

Waynesboro Village Record.

Thursday, July 6, 1871.

There are ten to twelve thousand colored voters in Pennsylvania.

There are sixty-one daily newspapers published in Pennsylvania.

The estate of the late Hon. C. L. Vallandigham is estimated at from $30,000 to $40,000, clear of incumbrance.

The N. Y. Herald says Gen. Grant is booked for a second term in the Presidential chair against all opposition.

The New York Herald reports that the pardon of ex-Congressman Bowen, convicted of highamy, was signed by the President on Saturday at Long Branch.

The people of Boston voted on Saturday whether beer should be included in the prohibition liquor law, and the result was in favor of free lager.

From Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana a large crop of wheat, a moderate crop of hay and a small crop of oats are expected.

Rev. E. D. Saunders, of Philadelphia, on Saturday gave the Presbyterians of that city $1,000,000 to found a Presbyterian Hospital.

Gen. E. F. Foy, who lost a leg during the Rebellion at Kennesaw mountain, has been nominated for Governor by the Republicans of Ohio.

Major Andrew Jackson Donelson a former candidate for Vice-President, died suddenly Monday at the Peabody Hotel at Cincinnati, of cholera morbus, aged 72.

Iowa has but one distillery where whisky is made—Kentucky has 82 whisky distilleries.

Judge Thomas Perry, of the Circuit Court of Alleghany county, Maryland, died at his residence, in Cumberland, on Tuesday a week, aged 62 years and nine months.

Some years ago a man bought a piece of land in Chicago for $15 and a mule. He sold it, and is now not worth a cent, while the land is worth $1,000,000.

The public debt statement shows a reduction during June of $7,103,849. The total decrease during the administration of President Grant has been $233,432,425. There is at present in the Treasury $106,217,263.

Mrs. Annie Breed, of Norwich Conn., died a few days since and left $20,000 to a faithful servant, Abby Nikesy, for twenty years of devotion. The domestic was so delighted with the legacy that she actually died of excess of happiness in less than two weeks.

In the Criminal Court of Baltimore, on Saturday, Leap Scarborough, colored, convicted of infanticide, and William Pritchard, colored, convicted of rape, were both sentenced by Judge Gilmer to be hanged at such time as may be fixed by Governor Bowie.

The third trial of ex-Major Cahoon for forgery, at Richmond, Va., resulted in his conviction and sentence to two years, imprisonment in the penitentiary, but with a recommendation to executive mercy. Cahoon was previously sentenced to five years, but was granted a new trial on technical points.

Brigham Young has gotten himself into more trouble with the United States officials in Utah. He ordered out the Mormon militia for a parade on the Fourth of July, and this being in direct violation of the proclamation of the late Governor Shaffer, Acting Governor Black forbids it, and will use force to prevent any such demonstration.

The first important case under the Enforcement or Ku Klux bill is now on trial at Memphis, Tennessee, in the United States Court. Twenty-eight names figured in the indictment, and all are residents for many years of Monroe county. Their indictment charges the defendants, while in disguise, with forcibly taking Alexander Page, a negro, from his house near Aberdeen, at midnight of the 29th of March, and hanging him by the neck until he was dead. The trial was opened on Friday last on a petition from a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted. A large number of witnesses were examined. The defence rely chiefly on the ability of counsel and the previous good character of defendants, who present a respectable appearance in court, which is presided over by Judge R. A. Hill, by a detachment of the 16th United States Infantry, sent from Nashville, who mount guard at the court-house door all day. The trial excited interest, and will probably last several days. The wife of one of the defendants was admitted to testify in behalf of the husband.

A Letter from Fort Griffin, Texas June 7th, says: "I suppose you have heard of the great slaughter of Indians here.—The cavalry met some two hundred men, women and children, and showed them no quarter, killing all they laid their hands upon. Such yelling I never did hear.—Every man was for himself. The infantry was in the reserve, and caught all stragglers not even one escaping, orders having been given to show no quarter."

Antietam Cemetery.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Antietam National Cemetery was recently held in Philadelphia, at which the old officers were re-elected. The report of the President shows the finances of the Board to be as follows: Balance on hand at the beginning of the year, $2,500; appropriations from various States last winter, $22,500; cash yet due from States on former appropriations; $11,000. Total available funds $37,000. There have been already expended on the improvement of the grounds $63,000. The cemetery is located at Sharpsburg, Maryland, and is in shape a trap-pezium, the graves of the dead soldiers of Pennsylvania and New York forming the base of the figure. There are five thousand and Union soldiers buried there, the graves of 3,700 of whom are identified. In the centre of the grounds, in an elevated location, it is intended to erect a monument in memory of those who lie buried around. The structure will consist of a pedestal 25 feet high, on which will be a colossal statue, 20 feet high, of a Union soldier on guard. The entire monument is to be of white granite, will weigh about 300 tons and cost $30,000, and will take about twenty years to complete.

Twenty years ago a farm eight miles square in Livingston county, Ill., was entered by its present owner at $1.25 per acre. It is now subdivided into thirty-two farms of 1,280 acres each, every farm being run by separate sets of hands, the whole under the direction of the owner, M. L. Sullivan. There are 15,000 acres under the plough; 250 miles of hedge fence, besides other fences; 150 miles of ditch for draining. One hundred men and four hundred work horses and mules are employed on the farm, besides two book-keepers, four blacksmiths and eight carpenters. An accurate account is kept of each sub-farm, and with each man, horse and mule, the animals being all named or numbered, and charged with the amount paid for them and their food, and credited with their labor. The entire farm, with improvements and personal property on it, is now valued at about $2,000,000.

A young woman, aged about twenty years, name unknown, was murdered at an early hour on Saturday morning near Chocoma's station, on the Philadelphia Railroad, by a party of men dressed in women's clothes who had been prowling about the neighborhood for some time past, stealing poultry, etc.

She was first seen on Friday night acting suspiciously, and early on Saturday morning a party of four whites and two colored men went in search of her. They found her sitting on a bank besides the railroad track, and one Joseph League, who was armed with a shot gun, fired the charge taking effect in her forehead killing her instantly.

The woman had blue eyes, long flaxen hair, was neatly clad, and of lady-like appearance. It is supposed she was insane and had escaped from custody. The murderer was arrested, and the authorities are investigating the affair.

Among the things which Grant's Administration has made possible, is free, religious worship in Salt Lake City. The Methodists have recently held a camp-meeting there, and even Brigham Young and other Mormons listened to a sermon against polygamy. The meeting was undisturbed except by one Mormon, who was promptly arrested. Three years ago such a thing would have been impossible.

But the opening of the Pacific Railroad, and the firm hand which the President has held upon everything, have satisfied Brigham that he would better pay respect to the powers that be. No Administration ever made its power felt before among this people, who have always openly defied the law and the Government officers. In making it safe for other sects to worship there, and to secure freedom of speech, the death blow has been aimed at this last relic of barbarism.

Another warning.—The Middletown (Md.) Valley Register gives the following account of the accidental killing of a little boy near that place, son of Mr. John P. Gaver:

It seems that early on Tuesday morning of last week Howard, aged five years, the little boy who was killed, awoke from deep sleep somewhat frightened, and imagined that he saw something in his room.—He went down stairs and told his elder brother Elias, aged about 15 years, of what he had seen, and asked him to get his gun and shoot it. To gratify him, Elias reached the gun and in turning to go up stairs the trigger caught in the door some way, and the gun was discharged, the load entering the head of his little brother, just above the right eye killing him instantly. The unfortunate little boy was a great favorite of the family, and a very interesting child.

CURE FOR BURNS.—The best remedy for burns, in any stage, is a strong solution of Epsom Salts in water. The application at once relieves pain, and healing takes place with marvelous rapidity.—Our personal experience furnishes several instances of remarkable cures from the application of this ready remedy—says an exchange.

Hail fell with such a force during a storm in Prince George's county, Md., on Saturday last, that horses, cattle and sheep were killed, and the corn much injured.

Why is a barrel of beer like a prize-fighter? Because it's a brow, sir.

Town and Country.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—We failed to print enough papers last week, for persons who are not subscribers to the Record that we intended to send copies, and therefore renew our proposition and send it to this class this week. We would be pleased to add their names to our list for one year, or six months, as they may desire. Those who do not feel disposed to accept either proposition will please return the paper within ten days.

This county has 242 public schools.

Hard weather this on butter and shirt collars.

See sales by Messrs. Amberson & Cunningham and Miss Bosserman.

Patronize home institutions. Don't go away from home to get a wife.

The man with the "big feet" still refuses to take the Record.

Work on the new Reform Church has been suspended for the present.

Our devil thinks the latest thing out—is a certain married man in town.

An interesting communication on "Our Future" will appear in our next issue.

Our neighborhood promises an abundant yield of peaches, but a short apple crop.

New potatoes, the first of the season, were retailed in town on Saturday at $2 per bushel.

The game called "Croquet" has been much in vogue in our town of late. Boys and idlers are said to enjoy the peculiar sport hugely.

The law imperatively requires school directors to publish annual statements of the receipts and expenditures of their respective districts.

PUBLIC SALE.—We call special attention to the Public Sale of valuable personal property by Mr. John Miller, of the vicinity of Leitersburg, in to-day's paper.

The bed-bug comes down like the wolf on the fold. His color partakes not of silver or gold, but a hungrier, nastier meaner insect, never troubled mankind. Ain't that correct.

The cherry season is "played" but the "whortleberry train" arrives and departs as usual. Our citizens would be deprived of many a luxury were it not for our Tomstown friends.

Persons in arrears for subscription, sale bills and advertising, are not perhaps aware that we have pressing need of money. A moment's reflection should convince them of that fact.

Our town counts about a half dozen of professional "horse doctors." If it is true that "competition is the life of business," some of them must be reaping a harvest of greenbacks.

Justices of the Peace, or Clergymen are heretofore exempt from the penalty of the act of 1729 for marrying persons under age unless they do so knowingly or wilfully.

VEGETABLES.—Our neighbor Reid has been in receipt of some nice garden vegetables from Baltimore. He expects to have on Friday, cucumbers, tomatoes &c. He has new potatoes on hand.

An exchange expresses the deliberate conviction that "a man who will not do anything himself, nor let any one else do anything, by way of public improvement, ought to keep tavern after everybody else is dead."

ABSENT.—Rev. W. N. Geddes, the esteemed Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in this place, last week left for his home at Williamsport, Penna. We understand his object is to recruit his health which is much impaired, and that he expects to be gone for two or three months.

HOTEL CHANGE.—The Repository announces that Mr. Ephraim Shank will retire from the Montgomery House in Chambersburg, in September next, and that he will be succeeded by Jeremiah Shinnfield and Harry Elliott.

IN TOWN.—Rev. W. E. Krebs, former Pastor of the Reformed Church, visited our town last week and remained until yesterday. He preached to the congregation on Sunday morning. The Rev. gentleman has many warm friends and admirers in our midst.

Dr. Morris Bernhart an eminent Oculist and Optician from Berlin, Prussia, is now stopping at the Montgomery House, Chambersburg. Persons suffering from weak and defective sight should avail themselves of his scientific knowledge and skill by procuring proper glasses.

RAIN.—Since our last issue this section has been favored with several delightfully refreshing showers, which may be regarded as just in the niche of time for the growing corn, late potatoes, &c.

The last Follen Democrat in referring to the death of Mr. John G. Milley says:

Mr. M. was the senior member of the firm of Milley, Fries & Smith of the London mills. He was aged about sixty years and in all his business transactions showed himself to be an honest man. It is supposed he committed the rash act about the hour of three o'clock in the morning, as he was missed from the bed at four. For some time past his mind has been greatly disordered he being a mono-maniac in regard to impending financial disasters and approaching poverty. He also feared that the neighbors would attribute the cutting up of their farms by the railroad to him, which was purely imaginary on his part, but showed conclusively what an inoffensive gentleman he was. He was found about six o'clock—his absence creating suspicion—hanging to a rafter in the hay loft of his stable. The position of the body gave evidence of a painful struggle—his right hand clutched the fatal rope while his left hand grasped his leg which was thrown back, his foot resting on the log from which he had precipitated himself after adjusting the rope. His funeral was largely attended by friends and neighbors who sincerely mourn his most unfortunate end.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Wednesday evening of last week a young man named Elijah M. Baker, aged about 23 years, fell from a cherry tree on the farm of Mr. John Frantz, near this place. The fall caused concussion of the brain. Medical aid was promptly secured, but to no purpose. He lingered till the next morning when death relieved him of his sufferings. The deceased was a worthy young man, and his sudden and melancholy death is much lamented by those with whom he mingled. His remains were removed to Emmittsburg for interment, of which place or neighborhood he was a native. During the cherry season of the summer of 1869, Christian Mole fell from the same tree and died from his injuries. Baker, like Mole, never spoke after the fall, continuing unconscious up to the time the vital spark took its flight. We understand Mr. F. has signified his intention to remove the ill-fated tree.

R. H. PARKS will deliver two of his Practical Free Lectures in front of the Bowden House, in this place, on Monday and Tuesday evenings July 10th and 11th. The specialties of the Lectures, will pertain to the "Anatomy and Physiology of Horse, and a full illustration of Park's new and improved mode of Shoeing with his Patent Shoe for Colts, by which he Prevents and permanently relieves Contraction of the Heels and all other maladies of the feet and limbs, thereby increasing the Speed, Prolonging the life and greatly increasing the value of the animal.

THE PUBLIC OPINION.—This sprightly and popular county exchange comes to us this week much enlarged and otherwise improved. Mechanically, as well as Editorially, it now rivals the best county weeklies. We congratulate its live publisher, M. A. Foltz, Esq., upon this evidence of his prosperity and appreciation as publisher by his patrons.

PROVIDENCE permitting, the Third Annual Camp Meeting, for Carlisle District Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held at the Red Barn Station, near Oakville, on the Cumberland Valley Rail Road seventeen miles west of Carlisle, Penna., to commence August 2nd, and close August 11th, 1871.

Persons desiring to rent tents should apply early to H. R. Mosser, New-Cumberland.

Boarding can be had as follows, viz: Six dollars for the term. One dollar per day. Fifty cents for single breakfast tea, and seventy-five cents for dinner.

ARRHORIST.—Judicious advertising always pays.

If you have a good thing, advertise it. If you haven't don't.

If you don't mean to mind your own business, it will not pay to advertise.

It's as true of advertising as of anything else in the world—if it is worth doing at all, it is worth doing well.

You can't eat enough in one week to last a whole year, and you can't advertise on that plan either.

People who advertise only once in three months forget that most folks can't remember anything longer than about seven days.

SOLD.—The Springs Hotel property at Gettysburg was sold at public sale on Saturday a week by R. G. McCreary, Esq., Assignee in Bankruptcy, for the sum of $35,000. Purchaser, Dr. E. G. Fahnestock. The Star says the Dr. represents a portion of the Bondholders, who will re-organize.

A camp meeting will be held by the Boonsboro Circuit of the United Brethren in Christ, on the old Camp Ground, near Keedysville, Washington county, Md., commencing on the 10th and closing on the 18th of August.

A DREAM FATALLY VERIFIED.—The Richmond Whig, of the 27th ult., says that a gentleman living in Wilkes county, S. C., sold land to a neighbor for $1,000.—Business calling him away soon after, he left the money with his wife. On returning he stopped over night with a friend ten miles from home. He dreamed that man had entered his house, murdered his wife and two children, stolen his money, and destroyed his property. He asked a peddler to accompany him at once to his home. On arriving he found his wife murdered, and two men counting out the money he had left with her. He and the peddler being armed, fired upon the men and killed them. They turned out to be the men to whom he had sold the land, and his son.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.—We make the following extract from a private letter from W. F. Phelps, Principal of the First Normal School of Minnesota, to a citizen of our town:

"The cost of school buildings in this State varies with the population and wealth of the localities. In Rochester, N. Y., a school building of 300 pupils cost $55,000. In Koshong, Ind., a school building of 200 pupils cost $65,000. In St. Charles, Mo., a school building of 1000 pupils cost $15,000. Fairbank, Minn., a school building of 300 pupils cost $30,000. Owasco, Wis., a school building of 250 pupils cost $25,000. These are all new towns, not more than ten or twelve years old."

A school house for 400 pupils should have at least two acres of ground. Street education will come first enough out of school hours. Commodious and spacious grounds are important. Salaries of Principals of graded schools are from $1000 to $2000, according to size. The school house and its grounds are powerful educators either for good or evil. Hence money is well expended however liberal the amount, when it is devoted to making the school attractive and refining in its influence.

The Western States are alive to the interests of education, and they are spending their money freely to make their schools worthy of a great and free people. Good schools are impossible without liberal expenditures. Until they cost more they cannot be worth more.

THE HOME PAPER.—The local paper is an absolute necessity to the country and community where it is published.—All the city papers cannot supply the place of the home paper. That should be the first love of every man and woman, for the paper is the locality identified.—The paper gives the country and town where printed much of their importance in the world; and gives in detail the local news, which cannot be gained by any other source. Every issue of the paper is so much local history, and the rise growth and development of the town and country can be measured and recorded only by the local newspaper, that is constantly gathering its items. People do not properly appreciate their home newspapers. They measure the value of a paper too much by the number of columns it contains. The home paper at any price is the cheapest paper any one can take, for in it is found the information to be obtained from no other source.

FORSAKING THE OLD DOCTRINES.—A year since, Rev. J. H. Wagner, of Lancaster, Pa., a minister of the Reformed church, went over to the Catholic church. Recently, Prof. C. H. Budd, of Franklin and Marshall College (brother of Prof. Thomas Budd), and also the wife of Rev. J. H. Wagner, have followed into the Romish communion. These defections are attributed by the Reformed church newspapers, says an exchange to the influence of the Mercersburg Theology, as inculcated by Dr. Nevin in the Mercersburg Quarterly.

NOVEL EXHIBITION.—On Tuesday last, Dr. R. H. Parks, the veteran horseman, gave one of his practical lectures in front of the Court House, exhibiting a section of the stomach of the horse of E. S. Miller, that died on Monday, containing the bots alive and in their natural condition. We believe that he satisfied his audience that the bots are part of the natural organs of the horse. The Doctor has left a specimen of them in the business department of this office for the examination of those interested in the subject. Next he exhibited a chestnut horse, belonging to M. A. Stouffer, which four weeks ago was lame but after wearing his improved pat. shoe was free from lameness. Next shown was a year old colt, belonging to W. W. Hoffman, Esq., relieved of distemper in three days. This colt was in high condition.—After this he exhibited a yearling colt, belonging to J. Wise, Esq., that had been gelded ten days without poisonous chemicals, not swollen nor stiff, and like the other was in good condition. If the Doctor's new ideas are correct there has been a large amount of bosh written in connection with horses. At the conclusion of his lecture twenty-five gentlemen purchased as many of Dr. Parks' Book, which contains all of his lectures upon domestic animals.—Hag. Mail.

WHIPPED TO DEATH.—A few weeks ago Harry Wisor living near Duhan Dejoyn Pulaski county, was whipping his boy in his usual manner, tillinger so severely that he died. The offence was the opening of a letter directed to Wisor.—The Christiansburg Messenger says:

"Wisor, on discovery what had been done, said the boy that he could take his choice between arrest and imprisonment for whipping his letter, or a whipping from him. The boy chose the latter, whereupon Wisor took him to the woods, stripped him to the shirt, and hit him seven hundred lashes; literally cutting the shirt from his back in ribbons.

A Captain Ford, of Barbour Co., W. Va., recently happened near Mr. Jesse Horner's home with a panther skin and seeing a little boy about 12 or 14 years old, a son of Mr. Horner, in a skirt of woods near the house, donned the skin with the intention of frightening the little fellow, but as soon as the boy saw what he supposed to be a panther, he ran to the house and took down his father's rifle, and went in pursuit of the panther. He did not have to go far before he espied him. The boy then fired the gun. The man-panther gave a dying shriek and with a convulsive spasm fell over mortally wounded dying in two days.

Grapes were sold at a cent and a half a pound in the vineyards of California, and would pay handsomely at half the price.

The peach crop promises to be over-abundant. Delaware promises four million baskets.
