ABOLITIONISM AGAINST LAW AND GOVERNMENT.

In common with conservative men of all parties, we have always regarded the Abolitionists of the North as quite as dangerous enemies to the peace of the country and the perpetuity of the Union as the fire-eating Secessionists and slavery propagandists of the South. In extreme fanaticism, in violent and inflammatory appeals to the popular passions and prejudices, and in headlong zeal in the propagation of their pestilent heresies, we are by no means certain that the Abolitionists have not been even a little more extravagant than their Southern allies in the work of stirring up angry strife and destroying the Union of our fathers. Rejecting the Bible as a pro-slavery book, they have more than once, and on more than one public occasion intimated a disposition to "abolish" it; and the great expounders of Abolition doctrines, the master spirits of this singular organization, have run into almost every species of irreligion and infidelity. Spiritualism, Freeloveism, and other equally revolting forms of error, are off-shoots of the Abolition movement, and spring directly from the peculiar type of mental character and the peculiar fanaticism in which this miserable faction had its origin. Denouncing the Federal Constitution as a "league with death and a covenant with hell," these enemies of good order and good government have habitually practiced and inculcated utter disregard of public law, and contempt for its penalties. They procured the passage of "Personal Liberty bills" the Fugitive Slave law a practical nullity, resisted its execution when it was attempted to be enforced, and aided, abetted and encouraged the escape of slaves from their masters, establishing 'an "Underground Railroad," and spending much of their time and largely of their means to assist in the "benevolent" and "philanthropic" work of negro-stealing. They have, in some instances, even gone into slave communities, and reckless of conseuences to defenceless white women and children, have incited or attempted to incite insurrections, among the servile population. Claiming to have a "higher law," in their perverted consciences and befogged reason, than other people were favored with, they made it sanction all their irregular and extraordinary and (in some cases,) highly criminal proceedings. These are some of the characteristics and these some of the follies and crimes of fanatical Abolitionism. Who says there is any thing in them to commend? Who says they were not always mischievous, and have not contributed largely to the causes of the present deplorable civil war? Certainly no one who is familiar with their teachings and doings, or who knows aught of the irritable and excitable character of the Southern people. Disguise it as we may, there is no disputing the fact that the acts of these miserable fanatics have engendered much of the unreasonable sectional ani-

Not content with having been the instruments of exciting much of the sectional prejudice and bad feeling, North and South, which led to the present deplorable state of the country, the Abolitionists seem deministration, and if possible convert the war into a great anti-slavery crusade and utterly prevent a reconstruction of the Union on the old basis, or indeed on any just and reasonable basis. To this end, they have for months been finding fault with the general course of Mr. Lincoln and his Cabinet, complaining of inefficiency where none existed, clamoring for the "onward to Richmond" movement which resulted concussion of the brain. He received in the disastrous rout at Bull Run, de- prompt medical attention from Drs. Shields the instrument itself rendered doubly dear nouncing the removal of Fremont, and now urging upon Congress and the Administration the adoption of a chimerical emancipation project which is beyond and outside of all constitutional authority, and which would lose us the border slave States and incalculably damage the nation-

But we are glad to know that the people and the Administration have been aroused at last, to some adequate sense of the dangers menacing the Government and the Union from the machinations and fanaticism of Abolitionists. Lovejoy, Giddings, Garrison, and their co-laborers, should be classed with the Yanceys, the Rhetts and Barnwells of the South, and are equally as and the restoration of the integrity of the from principles and facts, sustain us in our Union.

THE SUPPER. The Ladies' Supper at the Methodist Episcopal Church on Christmas night passed off to the delight of a large, "merrie" and most agreeable company. Old and staid citizens like ourselves, of solid which, it remarks, "cannot be too seriously gravity and strict propriety, who never indulge in a laugh or "goak," were terribly forgiven it had we not found, on our return to our half-starved little ones, that our generous young friends had provided amply for their empty stomachs and expanded mouths by filling our great coat pocket with a variety of choice edibles, 'consisting, in part, as follows, to wit:"-3 turkey shins, 2 wings, 4 chicken necks, 2 pounds, more or less, of "twisted bread," as Col. THE OBJECTS OF THE WAR.

We re-produce the Crittenden Resolution, adopted by an almost unanimous vote by the House of Representatives on the 22d of July last. It sets forth clearly, and in dignified and dispassionate language, the objects of the present struggle; and as long as the war is confined to these sacred purposes, it appeals for support to every man who loves the country and the Union which has made her one of the greatest powers of the earth:

Resolved, By the House of Representaive of the Congress of the United States, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States, now in revolt against the constitutional government and in arms around the Capitol; that in this national emergency Congress, banishing all feelings of mere passion and resentmosity which prevails in the South and ment, will only recollect its duty to the which has armed her deluded people in a whole country; that this war is not waged mad attempt to destroy the Federal Govupon our part in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjuernment and break up the Federal Union. gation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or estabished institutions of the States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with its dignities, equalities and the rights of the several States unimpaired, and as soon as termined to control the policy of the Ad- these objects are accomplished, the war ought to cease.

LOYALTY AND DISLOYALTY. Who is sincerely loyal? inquires the Providence Post. The man who stands by the Constitution and the law, or the man who advocates the overthrow of the Constitution and the law, for the sake of gratifying his personal animosities? Who are disloyal? The men who throw every obstacle in the way of the President, so long as he continues firm in his determination to be a Constitutional President? Or, in other words, the true and faithful Democrats are sincerely loyal, and the disloyalists of the hostile to the trpe interests of the country North are the Abolitionists. Arguments

OPINION OF A DEMOCRATIC STATES

MAN. A Boston gentleman has just received a letter from one whom the Boston Courier mentions as "a distinguished Democratic statesman of New York." The Courier is permitted to make the following extracts, pondered:"

"Unfortunately for us all, we are now shocked at the levity of the young folks on actors in a much greater revolution than the occasion. Indeed, we never could have that through which our fathers passed so successfully. When the end will come no one can predict; but that, if the war is conducted on the true principles of the Constitution, and simply for the Union, we must finally succeed in establishing our government over the whole people, I cannot doubt.

"On the other hand, if men at the North, who are justly chargeable with this revolution, succeed in converting the war into one of abolition or emancipation, except to the extent that such results legitimately follow in the train of war, treating slaves as all other property is treated, I do not believe we can succeed in anything but "I believe Mr. Lincoln appreciates this and I think that the good sense of our Northern people will support him, so long as the conflict is waged for the unity of the Government."

SENATOR THUMBULL ON THE CON-

The Senator from Illinois, in introducing his bill for the confiscation of rebel property, made a noble appeal for the Constituion. In this respect, says the Journal of Commerce, his speech was an excellent opening of the winter debates in Washington and it is to be hoped that it will prove a leading speech, to be followed by all the Senators, so far as it relates to the prosecution of the war according to the Constitution and law. We do not mean to express an approval of all his views. From some we dissent entirely, but it is wholly unnecessary now to express or argue the particulars of that dissent. The general principle which he advocates in the following passages, will be recognized by our readers as the views which we have mainwhich some ardent opponents have actually stigmatised as "red tapeism" and "treason." Coming now from this eminent and able Republican Senator, we trust they may make a profound impression on those who have hitherto refused to adopt them.

Let us stand by the Constitution: "I want no other authority for putting down even this gigantic rebellion than such as may be derived from the Constitution properly interpreted. It is equal even to this great emergency, and the more we study its provisions, the more it is tried in troublous times, the greater will be our admiration for the instrument and our veneration for its authors. As unpopular as the avowal may be for the moment among the thoughtless, I here declare that I am for suppressing this monstrous rebellion according to law, and no other way, and I believe that Congress has only to discharge its duty, and the army perform its with energy and activity, to bring the war to a speedy and successful issue. We are fighting to maintain the Constitution, and it especially becomes us in appealing to the people to come to its rescue, and not to violate it ourselves. How are we better than the rebels if both alike set at naught the Constitution? $\,I\,$ warn my countrymen who stand ready to tolerate any act done in good faith for the suppression of the rebellion, not to sanction usurpations of power which may hereafter become precedents for the destruction of constitutional lib-

But while fighting this battle in behalf of Constitutional liberty, it behooves us especially to see to it that the Constitution receives no detriment at our hands. We will have gained but little in suppressing the insurrection if it be at the expense of the Constitution, for the chains which the bondman wears are none the lighter because they were pressed by his own and not another's hands. As we expect to come out of this contest with our flag full and complete in all its proportions, not a parts, with all its guarantees for the protection of life and liberty unimpaired, and maintained and proved equal to every emergency, under circumstances the most trying to which a nation was ever subject-Then, when this struggle is over, we will have an assurance that our Govern ment is stronger than ever before, and that Constitutional Liberly is established on a foundation which no human power will

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for January 1862, has already come to hand. Its contents are rich and varied. For the coming year, the Publishers promise their patrons increased inducements to continue their support. They speak as follows:

"The Publishers of the Atlantic Month-LY desire to direct public attention especially to an important and interesting feature which has been added to this magazine for the coming year. They have succeeded in securing a series of contributions from Professor Louis Agassiz, of Harvard University, the most eminent naturalist in the world. Professor Agassız's articles commence with the January number and will be continued in every number throughout the year. They will be upon THE STUDY OF NATURAL HISTORY and kindred topics, and cannot fail to prove a repository of most valuable information, while the well-known directness and simplicity which mark Professor Agassiz's system of instruction will make them not only instructive but deeply interesting to the general reader."

Godey's Lady's Book for January 1862, with its usual variety of entertaining matters, is on our table. In its particular sphere, the Lady's Book has no superior. Its engravings and fassion plates are executed in the very best style of the art.

GEN. PHELPS' SILLY ABOLITION PROCLAMATION.

General Phelps, in command of the ad vance brigade of our troops at Ship Island, Mississippi, belonging to General Butler's expedition, seized the occasion of his occupation of said Island for the production of a very silly abolition proclamation. It is addressed "to the loyal citizens of the Southwest," and it opens with the astounding declaration that his command will be governed by the absurd idea "that every State that has been admitted as a slave State into the Union since adoption | Receipts on Subscription since Decemof the constitution has been admitted in direct violation of that constitution."-Now, we dare say that there are not ten men in the brigade of General Phelps who will subscribe to any such a fallacy, and that there is hardly ne man in a thousand among our six hundred and fifty thousand Union soldiers who believe in any such nonsense. He next tells the people of Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana that their territory is needed for free labor; that the people of the North want elbow room, and that the people of the Southwest, in sticking to their abominable institution of slavery, are standing very much in their own light. Not satisfied with all this, he tells the Catholic creoles of Louisiana that it was the intolerable despotism of the Catholic church of France which brought down upon that country that horrible, ghastly and sweeping revolution of 1789, with its Reign of Terror, and that the despotism of slavery is quite as grasping and remorseless as the despotism of a corrupt and powerful church. Finally, he informs those Southwestern people that "all our efforts, however small or great, whether directed against the interference of governments abroad or against rebellious combinations at home, shall be for free labor," including free labor for "the four millions of Afri cans" held as slaves in our Southern

This beats Fremont all hollow; and if Fremont was instructed by President Lincoln to modify his proclamation, by cutting out its emancipation heresies, there can be no doubt that Gen. Phelps will be required to take down his enormous abolition standard. Gen. Phelps has the reputation of an excellent soldier; but he is a poor stick of a politician. Among Catholics he plays the Puritan, among Cavaliers he is a Roundhead, and he appeals to the loyalty of slaveholders by flatly informing them that his mission is to relieve them of their slave property, and to substitute free labor; that the war is for this purpose; that he expects no favors, and does not ask

It is a pity that Gen. Phelps was pernitted to go to Ship Island without specific instructions from the government. His proclamation, instead of winning friends among the people to whom it was addressed, will increase the number and violence of his enemies. Gen. Butler. Gen. Dix. Gen. Sherman and Gen. Halleck, in their operations among a slaveholding people, have acted like sensible and sagacious men. We presume, too, that Gen. Butler, men. We presume, too, that Gen. Butler, in assuming the supreme command in 1. V. Condit. 5 00 1. V. Condit. 5 22 the Southwest will issue an authoritative Morford Throckmorton. 1 59 the Southwest, will issue an authoritative | Morrord Throckmorton proclamation to the effect that this war on his part, and on the part of the government, is not a war for the substitution of ree labor over the domains of Southern slavery, but that it is a war for the "integrity of the Union," slavery and all, as guaranteed in the clear and unmistakeable compromises of the constitution of the United States.

Meantime the President, as commanderin-chief of the army and navy, should issue at once a general proclamation for the universal guidance of our army and naval officers engaged, or who may be engaged, in this word. This will avail any and all, as mig described real estate, to-wit:

All the right, title, interest and claim of the defendants, in and to a tract of land situate partly in Washington county and partly in Greene county, containing one hundred and thirty-seven acres, more or less, about one hundred are of which are cleared, adjoining in Washington county lands of Hiram Swart and Robert Bristor, and in Greene county lands of Samuel Braden, and there, and has erected thereon one frame darnount lands in Greene county, and one frame dwelling house on the lands in Washington county, and one frame dwelling house on the lands in Greene county, and a frame stable and an apple orchard.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Abner Bane at the suit of Cephas Lindley. in this war. This will avoid any such faux pas for the future as this very pompous, but very silly, abolition proclamation of Gen. Phelps .- N. Y. Herald.

THE ABOLITIONISTS DOWN ON "OLD ABE."

The Anti-Slavery Standard publishes an extract of a private letter from a "distinguished friend of the anti-slavery cause," which contains the following:

It is more and more evident that Lincoln is a man of very small calibre, and had better be at his old business of splitting rails than at the head of a government like ours, especially in such a crisis. He has ton last week. Wendell is determined to evidently not a drop of anti-slavery blood in his veins; and he seems incapable of uttering a humane or generous sentiment respecting the enslaved millions in our

THE MANDRAKE PILLS,

A CERTAIN

QUEE FOR DISEASED LIVES.

MANY DANSEROUS MALADIES WHICH ARE CAUSED BY A MORBID CONDITION

OF THAT ORGAN.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS produce those wonderful effects which are atter thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brie DESCRIPTION OF THE HUMAN LIVER and its functions, which will make the his popular medicine perceptible to every man's un

The Liver is supplied with blood-vessels, nerves and absorbents. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all its impurities. How indispensably necessary to leastly is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause alaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidueys, great and many other complaints, more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unleastly state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption. The Liver is supplied with blood-vessels, nerves and

This unliestity state of the system very often ends is pulinonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner: The heart sends the vital current down thro' the arteries, it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress, then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure communition, scrofula, scarcely any other kind of ulceration, while that important organ, the Liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that appear is the same of the with the magnitude region that regular physicians rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the base of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver, instead of relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seawced Tonic and Mandrake Pills. will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripes will strengthen the system, purify the blood and ripes and heal ulcers on the lungs.

In tunerculous consumption, where the stomach and liver is generally in a tolerably healthy condition, the Pulmonic Syrup alone will root out all impurities of the blood, and restore the patient to health, if the cavities in the lungs are not too deep. But where consumption originates, as two-thirds of the cases do in this section of the country, sympathising from a torpid liver or disordered stomach, it requires the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, in connection, to bring them in action—then the Pulmonic Syrup seems to go or dissolve into the blood, and thus throw out all impurities; then consumption and scrofulous diseases must yield to those medicines if properly taken. They have cured thousands, and other thousands are now inust yield to those medicines if properly taken. They have cured thousands, and other thousands are now being cured by them. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS are doing more to regulate the stomach and liver than any other medicine invented. Thousands are using them now, in this city and elsewhere, and every one is astonished at their good effects. When the diseased state of any part of the body requires purgatives, these Pills always reach the seat of the disease. They are as harmless as bread, but far more powerful than caloniel or any other mineral poison in their curative effects. Almost every day some person, who has been cured by them, comes to Dr. Schenck's office and relates the wonders they have performed. From some persons they have expelled large worms; from others morbid matter, and from others again, clear bile.

WONDERFUL CURES.

In certain cases, persons who had been ill for a long time with diseased liver—skin shallow, tongue coated, bowels costive, breath offensive. &c., were restored to health and the perfect enjoyment of life, by the use of this medicine. Some who were thus relieved had become so dull, drowsy, or lethargic that they scarcely had energy enough to move hand or foot.

In such cases, the aiment is often caused by worms. By using SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, the state bile and corrupt matter which constitute what are called the "worms' beds" are worked off, and the worms themselves pass off with them. Some weeks ago a lady told Dr. Schenck that she had taken the Pills for liver complaint, but to her surprise, the medicine brought away several worms, each about ten Pills for liver complaint, but to her surprise, the medi-cine brought away several worms, each about ten inches in length. of the remarkable cures performed by DOCTOR MCHENCK'S MEDICINES, viz: PULMONIC SYMBUP. SEA-WEED TONIC and MANDRAKE PILLS—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.
