The Democratic Squabble.

If our Democratic friends continue as active as now threatened there will be at least two Democratic parties in Pennsylvania this year. The Palmer-McCormick way the Old Guard City Committee carries on

The City Committee shut its eyes, instion of Palmer and McCormick, but it platform. This was so much like fumigating the candidates to get their principles out of them before being swallowed, that it has stirred up the resentment of the State organization.

All sorts of threats are out to break up the City Committee and create a new one that will be willing to take orders. The State Committee can do that probably under its rules, but it would release the Old Guard from the small obligation it now feels to support the candidates without the platform, in which event a second Democratic State ticket might be hopefully looked for.

There ought to be two tickets, anyway, for as matters stand there are a good many Democrats who cannot vote for anything now in sight and satisfy their Democracy.-Philadelphia Evening Tele-

Further Hold-Up of Road Money.

A Harrisburg dispatch under date of 26th inst., says: Counsel for State Treasurer Robert K. Young and Auditor General A. W. Powell yesterday gave notice in filing the appeal to the supreme court from the decision of Judges McCarell and Henry, upholding the constitutionality of the automobile license fee case that they Sunday. would ask for a supersedes to prevent the state highway department getting any of the license money for maintenance of state highways. By this action the two fiscal officials came right into the open with a move to block any work being done on the badly run down highways about which there has been so much complaint.

When one of the cases was being argued Attorney General John C. Bell invited M. ## District Conference of the M. E. Church.

The annual District Conference of the Franklin District of the Methodist Episcopal church was held at Kellettville on June 22 and 23 of last week. This conference includes the pastors and all the members of the quarterly conferences of the Franklin District of the Erie Conference. The District Superintendent, Rev. A. R. Rich, presided over the conference. The attendance was not very large, probably owing to the difficulty to be experienced in reaching Kellettville from the various points of the district. Considerable business was transacted in or were candidates for, licenses to exhort or to preach (as local preachers) in the M. E. body. There were also recommendations to the annual conference which will meet at Sharon in September for entrance into that body. Among those licensed to preach is Warren F. Jones, of Newtown Mills, son of W. F. Jones, of that place. Mr. Jones will assist Rev. Henry Smallenberger on the Kellettville charge in helping to care for the work at Minister, on Tionesta creek, up above Kellettville. The license of F. V. Hendrickson, of Kellettville, as an exhorter, was also renewed.

The conference sermon was preached by Rev. W. E. Frampton, of Rouseville, a former pastor at Kellettville, and the closing sermon by Rev. J. E. Hillard, also a former pastor. Rev. J. A. Lavely, temperance evangelist of the Erie Conference, and Rev. J. H. Jelbart, of Chicora, delivered addresses on phases of the temperance question. L. O. Brown, S. S. Missy, of the American Sunday School Union, and S. P. Anderson, connected with the Venango County Sunday School Association, and with the State Association also, in the A. B. C. work, gave addresses. Mr. Brown is a chalk talk and paper artist of no small repute and efficiency. There were also other interesting features. Good music was rendered by the local choir and local singers. The las McManigle and Blanche Howard. conference closed with the communion of Rev. Bryenton of Titusville, presiding the Lord's Supper, Rev. A. R. Rich having charge thereof.

One thing disclosed, to an observer, by the workings of the conference, is the carefulness with which the way into the ministry of the church is safeguarded. And another thing is the large part the membership of the church have in the question of entrance into the ministry.

Altogether the meeting was a good one: interesting, lively, pleasant throughout. The next meeting will be held at Rouse-
