The Washington Post Office Gazette of a late date says: A post office was opened in Philadelphia in 1693; and in 1737 Benjamin Franklin was appointed postmaster, and thus gave notice of his appointment in his own paper, the Pennsylvania Gazette.

Notice is hereby given that the post office at Philadelphia is now kept at B. Franklin's, in Market Street, and that Henry Pratt is appointed riding master for all stages between Philadelphia and Newport, Virginia, who sets out about the beginning of each month, and returns in twenty-four days, by whom gentlemen, merchants, and others may have their letters carefully conveyed.

The Grand Jury of the Court of General Sessions of New York on Saturday brought in indictments against Mayor Hall, Tweed, Sweeny and Nathaniel Sands. Hall appeared in Court and demanded a speedy trial, which was granted him, Monday of next week being set as the day. He was released on $10,000 bail. The indictments charge him with official misdemeanor in corruptly neglecting to audit the fraudulent claims of the Tammany Ring, under which about $20,000,000, were stolen from the City Treasury. Hall assumed an imposing air in injured innocence while in Court.

A correspondent of the Scientific American recommends turpentine as a cure for lock-jaw. He says: "Let any one who has an attack of the lock-jaw take a small quantity of turpentine, warm it, and pour it on the wound, no matter where the wound is or of what nature it is and relief will follow in less than one minute. Turpentine is also a sure remedy for cramp. Saturate a piece of flannel on the throat and chest, and in very severe cases three to five drops on a lump of sugar may be taken inwardly. This remedy is simple and can easily be tested."

Ex city Treasurer, Joseph F. Marcer, on trial in Philadelphia for defrauding the city Treasury was sentenced to the Penitentiary on Saturday last. Judge Paxson passing sentence upon him said: "I do not desire to add to the pain of your position by any extended remarks. I cannot let the occasion pass, however, without expressing my emphatic conviction of your guilt. The misapplication of public money has become the great crime of the age. If not promptly and firmly checked, it will ultimately destroy our institutions. When a republic becomes honey-combed by corruption its vitality is gone. It must crumble upon the first pressure."

In my opinion, the public are much to blame for your offence, and others of a similar character. Heretofore official fraud has been regarded with too much indifference. What we need is a higher and purer political morality—a state of public opinion which would make the improper use of public money a thing to be execrated. It was the lack of this which made your offence possible.

Beyond this, we see nothing of extenuation in your case. The people had confided in you the care of their money. It was a high and a sacred trust. You should have guarded the door of the Treasury even as the cherubim protected the Garden of Eden, and should have turned the flaming sword against every one who approached it improperly. Your position as a member of the bar, and for some years as chairman of the Finance Committee of Councils, gave you ample opportunities of knowing the law. You have sinned against the light.

The sentence of the Court is that you pay a fine of three hundred thousand dollars to the Commonwealth for the use of the country; that you pay the costs of prosecution, and that you undergo imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for the Eastern District, by separate or solitary confinement at labor, for the period of four years and nine months, and that you stand committed until this sentence is complied with.

On us—another cold snap.

MAKE HOME HAPPY.—Make Home happy and attractive as possible; as every family's home should be the most attractive place known; so that, though the members may find pleasure in frequently leaving it for a short time, on business or for visiting, yet they will always be glad soon to return; and will feel that there they are sure to find their best and most numerous delights; especially the younger people should feel that their home is the most desirable place in the world, and that they will not wish to leave it, except from necessity or duty, for any other spot.

And no class possess so many means and facilities to make their homes surpassingly happy and comfortable as the farmers, if they will but improve all their advantages; but this is, too often, sadly neglected, particularly in an intellectual point of view. Too many farmers do not supply their homes with any reasonable amount of good mental food and attractions, such as interesting books and magazines; and hence, their children are generally too eager to get away and live in town, where they hope to find richer stores to please the curiosity of their minds. Let parents take more liberal pains to furnish their family circle with abundance of books on history, biography, travels, sciences, and proper romances, and encourage their reading in leisure hours; and also provide a reasonable amount of innocent, free amusements, sharing themselves in them; and they will find that a farmer's life is not a mere drudgery, nor will your children, when partly grown, be too anxious to fly away to the city; and the agricultural class will not be so largely robbed of its more ambitious, enterprising or intellectual youth; but, will happily discover that that profession presents the largest and most varied field for mental labor, elevation and enjoyment, of any among men—and noblest of all.

NO CAUSE FOR WAR.—The Washington Chronicle takes a calm and sensible view of the trouble between the United States and Great Britain growing out of our demands for damages presented to the Geneva Tribunal of arbitration. It says: The talk about war with England is, we think, very injudicious. Even if England should repudiate the Washington Treaty on the ground of a diversity of understanding of its provisions by the parties concerned, that would only restore the prior legal status. The former irritation of feeling would subsist, but the material interests involved would even then be too great for war. If a few Confederate pirates escaping from her ports could work such terrible mischief upon our commerce, then the greatest in the world, what havoc would our navy and privateers work in the English shipping interests? Within ten days from the declaration of war there would be a perfect panic for the transfer of British vessels to for foreign flags. What then would the manufacturing population do for breadstuffs? What would become of Canada in the meantime? Several other questions of like import reveal the character and extent of the motives which would incline England to peace. She would not only keep the peace with us but also with all the rest of the world, for fear we would retaliate upon the legal jugglery which permitted the Alabama to escape from her ports to prey upon our commerce. We rather think she will abide the result of the Geneva arbitration. Our own great war debt is a sufficient reason why we should not needlessly rush into war. We have got the half-healed wounds of strife festering in our social system to remind us of the terrible and demoralizing effects of war.

BE CAREFUL.—In these days, when tight hats, hot air, and sedentary occupations, cause the hair to fall out, it is a matter of no little importance to know which of the hair preparations are of any value. The majority, as has been frequently proved by the first dermatologists, or hair-doctors, possess little or no merit. Such being the fact, it is consoling to those who are afflicted to know there is really one good article, which is recommended and used by the first medical authority, and has stood every test, many years. This preparation is Hall's VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER, —a truly scientific compound, which is unquestionably the best preparation of the kind now before the American public. It will restore to gray hair its original color, cleanse the head thoroughly, cure all eruptions of the scalp; and will always restore the hair so long as any germs remain, as they almost invariably do, until extreme old age has destroyed the roots. The original article is made by R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H. Forney's Press Jan. 25, 1868.

The notice in another column, "to our patrons" is designed for a class supposed to not be overly sensitive. We trust therefore its repeated appearance will not prove distasteful to more prompt-paying patrons.

WHO WERE THEY?—The young men or boys who kept up a carousal on Main Street until about 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Disturbers of the peace and quiet of our town at such unseasonable hours should be looked after by the High Constable and his deputies.

The oldest, ugliest and most uncomfortable looking kind of bachelors complain that they have no evidence, so far, that this is leap year. No, nor they will not.

TO OUR PATRONS.—In addition to our usual expenses during last year this office incurred a heavy indebtedness in the procurement of a new press and material, the bulk of which indebtedness falls upon us next spring, and the object of our present writing is to bring this fact clearly before patrons in arrears, either to large or small amounts. For the outlay, we ask nothing but prompt payment of what is due, the subscription and advertising rates remaining the same as before the enlargement. We therefore intend this as an earnest appeal for payment on the part of ALL in arrears. It would be difficult for us in the midst of a throng season to draw off the accounts of individual subscribers living in distant parts of the country. They have an idea as to the amount of their indebtedness and can enclose the money, a check or P. O. order through the mail; where doubts exist as to the amount they can give us the benefit of them by sending enough, which will be properly placed to their credit. This notice, or their failure to comply with it, will tell us who our "dead heads" are.

BALTIMORE COMMITTEE.—At a meeting of the Corn and Flour Exchange on Friday last the following gentlemen, says the American, were appointed a committee to visit this place, for the purpose of examining into the expediency of building a line of railroad to connect our town with the Western Maryland Railroad: John R. Cox, Henry Durall, C. W. Slagle, Francis White, P. P. Pendleton, Oliver F. Lantz, Joseph H. Meixsel, Robert Tyson, Joshua Walker, James Warden, Michael Duffy and Jacob Forney.

The American in referring to this project suggests that the committee should not confine their investigations to the proposed Monterey line. The editor says:

We are not entirely familiar with the topography of the country lying between Waynesboro' and the Western Maryland Railroad, but it occurs to us that that the call can be tapped in the vicinity of Smithsburg by a branch not exceeding five or six miles in length. If this be the fact it would save at least $100,000 in the construction. In branch roads the nearest connection is the best. There is no necessity for making, cutting and grading through the hills nine or ten miles when a branch running five or six miles through the open country will answer the same purpose.

Some of our citizens who are familiar with the country are very sanguine that the connection can be made within five and a half or six miles. If this expectation is verified by survey it would of course not be policy to adopt a longer and much more expensive line.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. N. B. Spidle met with a painful accident at the Saw Mill of Mr. A. S. Monn, at Snow Hill, one day last week. It appears he was engaged cutting the ice from the water-wheel, when a rush of water caused it to revolve suddenly, the saw striking him on the face and inflicting a frightful wound. At first it was supposed he would lose the sight of one eye, but at last accounts hopes of his recovery without this loss were entertained.

SPRING SALES.—The first sale of personal property of the season advertised thro' the Record came off at the residence of Mr Henry Carbaugh, near town, on Thursday last. Of course our friend Mong, the popular auctioneer, done the work. So far Mr. M. reports good sales. Excepting hogs, fair prices are realized for stock, farming utensils, etc.

Mrs. Updyke, of New York, who had been married but two days, came to her death, last week by tight lacing. She ran up stairs and fell dead on the top step, through the breaking of a compressed blood vessel. A warning to wasp-wasted ladies in general, those of Waynesboro' included.

At this season of the year business is usually dull, but as yet we have heard no complaint from merchants who advertise.

The old veteran, John L. Burns, whose action and wounds in the Gettysburg battle, gave him a wide spread notoriety, died on Sunday a week, aged about 76 years.
