Low before Thy throne we lie: Hear our fervent supplication,-Guide, oh, guide us from on high: Send aweet peace o'er all our conduct, Bind us by one sacred tie, Life and Liberty to cherish Evermore - Thou knowest why!

HAPPINESS,

The definition of happiness is not easy, it we understand by it, not merely certain fortunate accidents, but rather that feeling through which the interior man receives his deepest sensations of pleasure or pain, for it is very possible to suffer many and great griefs, and yet not to feel thoroughly unuappy in consequence; but rather to find our moral and intellectual nature so purified and exalted thereby, that we would not wish to change this feeling for any other. On the other hand, we may be in the possession of much peace and enjoyment in the things granted us-we may have absolutely no grief-and yet find without ourselves an insupportable void .-To be happy, we require a proper employment for the mind and the feelings-certainly a varied one, and one that shall be suitable to the general character, and so much so as to satisfy every need of exist-

Third and Market Street.

GEORGE P. WERTZ.

We, the undersigued, take pleasure in recommending Mr GEO. P WERTZ, manufacturer of "Venetian Blinds," to the favorabla notice of our friends and the public generally. His work is executed with much taste and durability; in fact, it surpasses anything we have seen in the Blind business, East or West. He uses nothing in his line but the hest of material, such as can be relied upon. Mr. Wertz is very prompt, and always ready to oblige his customers. Price reasonable. In short, he is the excelsior of our city, and most worthy of our influence and patronage.
