"A sentiment not to be appalled, corrupted or compromised. It knows no business; it covers no danger; it presses no weakness; it does not demand of despotism, it is the sole conservator of liberty, of equal rights, of equal duties, of the law of nature, of the law of the land."

Democratic County Meeting!
The Democracy of Greene County will hold a Mass Meeting in the Court House in Waynesburg on TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 9. HON. WM. MONTGOMERY, of Washington, will positively be present and address the meeting—Let there be a large turn out, as business of importance to the party will be transacted.

"THE PRINTING PRESSES SHALL BE FREE TO EVERY PERSON WHO UNDERTAKES TO EXAMINE THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE OR ANY OTHER BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT; AND NO LAW SHALL EVER BE MADE TO RESTRAIN THE RIGHT THEREOF.—THE FREE COMMUNICATION OF THOUGHTS AND OPINIONS IS ONE OF THE INVALUABLE RIGHTS OF MAN; AND EVERY CITIZEN MAY FREELY SPEAK, WRITE AND PRINT UPON ANY SUBJECT, BEING RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ABUSE OF THAT LIBERTY."—Art. IX, Sec. VII, Constitution of Pennsylvania.

THE COUNTY MEETING.
The Meeting on Tuesday last, notwithstanding it took place at an exceedingly busy time for the farmer, was largely attended, and a most enthusiastic affair.—The speech of Mr. Witte was one of the ablest we have heard for years, and was received with delight by the attentive and appreciative audience. It was clear, convincing, bold and manly, and a complete vindication of the Democratic party from the foul aspersion of disunionism and disloyalty.

The Waynesburg Brass Band "discouraged most eloquent music" on the occasion, and at night serenaded Mr. Witte at the residence of Gen. LAZAR. In acknowledgment of the compliment, "the Governor" made one of the neatest and happiest speeches it has ever been our privilege to hear.

COOL SEARIGHT AND JUDGE GILMORE.

These bold and able champions of Democratic doctrine and policy, and of Constitutional liberty, were coincidentally expected to address the Mass Meeting on Tuesday last. It will be seen, by the following letter, however, that engagements at home prevented their compliance with the general desire of our people to hear them on the grave questions now engrossing public attention. But it will be gratifying to know that they will visit us during the Summer.

UNIONTOWN, PA., May 14, 1863.
Col. R. W. Jones: Dear Sir—Judge Gilmore and I tender our grateful acknowledgments to the Democracy of Greene County for their kind invitation, so handsomely and generously communicated by you to be present at their mass meeting in Waynesburg on the 19th inst. but engagements in our own county will prevent our attendance. Some time during the coming campaign, when we shall be free from engagements here, it will give us great pleasure to visit and address the noble Democracy of Greene County.

Very respectfully,
T. B. SEARIGHT.

"NO PARTY."
"No party in these times" is the cry of the Republican politicians in this county, but in Allegheny, Lawrence and other counties where they have overwhelming majorities, their cry is of a very different character. There they stick closely by their party organization, keep up their party drill, nominate party tickets, though they are generous enough (noble souls!) to "give up a beloved party name!" ("Did you ever?") But here, where they constitute a meagre minority, and can only hope to damage the Democratic organization, or get office, by crying "No Party," they are incessantly "ringing the changes" on it. Do these gentlemen suppose people are so verdant as not to understand them and their hypocritical tactics and professions? If they do, they will find themselves badly mistaken about the 2d Tuesday of October.

ON FURLOUGH.
Our young friend, Lieut. DAVID TAYLOR, (son of Jos. Taylor, Esq., of this place), of Co. A, 140th Regiment, Penna. Volunteers, is at present on a brief visit to his friends in this place. He has, for some weeks past, been on the sick list, but is gradually recovering his health.—"Dave" is not only a faithful soldier, always ready to discharge his duty, but a courteous and amiable fellow, beloved by all his men and by all who know him.

A Republican paper, in noticing a recent demonstration of its party, makes the following strange announcement:—"The air was rent with the shouts of three thousand people." The meeting is supposed to have been composed principally of army pork contractors; and before its adjournment it said a brass band in attendance played "Root hog or die!"

MOB LAW.
There is no disputing the fact that the Republican press and many Republican politicians are largely responsible for the riotous demonstrations at the North toward Democrats within the last few months. Letters have been dispatched to the army by intolerant and vindictive Abolition partisans intended to inflame the minds of the soldiers against prominent Democrats and Democratic journals, and containing the most atrocious and unmitigated lies, and base and unfounded imputations on their loyalty. Some of these have, in turn, called forth threatening letters from the deceived and misguided soldiers, and these letters have been paraded, with a great flourish of trumpets, in Republican priets. In addition to this, many Editors of that party have published threats, from their own pens, of the most summary vengeance upon all who dared to question the immaculate wisdom of the Administration, or who had the temerity to say a word in behalf of any party but the great "ring-streaked-and-striped" nigger-worshipping organization. These are facts that cannot be disputed, and a lasting disgrace to the papers and demagogues concerned in them. Rendered desperate by their vain attempts to muzzle a Free Press and put down Free Speech and the Democratic party by fair and lawful means, many of these gentlemen are for appealing to the knife and bludgeon, and for sacking and burning the offices of Democratic papers. While some of them openly profess to be for law and order, they secretly, and in a most cowardly and infamous way, incite to Mob law and violence; and those who are not wicked and desperate enough to counsel to such outrages, when they have been committed, are base enough to defend and apologize for them and privately exult over them.—We concur with a Democratic contemporary (there is no cloud so dark in our political horizon, as that of the endorsement given by Republican orators and editors to such lawless acts. These men seem, indeed, to have nearly reached that point of "the Despair which is ready for despotism, or of the Rage which welcomes anarchy."

They must know that Retaliation is the law for the lawless—that the aggressors of to-day may be the sufferers to-morrow, and that persecution for opinion's sake, is well likened to lion-hunting, which is "excellent sport while you are hunting the Lion, but not so agreeable when the Lion is hunting you," and yet they wilfully persist in invoking a spirit they cannot control, and in using a weapon which they know is likely to prove a two-edged sword, as dangerous to those who strike with it, as to the attacked. We commend the following from a Republican journal, the Philadelphia "Press," to their attention:

"There is one policy that can never lead us astray, and that is, peace and respect for the laws. In times of war, when men's passions are insatiable and bloody, nothing should be done to excite them. Nothing is more terrible than appeal to the mob. It is one of those fearful exhibitions of tumult and passion that pass over society like lava from the crater, devouring everything, the shrubbery, the weeds, the flowers, things of beauty and caste as well as things that have no attraction. The mob is the embodiment of man's basest passions. Invoked by those who have nothing to lose by anarchy, and nothing to gain by peace, who see immunity for their own crime in the crimes of others, and afraid to strike themselves, make the innocent and ignorant the instruments and victims of their revenge, we hardly know whence it comes, like a mad, unthinking monster, it varies with every breath, following one leader to-day, murdering him to-morrow, and anxious that blood should be shed merely because it is blood. There is nothing more easily invoked; nothing more difficult to quell. You may summon the familiar, but it departs in its own time; you may create a Frankenstein only to create your own destruction. With a government and laws, and numbers, every good citizen, no matter what his opinion, should take it his business to suppress every lawless thought and feeling.—I remember the fearful mob that assailed Mr. Curtis two years ago, and the horror I felt when I heard men of position, who happened to differ with the speaker, endorse the men who attempted to take his life. What was wrong then is wrong now; what was an outrage to the eminent scholar would be an outrage to any speaker, if he offends the taste, turns away from him, if he offends the law, arrest him.—But the power to invoke violence is neither yours nor mine, and it should be dreaded as an evil that falls upon all men and all things, and a terror that none can escape or control."

As to the threats which have been made against the Messenger and its Editors, we really care no more for them than "the idle wind that we regard not." Conscious that we love our country as well as any man that breathes, and that we are ready and willing to do and sacrifice as much to preserve its beneficent Government and restore the Union of the States as any Republican from Maine to Oregon, we shall not be overawed by such cowardly and disgraceful menaces. We have honestly tried to discharge our whole duty as a good citizen and public journalist, and we shall try to do so hereafter. We have uniformly counselled our friends to maintain the order and peace of society, to be "slow to anger" and still slower to retaliation for acts of insult and violence. We deprecate and have sincerely endeavored to prevent lawless outrages on the persons and property of men, not because we have more to lose than other people, or are in any more danger, but because it is the plain duty of all good citizens to do so. Life is no more to us than it is to others, nor property, and we are, perhaps, as able to defend them as others, and once for all we have to say that we shall defend them to the death. Finally, "be it known that this paper intends to print its honest sentiments as heretofore, in the perfect security of its own sense of right, heedless of every intimidation meant to restrain the publishers thereof from the pursuit of their lawful avocation, in the manner they shall see fit to adopt, under the warrant of Freedom of Speech and of the Press, which the Covenant of the people's liberties guarantees alike to them and us. We submit to the free interpretation of all whom it may concern, this deliberate determination. We should infinitely prefer to abandon at once the post we occupy than to hold it subject to the control of every chance excitement of the hour."

AN INQUIRY.
Editors of Messengers: Gentlemen:—We people in the country would like to know what sort of law prevails at Waynesburg, and what sort of a spirit? And we would like to know if the people of Waynesburg approve or intend to countenance dangerous assaults on persons from the country, for no other crime than being Democrats, or expressing their disapproval of the Emancipation Proclamation policy of the Administration, and condemning Abolitionism? If so, the people of my neighborhood are determined to go elsewhere to do their trading.—They will not patronize men who will tolerate such outrages, or do business where their lives are put in jeopardy on account of their political opinions.

We claim to be as loyal and true men to the Government as the people of your town, and we are not willing they should try us, judge us, or condemn us by mob law. In a word we have made up our minds not to submit any longer to such outrages, as have lately been committed on some of us.

I shall sign myself just what I am.
A. FARMER.

ANSWER TO THE ABOVE.
In reply to "A Farmer," (and we will here say he is a farmer, as he represents himself to be, and a very respectable one, residing several miles from town,) we will merely remark that the people of Waynesburg, with very few exceptions, are a law-abiding and peace-loving people, and a large majority of them entirely disapprove of the acts complained of by our correspondent. And we feel persuaded that nothing but a desire on the part of well-meaning men not to add to an excitement already threatening collision prevented serious difficulties on at least one of the occasions referred to by "A Farmer."—We repeat it, that our population is a law-abiding one, and will return violence with violence only as a last resort.

Our Courts are open, and we doubt not, if appealed to, will redress the wrongs complained of by our correspondent, and it would be well if Republicans would leave alleged violations of duty by Democrats to be punished by the legal tribunals of the country. Much of the bad feeling now rife in the land could have been prevented if they had observed the Constitution and laws, instead of resorting to violence and martial law.

RETURNED.
A. A. PURMAN, Esq., returned from Hooker's Army on Saturday last, bringing with him his brother, Sergt. N. N. PURMAN, who was wounded in the shoulder at the Battle of Chancellorsville. The ball has not been extracted, and the Sergeant is still suffering severely. His ultimate recovery, however, is altogether probable.

Mr. PURMAN informs us that the boys of the 140th are generally well and in good spirits, and treated him with marked kindness, as did all the men and officers he encountered.

"The Boston Post" well remarks that "a love of the Union and the Constitution—a detestation of the elements that would destroy either—makes now and ever has made, the vitality of the Democracy. It is the law of its life." In spite of this fact, a persistent effort is made to persuade the people that the Democracy are not true to the Government. And this, too, when there is not a prominent politician of the party who has declared for the separation of the Union, and when hundreds of the radicals who are now busy organizing "loyal leagues" are fully committed to the policy of "Death to slavery or the Union." This Greeley scheme starts with a lie and is a fraud from beginning to end.

MORE MOBS.
The office of the Democratic organ at Hollidaysburg, Pa., was destroyed the other day by an Abolition mob. Loss $1000. Another.—One night about two weeks ago a party of Abolition scoundrels stole into the office of the "Mentor," a Democratic paper published in Kittanning, and destroyed a goodly portion of the type, &c. The next day the Democrats, with a number of conservative Republicans, made good the loss. A large number of the Republicans of that locality have since come out on the side of the Democratic party, and declared their determination to put down lawless Abolitionism.

THE WORLD'S TRIAL PRIZE MOWER.
HASTINGS & STREAN, Washington, Pa., take pleasure in announcing to the Farmers of Greene county that they are prepared to supply them with Wood's celebrated "World's Trial Prize Mower."

Among the numerous Prizes awarded this Machine, are the following:
At the Great French National Trial, near Vincennes, under the auspices of Emperor Napoleon, it took the grand Gold Medal of Honor, as the best Mower, either Foreign or Native, and a special Gold Medal and 1000 Francs as the best Foreign; the grand Gold Medal of Honor at Garmann, Mecklenburg Exhibition, and at Garmann, Great Britain, under the auspices of Queen Victoria, at Leeds, England, in the great Quadrennial Trial by the National Agricultural Society, where it came in competition with some twenty American Machines, besides a large number of European. The trial lasted some eight days, being the most thorough practical test yet ever put up.

We refer to the following parties in Greene county who have purchased and used the above mower:
WYLLIE, GREENE CO., PA.—Robert Wyllie.
WAYNESBURG, GREENE CO., PA.—J. C. Flenniken, Esq., Peter Morris, Hon. Mark Gordon, Daniel Throckmorton, 2, Alfred Myers.
RUFF'S CREEK, GREENE CO., PA.—Geo. Huffman, Hon. Benj. Ross, John Boyd.

Many valuable improvements have been added since last harvest, making it the most perfect and reliable mower in existence.
This Mower is peculiarly adapted to Steep Ground, from the fact that the Drive Wheels are lower than any other, and at the same time nearly four feet apart, thus making it almost as difficult to upset as a sled, thus enabling a man to move on any ground which he can plow or drive a sled over.

VALLANDIGHAM'S ARREST.—THE SPIRIT OF THE PUBLIC PRESS.
The arrest and trial, by court martial, of Mr. Vallandigham, continue to attract more than an ordinary share of popular attention in the Northern, Eastern, and Northwestern States. The principal journals to the eastward, Republican as well as Democratic, with one solitary exception—the New York Times—have spoken freely on the subject, in deprecation of the course adopted by General Burnside. The New York World, the Express, Herald, Tribune, and Journal of Commerce, all unite in regarding his action in the matter as wrong in principle and dangerous in practice. The New York Post, in an article attributed to the pen of the senior editor, Mr. Bryant, whilst acknowledging the response of General Burnside to the writ of habeas corpus to be "patriotic in spirit and decided in its expressions of loyalty," thinks that it expresses "dangerous fallacies which ought to be exposed." The Post doubts the operation of martial law, and claims to be extended beyond the limits of the field of active military operation, or that it embraces civilians within its scope. "When," says the Post, "domestic turbulence prevent the exercise of the ordinary jurisdiction, when the presence of contending armies drives out the inhabitants, when the benefits of law are set at naught by an entire district, there is occasion for the suspension of the ordinary law. But in other social conditions the appeal to it is unnecessary, and, in all probability, hurtful." The Post asserts that Mr. Vallandigham has neither committed an overt act of treason, nor called and made an appeal to the people, and that no authorities are to be held as above criticism, or even denunciation, and that there is no other way of correcting their faults or restraining their tyrannies "than by discipline."

The question is then pertinently asked—"If Vallandigham's peace nonsense is treasonable, may not Greeley's be equally so? If so, how can we arraign the conduct of the war, can Mr. Schuch, who has written a book on strategy which is the severest arraignment of it yet printed? If he may not question the propriety of Burnside's orders, may the Evening Post, or a thousand other journals, venture to hint a doubt of the superior abilities of General Halleck?" In brief, the Post disapproves of any infringement of the liberty of speech or of the press, and regards the arrest of Mr. Vallandigham, not only as unconstitutional, but as setting a dangerous precedent.

The Post, however, seems to forget if this measure is wrong, as that journal assumes it to be, the precedent was set long since, although no protesting voice was heard till now. The Boston Courier, in discussing the subject, boldly says that Mr. Vallandigham "has been unlawfully arrested, and has been put on trial before an unlawful commission"; that the charges against him "are of no consequence, considering that the whole proceeding is illegal, violent, and of a character which, if submitted to, lays civil liberty a murdered victim in the dust." "The people," adds the Courier, "are fully conscious of their own strength, and cannot be trampled under foot. But they respect law and order, and desire nothing but the right which belongs to them to express their political opinions by speech and by untrammelled action at the ballot box." The New York Tribune, whilst treating the matter of the arrest in a spirit which is intended to be jocose, but which is nothing but a muddle of incoherence, remarks, nevertheless, in a semi-lucid interval, that "our Federal and State Constitutions do not recognize perverse opinions and unpatriotic speeches as grounds of infraction," and "we don't" exactly see how Mr. V. is to be lawfully punished for making a bad speech."—Patriot & Union.
