NEW
PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY.
Wilson's Frame Building, one door east of the National Bank, WAYNESBURG, PA.
Messrs. Wallace & Craig HAVE opened up a splendid Sky-Line Gallery, the first of its kind in this establishment ever installed in this place, where they are prepared to execute PHOTOGRAPHS, AMBROTYPES, MALEIANOTYPES,
CARTE DE VISITES,
And all other kinds and sizes of pictures, in a style equal to a first artist. Especial attention will be given to copying portraits and enlarging them. All work is promptly attended to. Their rooms are commodious and airy, and every possible accommodation will be rendered to customers.
This is decidedly the best opportunity to secure accurate likenesses ever offered to the people of Greene County. No time is lost in the process, and the pictures are in the best style, and in all kinds of weather.

A Hottentot Fable.
There is a literature it appears even in the land of the Hottentots, for a Mr.
Bleck has compiled a number of Hotten-tot legends, comprising seven ghost stories, four accounts of men or animals, eleven household tales, one legend, and one fable, and published under the clumsy title of "Keynard the Fox in South Africa." The materials for the compilation were original manuscripts in the library of Sir George Grey. Here is a specimen legend which contains an idea almost identical with that in the favorite story of the Fisherman and the Genii in the "Arabian Nights":
"A Dutchman was walking by himself and saw a snake lying under a stone. The snake inquired his help, but when she had become free she said,
'Now I shall eat you.'
"The man answered, 'That is not right. Let us go to the hare.'
"When the hare had heard the affair he said, 'It is right.' 'No,' said the man, 'let us ask the hyena.'
"The hyena declared the same, saying, 'It is right.'
"Now let us at last ask the jackall," said the man in despair.
"The jackall answered very slowly and considerably, doubting the whole affair, and demanding to see first the place, and whether the man was able to lift the stone. The snake lay down, and the man to prove the truth of his account, put the stone again over her."
"When she was fast the jackall said,
'Now let her lie here.'
