U. S. Senator—Boies Penrose, Governor—Martin G. Brumbaugh, Lieut. Governor—Frank B. McClain, Sec'y Internal Affairs—Henry Honck, Congress-out-Large—T. S. Crago, M. H. Garland, D. F. Latsen, J. E. K. Scott, DISTRICT, Congress—Samuel H. Miller, State Senator—Joshua Howard, COUNTY, Assembly—A. R. Meehling, NON-PARTISAN, Supreme Court—Robert S. Frasier, George Kunkel, Superior Court—Frank M. Trexler, James E. Clark.

THE time is doubtless again bearing down upon us, and we shall be treated to another two-column dissertation on the harrowing experiences of war correspondent Richard Harding Davis, and how he almost missed a meal of victuals.

THE Democrats placing the blame for poor times upon the European war is quite as ridiculous as the Progressives placing the blame for poor roads upon the Republicans, says the Derrick. Every intelligent voter knows that the Democrats could have saved the country from poor times, and that the responsibility for the bad condition of State highways lies at the door of the two fiscal officers at Harrisburg elected as progressives, who persistently held up the state appropriations.

A MAN who is a man will not stand to have a personal social friend abused even in private life. If he is a man he will defend that friend. Then why is it that some newspapers will sell their columns to political enemies to be used to abuse and vilify one's political friends?—Tidout News, Well that's the heck of it. In these latter days it would seem all these things shall come to pass, when liars, political out-throats and bribe-takers seem to have the call and are extolled above the decent class.

This bitter contest over the Clarion postmaster'ship came to an end a short time ago by the appointment of A. F. Hies and the elimination of Bro. Sansom, editor of the Clarion Democrat, by Boss Palmer and his political machine. Mr. Sansom says of the new boss in his last issue: "Mr. Palmer seems to have followed the policy of rewarding his enemies and punishing his friends in so many instances, in his efforts to build up a powerful political machine, that he has lost the prestige he had throughout the state, and, it is feared, has not only alienated the sympathy and support of many of his former friends but it is a question whether he has not placed the party in the state back under the domination of the old machine which controlled it, merely substituting a few new bosses for the old ones."

At the Imperial plant of the Oil Well Supply company at the present time there is but one department which has its regular number of employees working every day on full time, that being No. 8, the fitting department. Where formerly, when the shops were running full away, the employees numbered nearly 1,300, now there are hardly more than 200 on the payroll. There has been a steady decrease in the number of men for almost half a year and machinists and other employees are required to work but certain days of the week on eight hours' time.—Oil City Blizzard.

The foregoing is not in any sense to be taken as a "calamity howl," but a plain statement of fact, close at home. It is also a portrayal of conditions in a thousand other instances throughout our beloved land. Vote for Democrats and get more of the same kind!

PRESIDENT Wilson is opposed to further increases in the income tax, in which he exercises commendable wisdom. When it comes down to taxing a $2,000 income it is getting a little too near home for most of us. Liquors, tobacco, patent medicines and the like should bear the brunt of the war tax. A tax of about $2 a hundred should be placed on cigarettes.—Pony Spirit.

Loving a war tax in time of peace seems like a most uncalled-for burden to place upon the people, and would not have been necessary had not President Wilson and his party jammed a free trade measure through congress taking the duty off the rich man's luxuries and placing it upon the poor man's necessities. But that is the Democratic style of running the government. The identical thing happened when the party was in full power before, twenty years ago. By the passage of a near free trade law the revenues were so cut down that the party was obliged to borrow money and issue bonds to meet government expenses. A mighty good notion to vote more Democrats into office, think ye?

Betrayed By Boss Flinn.

William Draper Lewis, dean of the University of Pennsylvania and bull moose candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, has dropped out of the race and has concluded to devote himself to his university work. Politicians generally are uncertain as to whether Dean Lewis fell or was pushed. With his going, however, the bull moose political movement in Pennsylvania has well nigh collapsed. The principles for which Col. Roosevelt and his followers were contending only a few months ago are now completely abandoned so that William Flinn, the rich contractor, of Pittsburgh, disgruntled and spiteful, may have another opportunity to further harass and annoy the Republicans of Pennsylvania. Boss Flinn has determined that the bull moose of the state must help in the election of a free trade Democrat for governor, and the Democrats are compelled to swallow a ticket made for them by political traders and swappers in the back room of a Philadelphia hotel, just because Boss Flinn insists upon having revenge on the party which has repeatedly refused to accept him as dictator.

The followers of Col. Roosevelt in Pennsylvania have been shamefully tricked and deceived by Boss Flinn's dealing with the Democrats, and if the expressions one hears locally are any indication of the sentiment throughout the State, and they surely must be, nine out of every ten of those who were supporting Lewis will now cast their votes for Dr. Brumbaugh, and very many of them for the whole Republican ticket.

Recent Deaths.

WILTON. Charles H. Wilton, Esq., for more than 27 years a resident of Marienville, Pa., where he was prominently identified with the progress of the town, died at his home on Saturday last and was buried Tuesday. He had been in ill health for several months past. He was born in Rochester, N. Y., in 1846, being in his 68th year at the time of his death. Soon after the breaking out of the Rebellion, while yet a mere lad, he enlisted in Co. H, 24th N. Y. Cavalry, serving with distinction to the end of the war. He was a man of more than ordinary intelligence and ability, and had been a justice of the peace in Jenks township for many years, being frequently complimented by the court on his efficiency in that capacity. Mr. Wilton was twice married, his second wife, with eight children, surviving him. Thus another veteran of the war has answered the last roll call, making the fourth which we are called upon to record in this week's issue. He was a man of affable, pleasant manners, who bore the respect and high esteem of his neighbors and friends to the last.

COOK. Sebastian Cook, one of Barnett township's native born and oldest citizens, died at his home Monday morning, Sept. 14, 1914, from the effects of a paralytic stroke sustained on Wednesday last. Mr. Cook was aged 77 years and was born at Cooksburg, in the vicinity of which place he had resided practically all his life, following lumbering in his earlier years and the peaceful pursuits of the farm in after life. He was a veteran of the Civil war, being a member of the 10th Pa. Reserves until severely wounded on account of which he was honorably discharged, leaving a splendid record as a soldier. As a man and citizen there were no better, and through a long and honorable life he was respected and highly esteemed by all. Surviving him is his wife, who, in maidenhood, was Miss Sarah Morgan, a sister of our townsman, Judge Joseph Morgan, besides the following sons and daughters: William, Andrew, Augustus and Coburn Cook of Barnett township; Mrs. Frank Boyd of Millersick, Clarion county; Mrs. William Smathers of Kane; Mrs. Edward Merchant of Mayburg, and Mrs. Robert Cook of Cooksburg, Pa.

Funeral services in memory of the deceased will be held at his late home tomorrow, Thursday, afternoon.

SHUNK. Jonas Shunk, who died from the infirmities of old age at his home in East Hickory, Pa., on Sunday, September 13, 1914, at 4 o'clock p. m., was the son of John and Lydia Brenne Shunk, and was born in Center county, Pa., January 22, 1833. His first wife was Susan Young, deceased, of Clarion county, Pa., and they were married there in 1855. Six children were born to them, five of whom survive him, as follows: John H. Shunk, of Whig Hill, Pa.; Mrs. J. C. Delio, of Florida; Mrs. H. C. Bullman, of Cleveland, O.; D. W. Shunk, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Mrs. B. J. Day, of Dunkirk, N. Y. Mr. Shunk's first residence in Forest county was at Beaver Valley, where he was engaged as a sawyer on the mill of Collins & Holbrook. He also resided on his farm on Whig Hill for many years, moving to East Hickory a few years ago, and he was best known in that vicinity. When the Civil war occurred he enlisted as a private in Co. K, 76th Regt. Pa. Vols., which was assigned to the 24 Div, 10th Army Corps, July 30, 1864. He was wounded in the head in a mine explosion and was taken from the battlefield to the hospital at Monroe, North Carolina, where he was treated successfully for the wound. In the fall of 1864 he was detailed at Chapman's Farm as a teamster and served in the army in that capacity until he was honorably discharged at the close of the war in 1865, at Raleigh, N. C. While in the service he participated in the battles of Petersburg, Cold Harbor, Hanover Court House, as well as many skirmishes; in short had a fine military record. He joined Capt. Geo. Stow Post at Tionesta many years ago and afterwards transferred his membership to Eli Berlin Post, No. 629, at East Hickory. In the month of October, 1910, he was united in marriage with Mrs. Sadie Wilton, of East Hickory, who succeeded to mourn his loss. He was a good soldier and a good citizen in all the walks of life. He was much respected and in his time held many township offices of trust. The funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at his late home in East Hickory, interment to be made in the Town Line cemetery near Whig Hill.

FEAR GERMAN POWER. Feutonic Industry "Nightmare of World," Says M. Hanotaux. Gabriel Hanotaux, the French academician, publishes an important article on the political result of the London convention.

"Without reckoning on Belgium, Serbia and Japan," M. Hanotaux says, "a block of 500,000,000 men has decided to crush the German regency. If this number is insufficient, we shall see others join the compact, for the universe cannot be so blind as to allow a nation like Germany to threaten its independence. Austria, already conquered, humiliated and reduced to implore German aid, would at the conclusion of peace be the first victim of German rapacity. Other people who would be engulfed are afraid to speak out. I said at the time that neutrality would be difficult. I now affirm that tomorrow it will be impossible.

"The German rustic, pedant and emigrant have made 'industry' consciously or unconsciously an invasion of the world. They have prepared silently this pan-German movement, which has become the nightmare of the universe."

ATTACKS FRANCIS JOSEPH

French Newspaper Bitterly Excoriates Austrian Emperor. Emperor Francis Joseph's condition evokes scant sympathy from the French press. The Bordeaux Journal De Gironde makes a fierce attack on the emperor's policy, notably with regard to the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. "This brutal annexation of territory," the newspaper says, "constituted an act little to be proud of. Francis Joseph is about to leave the world, his empire dismembered, torn and crushed, ending by his death the dynasty of the Hapsburgs. His brain, now bereft of intelligence, cannot grasp the ruin for which he is responsible. He should live some years longer to expiate his unpardonable crime as the abettor of the war and to receive the accumulated curses of families lamenting their dead."
