Gen. Grant wears a white hat, and says he will 'go for' Greeley.

The Democratic State Convention assembled at Reading today.

Horace Greeley accepts the Cincinnati nomination.

The York cannibal sensation is pronounced a humbug. Only an advertising dodge of Barnum.

Advices from Washington state that the session of Congress will be prolonged at least until the 30th of June.

The second trial of Mrs. Fair at San Francisco is set down for June the 25th.

Twenty thousand immigrants, two-thirds of whom are German, arrived at New York last week. This is the largest number of immigrants that ever arrived in New York in the same space of time.

The ex-insurgent General Varona has escaped from Cuba and is en route for New York. The captain of the vessel upon which the General took passage was requested to surrender him to the Spanish authorities but refused.

On Saturday morning three Communists, who figured extensively during the reign of the Commune in Paris, were executed. The condemned men exhibited no emotion whatever upon being led to execution, but died with "Vive la Commune" upon their lips.

Though the drought has dried up things considerably in some parts of Virginia, yet the Loudoun Republicans state that in the Shenandoah Valley the wheat, oats and rye crops give splendid promise. It is the general impression that wheat never looked better at this season. The early fruit crop also gives promise of an abundant yield.

The Centennial Commission, to which is entrusted the duty of making all the arrangements for celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, has decided that the great Centennial Exposition shall open at Philadelphia on the 19th of October of the same year. Every nation will be asked to participate in the exposition.

The rebel Col. Sewell says: "I think I am right in asserting that General Grant has done more to heal the wounds of war than any other one of the great political party to which he belongs. Believing this, I acknowledge it, and am ready and willing to show my appreciation and gratitude in any becoming manner."

There is a loud cry of corruption against the present Administration, but I have heard a like cry so long; it was louder in the days of Jackson, so much louder that my ears still ring with its echoes, and so often—it is always the battle-cry of the "outs"—that I do not put full trust in it or pay much regard to it.

A contemporary remarks that Colonel Scott "presides over twenty-six railroad corporations, from which he draws the handsome salary of $179,000 per annum, and yet he is not happy." He ought to be happy under these circumstances and must be an unreasonable man if he isn't.

His happiness probably consists in the very turmoil incident to his situation. "The now aspirer (says the Washington Republican) to the control of the great Erie road, and finds in the field against him the constant foe, John W. Garrett. The scene of the battle between these two gentlemen is transferred from the committee rooms of the capital to Wall street, and instead of Senators and Representatives marshalled on opposing sides, we have immense railroad companies, millionaires and an army of bankers and brokers. The contest seems likely to be the greatest ever fought in the railroad world, and will command the attention not only of America but of Europe."

Congress has passed an amnesty bill which provides that all political disabilities imposed by the third section of the fourteenth article of amendments of the Constitution of the United States are hereby removed from all persons whomsoever except Senators and Representatives of the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congress, officers in the judicial, military and naval services of the United States, heads of departments, and foreign ministers of the United States.

The exceptions will, it is supposed, cover less than two hundred cases, including Jefferson Davis and John C. Breckinridge. The President has signed the bill.

The Spring Exhibition of the Hagerstown Agricultural and Mechanical Association, will be held at that place, on Thursday and Friday, June 6th and 7th.

There is in Clay county, Indiana, a family with twelve pairs of twins and one odd one.

Captain George Shryock, a soldier of the War of 1812, died in Hagerstown recently in his ninetieth year.

None are so poor that they cannot take their home paper, but many are so mean that they prefer to borrow.

Out of 142 papers in the country but 6 have declared for Greeley.

H. & P. RAILROAD.—It seems inevitable that every important enterprise must encounter in its beginning not only the natural difficulties of railroad building, but also the delays and vexations consequent upon the factious opposition of those who fancy their own interests injuriously affected. Such opposition is equally foolish and futile; futile, because no really round and well conceived project was ever so checked; and foolish, because it needs but a glance at our brief railroad history to see that every new road-develops new and encourages old industries, and creates for itself the business which improves its neighborhood and enriches itself.

The Harrisburg and Potomac Railroad has encountered such opposition and has lived it down. Already fifteen miles of the road have been graded, and the officers in charge expect to have their trains running from Harrisburg to Cleversburg by the end of the year. An extraordinary impetus has been given to the road this year by the strong demand for iron ores to meet the increased and increasing call for cheap iron ores to feed the furnaces upon the Susquehanna and Schuylkill. A party of gentlemen, who may be termed the Susquehanna interest, consisting of Messrs. Dawson Coleman, W. Wister, W. Watts, of Marietta, Jones Wister, Col. H. McCormick, Mr. Dull Superintendent of Leobich Iron Works, Mr. Jacob Eby, Mr. Chas. Atkins, of Pottsville, and others, recently visited the line of the road for the special purpose of examining the iron ore show at the property of the Carlisle Iron Works, at Boiling Springs furnace. After a thorough and exhaustive, and from the great extent of the ore development an exhausting examination, the party departed, satisfied that this road could furnish the ores so much needed on the Susquehanna.

Close to this large mass of South Mountain ore, and immediately on the road lie the great and almost undeveloped limestone hematites so needful for mining, while the branch roads running into York and Adams counties touch in a few miles the magnetic ores. Such a combination of ores renders certain the establishment of furnaces along the line of the road; and already several are projected. No enterprise has been recently started in which Harrisburg has so deep an interest as in the completion of this road. With good and cheap ores lying on the South Mountain, only twenty miles away there is nothing to prevent the city from becoming the grand iron centre of the east. But there should be no delay, and it should be seen that every encouragement and assistance be given, so that at the close of the year, when the new furnaces need ore, the Harrisburg and Potomac Railroad shall be fully completed and able to furnish them.

With a view to a complete development of the mineral wealth along the line of their road, the company is now having prepared by Prof. J. P. Lesley, of Philadelphia, a thorough geological report of the ores of the country which must find their way to the market by this route. The report will be published in a short time.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Harrisburg Telegraph of a late date says: Why a difference should be made in the pay of male and female teachers of the same grade, is what we never could understand, and what, we think, it would puzzle the wisest board of school directors to explain. That such a difference in pay should be made not only in our schools but in every branch of business is, to say the least of it, not creditable to those who have control of the matter, whether they be school directors, merchants, mechanics, or members of professions employing male and female assistants. Alluding to a recent case in our own State, the Providence Press makes these just and proper remarks: "Were they knaves or fools? for men who expected so much for so little must be put down in one or the other of these categories; there is no middle ground. A few weeks ago the School Board of Pottsville, Pa., advertised for a female teacher, setting forth that "all applicants are to be examined, in addition to the common branches, in algebra, American literature, botany, geometry, the constitution, trigonometry, surveying, geology, physiology natural philosophy, chemistry, mineralogy, astronomy and rhetoric," offering for a female this qualified the magnificent sum of thirty-five dollars a month. Was impudence and meanness ever put more clearly on paper?—Qualifications embracing all particulars short of the classics, to be rewarded by a monthly stipend of thirty-five dollars! But the essential meanness of the thing was climaxed by hiring a male teacher, after a few weeks, when it was found no female would respond, at double the stipend the month, and without an examination. These men did not believe that the laborer, if a woman, was worthy of her hire. This disparity of wages between males and females as teachers, where similar services are to be performed, is rankly unjust and has a disastrous effect upon schools. Cheap teachers are dear; set the standard high, and pay accordingly, if there are to be good schools."

Dolly Varden night-caps and corsets are becoming popular. Those who have seen them say they are "perfectly sweet."

Local News.

This is Decoration Day.

In town—ripe strawberries.

About—plenty of candidates.

Dolly Varden bitters is the latest.

White hats and "broad falls" are said to be the Greeley fashion.

Republican primary meetings, June 8th.

Seed Buckwheat can be had in a day or two of J. Elden.

Johnston, the man of "penknife blades," has found a way to avoid the potatoe bugs. Quit planting.

We know a young chap in town who wants to engage himself as a "feller" to some handsome sewing machine—one about eighteen years old preferred.

The attention of ladies is called to the advertisement of Mrs. K. G. Stover, Milliner, who is always up with the times as to late styles.

It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Johnston, gunsmith, is now well supplied with guns, pistols, and all other articles in his line of business. He has the advantage of long experience and in his particular branch of business excels as a mechanic.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the Lutheran congregation will hold a Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival in the Town Hall, commencing on Thursday the 6th day of June, which will be open for several days. We trust our Lutheran lady friends may be liberally patronized.

NEW BELL.—The second new Bell for the Reformed Church arrived last week. It is said to be a few pounds heavier than the one returned and is equally as fine toned. The Sexton, Mr. Haas, is said to be much pleased with the exchange.

CALIFORNIA CROPS.—The wheat crop this season in California will, it is said, exceed any former yield produced in the golden state. Their surplus for exportation will not fall short of ten million bushels. All accounts from that quarter confirm the truth of this estimate. This immense quantity will produce an effect upon the markets of the country for at least a year to come.

W. C. B. R. R.—The move on the part of the friends of the Washington County Branch Railroad for an extension of that road in this direction seems, from what we can learn, to have been made in earnest. The parties solicit prompt and earnest cooperation on the part of our people. The committee have this last project under consideration, but we are not advised as to what their conclusions are in regard to the matter.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Quite recently Mr. Emanuel Miller of this vicinity was returning from John Dayhoff's Machine Shop, with a spring wagon in which were two of his children and two large wagon wheels. The horse took fright and suddenly ran the wagon down an embankment turning it upside down upon the children. Mr. M. fortunately making his escape from being thus entrapped, but strange to say the children, a few slight bruises excepted, were unharmed. The little ones' situation was certainly a perilous one and the escape from being killed or seriously maimed most miraculous.

SCHOOL BUILDING.—Work is progressing rapidly on the new School Building. The plastering will be finished in a few days. We notice that the cupola has been painted a dark or drab color.—This we consider bad taste. No color would contrast better with the balance of the building and its surroundings than white. To our eyes no church or public building looks finished without a white spire or cupola. A more somber hue may be fashionable, but it is not good taste.—We cannot see the propriety of dressing a public or private house in mourning because it is said to be fashionable.

MORE RAIN—THE CROPS.—Since our last issue this region has been providentially favored with the most refreshing rain showers, which has revived vegetation generally. As a consequence corn, oats, grass, &c. are said to be doing unusually well. So far as the wheat crop is concerned a failure such as had not been experienced in the county for many years is conceded by all classes. Portions of the crop which a couple of weeks since promised a fair yield, are now found to be broken in the straw and seriously damaged by the fly. Within the last week whole fields have been turned down by the plow and farmers are still planting corn where they expected to harvest wheat. Should the season prove favorable an immense yield of corn may be anticipated, which will in a great measure make up for the falling off in wheat. From a third to one-half more has been planted than usual.—The same may be said of potatoes.

The New Book and Variety Store under the Photograph Gallery will receive on Friday evening a fine assortment of Ladies and Gentlemen's Notions, Hosiery, Gloves, Bows, Dolly Varden Collars and Bows for Ladies.

THE RAILROAD.—The Baltimore American urges its citizens to act promptly to secure a R. R. Branch connection from this point to the W. M. R. R. Enough money can be secured in our town and vicinity for grading, bridging and right of way, and our Committee allege that nothing is wanting but assurances or a guarantee from some quarter that when this has been done the Superstructure will be put on the road. Our Committee have been corresponding with the Corn and Flour Exchange of Baltimore for several months without arriving at any definite or satisfactory conclusion in regard to the matter. A letter from Mr. John R. Cox, Chairman of the Baltimore Committee was published in Monday's American, from which we make the following brief extract: "The committee of the Corn and Flour Exchange has not been advised that any one of the three routes surveyed had been decided upon by the Waynesboro committee, but we have been advised that "all that is wanted is money from your city," and another "we are waiting now to see what Baltimore will do." In answer to this view of the matter we said, "You will remember that the prevailing sentiment at the time of our visit to you was 'agree amongst yourselves; have your surveys and estimates made, and decide upon a route; secure the right of way, and ascertain the amount of actual subscription you can obtain and secure.' You have given us no information in regard to these various points, and we are no more prepared to tell our citizens what you can do and will do than when we returned from your beautiful valley." The committee were told by letter, "We will need thirty or forty thousand dollars from your city."—Our answer was, "This sum is not large, and if your road was in process of construction, and you could show that the issue of twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars in bonds and forty thousand dollars from our city would finish the road, we are very sure there would be no trouble raising the money," and in the same letter we said, "If the citizens of your valley will do their duty, raise all the money they can, and show the right spirit in the matter, they can get help, but if they want Baltimore to lead, I fear they will be disappointed."—The committee felt and feel willing to help, but it does not wish to bear the whole burden, or impose it upon the city."

In view of the fact that the road would contribute so materially to the wealth of our town and neighborhood, Mr. Cox thinks our people ought at least be willing to lead off in the matter, and adds: "A few enterprising, whole-souled men are willing to labor and to spend their means, but they cannot do all. Let them do what they can, and their earnest efforts will meet with encouraging support. It is not for them to wait to see what Baltimore will do, or what the Western Maryland will do, but if they will do their duty I feel assured there is every disposition on the part of the Directors of the Western Maryland to give aid at the proper time, and an entire willingness on the part of the committee to lay the claims of the road before our citizens generally, and our City Council specially."

POPULAR NONSENSE.—That the farm of the Snow Hill Society contains 20 acres for religious purposes, is all nonsense.—About the year 1750 quite a body of land was taken up where Snow Hill now is found, and paid for just like all other lands. At or at the year 1800, or some years later, the estate now known as Snow Hill was bought from the legal heirs for religious purposes, for eight thousand dollars, if we are correctly informed. At all events, each one of the heirs received one thousand dollars, and we think there were eight of them. Since then over five thousand dollars were paid into the Society by members of the church.

THE SOCIETY holds a charter of incorporation by which the members of the church can elect a board of trustees outside of the farm as well as upon it. The farm contains about 130 acres with several tracts of mountain land.

Mr. Editor:—By the peculiar mode of publishing the annual statement of Borough receipts and expenditures adopted by our City Fathers of last Town Council very few of the citizens can conveniently examine for themselves. Perhaps half dozen or less written notices are put up at hotels and a few other places—whereas by the plan used by all other boroughs they are duly printed in a newspaper. Can you inform us why these annual reports of our municipal authorities are not worthy the usual publication when the newspaper is accessible to every home in the borough? We who did happen to see one of the written statements find a matter which we wish to know something about. It is this—near the lower part occurs this line: "Sunday persons for work and materials $917.25." Is it because this is such a very trifling sum that the people need not bother themselves about the parts and parcels composing it? Whether the new borough authorities will see fit to adhere to the penny-wise-and-foolish economy of written statements, or the more sensible plan of newspaper publication, we cannot tell, but we are sure of one thing and that is—that the taxpayers whose money pays the fiddler—have a right to know the items of this $917.25 as well as of the other parts of the statement, and want to see them published.

MANY TAXPAYERS.

BURGLARY.—The house of Mr. Otho Chambers in Greecastle was entered on Sunday evening and robbed of $160 in money while he and his family were at church.

Benj. Bert's house was entered on Tuesday night and his pocket book taken.

WAYNESBORO.—On a recent visit to Waynesboro, among others whom we visited was the firm of P. Fahrbey & Bro.'s & Co., manufacturers of the Celebrated Panacea of that name. This is the Eastern house for the sale of Dr. Fahrbey's Celebrated Blood Cleanser or Panacea in the Middle and Southern States and Ohio, and was established in Waynesboro about two years ago. The manufacture of this medicine owing to the great and increasing demand for it has compelled the firm to adopt every means that they could bring to bear for the rapid and careful preparation of the Panacea. All of the departments are intelligently supervised, and the system and harmony with which each are made to co-operate, evidences a perfect understanding on the part of the proprietors of their duty to themselves and suffering humanity.

THE GEISER MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—This establishment—a credit to Waynesboro—and a credit to the county—manufactures the Geiser Self-Regulating Grain Separator. The demand for these Separators increases with each year sale—and so justly is it celebrated in almost every State in the Union that the managers have in years gone by been unable to supply them fast enough. The Company are in the midst of their orders for the season of 1872, and all its life and activity about the establishment. Among farmers the Geiser takes the front rank as a Grain Separator and Cleaner, and indeed as most of our readers are aware—it has no successful rival. Some imitators have infringed upon the patent, but the wide-awake President, Daniel Geiser, is after them with a will, and they are sure to come to grief.

THE STRAIN ENGINE AND BOILER WORKS.—This large establishment, owned and conducted by Messrs. Frick & Bowman, is in full blast, the apparent temporary failure of contemplated and projected railroads to the contrary notwithstanding. These Works are complete in all of their appointments. The gentlemanly and obliging junior member of the firm, Mr. Bowman, informed us that they were running fifty hands.—In the model department we noticed the pattern for a new 40 horse power engine intended for the paper mill of our townsman, Mr. Wm. Heyser. It is unnecessary for us to remark upon the character of their work. It is deservedly popular, and has a State reputation.

The failure thus far to secure railroad facilities to Waynesboro appears not to have slackened the enterprise of any of her large manufacturers. They know that a railroad from some one point is sure to come at an early day—and that still others must follow. And thus they have lived and hoped and toiled on. With a spirit so commendable, and we might add, self-sacrificing, in this day of no railroads to them, the marvelous change which must take place when they have the advantages of railroad communication will be incalculable, so that Waynesboro is destined at no distant day to become one of the busiest and most important manufacturing centres in the county.

The above "complimentary" we clip from the last Public Opinion.
