Little has been known of the de scendants of Benedict Arnold, although he left three children. No public record of their conduct or position exists, and yet two of them were officers of merit in the British army. By a fortunate circumstance, the writer is able, in a degree, to supply this deficiency and to redeem Arnold's descendants from the infamy to which his name and character were consigned. In a recent visit to England, he was gratified by an accidental meeting with a grandson of Arnold, his only living male heir. The Rev. Edward Arnold is the rector of an established church in Hertfordshire, some twenty miles West of London. He is about 35 years of age, of medium size and dark complexion, with an expressive and beplexion, with an expressive and benevolent face. Young Arnold is a man of great decision, and in his profession exhibits much ability and energy of character. He voluntarily made known his relationship, and while he unhesitatingly condemned the conduct of his grand. condemned the conduct of his grandfather, he thought that some acts of ingratitude, if not injustice, on the part of the Government, should be ingratitude, if not injustice, on the allowed as extenuating circumstancrime of treason, but he claimed there was wrong on both sides.

An invitation to visit his very beautiful rectory, where hospitality was most cordially extended, enabled me to gather some interesting facts which must be peculiarly interesting to Americans. Two cf Arnold's sons died in the army, and one of his grandsons, brother to the Rev. Edward Arnold, fell, bravely fighting at the head of his company, before Sebastopol. One of his sons reached high rank in the East India service, where he was an officer during half a century. Before his NEW SILKS, death, some three years since, he received many marks of distinction from the British Government. Numerous tokens of high professional regard are preserved by his nephew. Among them are many medals, and a hundred guinea sword, a splendid testimonial for wisdom in council, courage in the field, long service, and eminent devotion to his country. A pair of pistols, used by Arnold, in a duel in London, are also in the possession of his grandson. He felt insulted by the remark of a geatleman (Lord Surrey), and the traitor chal-lenged him. Arnold fired without effect, but his antagonist withheld his shot, turning his back on Arnold with a contemptuous remark-"I leave you to the hangman." The British Government gave Benedict Arnold large tracts of land Benedict Arnold large tracts of land IIIIII IIII FACTORY in Canada, as the pecuniary reward for his treason. Some of it was near Rockport, on the St. Lawrence River. But a large portion of it (3000 acres) is near Toronto, between that city and lake Simcoe. This propertywas owned for a long series of years by Arnold's oldest son; but being in the army in the East Indies, he knew little about it, except such as an escasional brief letter from the Canadian agent furnished. Upon Those having Dwellings, Churches or Public Buildings to furnish with

T. I. PORTER, P. G. Scott, V. G. his death, some years since, it reverted to the Rev. Edward Arnold, the only living male heir, and he began a series of inquiries about the property. No reliable or satisfactory intelligence could be obtained, and he feared the land was comparatively valueless. He was assured by the agents that much of the soil was poor and awampy, scarcely exceeding $2 per acre in value. But Mr. Arnold was told by less interested parties that if it was in the vicinity of Toronto, the property was vastly more valuable, and he was advised sequent investigations, at the request of Mr. Arnold, have discovered the land to be among the most valuable in Canada. The 3000 acres now swned by him, but formerly the property of Benedict Arnold, has been found located together in the finest agricultural region, and in the vicinity of the railway (Georgian MACHINES sold in the United States, Bay in Lake Huron) to Toronto.-Competent judges pronounce it worth from $50 to $75 per acre. Thus this young and meritorious ciergyman has suddenly been placed in possession of an estate valued at nearly $20,000, which a month before, from the representation of faithless agents, he would gladly have sold for $10,000. The Rev. Edward Arnold married the daughter of an English earl, and ultimately will inherit a large fortune. But his Canadian property, now in the hands of more competent and faithful agents, will at once yield him a large income, the practical fruits of the reward for his grandfather's treachery. The old English Church, of which he is rector, is a model specimen of an anciant ecclesiastical architecture, having been built over three hundred years. It is a small quain stone edifice with a diminutive tower, having scarcely a hundred sittings. Nearmy the entire structure is enveloped in ivy, from one root, the trunk of which is as large as a good sized forest tree. Whitton, the parish gifted and eminent Christian writer, Bickersteth, was rector, and where his remains are buried, is less than two N. E. Corner 4th and Market Streets. miles distant. The whole region of country rond about is rich in beautiful rural scenes, the magnificent residences of the English nobility, and gentry being interspersed. It is among such an enlightened population, with a full share of rustic peasantry, that the only living male descendant of Benedict Arnold lives and labors. He is a American by descent, and it is gratifying to learn, that, although the grandson of a dishonored manufactures the does no diseredit to himself; his sacred profession, or that mobie land which gave him birth.

Thalberg, one of the most eminent planists in the world, says: "I have great pleasure in certifying that I have tried your Planos, and find them equal, if not superior, to any in this country. Among their great qualities, which distinguish them, is the evenness of tone, the agreeable and easy touch, and volume of tone. Wishing you all the success you so highly deserve, I am, sir, yours truly.

S. THALBERG."
