It is estimated that upwards of thirty thousand Southerners have settled in New York city since the downfall of the rebellion.

The city of Oswego, N. Y., on Thanksgiving Day, contemplates a special service in gratitude for never having had a base ball club.

The new Board of Directors of the Western Maryland Railroad held a meeting in Baltimore on Tuesday a week and elected James L. McLane President of the road, thus retiring ex-Mayor Banks, who was elected to that position a few weeks ago by the old Board of Directors.

On Friday last a lot of ground fronting on Ohio, held for one Eight street, Cincinnati, Ohio, sold for $160,000 cash. It is now occupied by the Second Presbyterian Church, but in a short time will be occupied by stores.

While eating chestnuts a few days ago, a young son of Samuel Miller, of Beach Creek, Lycoming Co., got a portion of one in his wind pipe, which caused his death next day.

In Zenia, Ohio, on Thursday last, a Mrs. Dice was awarded $1,250 damages in a case wherein she had sued a tavern keeper for selling liquor to her husband and sons.

Some of the Wisconsin papers estimate that four hundred square miles of territory in that State were burned over by the recent fires. In this tract were four hundred farms and not a building was left standing on any of them.

The trial of Mrs. Wharton for the murder of Gen. Ketchum, and attempted poisoning of young Van Ness, commences at Annapolis, on Monday 4th December next.

Ex-Comptroller Connelly was in the hands of the Sheriff at New York on Saturday night, unable to raise the million dollars bail demanded for his appearance to answer the charges against him.

In the United States District Court at Baltimore, last week, the case of John W. Field, colored, against the Baltimore City Passenger Railway, the plaintiff recovered $40 damages. In consequence of this decision negroes are now admitted into all the street cars in the city. Field had been ejected on account of his color.

Delegate Hooper, of Utah, in an interview with the President has revealed the Mormon plan for the settlement of the troubles in Utah Territory. He proposes that Utah be admitted as a State in the Union, that in her State constitution polygamy shall be prohibited after the admission of the State, and that the Mormons shall be allowed to retain their present wives.

In 1841 the following advertisement appeared in the New Orleans Picayune:

$5 Reward.—Run away from the subscribers, on the 23d of November last, the negro boy, Oscar Dunn, an apprentice to the plastering trade. He is of gruff color, between twenty and twenty-one years of age, and about five feet ten or eleven inches high. All persons are cautioned not to harbor said boy under penalty of the law. Wilson & Patterson, corner St. John and Common streets.

"The negro boy, Oscar Dunn," is now Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana.

The popular vote being largely in favor of a constitutional Convention, attention is being directed to the character of the reforms needed. Hon. F. Jordan, Secretary of State, in an elaborate letter on the defects in State legislation, suggests amendments to the Constitution covering the following points:

- 1. Increase of the number of Senators and Representatives.
2. Biennial sessions of the Legislature.
3. Election by the people of sundry State officers now otherwise chosen.
4. Minority representation.
5. A change in the tenor and mode of choosing the Judiciary.
6. Modification of the pardoning power.
7. A change in the date of our annual Fall Election to the time of the Presidential Election, to prevent what is called colonization from surrounding States, and to dispense with one election every fourth year.
8. Restriction upon the powers of corporations.

Buckwheat Flour at REID'S.

The short day will soon be here.

Ladies, don't forget that 1872 will be leap year. Go for the old b—s.

Pork is selling in town at 46 per hundred.

Buckwheat cakes, sausage and hominy are in demand.

The "wickedest woman" in town and refuses to saw wood for her husband.

Love's young dream is troubling a good many ladies at present.

Those who wish to sell goods for the holidays will advertise them in the Record.

The recent cold weather has nearly suspended sparking on the steps. If she don't invite you in now, you needn't be particular about coming back.

An exchange says the weather prophets predict a cold winter because the corn husks are so thick, and an old bachelor predicts numerous weddings because there are so many cabbage heads.

A girl died the other day because her blood turned to sugar. We don't believe this item, for our "devil" says he knows a girl in this place, who, if sweetened, was fatal to females, couldn't live a minute.

Lecture.—Rev. Chas. J. Little will deliver a Lecture in the Lutheran Church Friday evening, December 15th. Subject, "Germany as I saw It." Tickets 25 cents.

Clocks.—Elden's.—Dropping in E. Elden's Store the other day we were surprised to notice the number clocks on hand. He has all styles, at prices which defy competition, with watches and jewelry of all kinds. We advise our friends in want of clocks, watches or jewelry not to pass by Elden's store.

New Store.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that H. A. McKee of Hagerstown, has opened a dry goods and notion store in the room on the Diamond, formerly occupied by Caldwell & Co.

FALSE REPORT.—It seems some foolish or maliciously designed person has put a report in circulation in the country that there are a number of cases of Small-pox in this place. The report is without foundation in fact, and we assure the public that there is not a case of the kind in our town, nor one in all probability in the country. If the disease should make its appearance in our midst we could not under any circumstances be induced to conceal the fact. We have had two cases for the past several weeks, one typhoid and the other bilious fever. These have been lingering cases and may possibly have given rise to the report.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—The following real estate belonging to Levi Sanders was sold by G. V. Mong, auctioneer, on Saturday last, viz: A tract of land on the South Mountain containing 22 acres to Frederick B. Snively, for $74 per acre.—A tract containing 17 acres and 60 perches to Calvin Speelman for $16.75 cents per acre. A tract containing 16 acres and 110 perches to John Phillips for $25 per acre. Six building lots adjoining Borough containing one acre to Jacob Beaver for $650. A lot containing 2 acres and 133 perches to Abram Price for the sum of $200 per acre. A lot containing 150 perches to Philip Haas for the sum of $225.

The sale of the farm, dwelling houses and other lots, was adjourned until Saturday the 9th day of December.

GRAND REUNION.—The soldiers of the 128th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, will hold their Second Annual Reunion in the New Town Hall, Greencastle, on Wednesday, 13th December, 1871. The exercises will be of a most important character, and a very large and interesting meeting is confidently expected. The members of the Regiment are respectfully invited to attend. Special invitations have been given his Excellency, John W. Geary, Gen. E. B. Tyler, and other officers who participated with the Regiment in the field, and who have signified their intention to be present. It is hoped all the members of the Regiment will regard this as sufficient invitation, and endeavor to be present, as no special invitations will be sent out. The address of welcome will be delivered by Thad. M. Mahon, Esq., and the annual Oration by Wm. Kennedy, Esq. All communications should be addressed to Wm. H. Davidson, Chairman Committee of Arrangements.

CALL ACCEPTED.—Rev. D. R. Richardson, of Middle Spring, Cumberland county, has accepted the call lately extended to him by the Presbyterian congregation of this place, and will shortly enter upon his pastorate. Salary $1100.—Greencastle Echo.

A boy in Oswego, N. Y. has performed a wonderful feat. He lighted a fire with kerosene with the loss of only two pair of trousers and the skin of his legs. Most boys in this place would have put their parents to the cost of a funeral.

The Miramar road which has been surveyed from river to river, and upon which work has been actively commenced in the lower end of this county, unquestionably would at once cover the whole ground. Its line touches all the important points along the southern side of the whole valley. It touches first the vast lime-stone quarries at milltown, in upper Allen Township; it touches the vast ore banks in the vicinity of Dillsburg; it passes along the Yellow Breaches Creek, through the richest agricultural region of the Valley; it passes all the magnificent water powers of that beautiful stream; it touches the Boiling Spring iron works and ore mines; it passes through Paper-town with all its extensive paper mills and the ore mines of its vicinity; it passes close by the Peach orchard ore mines, and the Big Pond iron works, and extensive mines belonging to the same; it runs within a half a mile of the Cleversburg mine, which in this county, unquestionably by any means the two rivers; it passes near the Southampton mines, in Franklin county; it touches Fayetteville near which place are located the Caledonia iron works, formerly worked by the late Hon. Thaddeus Stevens; it touches Funkstown, within a fourth of a mile of which are located the extensive furnaces, forges and ore mines of the Mt. Alto Iron Company, of which our clever friend Col. G. H. WRESTLING, is the master spirit; from thence it passes along the head waters of Antietam creek to Quincy, through a country unsurpassed in the valley for beauty and fertility; it touches Waynesboro, a large, thrifty, manufacturing town; it passes Smithburg and Cavetown in Maryland, at which latter point it crosses the Western Md. Railroad, opening out northward to the bituminous coal regions of Western Maryland, and southward to the Baltimore market; it passes Boonsboro, a splendid town of twelve hundred people, ten miles south-east of Hagerstown; it crosses the Washington County Railroad at Keadysville, and passes on to Sharsburg and Antietam Iron Works at which point it touches the Potomac river. It will be seen at a glance therefore that the Miramar at once supplies all the demands for railroad facilities along the entire line of the valley.

It is a home institution; managed and controlled by citizens of the Cumberland Valley; its charter is liberal, and the propositions of its officers to the people are such that no one, who wants a railroad at all, can conveniently reject. No money is required until the road is commenced within the district in which the subscriber resides, and then only in light instalments. What risk, therefore, in subscribing for stock? If the road is not made, no money need be paid; if made, it is just what the subscriber wants and of course will pay his money cheerfully. That the stock will pay no one doubts for a moment. All railroads of any importance do pay. Even some of our branch roads do not more than fifteen or twenty miles in length pay, when, as we said before, the cost of running a short road is comparatively much greater than running a long one, and therefore the dividends to the stock-holders cannot be so large.—Some of the citizens of the valley are taking stock in the short roads, which at a glance must convince them will not pay as well as stock in a through route.

We have thus given our views at length upon this subject, and respectfully submit to a candid public whether we are right or wrong. We have no particular preference for any road, but desire the greatest good for the greatest number. We want railroad facilities extended to every citizen of our whole country, but we want them extended to him in such a manner as to be of real benefit to him. We might build a dozen branches of an aggregate length of more than one through route, and at a working cost of more than double that of the latter, and yet only accommodate one half of our citizens. We therefore, earnestly appeal to the citizens of the Cumberland Valley, as they value their own good, not to allow this great enterprise to fail.

A WHAT IS IT?—We are informed by our friend Jacob Cook, Esq. of Upton, that a curious animal has made its appearance in the hills between this place and Upton, which baffles the knowledge of all who have seen it to give it identity. Mr. Cook describes it as a small animal about the size of a dog, perfectly white, long bushy tail, round head, long sharp ears, sharp-pointed nose, and very bold—so much so that Mr. Cook went to it on the pike near the school-house, about one mile and a half east of Upton. It became very cross on his approach, but suddenly withdrew into the woods. It is said that its cries are a perfect imitation of a distressed child. It may possibly be a white wolf, but more likely to be a panther, which is the only animal that we know of that cries in perfect imitation of a child; and it is well known that a number of panthers have been seen in the woods this fall, in the northwestern end of this county.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Daniel Stahl of the vicinity of Pinefield, met with an accident on Thursday last, which resulted in death on Saturday morning. He had been butchering for Mr. Jacob Garlinger during the day, and in the evening attempted to go into the horse stable, when one of the horses becoming frightened at the smell of the blood on Mr. Stahl's clothing, kicked him twice in the stomach.—The unfortunate man was taken to the house, and Dr. A. A. Miller was sent for who did everything in his power to give him relief, but owing to peculiar disease with which Mr. Stahl was suffering, combined with the kick, he rapidly became worse, and died on Saturday morning. Mr. Stahl was an estimable gentleman and a good citizen, and his untimely demise is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends. His remains were interred in the cemetery at Mercersburg on Sunday last.—Valley Echo.

The barren mountains round me lie And naked valleys stretch between; No cheering prospects greets my eye, Nor pleasant pastures dressed in green; A torrent deep impedes my way, And trembling, I approach the stream; I have no comfort, staff or stay, No ray of hope, on me to gleam.

I've wandered from my father's fold, No shepherd doth my footsteps guide; The enemies around are bold, And from them I would gladly hide; No place of refuge can I see, And in my agony, I cry—"Lord, I trust myself to Thee, And helpless at Thy feet I lie."

In Bethlehem's star appears, It only twinkles through the gloom, And I am filled with doubts and fears, For hope I have but little room; Myself I feel I cannot save, I have no rock on which to stand, The torrents wild around me rave, And toward the star I stretch my hand.

Its brightness deepens through the gloom, And shows me that a rock is nigh; I hasten to escape my doom, And quickly to the rock I fly. My midnight hour now is past, My shepherd herds loving voice I hear, And I am saved, at last, at last, And in my father's fold appear.

And now the Lord my shepherd is, He gently leads his lamb along; My conscience tells me I am His. "His Jovin kindness, oh how strong." He will support me in distress, My every want he will supply, If tempted in the wilderness, Through Him, the tempter I'll defy. Oct. 27th 1871.

QUEER SUICIDE.—A few days since a young man residing in Steubenville, Ohio, visited Pittsburg, and of his own accord applied for an obtained a situation at a hospital where several violent cases of small pox were, for the purpose, he claimed afterwards, of contracting the disease that he might die. He continued the handling of small pox patients and corpses for several weeks, and returning to his home told his exploits, saying he wished he would take the small pox, that he was tired of life and "wanted God Almighty, to take it." He had his wish. In a few days after making the reckless remark he was stricken with the disease in the most violent form, his physician announcing his case almost hopeless from the first. On Tuesday morning he died and was conveyed to the last earthly tenement, where the troubles of life cease. In his death the circumstances are peculiar; the disease as stated, was new method of getting rid of life. Another singular circumstance was the publication of his death and the digging of his grave the day before death occurred.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—E Elden of the "variety store," two doors from Minter's Hotel, has recently replenished his stock of goods, and is now prepared to furnish beautiful Christmas presents to both ladies and gents. He is also well supplied with gloves, ties, and fresh supplies of notions, all styles. Elden's is the place. Go and see!

LAST NOTICE.—All persons knowing themselves indebted to the Estate of Henry Besore, either by note or book account on the Mill Books, or Grocery Store, will save costs by calling and settle the same before the 15th day of December. Further indulgence cannot be given.

D. B. RUSSELL, OLIVER BESORE, Assignees.

ASTRACHAN SACQUES.—Pure Astrachan Sacques will last a lifetime. Prices this season are in sympathy with the low prices for Ladies Furs. Never within our experience covering twenty years in the fur trade have we known prices so favorable to buyers. No article in Ladies' Wear affords more real comfort, or cost less money proportionately than Ladies' Furs or Genuine Astrachan Cloaks.—Come and see for yourselves and look to our make of ladies New Style of Dog Skin Gloves for Winter of 1871, at UPRDEGRAEF'S Hat, Glove and Fur factory, opposite Washington House Hagerstown Md., Nov. 9-4t.

MARRIAGES.—On Thursday morning the 23d inst. in the Lutheran Church, by the Rev. C. L. Keely, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Hilsman, Mr. GEO. BEAVER, of Maryland, Perry Co., Pa., to Miss ANNIE BRENNEMAN, of Waynesboro.

DEATHS.—In this place, on the 22d inst., Mrs. ANN MARIA BLAIR, aged 82 years and 11 months. Near this place on Saturday morning last, Mr. DAVID DOWNMAN, aged 58 years, 6 months and 12 days. In Greencastle, on the 18th inst., Mrs. ELIZABETH LONG, aged 71 years and five months. Near Greencastle, Nov. the 8th, Mrs. ANNA MARY LANE, aged 86 years, 7 months and 13 days. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25. FLOUR.—The flour market is without material change, but a fair demand prevails from the home consumers; 200 barrels changed hands, embracing superfine at $5.25@5.75, extras at $6@6.25 Wisconsin extra family at $6.25@6.50, Minnesota do. at $7.00@7.50, Penna do. at $7.50@8.50, Indiana and Ohio do. at $7.50@8.50, and fancy brands at $7.75@8.50, as in quality.

GRAIN.—Sales of Pennsylvania and Western red at $1.60@1.63, amber at $1.65@1.68 Rye 95@97c. Corn is in fair request at farmer rates; sales of 800 bush new do. at 78@79c, 2000 bushels new do. at 67@70, and 800 bush Western high mixed at 78c. Oats are in moderate demand, and 3,000 bushels sold at 85c for white, and 53c, for mixed.

Two circuses and menageries were sold at auction in Cincinnati on the 15th inst. It is interesting to read that Bismark, an ill-looking elephant, fetched $2,700, a grizzly bear only $325; a "chap" by family (four monkeys and a coon) $135; and a loine "lot"—one lion, two lionesses and ten cubs—$2,065.

Look at those features and see the agony depicted in the face. It cannot be helped while the trouble remains.—The suffering from piles is of a very aggravated description. You cannot walk with any comfort; you cannot ride in peace; you cannot sit with ease, and the suffering when attending to nature is almost unbearable, and causes such feeling of dread that it is put off at great sacrifice to health and comfort, in many instances increasing the difficulty to an alarm extent. Use Dr. Briggs' Pile Remedies according to directions to cure internal, external, itching or bleeding piles. They are mild and reliable, and warranted as represented. Sold by Druggists.

Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails and their attendants, have been, in years gone by, and will be in years to come, a source of much discomfort and unhappiness to those who are annoyed with them. By persistent efforts and untiring perseverance, Dr. J. Briggs gave the suffering humanity his remedies—Alleviator and Curative. The popularity which they have gained, and the entire satisfaction derived from their use, is well known and can be attested by all classes who have suffered with Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Chilblains, frost-bite, Blistered Feet, &c.—Sold by druggists.

NERVOUS DISEASE.—How many thousands of the most refined ladies of the land are slaves to nervous diseases in various forms—trembling, twitching, and jerking of the nerves, headache, hysterics, sudden outbursts of temper on trivial occasions, peevishness, a feeling of desperation, despondency, or fear, &c. In any unhealthy condition of the nervous system, Briggs' Alleviator has absolute control over the nerves, creating a radical change and positive cure. Sold by F. FOURTHMAN and druggists generally.
