—The residents of Marienville are rejoicing over the fact that the new glass plant in that place started up full blast Tuesday morning. Eighteen blowers were put to work in eight-hour shifts blowing bottles, and there is no reason why the new industry should not help to boom the old town.

—The forty-third annual reunion of the gallant old Eighty-Third Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, is booked to take place this year at Corry, Pa., next Tuesday, Sept. 8th. L. D. Rockwell, of Corry, is the secretary of the organization. Doubtless a number of the survivors residing in this county will attend this reunion.

—Mrs. Frank Sharrow of Loeper, Pa., died last Thursday from the effects of taking corrosive sublimate with suicidal intent. She lived a week after taking the deadly poison and medical skill was powerless to stay the hand of death. She is survived by the husband and several step-children. The funeral was held on Saturday.

—Jacob Emert, who resides on the South Norton farm in Hickory township, which he purchased some time ago, reports that during his absence from home last Thursday some one exploded a heavy charge of dynamite near his home, the concussion shattering twenty-nine lights of glass in the building. If this was intended as a joke it was a dear one for him.

—Mrs. Carnahan, wife of M. S. Carnahan of Pleasantville, Pa., died at the family home Saturday afternoon last, of valvular heart trouble. She was a woman of rare culture and talent, a lifelong member of the M. E. church in which she was an earnest worker. The husband is well known and has many friends in this community, all of whom will sympathize with him in this bereavement.

—August showers bring forth September mushrooms, and pastures and outlots are often strewn with the fungus of a morning. But, say, if you are not sure which is which you'd better keep hands off, for the poisonous variety will make short work of your existence here on earth if you should indulge to that kind. They're a treacherous blend at best, and novices have no business fooling with them.

—The story of Antony and Cleopatra as depicted in the Clues Photo films at the Pastime Thursday evening was easily the finest yet shown at this popular playhouse. Eight reels were required to complete the play, every one of which was a master piece. The audiences were not what they should have been for such gorgeous pictures, owing, doubtless, to the threatening weather, discouraging many out of town folk from attending.

—The "Jack Brown boat house," for many years the home of fishermen visitors from all parts of the country, especially from Oil City, has been removed from Thompsons eddy to Oleopolis. Following the death of "Jack" Brown recently the business of furnishing bait, boats and lodging for visitors has been carried on by his son and son-in-law at Thompson's eddy. Now the son, F. P. Brown, has removed the boat and his skiffs to Oleopolis.—Oil City Derrick.

—The City Fruit store will be stocked up to the brim again this week with the finest markets afford in vegetables and fruits. Canteoupes, watermelons, cabbage, and the like were never better, while oranges, lemons, peaches, pears, plums, etc., in the fruit line are just now at their best, and we sell them at the lowest figure possible. If you can beat our stock in any of the large city markets we'd like to know it. Always call early, while the stock is freshest, and we will guarantee that your money will go farther here than anywhere else. H. I. Cohen.

The borough schools opened for the term Monday with a total enrollment of 176, divided as follows: Room No. 1, 47; No. 2, 37; No. 3, 25; No. 4, 30; No. 5, 28; No. 6, 8. These figures will be materially increased, it is believed, within the next week or two. At the last moment the school board was informed of the resignation of Miss Violet Starkweather, the second assistant principal-elect, and the question as to whether the board shall dispense with the room for the present term or employ another teacher will be determined at its meeting next Monday night. In the meantime Miss Clara Henry has been engaged as substitute teacher until the matter is disposed of.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bowman of Cashup were considerably bruised and shaken up at six o'clock Tuesday evening at Pleasantville when their horse shied at a passing auto and upset the rig in which they were riding. Mr. Bowman had only a few scratches on his face, but Mrs. Bowman received an injury to her side, the extent of which is not yet known. After being cared for they were taken to their daughters' home in Titusville in the car of their son-in-law, F. C. Propper, of this place. At the time of the accident Mr. Bowman was on his way to Cleveland to consult a specialist in regard to his falling health. Their many friends will be glad to learn that the accident resulted in no serious injury to either.

—R. L. Endress, aged 21 years, employed as a lineman in the Bell telephone repair crew which has been working in this section for the past week, suffered a fracture of the right knee joint in a fall about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The young man was strapped to the top of an old pole a short distance above the Daniels saw mill, on Hunter run, when the pole broke off close to the ground and dropped over a high bank, allowing him to fall about thirty feet. His knee was caught under the pole, fracturing the bone just below the knee cap, but he was not otherwise injured. He was brought to his boarding place at the Hotel Weaver, where Drs. Gregg and Bovard reduced the fracture, leaving him resting very easy. As soon as he can move about comfortably he will go to his home at Huntington, Pa.

—Richard Taylor, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Taylor, of Marienville, caused his parents an anxious night and a lot of excitement in the town when he wandered off into the woods and was lost all of Saturday night. The family resides at Wagner's mill, a short distance out from town. Between six and seven o'clock Mrs. Taylor started out to get the cows. The boy followed and she sent him back home, but in some way he wandered off in the dense underbrush and was lost. When the alarm was given about 75 men turned out and searched the woods all night, a party of four or five finding the lad just after daybreak Sunday morning, about a mile and a half from his home. He was traveling when found and said he had traveled all night. It is probable that he slept most of the night, for his body or clothing did not show any marks such as he might have had after traveling through the brush for a long distance. Aside from a few scratches on his bare feet and legs he seemed none the worse for his adventure. His first salutation to the men who found him was a question as to what they wanted and then he declared he was hungry and wanted to be taken home.

Recent Deaths.

COOPER.
William Cooper, aged 55 years, died this morning at Crystal Springs Farm, after an illness of several months with Bright's disease and liver trouble. He had been visiting with his niece, Mrs. Charles Lindal, at the Crystal Springs boarding house when his death occurred. Mr. Cooper is originally from West Hickory. He was born at Sugar Grove, Warren county, but had spent many years at Hickory. He is survived by three sisters: Mrs. George Crider, of Endeavor; Mrs. Clinton Bryan and Mrs. H. Norton, of Crystal Springs Farm, and one brother, Adelbert Cooper, of Buffalo. Funeral services will be held at West Hickory at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.—Oil City Blizzard, 1st. Genial "Billy" Cooper had many friends in this vicinity who will learn of his death with sincere regret.

RUSSELL.
Mrs. Nannie Leona (Noble) Russell was born at Tylersburg, Pa., Feb. 28, 1857, and died at her home in Kellestville, Pa., Aug. 30, 1914, after an illness which extended over a year, of tuberculosis. She was married to Charles Nelson Russell, March 5, 1898, and to this union three daughters were born, Maude, Katherine and Christine, who, with the husband, survive her. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Noble, of Tylersburg, who also survive her. She also leaves two brothers, Ward and Joseph Noble of Oil City, and one sister, Mrs. Cora Kahle of Sigel. Funeral services will be conducted at the Kellestville M. E. church this Wednesday morning, by Rev. Henry Smaltenberger, and interment will be in Riverside cemetery in Tionesta. Mrs. Russell was a patient sufferer, a loving wife and mother, and made a friend of every acquaintance. It almost seems that her life's work is not yet completed, that her little family need her too much to be spared, but she expressed herself as being satisfied that her children would be cared for as well as she could do it, and as she could be of no use here on account of her disease racked body, she was content to go. To the husband and father the deepest sympathy goes out in this sad hour.

ALBAUGH.
James Wilson Albaugh, fourth son of John P. and Margaret S. Albaugh, was born in Allegheny county, N. Y., October 31, 1834, and died at his home in Hickory township, Forest county, Pa., August 28, 1914, at the age of nearly 81 years. The subject of this notice was married to Anna Blosser in 1858, the life partner still surviving. To them were born six sons and two daughters, one son and one daughter having previously passed over. There remain to mourn his loss, besides these, many grandchildren and several great-grandchildren; also four brothers and one sister. These were all present at the funeral which was held Sunday afternoon, August 30, at East Hickory, Pa. Joseph E. Albaugh, a great-nephew, delivered the address, taking as his text Hebrews 9:27. Friends came from far and near to bear testimony to their respect for the departed one, and the gathering was very large. And now his body is at rest in the cemetery at East Hickory. This old family circle is at last broken for the first time since 1853, and no doubt that the tremor in this family tree will speedily cause others to fall. The now lonely companion of the deceased, and the family generally, return thanks to the many kind friends for their assistance in this hour of sadness.

HORNER.
Hamilton W. Horner died at this cottage at Allegheny Springs, Pa., Tuesday morning, Sept. 1, 1914, at 8 o'clock, from the effects of a paralytic stroke sustained eight weeks ago. He was a son of Timothy and Lydia Ann (Casse) Horner, and was born in Allegheny county, N. Y., July 7, 1840. When yet a mere lad his father was killed while repairing a mill at Wilcox, Pa., so that the boy was thrown upon his own resources at an early age, and when a young man followed lumbering. April 9, 1865, he married Miss Catherine King of McKean county, who, with three daughters, survives him, namely, Mrs. G. E. Gerow, now residing at Hendersonville, N. C.; Mrs. A. H. Gallup of Youngsville, Pa., and Mrs. R. A. Fulton of Tionesta. In 1867 he moved with his family to Michigan and engaged in farming until 1869, when he returned to Wilcox, Pa., where he was engaged in business for several years. In the spring of 1897 he came to Tionesta and purchased the Central Hotel, which he conducted for a number of years until his health failed and he retired from active business, and spent most of his time quietly with his wife at their cottage at Allegheny Springs, and where he passed away. One brother, C. H. Horner of Trueman, Pa., also survives him. He was a member of Wilcox Lodge, No. 571, F. and A. M., at the time of his death. Mr. Horner was one of the kindest of men, big hearted and good natured, with a friendly attitude toward his fellowmen, attributes which won him many friends in this community where so many years of his life were spent. Funeral services in his memory will be held at Irvineton, Friday morning, and the interment will take place in the cemetery at Smethport, Pa.

HASLET.
James Haslet, a life-long resident of Tionesta, and for many years a leading merchant, furniture dealer and undertaker here, and perhaps one of the best and most favorably known business men residing in Forest county, passed away at his home at 8:45 o'clock Sunday evening, August 30, 1914. He was the younger son of Samuel H. and Margaret (McBride) Haslet, his ancestors on his father's side being very early settlers of Plum township, Venango county. His father settled and engaged in business here in the year 1852, while his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James McBride, erected and conducted for many years the first hotel here known as the Tionesta House. Six weeks ago Mr. Haslet suffered a collapse which caused him to take to his bed, and from day to day he continued to decline until the end came at the time mentioned. He was born January 31, 1859, and was aged 55 years, 6 months and 30 days. He was educated in the Tionesta public schools and his entire life spent here was like an open book, square and honorable in all his dealings, his word being as good as his bond, while his social and home life was simply perfect. There never was a more honorable, upright boy and man residing in Forest county than "Jimmie" Haslet. His friends were numbered by his acquaintances. On December 31, 1891, he was united in marriage with Miss Clara E. Coffin, of Oil City, who, with one son, Kenneth, and one daughter, Marguerite, are left to mourn the loss of a kind, loving and affectionate husband and father. He is also survived by one brother, Robert L. Haslet, of Tionesta. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World Lodge of Oil City, who will send a delegation of its members to attend the funeral. Revs. H. A. Bailey and W. O. Calhoun, the latter of Linesville, Pa., will conduct funeral services at his late home at 2 o'clock this Wednesday afternoon, to be followed by interment beside loved ones gone before in beautiful Riverside cemetery.

CARSON.
Mrs. Mary A. Carson died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Agnew, at 403 E. 34th st., Portland, Oregon, Aug. 18, 1914. Mrs. Carson was born in Indiana Co., Pennsylvania June 17, 1827, where she lived the greater part of her life. In 1857 she was married to William Carson of Indiana, Pa., who preceded her to the grave 43 years ago. To this union two children were born, Mrs. Leonard Agnew, of Portland, Oregon and Robert L. Carson, Gaston, Oregon. After the death of her husband she and her son Robert L. lived together in Indiana, Pa., until about 18 years ago, when they moved to Tionesta, Pa., where her daughter lived. They resided here about six years, going to Oregon in 1902, to help care for an older brother and sister. Her brother, John Lowery, was one of the pioneers of 1832, and settled near Gaston,

Oregon, where he lived until his death about three years ago. Mrs. Carson was the last of a family of six, consisting of four girls and two boys, who all lived to be past three score years and ten. She had been a member of the Presbyterian church for over 60 years and never failed to attend services when the opportunity afforded. For the past two years Mrs. Carson spent the most of the time at the home of her daughter, where she passed away. Although she was confined to her room the most of the time for the past six months, she was very patient and cheerful to the end. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her daughter and son, a son-in-law, Leonard Agnew, who was as dear to her as a son, and her three granddaughters. The funeral services were held at Lerch's Undertaking Parlor, Portland, Aug. 20, at 2 o'clock p. m., Rev. A. C. Moses officiating. The remains will be taken back to her old home, in Indiana, Pa., to be laid by the side of her husband.

CANFIELD.
DIED.—At her home in West Hickory, Pa., at 11 o'clock a. m., Saturday, August 29, 1914, DeFrance Canfield, only child and daughter of Harry S. and Daisy (Zahner) Canfield, aged 13 years, 3 months and 15 days.

With this brief statement is chronicled the passing of another of earth's fairest flowers whose unfolding beauty brought comfort and joy to the hearts and to the home of her parents for a few short years. DeFrance was born in Tionesta, May 11, 1901, and about six years removed with her parents to West Hickory, which had since been her home. As a girl of sweet and amiable disposition she won her way into the hearts of all who knew her, and during her illness these friends evidenced their love with gifts of books and flowers as tokens of remembrance. As a student in the public school she was apt and a great credit to her instructors. In the higher things of life she was deeply interested as her mind unfolded and she delighted in the class work of the Sunday school and all its special services, having an attendance record of two years without missing a Sunday. Her loving devotion to her parents was also a strong characteristic of her short life and worthy of emulation. Last February she was stricken with an incurable disease and despite the treatment that the best medical skill could suggest she failed rapidly and passed calmly from the scenes of earth into the comforting arms of the Heavenly Father. Funeral services in her memory were held at the family home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. D. B. Tobey of Franklin, assisted by Rev. G. A. Collin of West Hickory. Having been a member of the class of Mrs. W. W. Dale in the M. E. Sunday school, it was peculiarly fitting that the members of the class should be selected as honorary pall bearers and thus render a last loving tribute to her memory. The active bearers were her three cousins, Shelton Davis and Leroy Thomson of Tionesta, Harold Bruner of Oil City, and Edward Morrison, John Hunter and Edward Kennedy of West Hickory. The body was brought to Tionesta, and amidst a profusion of sweet flowers and in the presence of a large concourse of sympathizing friends was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

From the sweet bloom of youth we saw life fade away. Like the star of the morning at first break of day. Till the fullness of light closed its beauty all in. As the light of God's love covers up all our sin.

There's a bright star of love in those realms of rest, Shining down on our pathway to guide us the best. Through the valley of sorrow, and the darkness of sin, Till at last we're united and in glory with Him.

In the twilight of death we shall gaze on that star, Which will shine in its beauty, much brighter, by far. Till we're lost in the vision of brightness so blest And are clasped in His bosom, forever to rest.
