Venus is Morning Star until the sixteenth of July next.

The West Virginia Constitutional Convention has made Charleston the seat of government until changed by law.

The destruction of the world is now prospected to take place about the middle of August next.

The Democratic State Convention will meet in Reading, on Thursday, May 30, 1872, to nominate State officers.

The publication of the Frederick (Md.) Republican has ceased, Col. Black publisher, having disposed of the office to R. S. Menamin, of Philadelphia.

There was one hundred and twenty-one deaths from small-pox in Philadelphia last week. The disease seems to be abating rapidly there.

Republican State Conventions to select delegates to the National Convention at Philadelphia in June next, have thus far been held in New Hampshire, Connecticut, South Carolina, Indiana, Missouri and Kansas. In all these States except Missouri the delegations have been instructed to support the renomination of President Grant.

Gradually the belief that America has too few holidays is gaining ground. Wisconsin has just passed a law making election day a legal holiday. This has been often suggested, but never, we believe, put in practice, and the results of the Wisconsin experiment will consequently be watched with interest. It has been held that if the day were a holiday a more nearly full vote would be brought out, and that, too, the right of suffrage would be more generally exercised by business men, the very class whose ballots it is most desirable should be polled. New Orleans has in the matter of holidays, done a somewhat remarkable thing—that is, remarkable for New Orleans. It has declared the birthday of Abraham Lincoln a legal holiday.

THE GREAT VIRGINIA PIGEON ROOST.—Sportsmen are now having an exciting time in Buckingham county, Va. A correspondent, writing under date of the 16th ult., describes the great "pigeon roost" on the old furnace lands near Canton. He says:

"The area of the roost is four square miles, and to one who never saw a sight of the kind it is truly amazing. From one hour of sun until night the air is darkened with countless thousands of the birds flying from all directions (south of the river) inward to the roost. There is a grandeur indescribable in the mournful sounds of rushing wings as the trackless armies, marshaled in the "riverside wind," come sweeping to their bivouac. But the evening sight is not to be compared to that of the morning when the pigeons are leaving the roost. Rising upwards from the bushes like columns of blue smoke, the rays of the morning sun paint them with rainbow tints, and a canopy overshadows the woods like the sulphurous clouds above the battlefield. Wheeling in great divisions in the air, they divide, each army to its leader, and the heavens grow lighter as they disappear to refill their craves with accords."

THEODORE TILTON ON DR. NEVIN.—Theodore Tilton, the editor of the "Golden Age," it seems, has become deeply interested in the Rev. Dr. J. W. Nevin. At least, he has deemed it a matter of sufficient importance, to enter into a lengthy review of Dr. Nevin's theology, under the caption of "The Lancaster Theory of Christianity." The review appears in his paper of the 24th inst.

In the body of the article, he speaks as follows, of Dr. Nevin: "If his denomination were larger, his fame would be greater. He is the intellectual peer of such giants as prof. Parke of Andover, Dr. Hedge of Princeton, and ex-President Finney of Oberlin. Moreover, his theology, though of the orthodox and evangelical school, is a far surer type than the severe, thunderous and punitive systems with which his three great contemporaries continue to keep God in perpetual anger with mankind. Dr. Nevin's creed is the Heidelberg Catechism—which is Calvinism with its mid-winter icicles set dripping and melting in an April sun. He is the revered head of a college, whose students look upon him as a king among men, though his native modesty makes him as simple-minded as a child among children. He is a thinker of whom it is as true as of Coleridge, that nature endowed him with a greatness of mind whereof no work of his pen has furnished the full message or the fit memorial."

The above article we publish by request of a subscriber.

The New York Herald says that all efforts to Circumvent President Grant or turn the tide of public sentiment against the National Administration will prove vain and abortive. The Hero of Vicksburg and Appomattox Court House will be triumphantly re-elected President of this great Republic in spite of all opposition.

Henry Oaks, personal property, March 14.
J. B. Secrist, personal property, March 16.
Rev. D. Holsinger, personal property, March 19.
Joseph Middewer, personal property, Friday, March 22.
S. S. Boydon, personal property, Monday, March 25.
Joseph Oller, personal property, March 13th.

Spring fittings will soon be in season.

TRYING—the present cold snap on the robin and blue bird.

Persons running to fires should not forget to take a bucket with them.

The LIARS are not all dead yet, as we have received neither that promised wood nor cornfodder.

March came in very pleasantly, bright and sunny this year, and if the old saying is verified, it will go out like a raging lion.

We learn from the last Echo that the Lutherans of Greencastle are moving for a new church in that place, of $15,000 required over 10,000 have been subscribed.

About five o'clock on Monday evening the burning of a chimney on North Street occasioned the usual fire alarm and considerable excitement for a time.

Snow fell in Philadelphia on Saturday to the depth of eight or nine inches. In Waynesboro' it measured about 2 inches.

WINTER IN EARNEST.—The weather during this week has been intensely cold, perhaps the severest of the season, the thermometers ranging from four to five degrees below zero.

BE CAREFUL.—Persons at this particular time cannot exercise too much care in regard to their fires. Should a fire break out at the present low stage of the waters there is no telling what the consequences might be. Wood fires are particularly dangerous and should claim special attention of heads of families.

SCHOOL STATISTICS.—Mr. Wickersham, Superintendent of Education in Pennsylvania reports that there are 15,700 schools in Pennsylvania with 18,021 teachers, and 834,614 scholars, and that $9,100,000 were expended last year for school purposes.

LOCAL OPTION.—On the 29th ult a Local Option bill passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 40 yeas to 34 nays. It authorizes the people of cities, townships and boroughs, to vote once every three years whether licenses shall or shall not be issued. It remains to be seen what the Senate will do on this question.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.—The following ticket to be supported at the election on the 15th inst., was nominated by the Republicans of this township, on Saturday last:

- David, Nicholas Donbrake; Inspector, Judge, M. Good; Assessor, T. H. West; Constable, Henry Henicle; School Directors, Samuel Frantz, Jas. H. Clayton, Aaron Funk; Supervisors, Daniel Potter, G. V. Mong, John Rodgers, D. B. Resh; Auditor, Peter Rouzer; Treasurer, D. H. Garver; Township Clerk, John Price, Jr.

THE BOWDEN HOUSE.—Mr. S. P. Stoner of this place has leased of Mr. Geo. Middewer this well-known Hotel property and will take possession of it on the first day of April. Mr. Stoner is experienced as a landlord having at one time had the "Waynesboro' Hotel" leased for a number of years. His house at that day had the reputation of being a first-class one. His reputation will no doubt be fully sustained in his connection with the "Bowden House."

QUINCY NOMINATIONS.—The Democrats met on the 24th ult., and nominated the following ticket to be supported at the coming election: Constable, Calvin Crouse; Judge, David Lowery; Auditor, Wm. Slaughenhaupt; Supervisors, Alexander Johnson, Henry Row, Emanuel Rock; School Directors, Samuel Essig, George Cook; Inspector, Matthew Small; Township Clerk, J. F. Smith; Assessor, J. R. Smith.

The Republicans met on the 2d inst. and nominated the following ticket: Constable, Samuel Mentzer; Judge, J. A. Kepner; Auditor, Jacob Harshman; Supervisors, C. J. Smith; School Directors, John Pence, Joseph Mentzer; Inspector, Jeremiah Small.

THE NEW YORK "MUTUAL LIFE"—It will be seen, by the announcement in another column, that Mr. Frederick W. Vanuxem, for several years past the local agent under Mr. Starr's General Agency has been appointed his successor. The selection is an eminently suitable one, and the well-organized machinery of this great business will pass smoothly from the experienced and well skilled hands of its old manager into the well-trained and able hands of the new.

FIRE—FORTUNATE ESCAPE.—Our citizens were aroused from their slumbers on Friday morning last about 2 o'clock by the cry of fire. Given as it was, at the dead hour of night, it necessarily occasioned more than ordinary alarm and excitement until its character and whereabouts became known. The store room of Mr. E. Elden which is in the dwelling house of Mr. John W. Coon and next door to the Waynesboro' Hotel, had a temporary building adjoining it in the rear, which was first discovered to be on fire by one of Mr. Coon's daughters who gave the alarm, but before many citizens reached the scene of the fire a twenty-five pound keg of powder exploded, completely demolishing the building. The fire and powder was thus forced through the store room, knocking out all the window lights in front, shattering the shutters, and very seriously damaging the stock of goods, some of which were found burning when the room was first entered. A tin box containing $44 belonging to the Waynesboro' Building Association was found missing. Some are of the opinion that the fire was the result of accident and that the money was taken after the alarm was given and the front entrance to the store opened to the crowd. Others think it was robbed by burglars who fired the building on making their exit therefrom. In the excitement Mr. Coon had the misfortune to lose about $100. It appears the coat containing his pocket book was thrown out on the street with other goods. After the excitement subsided the pocket book was found, but minus its contents, except about $1.50 in currency, which the thief doubtless overlooked. Mr. Coon's household effects were also much damaged.

Addison streets, a well-known colored man, who was among the first at the burning building after the alarm, was near by when the explosion took place. He was knocked down and with some difficulty removed from beneath the burning timber, having received several serious burns and bruises. He was able however to be removed and in the morning left for Carlisle where his wife lives.

The timely discovery of the fire was a fortunate circumstance, otherwise the principal part of our town would doubtless have been laid in ashes. With an insufficient fire apparatus and general scarcity of water in both wells and cisterns we would have been without the means with which to arrest its progress. It is but another warning, which it would be well for our citizens, and those in authority especially, to heed.

Mr. Elden's loss is estimated at from $500 to $600, upon which we understand he is fully insured, having a policy upon his stock in the Waynesboro' Mutual Fire Insurance Company for $2,000 and one for $500,00 in the York Company. Mr. Coon's loss will reach several hundred dollars upon which there is no insurance.

THE RAILROAD.—We are glad to learn that as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently, perhaps in the course of a day or two, the work of running the different lines, by one of which it is proposed to connect our town with the Western Maryland Railroad, will be commenced. This done and a favorable response on the part of Baltimore city, the next step will be to secure the required amount of stock subscriptions. Whatever this amount may be we doubt not it will be promptly made up. The facts in the case prove that this community loses annually about one hundred thousand dollars for want of railroad facilities, an argument in itself sufficient potent, we think, to awaken, without further comment, the most indifferent to a sense of their duty and obligations in this particular. It should not be necessary to importune townsmen or countrymen upon this point. All must see and feel the importance of securing such facilities at the earliest possible period. Nor should there be any squirming about 'pet routes'. But one line—the cheapest and best—can be adopted. With this all should be satisfied. Any other course would be regarded as supremely selfish. We trust therefore that those who have been entrusted with the management of so important a project will lose no time in bringing the facts of the case before the Baltimoreans. If legislation should be necessary there is no time to be lost, as the legislature of that State will adjourn for two years on the first of April.

Mr. McClean, President of the Western Maryland Railroad, met several of our Committee at Monterey yesterday.

EDUCATION INDISPENSIBLE.—Governor Geary states in his annual message that there are at least 75,000 children in Pennsylvania who do not attend school, and recommends a more thorough, comprehensive, and universal educational system. The impolicy of a neglect of this wise provision is apparent from the fact that an exceedingly small percentage of the inmates of prisons and poor-houses have had even the rudiments of ordinary education or moral instruction.

BALTIMORE M. E. CONFERENCE.—The eighty-eight session of this body will be convened in the Eutaw Street Church, Baltimore, at 9 o'clock, A. M., on Wednesday, the 23rd instant. Rev. Bishop Simpson will preside; Secretary, John H. C. Dosh, assisted by Rev. George W. Cooper; Reporter, Rev. G. G. Baker, and Rev. J. B. Stitt, Statistician.

Our town merchants generally have agreed not to sell any burning oil after night.

TO OUR PATRONS.—In addition to our usual expenses during last year this office incurred a heavy indebtedness in the procurement of a new press and material, the bulk of which indebtedness falls upon us next spring, and the object of our present writing is to bring this fact clearly before patrons in arrears, either to large or small amounts. For the outlay we ask nothing but prompt payment of what is due, the subscription and advertising rates remaining the same as before the enlargement. We therefore intend this as an earnest appeal for payment on the part of ALL in arrears. It would be difficult for us in the midst of a throng season to draw off the accounts of individual subscribers living in distant parts of the country. They have an idea as to the amount of their indebtedness and can enclose the money, a check or P. O. order through the mail, where doubts exist as to the amount they can give us the benefit of them by sending enough, which will be properly placed to their credit. This notice, or their failure to comply with it, will tell us who our "dead heads" are.

A RAID UPON THE BREWERIES.—For alleged violations of the Revenue laws by the brewers of Chambersburg, the Collector of this district has been instructed to seize the breweries. The order was executed on Monday last, when Geo. J. Ralsley, Esq., Deputy Collector, made the seizure, and posted the following notice at each of the two breweries of the Messrs. Ludwig, the brewery of Messrs. Kurtz & Wertz and that of Mr. Henry Richter: MARCH 4th, 1872.

Notice is hereby given, that I have this day seized and taken into my possession by virtue of authority to me given as a Collector of Internal Revenue for the 16th District of Penna., all the goods, wares, merchandise, articles, objects, tools, implements and instruments, and all personal property whatsoever now within this building, and hold the same by virtue of the authority aforesaid.

C. W. ASHCROFT, Collector, per Geo. J. Balsley, Dep. Col.

BURNED.—Dr. Jayne's extensive granite building in Philadelphia, eight stories high, and valued at $300,000, was destroyed by fire on Monday night last. The Philadelphia papers say it was fully insured.

Miss Amanda Inyure, the young lady who was so severely burned by a coal oil lamp explosion near Boonsboro', Md., several weeks ago, died on Thursday of last week.

Spotted fever is prevailing to a considerable extent in the neighborhood of Smithburg, Washington county, and has caused several deaths.

WHITMORE'S FURNITURE BAZAR, on East Baltimore street, over C. W. Rhode's store, is one of the most attractive places in Greencastle. He has three rooms up stairs groaning under the weight of the most complete assortment of furniture to be found in the valley. Bedsteads, bureaus, wardrobes, secretaries, desks, washstands, cupboards, sinks, cradles, cribs, centre tables, parlor stands, chairs of all kinds, mattresses, looking glasses, picture frames, &c., of every variety of style, color, finish or price. In his office room on the ground floor, he keeps all kinds of carpets, from the elaborate and costly brussels and ingrain to the common rag, so that all tastes and purses can be suited. All persons in need of furniture can never go amiss by selecting from this establishment. Mr. I. H. Whitmore, the gentlemanly proprietor, is always on hand to show visitors through his splendid stock, and is a liberal man to deal with.

FIRE IN WILLIAMSPORT, MD.—The Pilot of last week has the following particulars of the fire which occurred in that place on the Monday previous. It says: "Our town has been visited by a disastrous fire. It broke out about 4 o'clock A. M., in the frame house on Conococheague street, occupied by Mr. John Adams. The house is frame, and adjoining the house of Mr. Jas. E. Hawken, which soon took fire, and communicated with the drug store of Dr. Jno. L. Stephy, all three of which were entirely consumed. Dr. Stephy saved his stock, Mrs. Hawken lost her stock of millinery—Mrs. Adams lost most of her stock of confectioneries.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parson's store in this town, was found to have a quantity of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectual as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be as they say it is now truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

The reply of Mr. Fish to Earl Granville's note relative to the case of the United States before the Geneva Conference was considered in Cabinet council on Friday and approved. It is said to be firm in maintaining the American case and in insisting that it shall be referred to and decided by the Geneva Tribunal of Arbitration. The reply is already on its way to England.

WALTER & BONBRAKE.

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

Nos. 144 and 148 Broadway,

New York, Feb. 21, 1872.—F. W. Vanuxem, Esq.—At a meeting of the trustees of this Company, held on the above date, the following letter was read:—

"No. 400 WALNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10, 1872.—Richard A. McCurdy, Vice President—My Dear Sir:—Owing to the impairment of my health I was compelled, six years ago, reluctantly to relinquish the duties of Local Agent of the Company in Philadelphia, which I had held since the year 1836, and since then I have devoted myself only to the supervision of the General Agency for the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware.

"My health, though greatly improved, is so far from being wholly restored that I cannot, without suffering (especially during the summer months), bear the confinement necessarily incident to the office duties of the General Agency. I therefore respectfully tender my resignation as General Agent for the above-named States, to take effect so soon as my accounts shall have been audited and found correct and my successor appointed.

"It is impossible for me to contemplate the retirement from an office I have so long held without feelings of painful regret at the severance of the connection which has existed for so many years, during which I have experienced nothing but respect and marked courtesy from all connected with the Company, and I shall always retain and manifest, by every means in my power, the warm personal interest in the Company and its prosperity which has ever actuated me.

I am, dear sir, Very respectfully yours, F. R. STARR, General Agent."

Whereupon, on motion of Judge Davies, seconded by Mr. Sproulls, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

"Resolved, That the Trustees have heard with sincere regret of the resignation of Mr. F. Ratchford Starr, the Senior General Agent of this Company, and take this means, of expressing their sympathy with him for the cause which renders his withdrawal from the service of this Company necessary. His long connection with it, and his valuable and efficient services in promoting the prosperity of the Company, have secured for him the respect and esteem of the officers and Trustees of the Company, and, in retiring from active participation in its affairs, he will take with him their best wishes for the recovery of his health and for his future prosperity and happiness."

It gives me pleasure to inform you officially that, subsequent to the adoption of the foregoing resolution, you were appointed General Agent of this Company for the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware, vice F. R. Starr, resigned.

It seems to be no less an act of justice to Mr. Starr than it is one of proper courtesy to yourself that suitable publicity within your district should be given to the foregoing proceedings, and you are therefore, authorized to publish the same.

In thus extending the hand of welcome on one side and the grasp of official farewell on the other, I take occasion to express my own hearty concurrence with the sentiments above expressed and my approval of yourself as Mr. Starr's successor.

Very Truly, yours, RICHARD A. MCCURDY, Vice President.

In assuming the position of General Agent I have associated with me Mr. E. P. BATES and Mr. W. H. LAMBERT, and the business will be conducted under the title of VANUXEM, BATES & LAMBERT, GENERAL AGENTS of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, for the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware. Office 400 Walnut Street, Phila. F. W. VANUXEM, Gen. Agr.

The policy holders of this company will be much gratified to learn that the last annual statement shows it to be in a prosperous condition.

The assets on the 1st of January, 1872, were $51,577,997.00.

Its cash receipts during the year 1871 were $15,565,644.77.

The cash dividends paid to policy holders in 1871 were $3,365,495.12.

The ratio of expenses (including taxes) to receipts during the year 1871 were only seven and eight-tenths per cent, which is much less than any other Company.

Any persons desiring to effect insurances on their lives will find it for their advantage, before insuring elsewhere to call upon
