"A sentiment not to be appalled, corrupted or compromised. It knows no baseness; it cowers to no danger; it oppresses no weakness. Destructive only of despotism, it is the sole conservator of liberty, labor and property. It is the sentiment of Freedom, of equal rights, of equal obligations--the law of nature pervading the law of the land."

IX, Sec. VII, Constitution of Pennsylvania.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The Ticket nominated at the Democratic Primary Election on Saturday last will be found at our mast-head. It is composed of first-rate men, and we are persuaded will command the undivided support of the party. The candidates have the intelligence, experience and integrity necessary to the rightful and acceptable discharge of public duties and trusts; and if elected, will prove not only efficient, but popular public servants.

The canvas was quite animated, but the friends of the unsuccessful aspirants bear the defeat of their favorites with commendable good-humor, and will give the ticket, the WHOLE TICKET, a cordial support.

PEACE AND ORDER.

It is the duty of all good citizens to discountenance and frown upon all attempts to disturb the peace of society. All are interested in the preservation of order, and all should lend their influence and example to this end. There is and can be no apology for outrages upon the persons or property of men. If differences of political opinion or associations, or if the intemperate expression of convictions honestly held are to justify brutal, if not deadly assaults on individuals, there is an end to all restraint, and men of all views and parties are exposed to shameless insult and outrage.

Democrats are not more interested in the maintenance of good order than Republicans, and are indisputably quite as able to resent indignities and to protect themselves from abuse. In these things all men stand on a common platform.—Equal in the rights and privileges of freemen, they should be equally prompt and determined in defending them.

These are exciting times, and it becomes everybody to avoid indiscreet and irritating expressions. Republicans should practice charity and moderation, as well as preach them, and are under just as great obligations to do so as Democrats. Let both parties be careful what counsel they give and what epithets they employ, and let men show they can differ in opinion and party attachments, and yet respect each other. No person need presume he can put his foot on his neighbor's neck because he is not of his faith or party, or does not swear in his words. It can't be done, and it is absurd and ridiculous to attempt it.

Freedom of speech is the birthright of every American citizen, and no man will relinquish it who is not willing and fit to be a slave. The right of the people to assemble at all times and places that may suit their convenience, and express their sentiments on all matters of political concern is guaranteed by the Constitution, and should be freely and fearlessly exercised. If we are no longer allowed to criticise the acts of our rulers, to expose the faithlessness and dishonesty of public officers, or to canvas measures of public policy, but a mask.

We counsel our Democratic friends to moderation and forbearance. Express your opinions on all occasions freely and decidedly, but in temperate language, and with true manly firmness. It is a right your opponents every where claim and exercise, and which you cheerfully concede them, and let them understand that you will not be deprived of it by any set of men or any party. Stand by the Union and Constitution, respect the constituted authorities and obey the laws. No matter how oppressive you may think them, obey them until you can change them through the legal and appointed methods. The BALLOT BOX is the remedy for bad rulers and laws; and while it is open to you, all will be well. Abstain from all acts of violence, and treat your opponents kindly and courteously. If they attack you, with a view to doing you bodily harm, defend yourself; it is your God-given right to do so, and you would be pusillanimous not to do it. But in no case be the aggressor, and by no means provoke or invite assault by foolish, heated, imprudent or angry expressions.

Again we say, obey the laws, and as far as you can and whenever you can appeal to the law for protection. It is intended to give security to your persons, your lives and your property; and it is only when it is defied and overridden by bad men, and made a dead letter, it becomes your duty to defend yourselves and vindicate your rights. Such occasions, thank God, are of rare occurrence, and for the sake of the happiness and well-being of society and for the good of the great cause of our country in which our sympathies are all enlisted, we trust they may never occur it, this or in any community.

Most truthfully does the Harrisburg Telegraph, an Administration organ, say that "a spirit of mob-lawism is beginning to prevail in this and other States, which it is fearful to contemplate, outrageous to encourage, and culpable to tolerate."—And well does a Democratic cotemporary remark that "The people next October will set all these matters right."

We are now done with this subject.

"MOB LAW."--CORPORAL EVANS.

The "Republican" has a strange, a surpassing strange article this week, on "Mob Law." Though in one breath it expressly counsels against all lawless demonstrations against the persons and property of Democrats, in another breath it furnishes excuse after excuse and apology after apology for such disgraceful outrages, and in substance intimates that the only security for Democrats is the abandonment of their party organization and the surrender of their honest convictions. Well, Monsieur Evans, they will do neither. They will stand by both to the end, sink or swim, come weal or woe, and the sooner your party friends understand it, the better.—They will discharge their whole duty to the country, but they will not be gagged, or denied the right of peaceably assembling at their pleasure and expressing their views of measures of public policy and the acts of their rulers. The people are the sovereigns in this country, not their servants nor politicians, and the attempts to stifle Free Speech and muzzle a Free Press, now making by the dominant party, is confirmation "strong as holy writ" of the fact that they are conscious of their own shortcomings and of the indefensible character of much of their policy and many of their acts.

Our neighbor of the "Republican" squarely asserts that many Democratic papers counsel "resistance to the law"—It is easy to pen such an assertion, Corporal, and easy to indite any thing; but it is quite another thing to substantiate such bold and monstrous declarations. We now call for the proof of this one of the many startling and extraordinary allegations in your article. We deny that any Democratic journal in the country ever counselled disobedience to the law, and we dare you to the proof. We know you have no allusion to the "Messenger," as your readers and our own would both know such an imputation on our course or teachings to be basely and utterly groundless; but you refer to some paper or papers, it is fair to presume, and we demand their names and the article or articles upon which you predicate so grave an accusation. If you have any respect for your own character, you will not fail to produce "the proof." Remember, we do not want assertion—we call for proof.

Corporal, to be candid, you are incapable of telling the truth, and as a partizan are utterly unscrupulous. Your article on "Mob Law" brings out your real character in these regards, and in others. You have a bad, black heart, full of malice and bitterness, and but for your own coward fears, would boldly, as you try insidiously, to incite men to deeds of blood, and violence and outrage. Belonging to the "patriot school, and railing at party, though a party tool," you would stop at nothing to gratify your hates and the hates of your owners, your preceptors and advisers. How they and you would like to decree the rack and jibbet to every Democrat! But would it not be well, Corporal, to have a care that the cords and tortures you intend for your neighbors are not reserved for yourself and your tax-gathering and "twenty per cent." friends!

Corporal, we pity as much as we despise you, condemned, as you are, "to drudge, the meanest of the mean, to furnish falsehoods," and coin calumnies and scribble scandal for your dirty sheet at the bidding of the "living libels on mankind" who brought you back from your money-making but bloodless campaign on the Potomac to do an infinitely nastier work than Cooke would descend to, even at the price of bread. Your mendacity, and low-bred, disgraceful meanness will render any farther notice of you on our part, exceedingly distasteful and humiliating.

The Senior Editor spent Saturday last with the sterling Democracy of Old Richhill, and is under special obligations to them for the kindness and courtesy with which he was treated, and for the rousing vote they gave "BIG JIM". Notwithstanding they had a candidate of their own, in the person of one of their oldest citizens, and a faithful and life-long Democrat, our amiable and good-looking partner commanded over one-half of their votes. Our thanks are specially due the staunch friends who rendered us such efficient help in pressing his claims. We shall always hold them in grateful recollection.

☞ Will Corporal Evans inform us what he means by publishing such contemptibly trashy stuff as one of his scribblers furnishes him this week? Does he want to "try our mettle" again? Does he want to "fling dirt" again? Is it impossible to lift him out of the filth in which he has so long wallowed? and must the dog so soon "return to his vomit?" Or does he expect to strike at us, from behind anonymous correspondents, hoping in that way to escape the return he deserves, and the scorn and contempt of all decent people?—If such be his tactics, shame on the cowardly puppy and miscreant!—He has neither the truthfulness, sincerity or decency of a gentleman, and has put himself beneath the notice of gentlemen.

ON A VISIT.

On our late visit to Jacksonville we had the pleasure of encountering our good-looking and good-hearted young friend, Dr. T. W. Ross, Surgeon of the 7th Va. Regiment, now in the 2d Corps, Army of the Potomac. He is on a brief furlough, after the arduous professional service following the late reverses of our forces near the Rappahannock. His Regiment suffered considerably in the recent, as in former engagements.

The Doctor will accept our thanks for the elegant Cane he presented us. Health and happiness attend him, and length of days!

Unconditional War Men.

We like the men who never say die—who go for the Union now and forever—who will never consent that the South shall go. But there is a class of unconditional war men which we are not in love with.

They are described in the following spicy paragraph from the New Haven Courier, a Republican paper. There is a world of truth in what this honest Republican journal says of these villians: "Contractors have carried on the war. The blood of our men, and graves of the wounded, the tears of the orphan and the wail of the widow, have been coined into money. * * * They have swindled the Government out of hundreds of millions. They have piled fortune on fortune, and as a distinguished officer at Washington writes us, all the operations of this war are managed by political swindlers."

RETURNING REASON

"We are well aware that the Democratic party does not endorse very many of the acts of the Administration. We have no right to ask such an endorsement at its hands. Upon any of the details of the Administration, upon any of the measures which the President and Congress may see fit to adopt, that party has a perfect right to its own opinions. It may with perfect propriety protest against the Proclamation of Emancipation, the policy of arbitrary arrests, the enlistment of negro soldiers, and any other measure of the Administration."—New York Times.

Most magnanimous Republican! Hast thou at length discovered that Democrats may honestly differ with the Administration, and yet sustain the Government?

SOUND ADVICE.

That excellent Democratic journal, the Philadelphia Age, in speaking of the many recent outrages committed on the freedom of speech and of the press, and the disposition shown to retaliate, uses the following sensible words:

To our Democratic friends throughout the City and State, we say, be patient:—"wait a little longer." No cause was ever advanced by "stooping to conquer," and none was ever permanently injured by relentless persecution. The remedy for all our ills is the ballot-box—prepare for that—and thoroughly organize in every ward, borough, township and county in the Commonwealth. Hold Democratic meetings in every nook and corner—in schoolhouses, and by the wayside—in hills and shady groves; and fully arouse the people to a proper sense of the dangers which surround them. "Be just and fear not." Ask for nothing but what is right, and tamely submit to nothing that is wrong. Above all things, keep strictly within the limits of the Constitution and the laws, contemned as they are by the Abolition leaders and Jacobin Leagues; and though the present be shrouded in gloom, remember, with hopeful hearts, that "the hour that is darkest is the hour before day!"

THE EXEMPTION CLAUSE.

Attorney General Bates has prepared an opinion, which, it is said, is accepted by the Department, that the law of Congress regarding the payment of three hundred dollars in lieu of service, when a person is drafted, is mandatory, and that this sum, and no less, must be fixed in all such cases, but it is also held that this only exempts the party from that particular draft when the money is paid, and that a similar liability is incurred upon each and every draft.

☞ A Connecticut soldier was knocked down in New Orleans by a "colored gentleman" for saying that the object of the war was not to free the niggers. The case was taken before one of Mr. Lincoln's judges, who decided that the soldier had no right to talk so to the "colored gentleman."

The Democracy of Greene County will hold a Mass Meeting in the Court House in Waynesburg on

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 9.

HON. WM. MONTGOMERY,

Of Washington, will POSITIVELY be present and address the meeting.—Let there be a large turn out, as business of importance to the party will be transacted.

HOW CLERGYMEN DIFFER.

While the not very reverend Henry Ward Beecher thinks religion is promoted by the gospel of gunpowder, an Episcopalian minister, of Massachusetts, in a pastoral letter to his church, says:

If it be true, as Burke said, that "Civil wars strike the deepest of all other into the manners of the people; that they vitiate their politics; that they corrupt their morals; that they pervert even their natural relish of equity and justice; that by teaching us to consider our fellow creatures in a hostile light, the whole body of the nation becomes less dear to us; that the very names of affection and kindred, which were the bonds of charity when we agreed, become new incentives to hatred and rage, when the communions of our country are dissolved,"—then surely we have "a thousand several tongues" attesting the voice of God in His Church, calling us to the House of Prayer, and leading us to implore the interposition of His Providence in our behalf, not as individuals only, but also as a Church and a Nation.

VALLANDIGHAM SENT SOUTH.

Newspaper correspondents state that Vallandigham arrived at Murfreesboro' under a strong escort on the 24th. The train did not stop at Nashville. The Cincinnati Commercial's special says his arrival was expected by the military public, but the time not being known, no demonstration of any kind took place.—He was quietly taken in a carriage to the quarters of Major Wille, Provost Marshal General, where he was seen by Gen. Rosecrans and a number of officers. He appeared to be fully composed, and abstained from the expression of any offensive sentiment.

At two o'clock, a. m., his southern journey was continued. Major Willis, with a mounted escort, started down to take him beyond our lines, on the Shelbyville pike. The prisoner was cheerful, and discussed his situation very coolly, but upon approaching the nearest rebel pickets, commanded by Col. Webb, of the Fifty-Fourth Alabama, some eight miles out, he became perceptibly affected.

Upon taking leave of his companions, he said in substance:—"I am a citizen of the United States, and loyal to them, and I want you to understand that you leave me here as a prisoner to the Confederate authorities."

To Col. Webb he made a similar declaration. The latter received him with the remark that he had read his speeches but did not like them, and that he could not receive him within the Confederate lines, but would permit him to remain at his post until he had ascertained the pleasure of his superiors. The flag of truce party then left Vallandigham to his fate, and returned.

The Desolated Hearthstone of a Martyr to Civil Liberty.

The following dispatch reached us at a late hour last night. If true, it adds mountains to the weight of guilt resting upon those who have unlawfully seized and imprisoned or expatriated an American citizen for exercising the right of free speech given him by God and the Constitution. We have no space for comment upon this sad result—American freemen will make their own comments.—Philadelphia Age.

MRS. VALLANDIGHAM.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The Syracuse Courier of yesterday states that Mrs. Vallandigham has become insane.

Speaking Disrespectfully of the President.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Wm. J. Lusk, a highly respectable citizen of Garrard county, in this State, was arrested on the cars between Frankfort and this city by Lieutenant Bohanon, of Penna., and, being conveyed to this city was confined in the military prison, where he spent Wednesday night. On yesterday morning Mr. Lusk appeared before Col. Mundy, and when the only charge against him was stated to be, that he had "spoken disrespectfully of the President," Col. Mundy immediately released him unconditionally. The Colonel told Mr. Lusk, who is a Union man, that he had the right to entertain and freely express his opinion of the President. We know Mr. Lusk as one of the staunchest Union men in Garrard county.—Louisville Democrat.

The "Chuckleheads."

A correspondent suggests that those who call the Democrats Copperheads, are very properly entitled to the sobriquet of "Chuckleheads," from their blunders and imbecility in the prosecution of the war. The Copperhead may be a very venomous animal, but the Chucklehead, by his ignorance and pretension, would sacrifice an army, a country and a Government, rather than give up a theory which time and experience has demonstrated to be false and ruinous.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE RELIGIOUS PRESS AND THE PRESIDENT.

The New York Observer and the Presbyterian Banner condemn President Lincoln for visiting the army and holding reviews of the troops on the Sabbath day. These journals fail to see the consistency of such conduct on the part of one who appoints days of fasting and prayer.
