the anti-trust legislation is sure to be enacted.

The president in his address said: "I want to say to you that the signs of a very strong business revival are becoming more and more evident from day to day."

"On all hands it is admitted that there are processes of business or have been processes of business in this country which ought to be corrected, but the correction has been postponed and in proportion to the postponement the fever has increased—the fever of apprehension.

"There is nothing more fatal to business than to be kept guessing from month to month and from year to year whether something serious is going to happen to it or not and what in particular is going to happen to it if anything does.

"The guessing went on, the air was full of interrogation points for ten years or more. Then came an administration which for the first time had a definite program of constructive correction. And the administration proceeded to carry out this program."

The president referred to the enactment of the tariff bill and currency reform bill and the opposition encountered to their enactment and said: "Then we advanced to the trust program and again the same dread, the same hesitation, the same urgency that the thing should be postponed."

The infant in the mother's arms was lying on a pillow, which broke the force of its fall. Mrs. Matheny, who was attended by a physician, failed to recover consciousness. Her condition was reported serious.

Prinzip is eighteen years old. Nedeljko Gaborinovic is twenty-one. He told the police he had obtained the bomb from anarchists at Belgrade, whose names he did not know.

GOOD OUTNUMBER BAD

"This month has witnessed an expansion in demand for iron and steel, yet price concessions are still a feature. The transporting companies are still buying conservatively."

To become again more joyous, more childlike, more naive than we are, to look into the world with clear eyes and to consign to the devil the problematical chimera behind which only too often hides the unclean turmoil of the market place, chimera which have made us unhappy, slavish and uncertain—that would do us all good.—Boston Transcript.

JOHNSON WINS FIGHT

Championship Battle Brings Protests From Paris Crowd.

Jack Johnson, the champion heavyweight fighter of the world, in Paris successfully defended his title in a twenty-round bout with Frank Moran of Pittsburgh. Experts declare the twenty rounds of milling was the worst ever seen in a championship contest.

When the twenty rounds were ended the black man was richer by probably $100,000.

The immense crowd that packed the Velodrome d'iver vented their dissatisfaction throughout the contest with volleys of boos and called to the men to show some fight. It was not a fight. It was not even a near fight. Moran showed absolutely nothing and Johnson never had to extend himself. The champion either deliberately allowed Moran to stay the limit by refusing to punish him or he "has nothing."
