An Ohio woman, whose husband got drunk, has received $1,000 from the man who sold the liquor.

At Bloomington, Ill., the liquor law is dodged by placards over the saloons. "Admission, 25 cents; drinks free."

President Jauraz, of Mexico, died on the night of the 18th ult., of apoplexy, which had attacked him that evening.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln is an invalid at the Weuksha (Wis) Springs. She is described as being a shadow of her former self.

A San Francisco party has sold fifty tons of barley, for which he is to receive two cents a pound if Grant is elected, and nothing if he is not.

Charles and George Napier, brothers, aged 15 and 12 years, were drowned while bathing in the Spring Gardens near Baltimore.

The new city Hall in Baltimore, one of the handsomest public buildings in the country, which was begun in 1866, is rapidly nearing completion. Its total cost will reach $2,500,000.

During a heavy storm, on the 18th ult., the Washington Monument in Baltimore city was struck by lightning, clipping several scales of marble from the left shoulder of the statue of General Washington.

Cassius M. Clay, of Kentucky, was recalled as Minister to St. Petersburg by President Grant. Cassius is now of the opinion that "we are living under a despotism," and moreover that "we are not breathing the free air of a Republic."

There are now over 900,000 colored voters in the United States. There were 250,000 of this race who served in the Union army. They have a majority of the voters in four States and are an important element in eight or ten others.

Carl Shurz said in his St. Louis speech that he had been offered patronage by friends of General Grant if he would support the St. Domingo annexation scheme. The President has authorized the declaration that no such patronage was offered by him, or by any one for him with his knowledge.

Blanton Duncan, M. M. Pomeroy, and others of the "straight-out Democratic" leaders, have had another conference in New York with the view of promoting an organization throughout the country. They say that they have received enthusiastic responses from all quarters, and expect full delegations from all the States at their Convention on the third of September, at Louisville.

The women of Carthage, Indiana have abolished all liquor saloons in that town, and the thirsty Carthaginians will hereafter be compelled to resort to the private bottle. Some sixty indignant matrons visited the various dram-shops and besought their owners to abandon their vile business, and, after failing in their mission, they formed in solid phalanx, marched to the messery mills one after the other, smashing the furniture and leaving havoc behind them in every case.

The Treasury Department has paid to Col. John T. Pickett, formerly of the Confederate army, $75,000 for data for the rebel archives, which he held in his possession as attorney for certain parties in Canada. The documents embrace the entire archives of the State Department of the late Government of Jeff Davis, and among them is a letter showing that Jacob Thompson was the regularly authorized agent of the Confederacy, both for the purpose of procuring the burning of New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati, and for organizing a counter revolution at the North. For these purposes Thompson and his associates, Clay, Holcomb and Saunders, were supplied with one million dollars in gold, and in furtherance of their schemes they were in communication with residents at the North and met some of them personally at Niagara.

The disturbances in Pope county, Arkansas, are beginning to assume serious proportions. Loyal men are obliged to leave home, and some who are without means or lack inclination to go out of the State are lurking in the woods. A court has been convened and the whole authority of the law defied by the mob. The Sheriff has left the county.

An eccentric Bucks county farmer has about 400 tons of hay that has accumulated for fifteen or twenty years stacked upon his farm, and which he refuses to sell. Some of the stacks have become rotten and have fallen to pieces.

DEATH OF A GIANT IN CHICAGO.—Mr. Lars Tollefson, the Norwegian giant, died on the 9th of July, at No. 243, East Division Street, Chicago after an illness of three days. The deceased was remarkable for his stature, and was probably the tallest man on record of the present day. He was seven feet and nine inches in height and weighed 375 pounds. He was born in Follingsdale, Norway, in 1834; emigrated to America some three years ago, settling in this city, and engaged in the saloon business at No. 53 Milwaukee avenue. Being of such an extraordinary altitude, he received many tempting offers from speculating showmen to travel and exhibit himself. Mr. Barnum, with his accustomed enterprise, attempted to effect an engagement with him upon the most liberal terms, but in vain. Mr. Tollefson was as singular in his disposition as in stature, and he repeatedly refused all such generous inducements. He had a constitutional aversion to anything like making a parade of himself before the curious public, and chose rather to serve out beer at a nominal price than to pocket a handsome weekly stipend. During his residence in this city he had become a noted and remarkable local celebrity. His appearance upon the streets always attracted a host of gazers, and few there were who passed him but learned the individual. Some difficulty, it is said, was experienced by the undertaker, who had not at his command a hearse large enough to contain the body.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.—In speaking of the recent flood, which was so disastrous in several sections of Virginia, the Lynchburg papers record the following sad event: A mother and several little children making their escape from a weck of land which lies between the river James and the canal, when they were amazed to find that the bridge was already gone, and the only hope was to cling to the abutment, the waters continued to rise higher and higher, while in the deep darkness they could hear the crashing of trees amid the thunders of bridge timbers that were wildly dashing all round them. They had been in this condition for some time when the little girl felt that her strength was gone, and with a wild shriek of terror she exclaimed, "Kiss me, mother, for I can't hold on any longer!" And with the warm pressure of that mother's lips upon her cheek, she was swept away and was seen no more.

A WOMAN'S BUSTLE ON FIRE.—During the burning of a house in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, a few days since, while everybody was busy putting out the falling sparks, suddenly the scream of a woman was heard above the surrounding din, and she came running along the sidewalk with her bustle all on fire. It was composed of paper or rags, and burnt rather lively. The woman ran and screamed, small boys and dogs got out of the way in a hurry, while strong men were so overcome by the excitement of the occasion as not to have many wits at their disposal. At length a man, bolder than the rest, grabbed the woman and beat her bustle until he put the fire out. The fire had not quite reached the flesh, and besides a severe scare, a burnt dress, and a very tickled crowd of spectators, the lady came out uninjured.

FATAL HALLUCINATION.—A resident of York county who was the possessor of a competency sufficient to support himself and family during their natural lives, became possessed of the idea that they were all coming to want and would die of starvation. This hallucination took such firm hold upon his mind that no persuasions on the part of his friends were sufficient to divest him of it. Day after day he grew stronger for years. His greatest anxiety seemed to be for his family and finally he determined, in order to save them, he would be compelled to starve himself. This he carried into execution and became a victim to this all absorbing and fatal illusion of his life, his death occurred from actual starvation, voluntarily and persistently imposed upon himself. For several days he refused all sustenance and although efforts were made to force food into his mouth his strength commenced to decline and soon after he died in a starving condition. His dying words a few minutes before his death were "I knew I would starve."

HEROIC SACRIFICE.—A few days since one Philip Gould, a colored man, came to Spring Mills, Penna., to attend a picnic of a company of colored soldiers from Camden, and, while standing near the railway, saw, just as the Reading express was rounding a curve and dashing down upon them with frightful speed, five ladies standing upon the track. With wonderful presence of mind, and with utter disregard for his own safety, he violently pushed them all over the edge of a slight embankment, at the foot of which they were in perfect safety, but attained only at the cost of his preserver's life. Gould was struck by the engine, tossed over the smokestack and fell on the tender, from where he rolled to the ground, horribly mangled and quite dead. Heroes are not over plentiful in these degenerate days, but this gallant fellow saved five lives by the sacrifice of his own.

THE "WAR OF RACES" has broken out in Savannah, Ga., where a fight took place Monday evening between the whites and blacks. The row began over the determination of the colored people to ride in the cars, and in the melee which ensued several on both sides were wounded.

The contract for the erection of two School Houses, one at Pikesville and one at Waterloo, has been awarded to Messrs. Ruben Shover and Samuel Gonder.

Joseph W. Davis and J. Hamilton Sheu, the alleged murderers of Lynn, have been placed in the jail at Hagerstown. Davis' trial is not expected to come up until September.

Mr. B. C. Ross has traded 320 acres of timber land in Wood county, Ohio, to P. E. Hollar for a farm near Chambersburg, known as the Barr farm. So says the Repository.

FISH CAUGHT.—Mr. Daniel H. Baker caught in Dayhoff's dam last Friday a sucker 18 1/2 inches long, weighing 3 pounds. This gentleman with six or seven of his neighbors had a two days fishing excursion in the Gonocochague and Back creek near Williamson. They got 700 fishes or thereabouts in their expedition.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company is still poking fun at the people of Hagerstown about that extension to Waynesboro.—Williamsport Pilot.

Should the talk end in a joke or "smoke," if our contemporary pleases, the friends of a W. M. connection here can congratulate themselves that they did not "invest."

THE WEATHER.—Rain is much needed. The intense heat without any rain for a couple of weeks is producing rather damaging effects upon the growing corn. Early rains, the farmers tell us, will yet make a good crop, but dry weather protracted a week or two longer will blast the present prospects.

The water death continues. On Tuesday evening last the Bowden House pump threw up its handle and was added to the list of exhausted wells. There are only a couple now, we believe, in the heart of our town yielding a supply of water, and the public well on the Diamond and one in the yard of Mr. S. B. Kinelhart.

EXAMINATIONS.—The examination of teachers by the County Superintendent, Jacob S. Smith, took place in the room over the store of J. W. Miller & Co., on Thursday and Friday of last week. About twenty teachers were examined. We understand the new Superintendent 'twery rigid in his examinations gave general satisfaction.

HOME FOR SALE.—A very desirable small property is offered at private sale in to-day's paper by Mr. Lewis Gilbert.—It is pleasantly situated in Antrim Township, and is well suited for a Blacksmith stand or private residence. Special attention is called to this property.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Mr. Levi Sanders offers at public sale nine acres of valuable land adjoining this Borough and three choice building lots. Also three new two-story log weatherboarded dwelling houses on West Leitersburg Street, all in good repair. See advt.

FAIRVIEW MILL.—The Fairview Mill property and Farm, one of the most desirable homesteads in Franklin county, is offered for sale in this issue. The mill is in thorough repair having all the latest improved machinery, and the advantage of a water power which is not excelled anywhere in the county. The farm land is the best quality of limestone and the improvements thereon first-class. This location has been suggested by disinterested parties as one of the finest sites for a paper mill in Cumberland Valley. For further particulars see advertising column.

GRADED SCHOOL.—The advertisement of "Waynesboro' Graded School," PHILIP H. RENTZ, Principal, will be found in to-day's paper, to which special attention is invited.

The new school building was completed several weeks since and will be occupied sometime during September. It is a handsome structure, an ornament to our town, and reflects credit upon its projectors, the Board of Directors, as well as the architect, Mr. Roth.

Repeated attempts were made during the last fifteen or twenty years to establish a permanent High School in this place, but with only temporary success, for the want of a suitable building. This want is now supplied, and if citizens generally will co-operate with the Principal and Directors, there is no reason why a permanent and flourishing institution of learning should not be maintained in our midst.

The course of instruction it will be seen is to be thorough, embracing Latin, Greek, German and the Higher Mathematics.

The Board of Directors having selected a Principal in the person of Prof. Bentz, a gentleman doubtless well qualified for the position, the next important step will be Department Teachers. Here we apprehend lies the greatest danger of non-success. It matters little however efficient the Principal of a school may be, much depends upon the teachers under him. If they are disqualified by inexperience or otherwise much of his labor will be lost and the institution fail of its desired usefulness and prosperity. As the time is not far off when this selection will be made we deem the present an opportune time for a brief reference to the subject.

A SERMON IN A PARAGRAPH.—President Porter, of Yale, gave the following advice to the students of that institution the other day:

"Young men you are the architects of your own fortunes. Rely upon your own strength of body and soul. Take for your star, self-reliance. Subscribe on your banner, 'Luck is a fool, Pluck is a hero.' Don't take too much advice—keep at your helm and steer your own ship, and remember that the great art of commanding is to take a fare share of the work. Think well of yourself. Strike out. Assume your own position. Put potatoes in a cart, over a rough road, and the small ones go to the bottom. Rise above the envious and jealous. Fire above the mark you intend to hit. Energy, invincible determination, with a right motive, are the levers that move the world. Don't drink. Don't chew. Don't smoke. Don't swear. Don't deceive. Don't read novels. Don't marry until you can support a wife. Be in earnest. Be self-reliant. Be generous. Be civil. Read the papers. Advertise your business. Make money and do good with it. Love your God and fellow men. Love truth and virtue. Love your country and obey its laws."

If this advice is implicitly followed by the young men of the country, the millennium is near at hand.

H. & P. R. R. DEVELOPING.—It is currently reported (says the Newville Star) that the Reading Railroad has taken in hands the building of the H. & P. R. R. and will put the finishing touch on it by running the road to a point on the Susquehanna, near New Cumberland, and will build a bridge there, crossing the Pennsylvania line a little below the steel works, and strike for the nearest point on the Lebanon Valley branch. This movement, it is said, has caused quite a flutter amongst the managers of the Cumberland Valley line, as it would render them powerless to in any way control the working of the H. & P. line. How much truth there is in the statement remains to be seen.

REAL ESTATE.—The following transfers of real estate were filed for record in the office of H. T. Snyder, Register and Recorder of Franklin county, during the week: John Philips, Ex'r of John J. Ervin, to John Price, Sr., a lot of ground, in Waynesboro, for $2,500.

David M. Stoner to John Price, Sr., 32 acres and 18 perches of land, in Washington township, for $5,600.

Rev. J. W. Feight to Mrs. C. L. Hollinger, a lot of ground in Waynesboro, for $1,500.

SECOND DIPLOMA.—We are pleased to note the fact that our friend, Mr. John W. Brown, was granted a second diploma at the recent examination of students at the Keystone Normal School, at Kutztown, Berks county. Mr. B. graduated two years since. He is therefore privileged to teach in any of the common schools of this commonwealth without further examination. The best of positions should be open to teachers of Mr. Brown's qualifications.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.—The Democratic County Convention on Tuesday last nominated the following ticket: Assembly, Wm. Stenger; Judge, John Armstrong; Commissioner, Wm. Logue; Clerk of Courts, M. D. Reymey; Prothonotary, Geo. W. Welsh; Register and Recorder, H. T. Snyder; Director of the Poor, — Eiter.

An exchange says: "The farmer's worst enemy is the loafer who goes prowling about, hurting every flying thing he sees, and robbing every nest he has skill enough to find. These idlers not merely deprive us, when they take a partridge nest, of so much good food next September; they actually promote the growth of everything which hurts our crops."

GAME LAW IN BRIEF.—Deer may be killed from September 1, to Dec. 31, but not hunted with hounds or dogs. Fine $50. Squirrels and rabbits may be hunted from 1st August to January 1.

Pheasants can be hunted from Aug. 1 to Dec. 20.

Wild turkeys from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1.

Woodcock from July 4 to Nov. 15.

To kill, trap, or have in possession any night hawk, whippoorwill, finch, thrush, lark, sparrow, wren, martin, swallow, woodpecker, dove, bobolink, robin, starling, or any other insectivorous bird, or for robbing or destroying their nests at any time is prohibited under a penalty of $5 for every bird or nest.

Fine for hunting on Sundays from $5 to $25.

Don't fail to attend the Ladies' Festival.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Simon Wyand, living along the Washington Co. R. R., below Eakle's Mill, met with a fatal accident on Tuesday evening. He was driving a loaded wagon, on his way home, and was seated on the saddle horse. When opposite Eakle's Mill the horses became frightened at a barrel that was rolled out of the store door, and commenced running. The saddle horse fell and was dragged some distance by the others. In the fall Mr. Wyand in some manner got under the wagon, the wheels passing over his body. He was so severely injured that he died in twenty minutes after the accident occurred. Mr. Wyand was about 62 years of age, an exemplary christian, and respected by all who knew him. The bereavement is very severe to his family and friends.—Boonsboro' Odd Fellow.

THE FESTIVAL.—In connection with the Ice Cream Festival to be held at the Town Hall, commencing this (Thursday) evening, the ladies propose giving a Supper on Saturday evening.—Supper served from 8 to 10 o'clock.

MELONS—I expect to receive a supply of Water Melons and Cantelopes on Thursday night—I will sell to dealers during the season at very low rates.

W. A. REID.

MONEY WANTED.—$800 is wanted for one year or longer, for which the best security can be given and seven per cent. interest allowed. Apply to the Printer. July 25—t

INVEST.—Wolf's Patent Shaft Shackle is simple in construction but one of the most useful invention of the kind in use. Territory sells readily. We understand Drs. Sniely, Strickler, and others, in this place, are using the shackle and are much pleased with it. The model can be seen at the Minter's Hotel.

DENTISTRY.—Dr. A. K. Branishols offers special inducements during July and August to all persons who stand in need of Artificial Teeth. Those who have badly decayed and aching teeth should have them extracted at once and artificial sets inserted. Full sets for $12, $15, $20. Thus suiting his prices to those of limited means. July 11—6w

FOR SALE.—W. H. Funk of this place offers his Live at private sale, horses, vehicles, &c.
