To our Subscribers.

On account of the withdrawal of the Senior Editor from the Messenger establishment, it is absolutely necessary that the outstanding accounts for subscription, advertising, &c., should be James Hawthorn, immediately settled. Our patrons, therefore, whatever their indebtedness, must promptly settle their balances.— Will do so without a day's delay, as the debts of the office, which are numerous and large, must be paid, and paid promptly. "A hint to the wise is the meeting. Turn out everybody and aid sufficient."

Fort Fisher.

This Fort is in our possession, notwithstanding that Gen. Hardee reported that it "could not be taken." We suppose he meant by Gen. Butler. The ly announced before Gen. Grant had ed by a man of great deliberations, and maso quietly that the country was quite taken by surprise, to hear not only that a new expedition, (so far as the military was concerned,) was organized, but had cated military man, was placed at its ests to his constituency. Your friend, head. It has now transpired that Grant was not guilty of the folly, not to say crime, of committing the first expedition to Butler's management. He was merely directed to organize the military part | posted on this subject. Mr. Lincoln, in my of it (all concede to Butler's large share opinion, will, accept a return of the South, tive ability which fit him for such duties,) but the slavery question to remain as it is arges more sternness. but it was never contemplated that he should accompany the expedition, much less command it. Gen. Grant has felt the Rebellion. I may be mistaken, but I it due to himself to publicly say this, believe I am correct in my views and hopes. which he does in his endorsement on Butler's report of the expedition. It was his intention that General Wetzel should be in command.

The capture of Fort Fisher was the result of one of the most fierce and bloody contests of the war, for the numbers engaged. It will have, it strikes us a decided impression upon the fortunes of the rebellion. It shuts up, effectually, their most important portthe one through which they received all their luxuries and many necessaries.

their possession, but so closely blockaded as to make that port almost useless, for the purpose of foreign commerce. Fisher effectually commands the Harbor of Wilmington, which our authorities, both Naval and Military, regard as certain to tall into our possession, with but little sacrifice, and probably uncontested.

Map of Greene County.

Our readers will remember that some four or five years since, our county was very accurately surveyed, with a view to publishing & County Map. The war breaking out shortly after, the gentlemen who had undertaken the enterprise, gave it up, very much to the regret of many of our people. We are much pleased, therefore, to learn that the project is now renewed under the auspices of Joseph L. McConnell, Esc., of this county. A friend now in Philadelphia. in a saking of this matter says :-- our people or many of them, at least, will be rejoiced to learn that, after long waiting, we are certainly to have a large, accurate and beautiful MAP OF GREENE Co. This is no longer a matter of doubt. It has become one of the "fixed facts" of the day. I have had the pleasure of examining the leton of this map, before it was put into the hands of the engravers, and, so far as I capable of judging, I believe it to be very perfect, showing all the streams. woods, township lines, and in fact the residelices of all the land-owners in the county.
