The Republican majority for Governor in North Carolina is 2,073.

Montana at the recent election gave Maginnis, liberal Democrat, 300 majority.

The population of the United States, by census returns just in, is 38,558,371; four hundred thousand more men than women.

Another Tammany fraud, amounting to over $250,000, has been discovered in the building of a market house in New York city.

Tuesday of last week was observed in Shepherdstown, W. Va. as a day of fasting and prayer for rain. Business was suspended and religious services held.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad shops are to be removed from Wheeling to Belair, because the authorities of the former place refused to exempt the rail road company's property from taxation.

William George, 103 years old, hung himself on an apple tree, near his home, at Rochester, Ill., last week. For many months he was quite despondent, and frequently said to his wife, an old lady of 85 years, that he was "tired of life" and he had no pleasure in living.

Vigorous movements against the hostile Indians in Utah are being inaugurated. Troops have been concentrated at Salt Lake City and are being rapidly pushed towards the scene of operation. General Ord and General Morrow are superintending the movement.

Few people know, and thousands do not know, that by sitting a glass fruit jar on a folded towel, thoroughly soaked in cold water, the fruit can be poured in boiling hot with no danger of breaking than with a tin can. Cut this out and paste it in your cup-board.

Under the new law, small packages of merchandise, not exceeding twelve ounces in weight, composed of dry material not calculated to damage the mails, may be mailed to one address at the rate of two cents for each two ounces, or fraction thereof, prepaid by postage stamps. No writing allowed, except the address.

Hon. Horace Greeley is a Universalist, a member of Dr. Chapin's church in New York; Hon. B. Gratz Brown is a Presbyterian, a member of the First Church, St. Louis. President Grant is not a member of any Church, but attends divine services in the Methodist Church, of which his wife and most of his relatives are members; and to this church his contributions are quite liberal. Mr. Wilson is a consistent member of the Orthodox Congregational Church, and is in practice a strong total abstinence man.

The Boston Times says: Complaint was made at a police station some three days ago by a lady on Washington street, of a woman boarding at her house, who she stated, was starving her child to death. The child is not many days old, it is stated and when the keepers of the house asked the woman why she refused to allow the child to nurse, she made reply that she desired it to die. The child has since been sent away from the house and placed in charge of a woman in the adoption business.

The mother is said to be unmarried, very beautiful, about twenty years of age and belongs to Pennsylvania, where she is quite respectably connected.

The St. Louis Democrat gets off this model squib: "Things are getting lively in Illinois. Another 'Joliet man' has come out for Greeley. He was pardoned out. He will not take the stump, but he will take anything else he can get. And this from the same is decidedly good: "Summer will not succeed any better than Andy Johnson, in his attempt to play the role of Moses for the colored people. The difficulty with Moses Sumner, as it was with Moses Johnson, is that he wants to halt the colored children on the wrong side of the river."

GREAT BANK ROBBERY.—The third Nat. Bank of Baltimore between Saturday and Monday morning was robbed of over $220,000. It appears, according to the American's account of the affair, that as early as June last a couple of young men rented the lower floor of the building adjoining the Bank for the alleged purpose of conducting a commission business which they continued in the name of Stabler & Co. When the robbery was discovered they had disappeared and of course are the guilty party. They reached the bank vault by making a breach in the wall nearly 4 feet square on the outer edge. The discovery of the robbery is represented to have occasioned great excitement in the city.

A Boston doctor named Brown, released after fourteen years' imprisonment for procuring an abortion, was arrested on Sunday for a similar crime.

A tea made of sagebrush will cure rheumatism in the feet or ankles, the patient to put his feet in a vessel containing the liquid as hot as he can bear it for about a half an hour at a time.

The lengthening of the evenings, or rather shortening of the days, gives a gentle reminder that summer is waning, and soon the sore and yellow leaf will follow in its wake.

The latest case of absence of mind is that of a young lady who, on returning from a walk with her lover the other evening, rapped him on the face and kissed the door.

The H. & P. R. R. is to be extended from York Springs to Littlestown. A survey has been made and a direct and cheap route found, distance from York Springs, 19 miles, and from Harrisburg 50. A connection will thus be formed with the Frederick and Pennsylvania State Line Railroad.

New CHURCH.—The Methodists of Pikesville and vicinity are about completing a neat Frame Church at that place, 25x45. We understand Mr. P. Kouzer donated the lot to the society, three quarters of an acre, a Bell weighing 275 lbs. is with fixtures, besides subscribing the sum of $50. The time set apart for the Dedication of the Church is the 6th day of October next.

BROKE GROUND.—On the 7th inst., ground was broken for the grading of the York Springs branch of the Harrisburg and Potomac railroad on lands of James Gardner, one-half mile from York Springs. Mr. McCabe, the contractor, expects to push the work steadily to completion.

John C. Harbaugh, of Wash. Co. indicted and tried in the Circuit Court for assault with intent to murder, was adjudged guilty by the Court, and sent to the penitentiary for three years. This assault was made in the mountains near Smithsburg, sometime in the Spring, and reported in our paper.

BE CAREFUL.—We have now got the season of hot moist days, which causes that "sultry weather" which is so unfeeling, and gives rise to fevers, generally of the intermittent type. This weather is usually accompanied by cool nights, which tempt people to impure linen. It is a season when the caution "be careful" is essentially necessary—care as to the avoidance of the practice of sitting about at night in cool draughts of air in the clothing saturated with perspiration during the day. Be careful as to clothing—for that which is ample under the sultry heat of noon-day is totally insufficient when the air has become chilled at night.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.—During the past few weeks, says an exchange, a large number of children have died in this city from cholera infantum, and as there are a number of children suffering with the disease a little medical advice at this time may prove beneficial. Here is what an experienced physician says on the subject: We should incompletely discharge our duty did we not say a word for these little children "from two years old and under," the frightful number of deaths from among whom during the last few weeks must have affected every heart. And here again we wish distinctly to state that these remarks are made for those who are not under medical supervision, but who, from scanty means or other causes too often do not claim the physician's care until his science and art are powerless. The suggestions we offer are few, and we hope are practical. The surest mode of averting cholera infantum is by attention to the diet of a child, and there is no food to be compared with that which nature has furnished the mother. But it must be healthy milk, and the mother can best give such to the child by personal cleanliness, by frequent bathing of herself, and by the avoidance of a fretful or anxious temper. The child itself should be bathed daily—if vigorous in the ordinary way; if feeble it should be sponged daily or oftener with water, or what will be found very refreshing to the child, whiskey and water. This is better than giving the child brandy and whiskey by the mouth, and it may be best done with a soft surgical sponge, as it is called, which can be had at any of the apothecaries at a trifling cost.

DECEASED.—Joseph Snively, Esq. an aged and well-known citizen of this county expired at his residence in Antrim township yesterday morning.

Almost a generation ago Mr. Snively's name was familiar to nearly every household in the county. A large farmer, an active business man, a good counselor, he was always busy, until old age came upon him, making the last score of years a period of comparative inactivity. In his more active years most of his time was occupied as a surveyor, in drawing up instruments of writing, adjusting difficulties between neighbors, his word was law. He doubtless settled up more estates, as administrator, executor, &c. than any other man in the county. He served with the late Hon. Geo. Chambers as a member of the Convention in 1837 that framed the present Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania. He was plain and frank in manner, and a faithful believer in the tenets of the Menonite church.

COAL OIL ACCIDENTS.—During last week a Miss Forney, living with a family near Emmitsburg, in starting a fire made use of a can of coal oil which caught and burned her so terribly as to cause the fingers to drop off her right hand. It is thought she may recover, but will have to suffer the loss of her right arm.

Mrs. Keitnold, aged about 50, residing in Emmitsburg, on Saturday thinking the fire was not burning fast enough made use of a can of coal oil which ignited and exploded throwing the burning oil over her, burning her so terribly that she died in a short time. Her husband was severely burned in his endeavors to extinguish the flames.

For the above "locals" we are indebted to Mr. Alex. Leeds, of this place, telegraph operator.

The man named Charles A. Donnelly, of the Forest City Circus, arrested at Littlestown and committed to Chambersburg jail, on the charge of assaulting young Little in this place with a tumbler, from the effects of which he died, on Tuesday of last week was taken before the Court on a writ of Habeas Corpus. The Commonwealth side of the case heard, the prisoner in default of $10,000 bail was re-committed until October Court. Persons in this place who witnessed the fracas say that Donnelly is not the person who threw the tumbler nor had he any part in the difficulty. It seems hard that an innocent man should be thus subjected to imprisonment on the oath of one who is represented as a disipated and irresponsible party.

The walls of that time-worn structure in this Borough known as the "Western School House" are now being torn down. Upon its site Dr. John M. Ripple purposes erecting a handsome private residence. The location is elevated and one of the finest in the town for a residence. The building will no doubt vie with the Gordon and Creb's properties and materially to the appearance of things at the West end.

Wanted.—We now one give us a brief history of the old school house? When erected, the contractors, etc.

PEACHES.—We are under obligations to our friend, Mr. GEO. J. BALSLEY, for an acceptable present, a basket of the most delicious peaches, among the finest of the season.

MR. SAMUEL S. WINGERT, of Ringgold, has also placed us under obligations to him for a similar present. In both cases our better-half regarded them too fine for ordinary use, consequently they were preserved in the usual way and placed in glass jars procured at Reid's grocery.

Our town supply of ice is nearly exhausted.

At a meeting of the employees of the Waynesboro' Steam Engine Works, held in the Good Templar's Hall, on the 13th inst., with reference to the death of Franklin Frick, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions, who submitted the following which were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, God in his All-wise Providence has been pleased to summon from our midst in his early manhood our esteemed Superintendent, friend and associate, Franklin Frick, He has been called to cross the dark river and is now we hope resting beneath the tree of Life, and from his vacant place comes the silent admonition that sooner or later we too will be called to follow, and in memory of our sorrow he is Resolved, That in our bereavement we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, and while we deeply deplore the loss of our friend and companion we are consoled in the hope that he has gone to a better land and is now forever free from the pains and sorrow of earth Resolved, That by his early death our community has lost one of its most valuable citizens, his employers a most faithful and efficient Superintendent, the employees of the Waynesboro' Steam Engine Works a kind and amiable Foreman, and the craft generally a highly gifted and scientific mechanic Resolved, That we tender the family of the deceased our heart-felt sympathy in this dispensation which has caused their bereavement and shrouded their hearts in deepest gloom, and Resolved, That the secretary of this meeting be instructed to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased and that a copy be furnished for publication in the Village Record. PUBLIC SALE.

JUST home from the great New York Auction House on Monday evening. On Tuesday pile after pile of purchases were thrown down at my door, and customers came along and stood and looked and stared at the variety and quantity. But when the tickets were stuck on them they stood in utter amazement. I thought to myself they think I did not pay for these goods—and no wonder for the prices are frightfully low. No wonder that the "Job Lots" or "chance" I don't believe in long palavers in circulars but will only quote a few to give customers an idea of the merchantile panic now going on in New York. One lot consisted of 100 "going up" taking any money at all to keep going a few months. The excitement in the the Gold room among the Bulls and Bears is nothing compared with that in the
