

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, June 13, '72.

Jeff Davis congratulates Greely upon his nomination.

A fire at Tanqua, Pa., on Friday last, destroyed 18 stores and dwellings.

The late James Gordon Bennett's estate is estimated at five or six million dollars.

An election was held in Oregon on Monday of last week for State officers. The Republicans carried the State, with a sufficient majority in the Legislature to ensure the election of a United States Senator.

The American of Monday says: The trial of the Rev. L. D. Huston before the Ecclesiastical Committee appointed to investigate certain weighty charges which have been preferred against him ended on Saturday morning in an acquittal. By the decision of the Committee we presume he is sent into the world again by his clerical brethren as a pure and honorable man, a worthy worker in the vineyard of the Lord.

The Court consisted of the Rev. Samuel Rodgers, Presiding Elder; Rev. P. H. Whisner, Rev. Mr. Crenshaw, Rev. Dr. Spangler, Rev. Dr. Nelson Head and Rev. Thos. E. Carson. Of these the Rev. P. H. Whisner and Rev. Mr. Crenshaw, the Rev. Dr. Head and the Rev. J. N. Spangler voted for acquittal. The Presiding Elder, according to the Discipline, has no vote in trials of this kind, and, of course, the Rev. Dr. Rodgers had no voice in the verdict. So also with Rev. Dr. Gardner, who acted as prosecuting officer for the Church.

We feel confident in asserting that, in common with the whole community, both of these gentlemen were appalled and astounded with the result of the trial. We learn that the Committee stood for several hours after they had retired to make up their verdict three for conviction and two for acquittal, and it was only after six hours' deliberation, at the end of a session that had lasted twenty-three hours with slight intermission, that one of these yielded and agreed to brand these poor children as malicious perjurers. God forgive them for their lack of heart and brain.

This attempt to crush those who have already been wronged to the extent of human endurance will not avail in this community, though it may have the effect of giving a new lease to crime, and of carrying sorrow to their hearts for which the majority of the Committee will be responsible when the day of reckoning comes.

"MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS."—Probably the most difficult lesson for some of the average people to learn, is to attend to their own affairs, and let the private concerns of their neighbors, and their neighbor's families, entirely alone.

The disposition to meddle with things one don't understand, is the crying vice of our age. It results not so much from individual and innate depravity, as the condition of our civilization. We all overwork, and are too ambitious. The climate acts like champagne upon the blood. We have too vast ambitions to be careful. Slovenly work has become a fault of all classes. To make haste to be rich has a tendency to ruin any individual or commonwealth. There are so many superficial people in our society, that a painstaking, working man or woman, is liable to be misunderstood.

"Mind your own business," should be written on every blackboard in every day school and Sunday school. It should be put up in every printing office and many private parlors. It should be the text of many sermons and able editorials. For our readers, male and female, everywhere, may rest assured, when they have learned to mind their own business, they may preserve the business of the world, and the "cause of all progress," more effectually.

MURDER TRIAL.—The trial of Joseph Davis, for the murder of Abraham L. Lynn, is now in progress at Westminster, Md.—Judges Miller, Hayden and Hammond on the bench. Attorney General Syster and Hon. John E. Smith are assisting the State's Attorney, R. B. Norman Esq., for the prosecution, and Hon. Wm. F. Maulsby and James A. C. Bond, Esq., are counsel for the defense. A jury was obtained, out of one hundred talesmen. The witnesses for both sides (27 for the commonwealth and 47 for the prisoner) were then sworn to, as is the custom there. Davis is a young man, 22 years of age, prepossessing in appearance, and is said to exhibit no apparent anxiety as to the result of the trial.

An exchange says: "Look out for pure Vermont maple sugar. They have been boiling a man in it at Fairfield." The man was boiling sap in a forty gallon kettle, hanging on a pole, when he struck his head against the pole and fell into the kettle. From what we know of the character of those Vermont farmers, we have not the least idea that they will throw away that much sap, simply because it had a man in it. It will yet appear on our tables in the form of syrup, and if anybody finds buttons in theirs, they will please return them to Joseph Minor, Fairfield, Vt.

Two million dollars' worth of elephants and insects going to make up a menagerie, are being sent to the country this year.

PRESS FOR SALE.—We offer for sale very low a second-hand Washington Press, old style, but works as well as the latest improved.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.—We regret to learn that Constable Henry Hennick is lying ill at his residence, near Bear's Factory. At last accounts faint hopes of his recovery were entertained.

P. S.—Mr. H. died on Tuesday night.

Ripe cherries were sold in our streets yesterday morning. They are said to be unusually plenty about Tomstown. The "cherry train" may therefore be looked for regularly during the season.

Business men should not allow politics to dwarf their interest in the question of "a railroad," which is something that will confer special and permanent benefits.

The Western Union Telegraph Company is now constructing a new telegraph line along the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad.

FRUIT.—The present indications are very favorable for an extraordinary crop of fruit the present season. If no untoward circumstances occur we shall be blessed with an abundance next fall.

W. M. R. R.—Passenger trains on the Western Maryland Railroad will leave Hagerstown daily, except Sunday, at 5:25 A. M. and 1:50 P. M., and leave Baltimore daily, except Sunday, at 8:30 A. M. and 3:30 P. M.

Delinquents can look out for a "personal" soon. If they have never seen their names in SMALL CAPS, such an exhibition is in store for them. We insist on the settlement of long-standing arrears without further delay.

Decoration Day was appropriately observed in all parts of our land.—The usual ceremonies were held and tributes paid to the memory of the brave "boys in blue," who gave their lives to preserve our free institutions and crush out a wicked rebellion in the interest of human slavery.

LOCUSTS.—These peculiar insects are said to be unusually numerous along that part of the South Mountain through which the Metzger Gap Road passes, for a distance of about three miles. Our informant says bushes and branches upon the trees are fairly bending beneath their weight. It appears last locust year, 1868 we believe, they failed to make time in that locality.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.—The Republican County Convention met in Chambersburg on Tuesday and settled upon the following ticket:

For the Legislature, Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg; Associate Judge, David Oaks, Chambersburg; Prothonotary, John A. Hyson, of Mercersburg; Register and Recorder, A. A. Skinner, Fannettsburg; Clerk of the Courts, Lew W. Detrich, Waynesboro'; Commissioner, Cauffman, Green township; Director of the Poor, Jacob Crider, Hamilton township.

Delegate to Constitutional Convention, John Stewart, Esq; choice for Congress Hon. John Rowe, of Greencastle.

MOUNTAIN LAND FOR SALE.—Persons wishing to view the lots of mountain land advertised by the administrators of A. Barr, dec'd, which will be sold in Waynesboro' on Saturday, June 22d, 1872, will be met at Monterey Springs at 1 o'clock, P. M. next Thursday, June 20th, by one of the administrators, who will show them over the lots. If the day should prove inclement the following day at the same hour.

THE RAILROAD RULING EVERYBODY.—About the time the subscription books for the railroad were "floating" around in this neck of the woods, a number of persons were down on the enterprise, because "they were afraid to lose money," and they couldn't afford to subscribe. We predicted otherwise, as did all other railroad men. Before the railroad arrived, Mr. John Shafer purchased fourteen acres of land, on Red Bank, a little east of town, through which the railroad was expected to pass, from Mr. George Lysinger, for $1000. Several days ago Mr. Shafer sold one and a quarter acres of said fourteen acres to the Kemble Coal and Iron Company for $500 cash, and we doubt very much if he would take $4,000 for the remaining 12 1/2 acres. We do not pretend to say that all properties through which the railroad passes will be enhanced in value the same as the above, but we really believe that the advent of the railroad to our vicinity will greatly benefit everybody. Several years ago we had several bank smash-ups which engulfed nearly all the cash money used in business. Had it not been for the money distributed in this vicinity, by the building of our railroad, a large number of persons who have "made the rifle" by the skin of their teeth, the past two years, would have been sold out by the Sheriff long ago.—Bedford Inquirer.

The same or similar happy results to our town and country would follow the location of our proposed Branch road.—We would not only save in freighting perhaps the cost of its grading and bridging during the first twelve months after the rolling stock would be put on it, but be vastly benefited during its construction by a more free circulation of money and an increased demand for almost everything merchantable. Under the present discouraging crop prospects it would prove a certain source of relief. But so far as the accomplishment of anything like a "forward movement" is concerned, it is useless to enlarge on the subject. Our Committee have had the matter under consideration for almost one year without arriving at any conclusion. Of all the projects which have claimed their attention during this interval there is but one, in our humble opinion, that admits at all of feasibility—the most direct line making connection with the W. M. R. R.—A charter for this is not wanted and only a few thousand dollars yet to be subscribed for right away, grading and bridging, which is as much as will be asked of us. The W. M. R. R. and Baltimore have a pecuniary interest in the completion of such a line would, we take for granted, make provision for the superstructure, either by appropriation, private subscription, or endorsement of bonds.—With at least some assurance of aid at the proper time we are asked to "lead off." Should we not then comply by securing the additional stock required for right of way, grading and bridging, and settle upon a line, and then apply for assurances as to superstructure? This done—and it might all be accomplished in a short time by prompt action—we would certainly be among the victims of misplaced confidence if assurances satisfactory were not given on this point.—Certain citizens have risked the expense of surveys, charter, &c., will be found willing, we predict, to venture another step, the cost of locating the road, which should have been done long ago. As the undertaking now rests, we refer to charter and temporary line, instead of whole it is only half done.

AWARDED.—We learn from the Newville Star that the contract for grading the railroad from William's Mill on the H. & P. Railroad to Petersburg, which is to be known as the York Springs Branch, was given out on Monday a week at the company's office in that place. The road will be eleven miles in length and shows a commendable spirit of enterprise on the part of the citizens along the line. The road points in a direct line for Washington, and the day may not be far distant when it will form a part of a trunk line from that city to the North and North-west.

The contract for constructing the bed of the road which includes the mason-work was awarded to Mr. Michael McCabe, of Frederick, Md.

In the above notice we have an instance of unity of purpose. York Springs is a town about half the size of Waynesboro', surrounded, if we are rightly informed, with a rather inferior quality of farming land. A few months since its citizens conceived the idea of a railroad connection with the H. & P. Road, and already have commenced work on a line eleven miles long. Is this not a little humiliating to our more wealthy and populous town and neighborhood, when it is known that not eleven but six or six and a half miles will give us an easy connection with the W. M. R. R., with—as we are reliably informed—responsible parties ready to engage in the work?

Fear of punishment has but little influence in deterring men from great crimes. Between this and July 1st, eleven murderers are to be executed in the United States, while several others are awaiting trial. One day society will learn that the only effectual way to prevent being preyed upon by criminals is to ensure correct training to its youth. That a child rightly instructed will not depart from the path of rectitude in old age, is as true now as it was in Solomon's time. It is a fact too little regarded, that it is next to impossible to reform confirmed criminals. The reformation must be begun with its children.

Need repairing—many pavements.

"DEAD HEADS."—There are more classes of "dead heads" than those who receive free tickets to concerts and circuses, and travel on free passes over railroads, as we think we can prove in a few lines. Newspapers, no matter how indifferently conducted, are a help to any town, and business amounts to but little in places that don't support one or more of them. Absence of newspapers is as bad a sign for a place, in a business point of view, as absence of churches is in morals, or school houses in education. In every town there are live go ahead business men, who advertise liberally. These men support the paper, and thereby do more to build up the place and make it prosperous, and draw trade there, than all other influences combined. Therefore the merchant, or the business man, who comes into the place and takes the benefit of that prosperity, without contributing in the least to sustain it, is nothing more nor less than a "dead head" on the rest of the business men. However this may be taken, whether as a word for ourselves or our business patrons, it is nevertheless undeniably true.

GRANT RENOMINATED.—The National Republican Convention assembled in Philadelphia, on the 5th inst. and on the 6th renominated Gen. Grant by acclamation for President, and on the second ballot Hon. Henry Wilson of Massachusetts for Vice President. All the States and Territories were represented and great enthusiasm prevailed.

The following is Gen. Grant's letter of acceptance:

Gentlemen—Your letter of this date advising me of the action of Convention held in Philadelphia, Pa., on the 5th and 6th of this month, and of my unanimous nomination for the Presidency by it, has been received. I accept the nomination, and through you return my heartfelt thanks to your constituents for this mark of their confidence and support. If elected in November, and protected by a kind Providence with health and strength to perform the duties of the high trust conferred on me, I promise the same zeal and devotion to the good of the whole people in the future of my official life—as shown in the past. Experience may guide me in avoiding the mistakes inevitable with novices in all professions and in all occupations.

When relieved from the responsibilities of my present trust by the election of a successor, whether it be at the end of this term or the next, I hope to leave to him as executive a country at peace within its own borders, at peace with outside nations, a credit at home and abroad and without embarrassing questions to threaten its future prosperity.

With the expression of a desire to see a speedy healing of all bitterness of feeling between sections, parties or races of citizens, and the time when the title of citizen carries with it the protection and privileges to the humblest that it does to the most exalted, I subscribe myself.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

PREPARING FOR CAMP.—The Oakville Enterprise says: "The grounds of the Cumberland Valley Camp Meeting association, near this place, are already assuming a camp like appearance. Gangs of workmen are daily engaged in beautifying and improving the place. The tents are being roofed and whitewashed, the rubbish cleared off, shade trees planted, and the whole camp undergoing improvement. It is evidently the intention of the association to make this a model camp ground, and how they will succeed will be decided in a few years. The avenue from the railroad to the camp has been thickly lined with shade trees and the large rocks removed, which will make it as pleasant a walk as can be desired. The pipes which were laid last year for the purpose of forcing water into camp have been taken up and the water will now be hauled into the cisterns, which are being dug at each corner of the camp. Visitors to this great camp the coming season will notice and commend many improvements which we have not space to mention."

The first through train reached Hagerstown, over the W. M. R. R. on Tuesday of last week, making the run in three hours and 20 minutes with seven stoppages.

Fourth July, Thursday.

LIBERALITY.—Col. Thos. A. Scott, vice President of the Penna. R. R., has donated the handsome sum of $20,000 to the Wilson Female College of Chambersburg. In noticing this act of liberality the Public Opinion says:

Col. Thomas A. Scott, was born in Loudon, Franklin county, in 1824. Upon the death of his father, in 1834, he went to Waynesboro' where he clerked in a store for eighteen months; then he lived a short time with his brother James D. Scott, now a leading merchant of this place, and at that time a merchant at Bridgeport; then with Metcalfe & Ritchey, merchants in Mercersburg.

His life with the great business world began in Lancaster county in 1838. It was in 1859, on the death of Hon. Wm. B. Foster, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, that he was elected to that position, which he still fills. He is also president of almost every important railway in the country, which have been leased through his efforts, and are now, under his control.
