THE hog seems to have followed the cow over the moon.

CARRANZA looks upon the wreaking of vengeance as part of the legitimate fruits of victory.

By covering up their tracks nicely some men get credit for walking in the straight and narrow path.

Men who purchase automobiles for $50 or $100 apiece should insist on an abstract of title with each machine.

MR. Bryan's suffrage interview shows that he is facing the West instead of the South. But he is not trying to commit the administration to his views on the subject.

THIS would be a mighty good time to inaugurate the open season for a little Democratic prosperity, provided Mr. Wilson is not too busy making war on "big business."

THE first year of the new tariff shows a surplus in the United States treasury of three and a half millions. It looks as though we should give it a fair trial before listening to the calamity howlers.—Democratic Vindicator.

Jas. J. Three and a half millions reduced from a hundred millions, under a Republican tariff.

IT is now proposed that all persons handling food products must take a physical examination. Will this include the gardener, the farmer, the wholesale buyer, the retailer, the delivery clerk, the householder, the butler, the serving maid, the cook, and finally the persons who eat the stuff? Item: Another addition to the high cost of living. Item: Another army of high priced inspectors. One more item should be included: "Kill the whole race of reformers."—Tidout News.

EACH week day two million pounds of foreign meat are brought into this country to compete with the product of the American farms. Of course this is a new freedom which the farmers will regard with enthusiasm when they vote; it saves them the trouble of producing the cattle and hogs and taking in so much money. Also it is a popular statesmanship put to work in preventing the farmers from straining their shoulders in lifting mortgages.—Franklin News.

And yet the price of meat continues to soar skyward, and the high cost of living to go upward and upward, despite the most positive declarations of the Democrats to bring the prices down if given full power in the nation. Still, you will be asked to help put more Democrats in office this fall. Will you do it? Not much, we guess.

Palmer Gets A Tip.

A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic boss of Pennsylvania, and Democratic candidate for United States senator, has paid an official visit to the senate sub-committee on postoffices and postroads and has told that distinguished body exactly what he thinks of it.

Mr. Palmer went to the senate sub-committee in his capacity as chief distributor for this state. He protested that the place grabbers in the state were making his life a burden and urged that his appointments to postoffices and other places be confirmed.

Mr. Palmer insisted that Senator Boies Penrose was responsible for holding up the appointments and he urged that the Democratic members of the sub-committee act in the matter of confirmations without even consulting Senator Penrose. Mr. Palmer's suggestion was not popular. It brought out quite a lot of important information, however. Members of the senate sub-committee produced records showing that quite a lot of Mr. Palmer's appointees were unfit for the places to which they had been appointed and that prominent Democrats in the several districts of this state had protested against the confirmation of the unfit ones.

finally he was told that politics had no part in delaying the confirmations.

It is probable that all the postmasters named at the investigation of Mr. Palmer will be confirmed within a short time, but before confirmation the postoffice department will be supplied with the evidence given the sub-committee of the senate on the records of the appointees.

It is evident that Mr. Palmer is not succeeding well with his determination to place the responsibility for the delay in confirming his appointments upon Senator Penrose. Democratic senators are responsible and they have assumed that responsibility to give Mr. Palmer a chance to correct the many mistakes he has made in his factional recommendations.

Urges Extreme Measures Be Taken Against Serbia

FRANCIS JOSEPH, Emperor of Austria-Hungary.

HUNGARIANS PATRIOTIC

Many in America Will Go Back to War For Country.

New York, July 28.—About to return to Budapest, his American tour cut short by the Austro-Serb war, Count Michael Karolyi, leader of the Independent party in Hungary, sharply criticized Austria's policy toward the Balkan states while confessing that since war had come Hungarians would loyally support the empire.

"If Austria had pursued a policy of directly helping the Balkan countries, if Austria had in the past made it a point to be actively their friend, this war would not confront us," the Hungarian said with vehemence.

"Since it has come, of course, all Hungarians will support the empire and internal differences will be dismissed while the empire is imperiled.

"As for the loyalty of the many Serbs within Austro-Hungary it is hard to say. But the Austrian policy toward the Balkans has been all wrong."

At the Austro-Hungarian consulate it was stated that no notification of war had been received nor had notice to call upon army reservists in this country arrived from the Austrian ambassador, Dr. Dumba.

Natives of Austro-Hungary in the United States number over 3,000,000. Of these all able bodied men between the ages of nineteen and forty-two are supposed to answer the empire's call for reserves.

Paul M. Pavlovitch, in charge of the Serbian consulate, said that 9,000 Serbs went over to fight in the Balkan war. Only about 1,000 Serbs in this country are natives of Serbia, he said, and there are somewhere around 100,000 American Serbs who are allies of Austria.

RUSSIA CANNOT KEEP OUT

Washington Hears War Between Czar's Country and Austria is Inevitable.

Washington, July 28.—How ominous is the situation in Europe was indicated in an authoritative dispatch received in Washington from St. Petersburg.

According to this reliable information the Russian ministry regards war between Russia and Austria as inevitable.

The fact was made known that Russia has ordered a complete mobilization of all her forces. Heretofore it had been reported that only a partial mobilization had been ordered.

President Wilson said that this government has taken no action looking to an offer of its good offices. Its policy at present will be one of strictly "hands off."

GIRL'S ARM SEVERED

Riding in Summer Car Disastrous to Pittsburgh Child.

Four-year-old Jean McKee was the victim of a remarkable accident on a street car in Pittsburgh. Her left arm, protruding beyond the guard rail of the car, was entirely severed a few inches from the shoulder by a piece of an iron bedstead in a rubbish wagon as the car passed the wagon.

So cleanly was the arm severed, even the bone, that little work was left for the hospital physicians, who merely took precautionary measures to prevent blood poisoning after cutting away a few remaining pieces of unevenly cut flesh and tendons.

The little girl was riding with her mother and was seated at the inside end of the row of a summer car. Despite the warning of her mother, the child had her arm resting on the guard rail, it is said, when the car passed the wagon. The section of the bedstead tilted at a sharp angle and struck the girl when the car passed the wagon as it turned from the track.

Clerk's Theft of $7,000 Revealed. As the result of peculation of $7,000 from the Union Switch and Signal company by a clerk in the main office in Swiswale, near Pittsburgh, the head of the department has been discharged, though not responsible for the theft except that his methods made it possible. President W. D. Uptgraft states that the entire sum has been recovered. It has not been decided whether the guilty clerk will be prosecuted.

Sunday Cancels Chautauqua Date. Evangelist William A. Sunday has canceled an engagement to appear at Bellevue Chautauqua, which will be held in Washington county, Pa., in September. Sunday was to have addressed the gathering on Sept. 6, but in a letter received he stated that he would have to cancel the date as he will open his campaign in Denver on that date, which necessitates his abandoning the trip there.

Telegrapher Killed by Train. The body of E. C. Park, married, aged twenty-five, of Parassassa, Pa., a telegraph operator employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, was found beside the railroad tracks at Black's Run station on the Conemaugh division by a track walker. Park had finished his work and it is thought that he was on his way home when he was struck by a passing freight engine.

Arm Severed, Walks Mile. With his arm severed, John Mattox, a young farmer residing south of Washington, Pa., walked a mile to his home, where he collapsed. Mattox was thrown from his seat on a moving machine on striking a stump. His right arm caught in the cutter and was severed.

Horse Gives Boy a Shaking. Enraged when he was struck by a stone, a horse which was grazing in a pasture near Johnstown, Pa., attacked Russell Williams, seven years old. The horse picked the boy up in his teeth and shook him violently. The boy is in a serious condition.
