

Thursday, April 25, '72.

13,716 Federal soldiers are buried at Andersonville, Ga.

In the United States 107 Railroad accidents occurred during the year 1871.

Mrs. Sarah Smith died near Morristown, N. J., last week, aged 101 years and 6 months.

Charles Waller, convicted of murder at Cairo, Illinois, has been sentenced to ninety-nine years in the penitentiary.

The Schoeppe trial will commence at Carlisle on the 4th Monday in August.

The Wisconsin Legislature has passed a liquor law, one section of which provides that "it shall be unlawful, within this State to become intoxicated," and making the penalty imprisonment from one day to two months.

Dr. Wm. Hewer, an English miser, aged 84, was found dead in his room in San Francisco, on Sunday last. The room had not been swept in fourteen years. One hundred and twenty thousand pounds English money was found in his room.

The books of the Treasury Department at the close of business on Saturday presented a coin balance of over one hundred and twenty-eight millions of dollars. The currency balance was a little in excess of seven millions, while the coin certificates represented twenty-six millions. The receipts from internal revenue on Saturday at Washington from all sources amounted to $318,158.03.

It revives the memories of the lawlessness of life in the Far West in its earlier days to read the report of the startling incident which is announced by telegraph. At Muskagee, Indian Territory, a man accused for murder was acquitted, whereupon a relative of the murdered person shot the defendant dead, and then shot the Judge on the bench. An indiscriminate fight ensued, in which eleven persons, among whom were three United States Marshals, were killed.

A terrible steamboat boiler explosion occurred near Cairo, Ill., on the 11th inst., resulting in the death, it is supposed of fifty persons. The boat, after having been torn to pieces by the force of the explosion, was burned to the waters edge, and those persons who escaped the stream were caught beneath the shattered timbers and consumed by fire. A tugboat in New York harbor also exploded its boiler on the same day, and hurled to destruction several persons.

The Law Library of the late Thaddeus Stevens was sold in Philadelphia on Friday a week. The bidding was active, and the sale netted over $3,100. Connected with this sale is a painful history says the Gettysburg Star. In his will, Mr. Stevens bequeathed to a favorite nephew his library upon condition that he abstain from indulgence in spirituous and malt liquors for a period of five years. In the event of his failing to keep the pledge of total abstinence, Hons. O. J. Dicey, Edward McPherson, and Anthony Roberts, executors of the estate, were required to sell the library. The condition not being complied with, the library was sold.

In the United States Senate on Saturday Mr. Scott called up the House bill to repeal the duty on tea and coffee, and demanded immediate action thereon. He said that he had received letters from the leading merchants of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore engaged in the tea and coffee trade, complaining of the injury that was being done to business by the uncertainty which prevailed as to the final disposition of the bill. Mr. Trumbull, who of late has become the champion of the Free Traders, backed on the usual amendment providing for the repeal of the duty on iron and salt, the effect of which is simply to delay a vote upon the bill. Mr. Conkling and Mr. Ramsey each insisted on immediate action, but the Free Traders managed to prevent a vote.

The Harrisburg Mercury of the 18th narrates the following cases of death from suffocation by gas: The evening previous Luther M. Stroup, a well-known journalist of that city and a correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, applied for admission at the house of Annie Franklin, and was furnished a room for the night with a frail sister. Mr. S., who had a young wife and child was much under the influence of liquor at the time, which as a measure accounts for the rash act. Not making their appearance in the morning, the door to the room was forced open and both found dead on the bed, the room which was heated from a coal stove below being filled to suffocation with gas. The woman's name was Mrs. J. Temple Long, her maiden name Katy Car. She was a large, voluptuous woman, a blonde, about twenty-five years of age. Among the effects of the poor unfortunate one was a package of letters exchanged with her husband, all breathing the warmest affection for each other, and over seventy dollars in money.

Well supplied—our town with new goods.

Ladies, go and see Misses Stickel & Gordon's new Millinery goods.

Persons wanting plants are referred to the advertisement of Mr. V. B. Gilbert in to-day's paper.

Persons wanting building material furnished to order are referred to the advertisement of Mr. Geo. Stoler.

The much-needed work of street cleaning wants a commencement. A dirty town is an abomination in the eyes of all tidy and orderly disposed persons. Let all them sweep before their own doors.

Mr. E. Elden has received and opened out his first supply of new boots and shoes, hats and notions generally. Advt. next week.

Dead.—David Guyer, proprietor of "Guyer's Hotel," in Horse Valley, recently died of pneumonia, in the 61st year of his age.

For a splendid assortment of new Millinery Goods ladies are invited to call on Mrs. C. J. Hollinger, Church Street.

On account of the unfavorable aspect presented by the grain fields the farmers in our neighborhood are preparing an unusual amount of corn ground this season. It is said a third more acres will be planted than last spring.

Seven gentlemen of the Hagerstown Bar have been selected as a committee to confer with the Washington County Commissioners with reference to the erection of a new Court House.

In the City.—One of the firm of Messrs. Stover & Wolf is now East making Spring purchases. They expect to have a stock of new goods opened out in a few days.

An old maid, speaking of marriage, says it is like any other disease—while there's life there is hope. If this be so we are of the opinion there is considerable "hoping" being done in Waynesboro' about this time.

The Antrim Township Statement for the year 1871 is published by the supervisors in the last Echo. Will our supervisors, like the school directors, be content, in violation of law, to hide their light under a bushel and thus keep the public in the usual state of ignorance as to their doings?

The Fifth Regiment Maryland National Guards has accepted an invitation from a committee of Hagerstown, and will hold its summer encampment on the grounds of the Washington County Agricultural Society during the first week in July.

Borough Election.—High Constable Zimmerman gives notice in the ancient (written) style, that an election will be held in Waynesboro', on Tuesday the 7th day of May, between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock P. M., for one Burgess and five Councilmen.

As this is a time prolific of reform movements and mutterings of discontent are not unfrequently heard, we should not be surprised if the claims of a "reform ticket" should be urged at the coming election.

The Convention of the Y. M. C. A. held in this place on the 18th and 19th was very interesting in its character and we do not doubt but that much good will result from it. Rev. Taggart and Prof. Johnson are well fitted for the work in which they are engaged. The presence of the delegates from the Chambersburg Association added to the success of the meetings. To our Association it promises much profit. We would be glad to have many such times of refreshing.

The Sunday afternoon prayer meeting will be held next Sunday at half past three o'clock in the Reformed Church. All are invited to attend.

Crosses West.—An exchange, the White River Valley Times, published at WORTHINGTON, Green county, Indiana, says:

From our neighboring exchanges we learn that the present appearance of the wheat crop is very promising. The farmers of Green county generally concede that the prospect for an average yield is very flattering.

We regret that as much cannot be said of the prospects in our county. In our immediate neighborhood a couple of fields have already been ploughed down. There are others from which, judging from present appearances, scarcely the fourth of a crop can be expected.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Kerosene Lamp Explosion.—A correspondent at Mt. Alto, in this county, writing under date of the 17th inst., sends the Public Opinion the following account of a terrible accident resulting from the explosion of a kerosene lamp: "We had a fearful accident here last night. Mr. Henry Yantz and wife were sitting at the table reading, when a kerosene lamp, without any apparent cause, exploded, dashing the contents upon Mrs. Yantz and at once setting fire to her dress. In an instant she was enveloped in a sheet of fire. Her husband attempted to extinguish the flames, but soon his hands were so fearfully burned that he could not close them, or render any further assistance. Some of the neighbors, living in the same house, were immediately at hand. Mrs. Yantz was thrown into the creek in the front of the house and thus saved from being burned up alive. Both the husband and wife are badly burned, though we hope not fatally. All the children were more or less affected, one of them, the oldest daughter, had her hands badly burned in trying to help her mother. At last accounts Mrs. Yantz was not expected to live.

LECTURES.—Mr. Wm. R. Hunter who last week lectured to the Sabbath School Scholars in this place, on Monday evening delivered a Temperance Lecture in the Lutheran Church to a large and respectable audience, and on Tuesday evening another one in the Town Hall. His subject on the latter occasion was "Woman—her Duty and her Destiny." Mr. H. is a popular lecturer and once heard never fails to attract large audiences. Although his lectures are all highly entertaining the latter proved a rare literary treat. He is a Christian gentleman who should receive a cordial welcome among the better class of all communities he may visit on his Sunday School mission.

PRESERVING THE BIRDS.—Now that the fine weather is coming and the birds are beginning to build and make the groves vocal with their morning concerts, it is as well to warn the boys and others who are so cruel as to rob nests and shoot the parent birds, that the law has provided a severe penalty for such wanton cruelty. The law says, "No person shall at any time kill, trap, or expose for sale, or have in his possession after the same is killed, any night hawk, whippoorwill, finch thrush, lark, sparrow, wren martin, swallow woodpecker, dove, bobolink, robin or starling, or any other insectivorous bird, or the nest of any wild birds whatever, under a penalty of five dollars for each bird so killed, trapped or exposed for sale, and for each nest robbed or destroyed."

TOWNSHIP STATEMENTS.—By the new law, township clerks are required, within sixty days after the annual elections, to make out and publish a full and complete statement of the financial condition of such townships, under a penalty of fifty dollars. In several counties in this State, where this law was disregarded, suits were brought by the taxpayers and the penalty was collected. By observing this law, the clerks may save themselves and friends the trouble and expense of litigation.

On the first Tuesday of May next conventions of school directors will assemble at the county seats of the several counties of the Commonwealth for the purpose of electing county superintendents of common schools for the term of three years, commencing on the first Monday in June. Superintendent Wickersham asks the editors of the State to impress editorially upon their readers "the importance of securing the very best man that can be found willing to accept the office of superintendent of schools in each county. No other office probably has a relation so vital to the interests of the people. Persuade the members of the convention, if you can, to lay aside all extraneous considerations and allow their choice to be determined by merit and merit alone."

ADJOURNED SALE.—The sale of the dwelling House of J. J. Ervin, dec'd, will again be offered at public sale at 2 o'clock, P. M. on Saturday, the 4th day of May next; also at the same time $3,000 worth of Stock in the Geiser Manufacturing Company will be offered. This stock has yielded an average income of more than 50 per cent. per annum on the par value for the past six years. The terms of payment being very easy makes it a rare chance for a profitable investment.

There are a few men in every community—to use the language of another—who never do anything to assist public improvement in the way of building up their town. They always protest that such improvements do not profit them a solitary nickel. We notice, however, that every time a town secures a public improvement of any importance, these same men if they have any real estate or building to rent, put up the price. A town wholly composed of such individuals, would be about as lively as a grave-yard.

We learn that Mr. Alfred L. Cranston, whose death will be found under that head in another column, made a will two days before his death and left the sum of $26,000 to Miss Elizabeth A., daughter of Mr. L. Love, who resides near this city. Mr. Cranston and Miss Love were to have been married in November next, we understand.—Westminster Advocate.

An old farmer in Chester county, whom the West Chester Republican pronounces a close observer, says he never knew it to fail that a good wheat crop followed the kind of winter just ended, claiming that, although the wheat suffered, the fly and other insects were effectually killed. He insists that a covering of snow is not beneficial. When the crop is harvested we shall see what his prediction is worth.

New Goods.—Mr. Geo. Boerner, of the firm of Boerner & Waynant, has returned from the East and is now opening out a large and well assorted stock of French, English, Scotch and American Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, Ready-made Clothing, &c. Call and examine their new styles. Advt. next week.

James Gordon Bennet, Jr. of the New York Herald, has wagered $10,000 against $4,000 with August Belmont that Gen. Grant will be renominated and re-elected the next President of the United States.

A bank barn belonging to Asahel Walker, near Kralltown, York county, was destroyed by fire on Sunday a week with two horses and seventeen head of cows and young cattle, wagons, farming utensils, horse gears, &c.

Mr. M'Kean Buchanan the tragedian, died on Tuesday the 16th, in Denver, Colorado, of apoplexy. Mr. Buchanan was born in Philadelphia, February 28, 1823.

New Goods.—Mr. T. J. Filbert, Merchant Tailor, is on hand with bran new goods, cloths, cassimeres, &c., for gentlemen's wear.
