

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, July 25, '73.

The car shops at Harrisburg employ seven hundred men. Over two hundred and fifty guests are at Bedford Springs. Ex-Vice-President Breckinridge was in New York last week, and expressed himself in favor of Greeley. David Paul Brown, the eminent Philadelphia lawyer, died on the 11th inst., aged 78. A Georgia negro killed 51 snakes in one day last week—and it wasn't a good day for snakes, either. A Chicago man offers a large number of lots and houses for sale, and agrees to wait for his pay until Grant is elected President. Hon. Andrew Stewart—Tariff Andy—died at his residence, Uniontown, Fayette county, on Tuesday a week, aged 81 years. The Cincinnati minister who was hatched for kissing a fair parishioner will recover. It is paying pretty dear for a kiss, but it might have cost a great deal more. Mrs. Mary Gray, of Greenup county, is the oldest lady in Kentucky, being 118 years old and still in vigorous health. Her youngest son is 70 years old. Senator Cameron repudiates the policy of defeating Hartman, and will use his tremendous power to secure his election. Andrew C. Clark, convicted and sentenced to death for rape, was hanged at New Castle, Delaware, on Friday last. He expressed a willingness to die, but declared his innocence. Alexander Johnston, father of ex-Governor Wm. F. Johnston, died at his residence in Kingston, Westmoreland Co., on Tuesday last, in the ninety-ninth year of his age. Bismarck gives the Jesuits but six months time to close up their establishments and take themselves beyond German boundaries. The promulgation of the law for their banishment has been made, and it is evidently to be rigidly enforced. The July report of the Department of Agriculture figures up a good showing for the growing cottoncrop. Only in four States is there less than an average, while in the States having the largest cotton area the standard is more than maintained. The result of the State election in North Carolina, which takes place August 1st, is looked to with considerable interest as indicative of the way the Presidential vote will be cast. In 1868 the State went Republican by 18,641 majority; in 1870 Democratic by 4,995 majority; and in 1871 Republican by 9,345 majority. The Rev. Henry Highland Garnett takes up the challenge thrown down by Saunders and offers to meet him in public discussion in defence of General Grant in New York at any time during the month of August. These two men will be worth hearing on the stump. Saunders is a good speaker, and Garnett perhaps a better one; besides having the advantage of Saunders in culture and oratorical training. Cholera, that dreadful scourge, has made its appearance in different portions of the Russian Empire, and is proving very destructive. In Moscow the disease has assumed the most malignant form, the proportion of deaths to the recoveries being eight to one. This terrible death-rate has caused a panic among the inhabitants, and those who can quit the infected city are fleeing into Western Europe. Now that the disease has found a lodgment so near Germany, it may be expected that ere many weeks have elapsed that it will find its way into New York, and from thence to every city in the United States; it is, therefore, necessary that measures should be immediately taken to successfully meet the impending danger. The Independent thinks that when a child is whipped just as hard for breaking a dish as for breaking a commandment, there is need that somebody should pray for his parents that they may be able to distinguish between things that differ. Under the revised postage law, transient newspapers (weighing two ounces and under—few weigh more) go through the mail at one cent, prepaid of course. Rheumatism is said to result from want of acid in the system; therefore, take lemon juice, with a little sugar as possible—at least one lemon a day. Another remedy—A table-spoonful of mustard every morning, for three mornings; then skip three, and so on, until you have taken it nine mornings. In some parts of Minnesota milk is selling at a cent a quart. Such prices as that wouldn't pay for the wear and tear of cow's tails in switching flies in this region. Illinois has a factory which turns out 100,000 peach boxes a day.

Local News.

Delightful—the evenings. Choice apples 40 cents per bushel. A flood is predicted in August. The "cherry gripe" is over in our community. New potatoes are selling at 40 cents per bushel. Ripe apples and roasting ears are around again. The Republican County Committee meets on Saturday. The fine for shooting robins is $5. Remember that. The "political weather cocks" are washing the cobwebs out of their throats preparatory to yelping for old. The Tomstown "berry train" is regularly on time. The crop is represented as unusually prolific. The political campaign has fairly opened. A warm time may be anticipated between now and election day. A mountain patron informs us that the chestnut prospects are unprecedentedly fine. The first roasting ears of the season were sold at Reid's Grocery last Friday. The county Fair this year will take place on the 1st, 2d, 3d, and 4th days of October. Mellons and cantelopes may be counted next among the rarities of the season. Mr. Jos. S. Gitt, Railroad Engineer of New Oxford, Pa., is writing the local history of Hanover, Pa. The latest style of a fashionable suit is said to consist of a garter tied around the left leg. Goodness gracious! The matrimonial market is very dull at present, but we confidentially expect business more lively in this line after a while. PREACHING.—The Rev. R. F. McClean, of Gettysburg, will preach in the Presbyterian Church of this place next Sabbath morning and evening. The travel over the W. M. R. R. between Baltimore and Hagerstown and intermediate stations, it is said is increasing every day. The Lock Up had only one inmate during last week, which speaks well for the morals of our town when it is known that we have an efficient police officer. CHANGED.—The regular time of holding the Young Men's Christian Association Prayer Meetings has been changed from Tuesday to Monday evening. The public are cordially invited to attend. Citizens who subscribed books to the Young Men's Christian Association are requested to deliver them to Brackbill & Geiser's Store or have them ready when called for next week. The supply of flies and fleas are far in excess of the demand, and some complain that the manufacturers are still turning them out at the rate of 10,000,000 per second. The recent showers have cooled the air and made everything around and about decidedly pleasant. The thermometer has lowered its temperature from blood heat to the cooling zephyrs of an airy day. H. & P. R. R.—According to our Cumberland county exchanges work on the Harrisburg & Potomac Railroad is progressing vigorously. Anything favoring the final success of this important railroad enterprise is welcome news to our people. Grading and piking Marsh Street as far as the old Hagerstown road is progressing rapidly. The report that a "strike" had taken place among the hands on Tuesday is denied. The completion of the work before the "muddy season" sets in will prove particularly gratifying to citizens in that part of the town. The present political aspect of affairs points to another Democratic candidate. That such a one will be in the field in a few weeks does not admit of much doubt. Greeley is eminently distasteful to a large percentage of the party. Japan must be a pleasant place.—There are no maidens there. When the girls don't marry voluntarily, the authorities hunt up husbands for them, and make them marry. We know of several ladies who intend emigrating to Japan as soon as the weather becomes a little less melting. Alderman Wm. McMullen the notorious Democratic politician of Philadelphia was shot in the breast on Monday evening by a pardoned convict named McNamara. They quarreled about a bouquet. McMullen was not expected to recover. On one street in Waynesboro', it is said there are thirty young ladies, who expect to marry before they are twenty-five years of age. Kensible notion that, we will have to call "round.—Fillon Republican. Vineland, N. J., is to be reinforced by a colony of Irish farmers.

There are people (says an exchange) who seem constitutionally happy, and whose mere presence diffuses joy. There are others against whom nothing can be said except that they appear to be destitute of the power either to enjoy or create enjoyment. There are many causes of this diversity, but the most common one we conceive to be this: The joyous and joy-giving person was happy in his childhood, while the individual whose spirits never rise to overflowing, had a childhood of gloom, constraint and contradiction. The happy man was received into the world with a welcome. His coming was to his parents a delight and pride.—The tenderest love hovered round his cradle, and nurtured his expanding heart.—He was always loving and always beloved. Not cruelly indulged in every boyish caprice, but gently and wisely trained to do his duty, and supplied with rational means of enjoyment.—It is hardly possible to overstate the blessings of a happy childhood. It is worth while to make any sacrifice in order to store the memory of children with happy days. The merry Christmas, the family picnic, the children's party, the occasional gift, are delights that do not cease when the little tired head sinks on the pillow at night; they live again in the character of the joy-inspiring man; they shine in the pleasant countenance of the merry old grandfather. So much for parental duties in regard to this important matter. On the other hand, no young person should consider it an advantage to get rid of parental supervision and care. Though to the child there comes a period when it irks the ear to be perpetually taught and restrained, yet there is nothing in after life that can take the place of father and mother to him. There is no other institute like the family; there is no other love like parental love; there is no other friendship like the friendship of father and mother. While the boy and girl are yet sprouting into manhood and womanhood they may be a little impatient under restraint, yet every after year of independence, will teach the young man and maiden that there were no advantages like those which their parents gave them. Young man, there are no persons who will tell you the truth so faithfully, there are no persons that know your faults so well, there are none so disinterestedly considerate for your well-being, as your father and mother. COMPLIMENTARY.—We clip the following complimentary paragraph from a letter by Prof. J. Zuck, Jr., P. principal of the Central High School of Trenton, Pa. published in the Trenton News of the 18th instant: "Well, I thought this should suffice for schools, but I just now think of another educational project in the Cumberland Valley that deserves mention. This is the advance steps taken during the past year by the school board of Waynesboro', Franklin county. Instead of having only 4 or 5 months school as formerly, they are now going to have nine. Instead of having demoralized ungraded schools in a rickety old shell, they are now going to have a well-graded system in one of the finest buildings to be found anywhere in the State—Schuylkill county not excepted. In some respects, I think it is superior to any other school building that I have yet seen in. It is a two-story house with a basement to answer the purpose of a gymnasium or play ground in bad weather. There is a well-arranged recitation room in connection with each school room; and yet the space has been so nicely economized that about 600 pupils can be accommodated. The house has been erected at a cost of about $13,000; the ground cost $3,000; and a teacher's residence is to be erected which will cost $20,000 more, making a total of about $36,000. The Board has the "Central High School" project in view and has, I think, fine prospects of success." FAMILY MEDICINES.—Through the politeness of Mr. J. W. McKinney, traveling agent for Dr. P. Fairner's Bros. & Co., we are in receipt of a Family Medicine Case from Messrs. Schrock & Kuemper, Druggists, Somerset, Pa. It is the handsome littlest affair we have seen for many a day, containing simple remedies for most all ailments common to the human family. It is divided into as many different compartments, the preparations being in heavy flint, two-ounce bottles, neatly labeled and numbered, with the necessary directions for administering them. Besides the bottles there is a pill containing Healing Ointment, a graduated medicine glass, a tea-spoon, a piece of court plaster, and a quantity of cotton, the whole constituting the most complete assortment of family medicines. The preparations are vouched for upon medical authority as excellent remedies. The cost being only $5 every family should have a case. As they are sold by subscription only, an agency in our town might prove profitable. Our mountain houses are doing a good business this season—nearly full all the time. We might say a word for our town. We have two good hotels and several private boarding houses, at which a score or two of visitors might be entertained. The cost of living would not be as high as in some larger towns. This is a healthy town and neighborhood, and we believe if our Baltimore and Philadelphia friends would try it they would be pleased well enough to try it over next year. The colored citizens of Carlisle will hold a celebration in commemoration of the Emancipation Proclamation, on the 1st of August.

NEW RAILROAD PROJECT.—Under this title, the Columbia Herald says: "A new railroad project, in which a number of Columbians and Lancasters are interested, is about to be consummated.—It is chartered under the name of the National Railroad Company, and is an air-line between Philadelphia and New York. Col. Wm. G. Case, of Columbia, is president, and among the directors are C. S. Kauffman, of Columbia, and D. H. Carpenter and Geo. K. Read, of Lancaster. The road will cross the Delaware river between Trenton and Yardleyville, and strike Attleboro' Bucks county, connecting either with the Germantown or North Pennsylvania road. It is proposed to eventually extend the road through Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Lancaster counties, and thence on to Hancock, Maryland, where it will strike the Baltimore and Ohio road. It will be ten miles shorter from Philadelphia to New York than any other road. The contracts for grading this part of the road—that is from Philadelphia to New York—have already been given out, McGrann & Co. having been awarded the section from Yardleyville to Philadelphia. The company composing the firm, we understand, are Messrs. B. J. McGrann and R. H. Brubaker, of Lancaster, and Robert Crane, of Columbia. Shanties will be put up next week, and within a fortnight a thousand men will be at work. The road when extended to Maryland cannot but prove of immense advantage to Lancaster county.—This road will probably cross the Susquehanna near Grubb's Furnace in this borough. Several Sabbath School Picnics from Hagerstown were taken over the W. M. R. R. to Blue Ridge Summit Station, about 12 miles from Monterey, last week. Twice A Week says:—The spot that has been selected is represented as one of the most beautiful upon the road, being well supplied with water and shade and for scenery is unsurpassed anywhere. The distance is about 18 miles and the rate of charges, 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults for the round trip is quite moderate, bringing the trip within the means of almost every one. The Fulton Republican says there has not been a death in Cleversburg—a town in Cumberland county—for over twelve months. Coffin-makers are manufacturing carriage spokes; apothecaries have closed their shops; some of the doctors are preparing to emigrate, while others have torn M. D. from their names, and are roving the hills and fields picking berries for a livelihood. Instead of going to Saratoga or Bedford Springs for your health, we would advise the afflicted to lose no time in visiting Cleversburg. PERSONAL.—The Daily Alta Californian of July 13, says:—Mr. C. F. Speck, formerly of the Vallejo Recorder, leaves for Portland to-day, on the steamer John L. Stephens, to take charge of the local department of the Oregon Bulletin. The Bulletin is the great paper of the northwest and enjoys an extensive circulation. SELLING FARMS.—Persons having real estate to sell should advertise it through the Record. It circulates through the most wealthy and populous sections of Franklin county, Pa., and Washington county, Md., and averaging only two to a family has nearly two thousand readers. ROCK FORGE SHOPS.—The attention of farmers and others is called to the advertisement of Mr. John S. Dayhoff. Mr. D. has his shops in full blast and is prepared to supply the public on the best terms with wagons of all kinds, plows and cider mills, farm implements, &c. FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold an Ice Cream Festival in the Town Hall, commencing Thursday evening August 1st. There should be a general attendance. Let the ladies be liberally patronized. A sufficient amount of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad Company's second mortgage bonds have been sold to complete the road. It is confidently expected that it will be in running order to Frederick by the 15th of September. Dr. Wm. Ranklin, one of the oldest and most popular physicians in Cumberland Valley, died in Shippensburg, last week. All business places were closed on the day of his funeral. REAL ESTATE SALE.—Attention is called to the sale of real estate in this issue by D. B. Russell, Esq., Committee of Jacob Hartman. The weather continues seasonable, alternating between sunshine and showers. Of course the prospects for a corn crop are most cheering. Huckleberries two cents a quart in North Carolina. A Kentucky farmer has sold two short horn heifers for $6,500 each. A Des Moines street beggar is 105 years old, fought for his country in 1812, and thinks it owes him a living now. Judge McCuan left a fortune of over $3,000,000 and no children. His wife had an independent fortune when he married her, in 1850. A North Carolina goose was lately struck by lightning; so feather-beds do not possess the virtue claimed to them after all.

THADDEUS STEVEN'S GRAVE.—The grave of Thaddeus Stevens is still without monument or head-stone to mark the spot. The great commoner sleeps his last sleep in the shadow of a common school house. Appropriate resting place for one whose energies were ever bent to the cause of popular education. Perhaps he needs no other monument—certainly he needs none to perpetuate his memory—but something is needed to mark the spot, inasmuch as on Declaration Day last year some difficulty was experienced in finding it. A correspondent who recently made a pilgrimage to the place says: "The cemetery in which he rests is a very small private one, known as Shreiner's. He was about to purchase a lot in Woodward Hill, but on learning that no colored persons could be interred there, he bought six feet of earth in Shreiner's cemetery. Consistent even in death, he could not have rested in peace in a graveyard where the down-trodden race—for whose rights his eloquent tongue had ever pleaded, were denied the right of sepulture. In his will, written by his own hand in the last year of his life, although he made no provision for the care of his own grave, he set apart an ample sum of money to be devoted to planting flowers about his mother's grave each spring. The Stockton (Cal) Independent, of June 24, says: On the west side of the San Joaquin river, in this valley, there is a grain field which extends for thirty-five miles, and is of an average width of eight miles, thus covering an area of 179,200 acres. Persons who have lately traveled through this immense grain field estimate the total average yield at sixteen bushels to the acre, which will give a total yield of 2,867,200 bushels, or 86,015 tons.—There is, however, a much larger area cultivated in grain on the east side of the San Joaquin than on the west side. From Lathrop to Merced, a distance of over fifty miles, the railroad runs through an almost unbroken grain field, extending as far as the eye can see on either side. The product of this whole valley will be much greater than ever before, and the railroad company will find it very difficult to move the immense amount to the market before the rainy season. BUSINESS LOCALS. Cash for butter—This motto I wish my customers to bear in mind when they send me for butter. W. A. REID. MONEY WANTED.—$800 is wanted for one year or longer, for which the best security can be given and seven per cent. interest allowed. Apply to the Printer. July 25—1f. Reid has sold out a tierce of very choice hams in the last four days. He will open another on Friday of the same kind. On the same day several barrels new syrups and molasses will be opened for inspection. DENTISTRY.—Dr. A. K. Branisholts offers special inducements during July and August to all persons who stand in need of Artificial Teeth. Those who have badly decayed and aching teeth should have them extracted at once and artificial sets inserted. Full sets for $12, $15, $20. Thus suiting his prices to those of limited means. July 11—6w. LADIES GLOVES AND MITTS.—SPRING STYLES AND COLOURS, 1872.—We invite the attention of Ladies (as well as Gents) to our New Spring Styles colours of Gloves and Mitts, comprising six styles and twelve colours, after eight years experience in the manufacture of "R. Genuine Best" Dog Kid Gloves. Having made thousands of pairs for all sized and sorts of odd shaped hands, we can safely say that they out wear five pairs of Kid Gloves, fit as well and are almost as neat. We send out per mail, gratis, our Photographic Styles, Colour Cards, and Circulars. With these Cards you can see the style, materials, Colours, prices and measure your own hand so that we can send you with certainty through the mails any kind of a Glove you may order, or fit any sized odd shaped hand. Send for Circular and see Styles and Colours. GEO. UPDEGRAFF & SON, Glove Manufacturers, Hagerstown, Md. March 27, 1872—3m. FOR SALE.—W. H. Office in the room on the north East Cor. of the Diamond, formerly occupied by Dr. John J. Oellig, dec'd. July 18, 1872—1y MILLINERY GOODS! TO THE LADIES! MRS. C. L. HOLLINGERBERGER has just received a full supply of new Millinery goods. Ladies are invited to call and examine her stock. PATENT SHAFT COUPLING! THE principal objections to most of the Shaft Couplings now in use are that they necessitate a great deal of labor in changing from Shaft to Pole, or vice versa. It generally takes from twenty minutes to half an hour, besides one wrench, and sometimes two must be used. It is also a well-known fact that the nut on the bolt of the old style couplings will not stay on if the Pole and Shafts are changed frequently. After the nut is off the bolt will come out, the Shaft drop down, and the result is a run off, a broken wrench, or perhaps, as is sometimes the case, a loss of life. In offering this new Coupling to the public, the Inventor has designed to obviate these difficulties. How well he has done it, the hundreds in use themselves can testify. Its prominent feature is the convenience of operation. The Pole can be taken off and Shafts put on in half a minute. No wrench used. It is perfectly secure, the bolt being driven in place and held there by a spring. Everybody who has occasion to change their Pole and Shafts should try them. They give satisfaction wherever A. M. and are destined to come into universal use. Simple in construction, any ordinary blacksmith can put them on. Volumes of testimonials can be produced if necessary.
