THE RAILROAD QUESTION.—The railroad problem, I see by your paper, is again engaging the attention of your people, and I trust there is a fair prospect this time of securing a railway.

The progress of railroad enterprises in this country is something truly wonderful, and we are more astonished when we consider the fact that the first railroad in the United States was constructed no longer ago than 1830, in which year about 23 miles of the Baltimore and Ohio were opened and run by horse-power.

It does not speak well for the enterprise of so wealthy a community as that of which Waynesboro is the centre, that during all this wonderful progress in railroad construction she has been passed by, and has failed to become a link in the vast chain of roads binding the different cities, towns, and hamlets of our growing country together.

It is amazing that the people of your section, who are not lacking in intelligence, have not years ago realized that their great want was a railroad, and that road-wagons and stage-coaches are things that belong to a past age.

Yours, &c., Phila., July, 1871. RALPH.

For the Village Record.

South Mountain R. R.

As our community is determined to have a Rail Road, the only question remaining for us to decide, is which proposal shall we accept?

It seems to us the proposition of the South Mountain Iron Co. is in fact the most reasonable and advantageous, in the only one having a prospect of being carried out. I take it, the choice must be made between this Company and the "Miramar."

In the first place the "South Mountain" is a completed Rail Road, fully equipped with rolling stock sufficient to do all the work of transportation from Carlisle to Waynesboro, in case the road is extended. It will not be a branch road, as your "Miramar" correspondent says; but an independent road from Waynesboro to Carlisle.

The "South Mountain" asks us to take $150,000 seven per cent Bonds—"Miramar" asks subscriptions for $160,000 Stock. There is a great difference here. The Bonds bear interest from the time of payment of the money. Stock may give no return for years. The Bonds are a safe profitable investment from the first. Stock is dependent upon the earnings of the road, and in the event of failure in payments, they take the road and sweep away the stock.

Another point in favor of "South Mountain" is the difference in distance. From Waynesboro to Shippensburg the proposed route of "Miramar"—it is almost as far as from Pine Grove—the present terminus of "South Mountain"—to Waynesboro. Here are a number of miles saved and by consequence, time and money saved. An additional saving of freight through the "South Mountain," will be made by shippers from the arrangement between the Cumberland Valley R. R. and the South Mountain. This arrangement runs for twenty years and in it the Cumberland Valley agrees to transport all the freight of "South Mountain," for 2 1/2 cents per ton per mile. This is a great point.

It is not our intention to disparage the Miramar Co., or to do anything to interfere with their project. But the important matter for this community is to have a Rail Road; to have it built as soon as possible; on the most advantageous terms; by the shortest and best line in order that freights may be saved and time gained in reaching the great commercial and industrial centers. In all these respects the "South Mountain" offers inducements greatly superior to Miramar.

PROGRESS.

Miss Phoebe Cary, sister of the late Alice Cary, died at Newport Monday.

We are in the midst of the dog-days.

COMMUNICATED.

Mr. Blair.—There having been several reports named in your paper lately for a Railroad to Waynesboro, suppose you allow me to recommend a route that will suit all parties.

Say from Waynesboro to the Western Maryland Railroad would be less than six miles, then from Waynesboro to the Cumberland Valley R. R. near Marian, where the Loudon and Mercersburg R. R. connect would be ten miles more, making altogether sixteen miles; then we would have a Railroad to Chambersburg by a shorter route than it would be by way of Mt. Alto. But can the money be raised to build this road? Let us see.

At the upper end of the road we will have the Loudon and Mercersburg R. R. to help and at the lower end the Western Maryland R. R. and Baltimore City besides, and all this help would certainly be as good as the Pine Grove or the Miramar help could be. We can show the large capitalists of Baltimore that it is eighty miles less from Loudon and Mercersburg to Baltimore than it is to Philadelphia.

We can also show them that when the Loudon and Mercersburg R. R. is made to the Broad Top coal region that this will be the shortest and most direct road they will have to any coal mines, not excepting the same day in their own State. Baltimore has made more than sixteen miles of road to secure less trade than she would get from this County alone, and she will do it again if she has the chance. But suppose we get no help from any other place, is it possible that the people living between Waynesboro and Loudon, all the way through a good country, cannot make sixteen miles of Railroad. And now a few words to my farmer friends who live within five miles of this route. This road would be eighty miles less to Baltimore than we have to Philadelphia, and Baltimore is a better flour market than Philadelphia.

She does now and has for the last sixty years shipped more flour to foreign countries than Philadelphia, and by this road we can go to Baltimore and have five hours time to transact business and return the same day in time for supper, or we can send our produce and get a return for it the same day. But if we go to Philadelphia we must take three days. Now all these advantages we can have if we will only give the small sum of one dollar per acre of the land we have, and just as soon as the road is made it will make all our land worth at least twenty-five dollars per acre more than it would be without the road, but it would not be giving the money away—it would only be lending it at interest—for this road would pay, it would run all the way through a good country and it would not have any opposition road along side of it, and after it would be made to the Broad Top coal mines it would pay at least twenty per cent, and make the land worth that much more in the bargain. And now to the citizens of Waynesboro. This route will give you all the advantage you can possibly get from any of the others yet named—and a road to Chambersburg, and the trade of Mt. Hope, Funkstown and Quincy in the bargain.

A FARMER.

Thomas J. Duncan, of Pittsburgh, who died in Ireland some time since, bequeathes the sum of $30,000 to Bishop Simpson (Methodist Episcopal), of Philadelphia. Mr. Duncan made a tour of the Holy land, accompanied by Bishop Simpson, to whom he was greatly attached. Mr. Long, of Philadelphia and the Bishop have been appointed his executors. The residue of the estate is to be divided between the executors. This it is thought, will increase the bequest to about $40,000.

The National Labor Union have called a convention to meet at Columbus, Ohio, on the third Wednesday in October to nominate candidates for President and Vice President. Gov. Geary is understood to be the favorite of the organization in this part of the country, and may be the nominee for President. The managers claim to hold the balance of power, but it may become a question whether to make a separate nomination or decide between the Republican and Democratic nominees.

According to the report of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, the total amount of the State debt on the last day of July was, in round numbers, twenty-nine and a half millions—which, when reduced by the payment of the war debt, now being done, will (says the Pittsburgh Dispatch) be about twenty-six millions.

The Chicago Tribune asks and receives $22,000 for a column of advertisements one year. The business men of Chicago are keen to pay it. There is one house in Cincinnati that pays $4,000 a year for advertising. There are several in Cleveland, even, who pay as high as $10,000. Somehow these men don't break up; a liberal advertiser never does.

A public meeting in Dublin on Saturday night, in favor of the pardon of Fenian prisoners, was dispersed by the police, after a serious riot. Over one hundred people were injured and taken to the hospital.

The Klu-Klux Investigation Committee of Congress, which has been in session at Washington for several months, has adjourned until the 20th of September.

Col. David H. Todd, brother of Mrs. Lincoln, died of consumption at Huntsville, Ala., on Sunday night.

The last squad of troops left Carlisle Barracks on the 20th ult. Only ten men are left to take care of the buildings and grounds.

An Atlanta, Ga., boy ate thirteen apple-dumplings for dessert one day last week. The boy and the dumplings were buried in one grave.

Two Mississippians foolishly tried to perswade a mule in the way he should go. One of them leaves a large family.

Town and County.

LAST NOTICE.—There are quite a number of our patrons who are largely in arrears for subscription. We made our purchase of a new press and material—an item of over $1,000—with the expectation that this class would show their appreciation of our efforts to furnish a more acceptable family paper, by calling and settling their accounts, but we have been disappointed. Six weeks have passed since the first number was issued, and our cash receipts have been decreasing instead of increasing. Under these circumstances, to furnish paper, ink and labor, and continue the paper to a class of persons who have not paid us a dollar for years, is more than our circumstances will justify. We have therefore no other alternative left us but to drop from our list the names of such patrons, which we purpose doing after the first of September. This done, we will make an effort to secure in a lawful manner the amount of these arrearages, and where we fail will deal with the parties as we have heretofore dealt with others, in no very complimentary manner.

Last month of summer.

August Court commences on Monday next.

The circus will be here on Saturday.

The humble bees are more numerous this year than usual.

The days are shortening very perceptibly.

The Locust of Egypt were not a circumstance to the number of flies that torment suffering humanity this season.

The canning and preserving of fruit for winter use occupies the attention of prudent housekeepers at the present time.

Friday night last the Greencastle Post Office was entered by a robber and plundered of money, stamps and envelopes to the amount of $12.

Declined.—Rev. T. C. Bilheimer, invited to the charge of Trinity Lutheran Church of Hagerstown, has declined the offer.

Our devil asks what is the difference between the entrance of a barn and a loafer in a printing office? We answer one is a barn door and the other is a darn bore.

Hon. A. R. Boteler, of Virginia, addressed a public meeting at Boonsboro' on Monday evening, which was held in the interest of the Miramar Railroad Extension.

GENERAL AGENT.—The Waynesboro' Mutual Fire Insurance Company has appointed DAVID M. GOOD, Esq. General Agent to take applications, &c. A good appointment.

HOPWELL MILL FOR SALE.—It will be seen by referring to our advertising columns that this valuable Mill property will be offered at public sale on the first day of September. Here is a chance for good investment.

CURIOSITY.—A stalk of Rye taken from the farm of Mr. Geo. Beard near Fountain Dale, in Adams county, last harvest, contained three perfect heads.—It has been preserved.

LARGE FUNERAL.—The funeral procession on Sunday last on the occasion of the burial of the remains of Mr. Henry Motz, at Ringgold, is said to have been one of the largest witnessed there for many years, over fifty vehicles being in line.

CLEMONT ACADEMY.—Jonathan Emmert A. B., proposes opening a school at the Clermont House, (Miller's) on the South Mountain, commencing on the 5th day of October next. The instruction will embrace all the branches usually taught in an academy.

MELONS, &c.—Our generous neighbor and enterprising grocer, W. A. REED, has placed us under obligations to him for another present. This time a big water-melon and cantalope. To-morrow (Friday) evening he will receive a fresh supply, which he expects will excel anything of the kind offered this season.

THE MIRMARER R. R.—We have undoubted authority for the statement that the contract for the grading of the Miramar Railroad between Shippensburg and Bridgeport was given out on Monday, and that the work is to be pushed forward vigorously. We hope to be able to give a favorable report from the Company in our next issue.

FINE RAIN.—A rain set in here about 11 o'clock on Monday night and continued almost without intermission till noon on Tuesday, thoroughly saturating the parched earth. It was the finest rain of the season and must help materially the growth of corn and potatoes, besides reviving the pasture fields. This rain with the few showers which preceded it, makes, we think, a tolerable corn crop in this section a certainty.

The man with the "big feet" this week sent his paper back.

New School Building.—The project of erecting a new Public School Building in our borough is about to be carried into effect, as we understand the work is now in the hands of a contractor. The location of the building is the only matter yet undecided, and I trust there will be great precaution exercised on this point, for it is unquestionably important that the location be a proper one. I feel considerably interested in this matter.

Remember, you are not building a house for a year, but I may say for twenty-five years or more.

According to drafts and specifications shown me I presume the building will be one of the first order, and in every way fitted adapted to the educational wants of our fast increasing borough. This is highly commendable. But now, if you do not properly locate the building it will result in a lasting regret to yourselves and to those who will soon take your places in the enterprise and business of this growing community.

The grounds should be adapted to so large a building. Heretofore you had three schools on one grove and two on another, and would you now put five or six schools on one of these grounds? The sale of the old lots, being well situated for business or private residences, may contribute largely toward other grounds better suited; and surely our new school building ought not to be crowded into a small space in order to save (?) a few hundred dollars. Give sufficient ground for exercise and ornament, and you will do a lasting honor to Waynesboro'. Select grounds not exposed to Main street and business operations will not disturb the quiet that should surround the place of instruction and study. In conclusion, I kindly suggest that you select at least a two-acre lot at the north-west or south-east of town for the new School Building.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Thursday afternoon last, FORNEY MASTERS, adopted son of Mr. L. S. Forney, of this place, aged about four years, fell into a tan vat containing several feet of liquor. An employe, Mr. F. Hoffman, in passing the vat discovered the boy and rescued him. Had Mr. H. reached the vat a second or two later the child would doubtless have been beyond resuscitation. As it was some time elapsed before he exhibited any sign of life. He continued insensible until the afternoon of the next day the meantime suffering great apparent pain. At last accounts he had so far recovered as to be regarded out of danger. He is an unusually interesting little boy and quite a pet in the family of Mr. Forney.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A man falls from a Hay loft and is killed.—On Wednesday evening last Justice Skinner was informed of the fact that a man named Kreiner, working on a farm at Hager's upper mill about 4 miles from Hagerstown, had fallen from the upper floor of a barn where he was stowing hay, and had been killed. Proceeding to the spot, a jury was summoned and the following facts elicited from the evidence produced: Shortly after dinner, John Kreiner aged between sixty and seventy-five years, went to the barn in which he was found dead, for the purpose of working at something in the hay mow, and it is supposed that he had not have been long after he ascended to that place when he fell, striking his head and fracturing his skull in such a manner that he must have died soon after. Rendering a verdict to the effect that he came to his death as above, the jury committed the body of the deceased to the care of his friends.—Voice A Week.

INTERESTING FACT.—It is not generally known, says the Gettysburg Star and Sentinel, that the art of preserving fruit in cans had its origin in Gettysburg, as the result of experiments made by the late Dr. Jacobs, in the winters of 1845 and 1846. Communicated at first to a few of his friends, the art was rapidly made known; so that in three years time it had spread to all parts of the country.

It is a sure evidence, when you see young men get up in church in the midst of a sermon, and stalk out with clattering hoofs, attracting the attention of the entire audience, that they have by far more hoofs than brains.

Good Templar Convention.

Cumberland Valley District Convention met at this place, July 25, '71, and in the absence of the W. C. T. and W. V. T. was called to order by the Secretary and Bro. Kirby was called to the chair.

Time of meeting was fixed as follows: A. M., from 9—12 o'clock; P. M., 2—4; and evening, 7—10 o'clock.

Some very appropriate remarks were made by Bro. Dyson concerning the distribution of Brother Kirby's sermon on Temperance. He also suggested the idea of organizing public temperance meetings in which all who for different reasons do not join with us may be brought together. He was followed by Bro. Kirby, who made appropriate remarks upon the suggestion.

Morning Session.—Met pursuant to adjournment and opened. The committee on public meeting submitted a programme of exercises for afternoon and night meetings, which was adopted.

The committee on business submitted the following:

- 1. What are the best means of securing the triumph of Temperance principles?
2. Is secrecy necessary to our success?
3. Would public organizations advance the Temperance cause?
4. Should there be a third, or anti-license party?

Questions 1 and 2 were taken up and discussed. Reports of delegates were received as follows: 358, by L. S. Wolfe and R. F. McElroy; 519, by Jonathan Bear and J. Greenawalt; 321, by N. Hood; 152, by L. C. Brackett; 919, by James Burnett and D. G. Bowman; 922, by Rev. F. Dyson.

Shippensburg was chosen as the place for holding the next convention.

Afternoon Session.—The convention proceeded in conjunction with the Sunday schools of Waynesboro' and Quincy to a grove near town and listened to speeches by Revs. Keedy, Donahue, Harkey Smith and Russell. The Quincy band were in attendance, playing appropriate music.

In the evening the convention repaired to the Presbyterian Church. After prayer by Rev. Keedy, an address was delivered by Rev. F. Dyson, who set forth temperance in moral, social and financial point of view. Closed with prayer by Rev. J. Donahue and benediction by Rev. Smith.

The convention then repaired to the lodge room to attend to business.

The following committees were appointed: Finance—L. J. Wolfe, L. C. Kepner, J. Burnett; Business—J. M. Russell, J. Shaeffer, L. C. Brackett; Credentials—delegates of lodge at Shippensburg. The convention adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the Quincy Band for the excellent music they furnished at children's meeting; also to the friends of Waynesboro' who kindly entertained the delegates; to the ministers for their aid, and to Brother Dyson for his address; to the Presbyterian denomination for the use of their church; that the proceedings of this convention be published in the papers of Franklin and Cumberland counties, in the Keystone Good Templar and Temperance Vindicator.

Question 5 was taken up and discussed in a spirited manner by Bros. Hawker, Wolfe, Rock, Bickle, Kepner, and Russell.

The convention adjourned in fine spirits feeling the meeting an entire success.

LEWIS S. WOLFE, D. S.

THE NEW YORK STATE CIRCUS.—This great circus will exhibit at Waynesboro' on Saturday afternoon and evening, Aug. 12th 1871. It is without doubt one of the best traveling companies known, and will introduce many new and brilliant features in the circus line, which will be found to be, in all respects, far more novel, diversified and attractive, than any similar exhibition hitherto presented to the American public. It is truly said to be unequalled in the world. The exhibition will include more and better acts, than were ever given or can be given; a better company of dashing bareback riders, gymnasts, clowns, acrobats, equilibrist, contortionists and voltigeurs than have before appeared before the citizens of Franklin County. This circus has excited the curiosity and wonder, and called forth the plaudits of admiring crowds in every section of the country.

The question is often asked, Where should the New School-house be built; Now, I believe the school directors of Waynesboro' are very much like other men, and that in the choice of a site for the New School-house they will follow the following general rules. 1st, Get no more ground than the house will cover, 2d, Get a three cornered piece of ground if possible. 3d, If the ground cannot be begged, buy the poorest, ugliest, roughest, rockiest, swampiest, muddiest and out-of-the-wayest place in the borough. If the house covers all the ground it will not need to be fenced. By putting a house on one of the old sites the next generation will be led to bless (?) the present board.

IRONY.

John Slidell, ex-rebel commissioner, died in London a few days ago at the age of 78 years.

At the State election in Kentucky on Monday the Democratic ticket for Governor was successful. The Republicans made heavy gains in the cities.

DIPHTHERIA CURED WITH LEMON JUICE.

Some time ago Dr. Revillout, in a paper presented to the French Academy of Medicine, asserted that lemon juice is one of the most efficacious remedies which can be applied to diphtheria, and he relates that when a dreser in the hospital his own life was saved by this timely application. He got three dozen lemons, and gargled his throat with juice, swallowing a little at the same time, in order to act on the more deep seated parts. The Doctor had noted numerous cases of complete success obtained by this method of treatment.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

FLOUR.—The best quality of family flour is now sold at the Fairview Mill of David Patterson at $5.50 per barrel, and mill stuffs of all kinds at correspondingly low prices.

PAINTS.—Partic in need of house painting material will find a large and fresh stock at Bonebrake's drug store. Call and examine.

ICE.—Persons wanting ice can have it delivered at their doors regularly every morning, or otherwise, by applying to Bonebrake, druggist.

FOR SALE.—A valuable farm is offered for sale. For terms, &c. apply to Lewis W. DELRICH, Attorney at Law, Waynesboro', Pa.

EXCELSIOR.—So exclaims every one after visiting D. S. Smith's Hat, Cap and Shoe Emporium, and well may they give vent to their feelings by the above exclamation, as it is the only word that could express the great popularity Smith's store is acquiring, by his producing Hats, Caps, Shoes and Notions of the best at prices that suit the most skeptic. Give him a call, and it will not be long before you join in the cry of "Excelsior."

A PRACTICAL LESSON.—On Wednesday last, just as the clock struck ten, the loungers on Washington St. Hagerstown were aroused from their usual state of semi-somnolence by the sudden appearance of a stylish barouche, drawn by a pair of beautiful black horses, which dashed around the corner by the Court House, at a speed which fortunately escaped the notice of our efficient mayor, or the consequence would certainly have been a material increase of the corporation funds. The movements of the quadrupeds were controlled by a driver, dark skinned as the horses themselves, who boasts that he can "drive 'em in 1840 by the watch." But what more particularly attracted attention were two fair ladies, who occupied the vehicle. They were fashionably and becomingly attired in colors that lent a charm to their own natural beauty, and as they alighted at the Washington House they were immediately recognized as the beautiful Mrs. Globenski and the fascinating Miss Fortescue, of Williamsport. They were met by one of the gentlemanly proprietors of the Hotel and escorted to the spacious drawing-room of the establishment. Here we will leave them for a short time while we call your attention to the unusual Bargains in Dry Goods, now being offered by Caldwell & Co., near the Court House.

It is no exaggeration to say that more goods can be bought there for ten dollars, than can be purchased elsewhere for sixteen.

The great clearing sale still continues, and goods have been marked down, in some instances, to less than half the original cost.

They are selling calicoes, muslins, &c., at the same low prices as before the late advance, which is positively less than the same goods can be purchased at wholesale now.

We will merely add, in conclusion, that before leaving town, the ladies mentioned above, paid a visit to the establishment of Messrs. Caldwell & Co., where they spent an hour in making purchases, and when they emerged from the store, splices of genuine happiness enhanced the beauty of their faces and they were heard to exclaim that they never did see such bargains.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—During a storm last Saturday evening the house of Mr. Clement Royde, at Bayview, Cecil county, Md., was struck by lightning, and Mr. Royde and his wife were both killed. A neighbor who saw the lightning strike the house, and ran as rapidly as possible to the place, thus describes the scene on entering the house:

On the floor near the window lay the dead bodies of the father and mother, a terrified and weeping girl of eight years holding the head of the latter in her lap and apparently unconscious of the fact that she was dead, trying to assist her to arise. A little two-year old child, entirely fallen upon them, was still eating supper. As soon as the eldest girl (who was holding her mother's head) became sufficiently composed, she gave the following particulars: The family was at supper when the storm commenced. The father and mother finished their meal before the children and got up from the table. Mr. Royde was standing with his face toward the window looking out and Mrs. Royde was standing behind him, sewing one of his suspenders, when suddenly there came a fearful, deafening crash, and the two fell to the floor. The man made no sound, but the child says the mother gave one shriek and breathed a few minutes after she fell. An examination of the bodies showed no mark except that the hair on one side of Mrs. Royde's head was slightly burned. Both husband and wife were about 35 years of age, and were highly respected.

NERVOUS DISEASE.—How many thousands of the most refined ladies of the land are slaves to nervous diseases in various forms—trembling, twitching, and jerking of the nerves, headache, hysterics, sudden outbursts of temper on trivial occasions, peevishness, a feeling of despondency, or fear, &c. In any unhealthy condition of the nervous system, Briggs' Allevator has absolute control over the nerves, creating a radical change and positive cure. Sold by F. FORTYMAN and druggists generally.

"Beautiful View Springs,"

V. B. Gilbert, Proprietor, July 28, 1871.

AN ODE TO THE SPRINGS BY A GUEST.

Farewell to the spring, the beautiful spring, But first let us sit here, and cheerily sing Of the water, the dipper, the seats and the trees; While our feet rest upon a soft carpet of leaves.

All kept in good order, for measure and sport, By a kindly old gentleman, named Mr. McCourt. Assisted this day, in his challenge with dirt, By his second, one "saber-sides," alias A. Burk.

But let us be off now, upon our long walk, Over hill, dale, and stone, which furnish us talk. But I must remind you, to be on the alert, For a neat little cottage, kept by V. B. Gilbert.

Now look! would you believe, this cot in the valley, Could serve as a mark, at which some people rally? 'Tis called "Hole in the ground" from sheer spinster envy, So assure us, our old friend—Doctor Mac—Kensie.

But yet from their own place, they frequently steal, So much do they here, enjoy a good meal, Their table seems empty, "What can be the reason?"

Our own is filled, with the best of the season, Even unexcelled, is the plain "staff of life," Made by our kind host's most excellent wife; The coffee they assure us, is fit for the gods, While the "tea" stands, are the best, which the market affords.

Days can be spent here, fine views to explore, Some we have seen, with our young friend forsover. A party for Croquet, can be formed in a trice, Marshalled, at head, by the all-conquering Price.

But alas! we must leave this fine valley and spring, Kind hosts, gentle Bachelors and fair Ethelind, Yet, let our parting be cheerful, not mark'd with a tear; So good bye, kind friends, may we all meet next year.

PLIES.—Look at those features and see the agony depicted in the face. It cannot be helped while the trouble remains.—The suffering from piles of a very aggravated description. You cannot walk with any comfort; you cannot ride in peace; you cannot sit with ease, and the suffering when attending to nature is almost unbearable, and causes such feeling of dread that he is put off at great sacrifice to health and comfort, in many instances increasing the difficulty to an alarm-g extent.
