Charles Bankhead of Endeavor met with a serious accident when the scaffold on which he was painting gave way precipitating him to the ground a distance of nearly fifteen feet. He has since been laid up and confined to his room although the accident happened on the 2d inst. He is recovering, but the process is slow.

A Newmansville scribe writes that James Walter is making his hay. Sam. Daum has had his store building painted, and the M. J. Daugherty house has also received a coat of paint and cement walks have been laid about the premises. M. C. Ryner and son doing the work. Joseph Hinderer has likewise had his house painted. The F. M. congregation held a good all-day meeting on the 4th.

Those who are giving the automobile question any thought whatever should keep in mind the fact that S. C. Menach, Marienville, Pa., is sole agent for the world famed Ford cars, and that a telephone call, or a postal card will bring the agent to your door in one to two hours' time with a spark span new car, for they have them in stock. The Ford gets where when all others fail, rain or shine.—adv.

Stephen H. Evans one of Tidoute's old and highly esteemed citizens, and a prominent figure for many years in Warren county affairs died at his home on the 8th inst. from blood poisoning and pneumonia after an illness of ten days. Mr. Evans was aged 70 years, a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows orders, and of the Grand Army of the Republic. His wife and three sons survive. The funeral was held Friday.

Our popular postmaster, Mr. Gaston, had his salary boosted a hundred dollars a year on the first of July without asking for a raise. It is one of those automatic arrangements whereby the salary goes up or down, according to the amount of business done in the past two quarters, and while it makes the p. m. plum a little juicier when the tendency is upward, it also indicates that the town is not going backward but is growing in importance.

Howard Wilson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Korb, of Tionesta township, was born Nov. 16, 1912, and died July 3, 1914. Besides the parents he is survived by five brothers and three sisters. Funeral services were conducted at the home on Sunday, July 5, at 2 p. m., by Rev. J. C. Wygant, and at the Evangelical Lutheran church at Venus, by Rev. Mr. Rohr, after which the body was laid to rest in the Union cemetery. The parents desire to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and after the death of their child.

Saturday about the noon hour there passed through here what might be termed the most recent run of timber on the Allegheny river, which noble stream in the years that have long since gone has carried on her bosom some of the finest forest products of white pine lumber this, or any other, country has ever seen. The timber referred to consisted of a single stick of pine, 75 feet in length, 2 feet at the butt and 15 inches at the top, and as straight as an arrow, a pretty sight surely. It was a product of the Wheeler & Dusenbury plant at Endeavor and was being delivered on a special order to a construction company at Frankita. The monster stick was in charge of Boy Anderson and N. P. Wheeler Jr., who adopted this method of transportation in preference to the cumbersome and expensive railroad route. They rode the timber through the eddies and had a team along to help over the shallow places. Doubtless it was the biggest run of timber on the lowest stage of water ever heretofore attempted.

The City Fruit store, Central House block, pulled off some big stunts in the line of fruit and vegetable sales last week, but the wide-awake proprietor is too resourceful to be caught napping, and so has a bigger stock than ever this week, and if you can't get what you want in his line of goods there's no use looking further because it's not in the market. Oranges, bananas, plums, cherries, currants, pine apples, water melons, cantaloupes, and every kind of vegetable galore. None but the choicest at this week. Three dozen lemons for 50 cents, this week only.—adv.

The State Game Commission has officially closed Warren, Forest, Jefferson and Clarion counties to the hunting of deer for a period of five years. These counties joined in a petition to have this course taken under a recent act of assembly, and as there was no protest filed with the commission against such action the closure becomes absolute for the period stated. It is understood that during the five year interval the commission will make an effort to have these counties stocked with deer, and as Forest county is peculiarly adapted to the propagation of this noble species of wild game, we should have a nice lot of them along about 1920.

Resulting from an accident in North Warren, July 3, Arme Spencer aged 23 years and 4 months, died at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. Spencer was injured in such a way by a freight train the night of July 3, after alighting from a Jamestown car that amputation of his leg was necessary and he never fully recovered from the shock. He had been a resident of North Warren for the past 10 years, being born in Forest County, and was well known in this vicinity. He is survived by his mother, Sarah Spencer, Mrs. G. L. Wade, of Warren, Mrs. Fred Fish of Lander, Mrs. Carl Anderson of Sheffield and Mrs. Julius Johnson of Warren, his sisters, and Jack Spencer, of North Warren, his brother. The funeral was held in Warren Saturday; with interment in Fairview cemetery at Yankee Bush.

Quite a unique company of people picnicked with Dr. and Mrs. William G. Morrow, at West Hickory, on the 4th. It was unique as to its literati, and as it was composed of few outside Endeavor and West Hickory, it might be of interest to note what sort of every-day folk this neck o' the woods can produce. In the company there were representatives of the following schools: Colleges and Universities—Smith, Princeton, Cornell, Lafayette, Allegheny, Westminster, Andover, Baltimore Medical, and McCormick Institute (Chicago); Seminaries—Rye, Miss Marshall's, St. Margaret's, Hamilton, Miss Nardine's (Buffalo), and Howard; Normals—Illinois, Indiana, Pa., and Dexter Normal College; Preparatory—Hill and Kiskimintus; High Schools—Tidoute, Tionesta, Deposit, N. Y., West Hickory and Endeavor; Holt's Business College; Mechanic's Institute, Rochester, N. Y.; Biltmore Forest School, North Carolina; Kindergarten—Endeavor and Oakmont; Minersville, Dundas, Ill., and Van Wert, Ohio; New York City.

The storm which struck this section of the Allegheny valley Sunday evening about 7 o'clock came quickly after a great calm and was mostly wind. Ten minutes before the storm broke not a leaf was stirring and the heat seemed at its height for the day. No damage was done here and the drop in the temperature from 90 degrees to less than seventy was a most welcome change. At President there were a number of small pleasure craft on the river, whose owners found it difficult to get to shore on account of adverse winds. While some of the occupants were wet through by the rain the shores were made in safety. At the upper end of President eddy there are three large tents, occupied by 20 members of the Kellettville Bible class. These tents were prostrated by the wind and the stuff inside them considerably damaged by rain. Other tents were sorely tried, but withstood the test. While the rainfall seems to have been general, it is reported that there was no wind of unusual velocity further up the river than Tidoute.

Making Long Cruise.
The spectacle of a large scow, with a tent on board, moored at the south bank of the river, a short distance above the Petroleum bridge, has excited the curiosity of many who have crossed over the bridge. The boat is the property of Clyde Miller, of Erie, who, with his wife and nephew, Heimer Wolf, are en route to New Orleans. The boat is 42 feet long and 12 feet wide, and draws only four inches of water. The party left home one week ago and experienced but little difficulty in crossing the shallow points encountered in the Allegheny. Upon arriving at Pittsburgh it is proposed to replace the tent with a substantial cabin, also to purchase a launch for towing purposes. Two years will be devoted to the trip and the expenses will be met by canvassing for various household articles at all the principal stops along the Allegheny, Ohio and Mississippi rivers.—Oil City Blizzard.

The craft was built at the Forest Barge company's yards at West Hickory, and is a substantial affair, made to withstand all sorts of usage, a long voyage and the roughest of seas.

James Haslet was seized yesterday morning by an attack of illness that prostrated him for the day and alarmed his friends, but he is improved this morning and his physicians expect him to make a quick recovery.
Melvin E. Sibble for several years a faithful clerk in the Collins & Kreidler general store at Nebraska, has resigned his place to accept a similar one with the Kribbs store at Edenburg, or Knox, Clarion county, and has already moved his household effects to that place. Mr. and Mrs. Sibble will be much missed by many friends at Nebraska, who regret keenly their departure from amongst them.

Hon. N. P. Wheeler of Endeavor was a visitor for an hour or two Saturday with Tionesta friends, who noted with much pleasure his improved health and vigor from a rather annoying indisposition of a year or more past.
At Alderman Henry McCready's office Saturday night, at 9 o'clock, marriage rites were performed, uniting Charles O. Withaler, of Oil City, and Miss Bessie O. Withaler, of Tionesta in wedlock.—Oil City Blizzard, 13th Inst.

Tionesta friends are informed of the critical illness of Frank Coleman, at Spencer, W. Va., and they regret to learn that his malady is in the nature of cancer of the stomach, so far advanced that physicians hold out no hope of his recovery to relatives.
Mrs. M. J. Birteitl, mother of Mrs. George Town, has returned to Tionesta after being operated on for cataract by Dr. E. W. Bolton, of Oil City. The operation was a complete success and she is enjoying the pleasure of seeing after seven years of blindness.

Monday Dr. Coulter of Oil City was called in consultation with Dr. Boyard on the case of Daniel Walters, whose continued illness has been a matter of anxious concern to his family for some time past. A host of friends hope for a favorable turn in his condition.
Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Kelly and daughter Alice of Chicago are enjoying their annual vacation in Tionesta as guests at the home of Mrs. A. B. Kelly. It will be just like Ben to pull off some of his big fishing stunts during his two weeks' vacation in his old home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Meader and children motored down from Jamestown and spent their Fourth of July vacation at the old homestead on German Hill as guests of Mrs. M.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weingard. No outing is so joyous to them as a visit to the old home folks.
Mr. and Mrs. George Birteitl and children motored over from Edenburg last week and spent several days as guests at the home of his brother, Ray Birteitl. George brought his frog spear and turtle trap with him and had a heck of a good time while bagging his favorite game and stirring up trouble among old friends.

Our old friend John W. Myers of Tionesta township gave us a pleasant call last week. He passed his 83d birthday on the 5th inst., and for a kid of that age he's about the spryest we've seen yet, and he tells us he still makes a fair hand in the harvest field, not all of the younger men getting away with him in the round up.
Earl Maxwell arrived from Bartlesville, Okla., last week, being called home on account of the serious illness of his mother, who was operated upon two weeks ago at the Oil City hospital. Mrs. Maxwell's friends will be glad to learn that, while yet critically ill, her improvement seems steady and noticeable from day to day.

O. L. Mealy was a recent caller at this office while visiting in Tionesta. He has disposed of his oil interests near Franklin at a nice profit, and will take a few months rest to recuperate his health which has been somewhat impaired of late. Mr. Mealy is a former Forest county boy and is enjoying the companionship of old friends.
Mr. and Mrs. Carlos P. Reynolds, of Sibley, Iowa, spent a couple of weeks recently with old friends in Hickory twp., being for the most part guests at the home of S. E. Church, on Church Hill, who occupies the farm once known as the Reynolds homestead. Mr. Reynolds is one of the 83d Regt. survivors and delights to get back occasionally and meet as many of the "old boys" as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Haslet of Sheffield spent the 4th and several days of the past week with their parents in Tionesta. Besides the excellent article of baseball which Sam always puts up, he still wears a good sized belt as an expert with the rod and line, having brought his friend C. E. Allen along to show him what fine bass fishing we have down here. They landed 27 nice ones in the two days they were here, and Sam topped off the catch by hooking a five pound "longer before he left.

Mr. Wesley D. Carnahan, of Tidoute, Pa., and Miss Eda Clara Head, of West Hickory, Pa., were united in marriage at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the Grace M. E. church, by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Barr. The couple will reside at Tidoute.—Warren Times, Wednesday. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Head and has been one of our county's popular young teachers, while the bridegroom is a well known contractor and driller. A host of friends join in wishing the happy couple abundant prosperity and joy.

It is with much regret that we note the removal from Tionesta of our good neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Sam. T. Carson and daughters, to their new home in Bradford. They shipped their goods last week, and their address will be 22 Hobson Place, Bradford. Mr. Carson's contracting operations being located extensively in the McKean county oil field his removal to that section became almost imperative. They bear with them to their new home the kindest wishes of a host of friends in this community for a full measure of happiness and prosperity.

John Foster Smith, of Springfield, Mass., and Maud Weller Berlin, of Kellettville, Pa., were quietly married Thursday afternoon, July 9, 1914, at the home of the groom's sisters, the Misses Smith, Henry street, Warren, by the Rev. J. W. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their future home in Springfield, for which place they immediately departed. Mrs. Smith for a number of years has been a popular teacher in Clarion and Kellettville schools, and Mr. Smith holds a position with the Blatchford Calf Meal Co., of Waukegan, Ill., having been their New England representative for the past two years. Both have many friends in this community who will join the REPUBLICAN in extending happiest felicitations on this joyous occasion.

Died From Injuries.
Relatives here were recently apprised of the death of John Varner, a former Tionesta boy, from injuries received by being thrown in front of a mowing machine while working on his mother's farm near Litchfield, Illinois, an account of which shocking accident is given as follows from the Litchfield Daily Union of July 3d:
"John Varner, one of the most prominent citizens of this vicinity was fatally injured this morning in a runaway on his mother's farm south of this city. He died at the Holden Hospital at 1 p. m. This morning John went to the field southeast from home with a team hitched to a mower to cut grass. The field is probably a mile from the house. Nothing was heard from him until Alva Rhodes was driving by the field when he heard a man calling for help. He went to the field and found the man to be John Varner. He was bleeding profusely from cuts about the body but was still conscious. His left arm was practically cut off between the elbow and the wrist, his right leg was cut practically off between the knee and the thigh; the fingers on his left hand were cut off, he had a bad cut from the sickle on the top of the head.
Mr. Rhodes gave him as much aid as possible and called Mrs. Alva Mercer and the two put him in Mr. Rhodes rig and brought him home. Two doctors saw the ambulance was called. John was conscious and told those helping him that a fly was troubling the horse on the sickle side of the mower and he stepped over to drive the fly away when the team started to run. The rest was a blank to him. How long he had been in the field no one knows. His first thoughts was of his dear old mother. He told her "not to worry that he would be alright, accidents were liable to happen to anyone." Before leaving home on the stretcher he asked the boys to "let him sleep." No hope was entertained for him by the physicians. He was given every attention possible at the hospital. Death relieved him at 1 p. m.
"He was 41 years of age, and was a son of the late S. A. Varner, who died suddenly in a local physician's office, October 4, 1912. Fourteen years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and though he never fully recovered from this affliction he was ambitious and cheerful. He spent considerable time in the oil fields in the west and also farmed on his mother's farm south of this city. He was one of the finest fellows that a person ever met, always courteous, always agreeable and his death has cast a shadow over the entire community. Besides his aged mother he leaves one brother, Forest and one sister Mrs. Emma Varner Robinson, of Hillsboro."
O. W. Proper and Mrs. F. R. Lanson, uncle and aunt of the deceased left for his home on Sunday following the accident immediately upon receipt of information of the sad affair.

Tionesta Wins Third and Fourth Games.
The Tionesta base ball team opened the new grounds on Hunter Island last Saturday afternoon when they won a well played game from Kellettville by a score of 8 to 5. Both teams played good ball but Tionesta showed superior stick work in bunching hits where they counted for runs, particularly in the third and eighth innings. The grounds were rough, making clean fielding difficult, but despite this handicap the players all around put up a game that delighted the large crowd, and it is hoped that ere the season ends we may witness many more games as good as this. The score:

Summary.—Two base hits, Foreman; stolen bases, Foreman, Childs, Haslet, A. Watson, Russell; struck out, by Hepler 5, by Russell 12; base on balls, Russell 1; double play, Haslet unassisted; left on bases, Tionesta 3, Kellettville 3. Umpires, Dunley and Ginsberg.

Tionesta won a good game at Kellettville on the fourth, after a hard up-hill struggle, the score being 6-3. Kellettville was leading 3 to 1 when the ninth inning opened, but just as though that a ball game is never won until the last man is out the Tionesta players stepped up to the plate and hammered in five runs in a few minutes. A record crowd witnessed the game and enjoyed the sport. Batteries—Tionesta, Hepler and Childs; Kellettville, Russell, Murphy and Bowes.
Tionesta defeated West Hickory here yesterday afternoon in a game which was stopped by rain at the seventh inning. Score, 10 to 5.

Cured of Indigestion.
Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day" she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.—adv.
