'Don't stay long, husband!'—and I fancied I saw the loving, gentle wife sitting alone, anxiously counting the moments of her husband's absence; every few minutes turning to the window to see if he were in sight; and finding that he was not, I thought I could hear her exclaiming in disappointed tones 'not yet-not yet.'

Don't stay long, husband.' And again I thought I could see the young wife, rocking nervously in the great arm chair, and weeping as though her Leart would break, as her thoughtless flord and master prolonged his stay to a wearisome length of time.

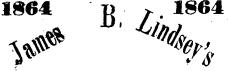

Q, you that have wives that say Don't stay long,' when you go forth, think of them kindly when you are mingling in the busy hive of life, and try, just a little, to make their homes and hearts happy, for they are gems too seldom replaced. You cannot find amid the pleasures of the world the peace and joy that a quiet home, blest with such a woman's presence will af-

Think of it men, when your wives the late advance in prices, we now offer a great say to you, "don't stay long."—and part of our assortment at don't let the kind words pass unheeded as of little value; for though they may he to you, the disappointment or the fulfilment of their simple, loving wish, they bring grief or joy to them. If a very you have an hour to spare, bestow it upon them; and the pure love, gushing from their gentle, grateful hearts, will be a sweet reward. Western Recorder.
