One day last week, among the relics of the dreadful fight, there was picked up by a soldier, and presented to a lady of our acquaintance, a small paper which contained two separate locks of hair attached thereto, directed to Mr. Wellerford, from Louisiana, by his wife, in a beautiful hand-writing. Below one lock was Fanny Wellerford, below the other Richard Wellerford—and below both "Our darlings!" These tender momentoes of his home and children, had been sent to him by his attached wife, to cheer his heart in the far distant land to which the fortunes of war had brought him; and probably he wore the tender testimonials near his heart, when the fatal missile of death separated him from those he loved in his far-off Southern home. Strangers now possess the tender relics, and he rests beneath the clods of a northern valley, his grave probably unmarked and undistinguished from hundreds around him, who met their death, on the bloody fields of Gettysburg-and his wife and children look in vain for the return of the loved husband and father!—Gettysburg Sentinel.

W E would respectfully direct the attention of citizens of Waynesburg and vicinity to the vast and universally admitted superiority of the Pianos made by STEINWAY & SONS, New York.

The tone of these instruments more nearly resembles the "human voice" in the prolonged and singing qualities of their sound; and they combine in a wonderful degree POWER and SWEETWESS. Both for brittiant instrumental performance, and as an accompaniment to vocal music, they are altogether unrivalled.

We Challenge Comparison, and we Warrant them superior in every respect to anything else in the shape of a Piano Forge.
