—Hunters who may be particularly anxious to get in first on the license tags for the approaching season can be accommodated by making application to county treasurer Brazee, who has the documents on hand and will be pleased to issue the license at the small sum of one dollar per.
 —Jay Range, hauling lumber from the Jamestown mill at Oldtown, had his load topped out with a beautiful (?) rattlesnake when he came in Friday evening, which had been dispatched near the mill. The varmint measured 42 inches and sported a "buzzer" containing 11 rattles besides the button.
 —"Quo Vadis," as given at the Pastime Theatre last Thursday, was the finest picture yet presented at that popular playhouse. Manager Hamilton is to be congratulated upon his presentation of this big feature production. The house was packed for the three performances, afternoon and evening.

—The Tionesta township school board elected teachers last Saturday for the coming year, as follows: Hunter Station, Augusta Korb; Hunter Run, Blanche Hunter; Pigeon Hill, John Stutzinger; German Hill, George Ledebur; Oldtown, Glenn Shellhouse; Smokey Hill, Helen Hood; Blocher, Eddie Shaffer; Huddleston, Nettie Stephens; Shriver, Bertha Neal. Schools will begin September 14 for a term of seven months.
 —Roy Fitzgerald, clerk in the Smith store at West Hickory, landed a beautiful specimen of native Allegheny river pike in the eddy opposite that place Friday afternoon. It measured nearly three feet and weighed five and a half pounds. Roy used a light casting outfit and the pretty specimen gave him a merry fight of several minutes which seemed to his captor to lengthen into hours. The Creator might have made a sweeter, jollier fish than the pike, but he never did.

—Leslie R. Lawhead, a former resident of Fisher, Clarion county, where he was born 35 years ago, was found dead at the Soda Ash plant located at Hutchinson, Kansas, where he was employed, June 30. His death was mysterious, it being a question whether by drowning, a fall, or by foul play. Physicians and authorities are alike puzzled as to the cause. He was a brother of Mrs. W. H. Shaffer, recently of German Hill but now residing near Tylersburg. The deceased leaves a wife and four children.
 —The fruit and vegetable display at the City Fruit store continues to attract customers from far and near. Mr. Cohen is kept more than busy searching the largest city markets for the best and freshest goods in his line, and spares no expense in serving his customers with everything the heart could wish. None of the larger cities have anything on Cohen when it comes to putting up a display of tempting things from the orchard or garden. Watermelons 25c and 50c; New Potatoes $1.50 bushel, and all other kinds of fruit and vegetables at very low prices.—adv.

—Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust is going to enforce strictly the provision of the state pure food law requiring a proper label and "soft drink" bottles which are marked with the name of the concoction and bear the words "artificially colored" in very small type will not be held as complying with the law. Such a label does not comply with the letter or spirit of the law, holds Foust, and the labels must contain the secondary in such uniformity of type and color that the entire description shall be equally plain to the consumer.
 —The baseball fans of this section will have a treat next Saturday when the Jamestown (N. Y.) Aloc will play Tionesta on the Hunter Island grounds. The Aloc have the reputation of being the fastest amateur team in that section and this will no doubt be the best game of the season. Manager Walker is endeavoring to give us some good base ball and as it takes a big guarantee to bring the Aloc here, the fans should turn out in big numbers and give the home team loyal support. Everybody turn out. A good bridge to cross on. Game will begin promptly at 3:15. Admission, 25c; ladies 15c.
 —The big "stick" of timber mentioned in The News yesterday as having been floated down the river from the Wheeler & Dusenbury mills in Forest county was ordered by the Howard Lumber and Coal Company for the Northwestern Construction Company. It is of white pine and one of the finest pieces of timber ever seen in Franklin. It is 70 feet long, 22 inches in diameter at the bottom and 15 inches at the top, having a taper of seven inches in 70 feet. The "stick" will be used by the Northwestern as a gin pole and it will be put to use on one of the island near the Galena-Signal Works, which island the company intends to remove in order to fill a low place near the Galena-Signal's new laboratory building.

—Marienville Express: "C. H. Wilton is now in the Kane hospital where he hopes to have an operation soon or just as soon as his physical condition will permit. Mr. Wilton has suffered much and it is to be hoped that this operation may prove successful and that the "Squire" may soon be restored to health.—We have no direct information relative to the illness of Dr. J. E. Beck more than he and his family left here for Buffalo. We understand that a most favorable report has been received, and we trust that his fears of an incurable disease are unfounded and the word received here that he would soon be well may be true." We regret to learn that in Mr. Wilton's case the physicians advised against an operation, and he has returned to his home.
 —Isaac Gilmore, aged about 36 years, died suddenly Sunday morning, July 19, 1914, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilmore, at Helen Furnace, Clarion county. Mr. Gilmore seemed to be in the best of health Saturday night and the first intimation the family had that anything was wrong with him was when his wife found him lying dead on the bed when she went to call him to breakfast. It is thought that he was stricken by a sudden attack of heart trouble, although he had never complained of any weakness in that respect. Mr. Gilmore was known in that section as an expert millwright and was one of the men who erected the Grandin Lumber Co. mill at Eagle Rock, which sawed out the Clapp timber a few years ago. The past few years he had been employed in West Virginia, and with his family was visiting his parents. He was negotiating for the purchase of a farm near his old home, intending to return to that community. Surviving him are his wife and three children, his parents, four brothers and two sisters. The funeral services will be held at Helen Furnace today at two o'clock. The deceased was a cousin of Probationary S. R. Maxwell, of Tionesta.

—David Mays, aged nearly 58 years, and for almost his whole life a resident of Clarion county, died at his home at Leeper, Pa., July 13, 1914. He was born Sept. 25, 1827. He successfully followed lumbering for more than fifty years, and upon retiring from that business took up farming in Farmington twp., in which pursuit he passed his declining years. Mr. Mays was twice married, his first wife being Miss Mary Carbaugh, of which union two daughters survive, Mrs. Squire H. Cook of Cooksburg, Pa., and Mrs. James Starr of Dagus Mines, Pa. His wife died in 1858, and his second marriage was with Miss Rowena Smith. Of this union the following children survive: Mrs. Florence McCartney, Sharon; Mrs. Chas. Swartzfager and Mrs. J. H. Walter, Leeper; Mrs. Daniel Carson, Clarion; Mrs. Ida Austin, Marienville; Samuel Mays, Kane; Herbert Mays, Fort Wayne, Ind. and Mrs. B. A. Shotts, Sharon. Mr. Mays was a devout Christian, and it is said of him that he was loved and respected by all who knew him. His funeral was held at Leeper on July 15th and was attended by a very large concourse of people. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. A. R. Rich and the interment was made in the Tylersburg cemetery.
 —While Lee Huefner, driver for an Oil City garage, was driving to the Venango club about 9 o'clock Saturday night, the car, a heavy Thomas flyer, struck and killed Albert Amore, the six-year-old son of Joseph Amore, an Italian employed by the city, whose home is near the scene of the fatality. Huefner was arrested, but after telling his story was released, and exonerated by a coroner's jury from any blame. Mr. Huefner stated that he was driving at a rate of about 15 miles an hour. He saw a number of children playing in the street ahead of him, two on the left side of the street and three or four others near the walk on the right. He sounded his horn and thought he had plenty of room. Just as the car reached him, the Amore child decided to join his playmates on the walk and, running to them, was struck by the car. The headlights on the left hand side of the machine struck him, on the right leg, breaking it. He was thrown and the wheels of the ponderous machine passed over him, fracturing his right leg at the hip and crushing and shoving his intestines and other internal organs out of place. In the foregoing is a terrible warning to those who permit their children to play on the streets while automobiles are passing and repassing almost non-stop. The warning applies to Tionesta as well as other towns. Teach the little ones to avoid the streets as play grounds.

—Charles F. Murphy, well known as a resident of Forest county for more than forty years, died at his home at Byromtown, Jenks twp., on the 15th inst., after a period of ill health extending over several years. He was aged 73 years. He came to Forest county as a jobber in the lumber woods, and for a number of years carried on extensive operations in Green and Kingsley townships, being quite successful in that line of business. Besides his wife he is survived by nine children. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon last, Rev. G. W. S. Phillips of the Marienville M. E. church officiating. The interment was in the cemetery at Pigeon.
 —Monday Fred Rathfon of Tylersburg had his arm severely cut by being thrown through the windshield of an automobile which was being driven on the Macadam road between Tylersburg and Leeper, by an Oil City man. The car was in contact with one of the cement sewer heads along the road, the impact throwing Mr. Rathfon through the glass windshield with terrific force. The car was considerably damaged and the driver was taken before Justice F. E. King on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. The "Squire" placed him under bond of $500 for his appearance at a further hearing, which was set for next Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.
 —Two weeks ago a resident of West Hickory, here on business, bought a new straw hat at the Monarch clothing store, leaving his old one with the clerk to be called for. The customer did not return until last evening when the store was closed. Ben Hershfield, the proprietor, was found near the store and, with his customary desire to oblige, promptly opened the store and gave the West Hickory man his old hat upon request. The owner turned up his sweatband and extracted a $10 bank note that had reposed there all the time since he had left it. He had put the money there originally for safe keeping, then forgot where he had hidden it. After considerable cogitation he recalled the exchange of hats and came to Oil City at his first opportunity.—Oil City Derrick, 15th.

Look Out For The Army Worm.
 Reports from towns in northwestern Pennsylvania indicate that we, too, may expect a visitation from the pestiferous "Army worm." From all parts of Western Pennsylvania come stories of the presence of this pest in alarming numbers. On Sunday the army worm, thousands strong, invaded Titusville. The army worm is a kind of Cut worm which is present every year, but does not commonly appear in such numbers, and no more destructive pest to garden produce and grain is known in this section of the country. They have been known to destroy a field of grain in a single night. They have been kept back by plowing a furrow with the vertical side from them so they can not climb it easily, and then dragging a log behind a horse ridden by a boy. Of course, such measures are entirely impractical on lawns. A good method is to mix one part of arsenate of lead or Paris green with about thirty parts of any kind of powder, such as slaked lime, ashes, road dust, or even flour, and dust it very lightly over the infested lawn. It requires only a very light dusting to get ahead of the pest.

The Venango License Question.
 The State Superior Court on Wednesday handed down three decisions on appeals from lower courts, relative to the granting of liquor licenses. In each of the cases the decision of the lower court was upheld. Two of the cases, one from Venango and the other from Indiana county, related to the refusal by the judges to grant licenses. The third case was from Clarion county, and sought to reverse the judges of that court on two hotel licenses which he had granted. The decisions would appear to be contradictory, but they uphold in each case the principle that the granting of licenses rests entirely with the discretion of the judge; he alone shall decide to whom they may or may not be granted. Whether the Legislature in framing the law intended to place this power in the hands of the judges, or whether the principle has been read into the Act, does not appear in the report of the finding.
 Public opinion and the manner in which the law is construed by the lower court will probably differ. To most people it will appear as putting too much power in the hands of a single person. It is an unpleasant position in which to place a judge, as, if we have read the report of the finding aright, his sentiment in the matter may legally control his actions.—Oil City Derrick.

Base Ball At Kellettville.

 HOWE.
 Captain W. C. Howe, aged 81, for 20 years a resident of Franklin, died at his home in Kansas City, Mo., July 16, 1914. He was born in Shippensburg, Clarion county, March 18, 1833, and was a student at Allegheny college, Meadville, for three years. In 1854 he went to California, and while there enlisted in a California regiment of cavalry. He participated in 32 engagements and was made a prisoner of war at Winchester. Following the close of the war he engaged in business at Plumer, going from there to West Hickory, where he had charge of an oil and mercantile establishment. In 1867 he returned to Plumer as general manager for Prather Bros. as buyer and shipper of oil. That same year he married Miss E. Harriett Sigkins, of West Hickory. In 1869 he purchased oil interests in the Pitchole development, which were highly successful. He afterwards followed producing in many of the later fields. His wife and four sons survive. Captain Howe is affectionately remembered by a large circle of friends in this section of Forest county, where he frequently visited before the removal of the family to the western country.

LOROM.
 Rudolph Lorom was born in Havre, Maine, in the year 1858 and died at his home in Kellettville, Pa., July 18, 1914, of infirmities caused by high blood pressure. Mr. Lorom was twice married. To his first wife he leaves three children. Twenty-three years ago he married the one who mourns his loss and to this union six children were born, two of whom died in infancy and Raynor about four weeks ago. Those who survive are Margaret, Edna and Harold. Funeral services were held at the family home Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Henry Smallerberger, and interment was made in the cemetery at Salamanca, N. Y., on Monday. Mr. Lorom was a member of the Masonic fraternity. He came to Kellettville as superintendent of the kindling wood factory of the Standard Wood Co. at the time of its erection and remained as such until his death. There never was an employer of labor who held a higher place in the hearts of his employees than Mr. Lorom. They revered him almost as their king. He was also held in high esteem by all the people who had business dealings with him or came in contact with him in any way. He was a member of the men's bible class of the M. E. church and as long as he was able to attend delighted to be present. Although he said he wanted his flowers while he could enjoy them and always had an abundance in his sick room, many beautiful flowers adorned his casket and went with him to his rest.

WALTERS.
 Daniel Walters, one of the oldest and most favorably known residents of Tionesta, and a veteran of the Civil War, died at his home here on Tuesday, July 21, 1914, at 10:15 p. m. Mr. Walters had been in failing health for some months, but the immediate cause of death was muscular heart disease. The deceased had been confined to his home for some weeks, gradually growing weaker until the end at the above time, his last appearance being for the ceremonies of last Memorial Day, when with others of the old veterans he was conveyed by auto to beautiful Riverside cemetery to participate in the services in memory of the departed heroes of the great civil strife. Daniel Walters was a son of David and Mary (Nally) Walters, original settlers of Newmansville, Clarion county, being born at that place August 25, 1830, and thus was aged 77 years, 10 months and 25 days. Early in life he followed lumbering on the Clarion river, and on Coon creek, Green township, this county, with his brothers, George and James Walters. On October 6, 1862, answering to the immortal Lincoln's call, he enlisted as a member of Co. B, 169th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, with Henry Shotts as captain. Going to the front he served his country faithfully, being promoted to a corporal for bravery. On account of disabilities incurred in the service he was honorably discharged at Harrisburg on July 25, 1863. After returning from the war he came to Tionesta, where, when his health permitted, he worked at his trade of a stonemason. Of recent years he has been interested in the production of oil. On October 1, 1887, he married Miss Rozilla Proper, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Proper, who with the following children survives him: Miss Edie Walters, at home; Mrs. M. C. Myers, of Manington, W. Va., and Mrs. Joseph W. Landers, of Tionesta. He is also survived by one brother, James Walters, and by one sister, Miss Josephine Walters, both of Newmansville; also by four grandchildren. He was baptized and confirmed in the Walters Lutheran church at Newmansville, early in life, and when the end came was fully reconciled and ready for the great change. Daniel Walters was the very soul of honor, was of the best type of citizen, a man who had many staunch friends and no enemies. He lived at peace with all men, being quiet and unassuming, but true as steel to his friends. He was pre-eminently a home man; his highest wish and desire was for the comfort and happiness of his family, and no sacrifice was too great for him to make to contribute to their welfare. Not many of his type of men are left upon the scenes and none will be longer remembered than this sterling friend and good neighbor. The funeral services will be held at the family home Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

State Road Work Begins.
 Now that the decision of the Supreme Court has released the automobile fund appropriated by the legislature more than a year ago to the use of the State highway department, work on the state highways has begun, and the roads will be put in proper repair as fast as a large force of men and teams can do the work. In less than forty-eight hours after the decision was rendered Engineer Frame of Warren had forces of men at work in all the county's in his district, and orders were issued to have the state-controlled roads put in the best possible condition and as expeditiously as it can be accomplished. Owing to the lateness of the season only repair work can be done and no permanent improvement is likely to be undertaken, but the repairing of the roads will be of the most substantial kind under the circumstances, and the fall months will doubtless see the roads in good condition for the winter.
