

Waynesboro Village Record. Thursday, Nov. 21, 1872.

Greedy carried but one county in Kansas.

Mr. Seward was insured for $100,000.

Eight million lbs. of wool were destroyed by the Boston fire.

A Detroit bride recently wore $200,000 worth of diamonds.

The famous performing horse "Gray Eagle" belonging to Dan Rice, is dead.

The Congressional delegation in Tennessee stands seven republicans and three democrats.

The first wide spread snow storm of the season was on Friday and Saturday last. In portions of New York state a fall of 4 to 5 inches is reported.

At a reunion of the family of J. A. C. Lee, of Owingsville, Ky., $6,000, were placed under the plate of each of his children present.

A meeting was recently held in Washington city in aid of A. P. Anderson, said to be the last survivor of the John Brown raid, and now destitute.

Mrs. Sarah J. Garber, of Augusta county, Va., has obtained a verdict of $4,000 damages against David Meyers, a neighbor of hers, for breach of promise of marriage.

The "epizootic" has invaded the coal regions. A despatch from Pottsville says many of the mines used in the mines are affected. We may look for and immediate advance in the price of coal.

Another delegation of Indians has arrived at Washington. A deputation of Sacs and Foxes has come to confer with the Indian Bureau about the propriety of selling their reservations, consisting of sixteen thousand acres, in Kansas and Nebraska.

The fly is represented to be very bad in the wheat in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. Some fields have been entirely destroyed, and are being reseeded. The ravages are mostly in Frederick, Rockbridge and Augusta counties.

PENNSYLVANIA OFFICIAL.—The official returns from all the counties in Pennsylvania have been filed with the Secretary of State at Harrisburg, and foot up the unprecedented majority of 137,728, in a total vote of 361,630.

The official returns show that New Jersey gives Grant a majority of 14,537.

The Constitutional Convention met in Harrisburg, on the 12th inst., and organized by the election of Hon. Win. M. Meredith, of Philadelphia, as president. The members were then sworn. After some other business, a resolution was passed to adjourn to Philadelphia after the first of January.

The Cincinnati express train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, as it was coming east on Friday night, was thrown from the track near Clarksburg, W. Va., by colliding with a couple of vagabond cows. The locomotive ran through a small house that was standing near the track, shivering it into fragments, but, singularly enough, the owner and his wife and baby, who were in bed asleep, escaped without serious injury.

Susan B. Anthony and a dozen or more of her strong-minded friends succeeded in compelling the irresolute election officers at one of the voting precincts in Rochester, N. Y., to receive their ballots. They supposed that they had achieved a great triumph for their sex. And now comes an ungalant United States Commissioner and issues warrants for their arrest, charging them with violating the laws of the United States.

In Baltimore, owing to the horse disease, they have been trying oxen.—These patient animals do very well until the stony pavements make their feet sore, and then they make things uncomfortable for the drivers, and show a decided disposition to go where they please.

A very gentle and amiable young man is now insane. He parts his hair in the middle. The other day in combing it he chanced to get two more hairs on one side than on the other. This destroyed the balance of the head and overturned his brain. He makes a very gentle laudic however.

DEFEATED.—The defeat of Andrew Johnson for Congress, in Tennessee, says the Baltimorean, will be hailed with pleasure everywhere. He ran for Congressman at large, thus affording every voter in the State an opportunity of testifying their appreciation or disapprobation.—With a recorded majority of sixty thousand against him he should at once bury himself in an oblivion from which no human agency could reclaim him.

The prisoners in the Newport (Ky.) jail were strangled the other day and brought out, with a view of putting them to work on the streets. Tools were placed in their hands, and they were ordered to commence operations in front of the postoffice, but they stubbornly refused to obey, declaring they would die before they would work on the streets. They were finally taken back to jail.

THE PRESIDENTIAL RESULT OF 1872.

The popular majorities by States and the electoral majority given to General Grant in the late national election are really amazing. From the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean he carries not only all the Northern or free States, as contradistinguished from the late slave States, but with few exceptions, by unparalleled majorities, and in some cases by majorities surpassing the wildest dreams of the most sanguine republican prophets. And he carries the supposed impregnable little democratic State of Delaware and more of the Southern States beyond the Susquehanna than were expected by the Republican Congressional Committee; and his gains in the popular vote, though not so marked, appear to have been general throughout the South as in North. He has from twenty-eight to thirty states of the thirty-seven of the Union, including the most powerful and the weakest; most of the old ones and all the youngsters.—He could spare well on to a hundred of the electoral votes he has secured, and still have a majority of the whole number of three hundred and sixty-six. His majority on the popular vote of the Union will probably exceed half a million, a majority without a precedent in the history of the country. No President has ever entered office with more promising opportunities for a brilliant career than will President Grant on the 4th of March next. He will have at his back more than two-thirds of both Houses of Congress and the governments of nearly all the States of the Union. In the great city of New York his friends will hold possession of the local government, as they will also in Philadelphia and nearly every other city of importance all over the country, East and West. The Empire State and the Keystone State are both in political accord with his administration, and the political power of his party extends over all sections over the New England manufacturing States, the Western producing States, the Middle States and the Southern States. Every interest of the country has thus given him its endorsement, and he is in reality the President of the whole nation and not of any portion alone.—N. Y. Herald.

THE MORMON QUESTION.—Reports from Utah indicate that a desperate struggle will shortly occur among the "Latter Day Saints," owing to the formation of an organization called the "Liberating League," whose object is to free the church from the abuses of the Mormon hierarchy.—The leaders of the saints have been conducting affairs in rather a high handed manner, and it is openly charged that several of them are acquiring fortunes much more rapidly than would seem possible through ordinary business operations. And further, very many of the Mormons are opposed to the dictatorial manners assumed by the leaders, and desire those gentlemen to be somewhat more modest.

The fact is, says the Washington Chronicle, that a large proportion of the number of Mormons who came from Europe, ignorant and uncultivated, ready to work and willing to follow blindly in the paths pointed out for them, have since acquired not only wealth but education, and are commencing to think for themselves.—These changes are attributed in no small degree to association with the gentile element which has flowed into the Territory in late years, and disturbed the Mormon leaders in their dreams of contentment and ease at the expense of the ignorant masses.

The schism within the Mormon Church will naturally receive earnest support from the Gentiles who have long felt the power of its leaders to their detriment, and and bids fair to constitute the beginning of the final disintegration of the Church, one of that power which has so impudently bade defiance to the Government of the United States. Utah, freed from the incubus which now rests upon it, and peopled by an industrious and honest community, would soon stand unsurpassed by any other Territory in the far West in population and in solid wealth.

THE BOSTON FIRE.—The total number of business houses and firms burned out is stated at 930; dwelling and lodging houses 60. Among the buildings and offices burned out were those of 21 banks, 46 insurance companies and 27 newspapers. It is estimated that 300 families are homeless. The total loss was variously estimated at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Private despatches state that it will be about $75,000,000.

Twenty-five thousand work girls were thrown out of employment, and among the saddest scenes of Sunday were the thousands of these poor creatures who were bitterly lamenting the loss of their daily bread for the coming winter.—It is stated that thirty lives are known to be lost and that nearly 10,000 poor sewing girls are thrown out of employment.

The losses by the Philadelphia fire insurance companies by the Boston fire foot up the total of $2,604,000.

EPIZOOTIC IN CATTLE.—From the Oakville Enterprise, we learn that this disease which has prostrated so many horses, has taken hold of a number of cattle belonging to a gentleman near that place.

Congress meets two weeks from next Monday.

OFFICIAL VOTE.—We give below the vote of all the counties in this State at the late Presidential election, official:

Table with columns for County, Grant, and Greeley. THE EPIZOOTIC.—What a Post Mortem Examination Shows.—Four horses that died of the prevailing disease were subjected to a post mortem examination in Baltimore recently, and from the report of the person who conducted the same we extract the following, which will be of interest to our horsemen especially and our readers generally:—

"I found the entire passages from the nose to the lungs, inclusive, in a state of congestion approximating to gangrene.—The pleura and peritoneum were inflamed, and in some portions suppurated. The mucous membrane of the nose and windpipe were of a dark color and covered with the same kind of purulent matter as that which is discharged from the nostrils. The lungs were highly inflamed and congested; when cut across discharged purulent matter. In one horse they were gangrenous.—The liver of each was so inflamed and congested as to render it friable; the spleen or melt and kidneys were also inflamed, congested and filled with purulent matter; the stomach was so intensely inflamed that the mucous membrane had sloughed, leaving the muscular coat bare in some spots from four to six inches in diameter; the bowels were inflamed and congested; the thyroid, sub-maxillary and sub-lingual glands were inflamed, congested, and contained sanies; the parotid gland was intensely congested, blackened and very hard; the right ventricle of the heart in each horse was inflamed, while the left ventricle was sound.

"The brain was not affected, and the bladder healthful. From the number of organs involved, the violence and suddenness of the attack, together with the rapidity of its spread, attacking the whole city at once, as it were, and in a few days spreading over the State, we are compelled to denominated it a virulent zymotic blood disease."

Young Powell, who went into the jail at Brentsville, Virginia, and shot through the bars of the cell and killed James F. Clark, charged with abducting Powell's sister, has been tried and acquitted. Clark was a prisoner and unarmed, and was shot while under the protection of the law. He had not been tried, and was merely accused of abduction. Entitled to a fair trial, he was hustled out of the world by the hand of a cowardly assassin, without a chance to prove his innocence or the law to prove his guilt. Such is justice in some parts of the Old Dominion. Assassination is legal, and new encouragement given to those who have fancied wrong to take the law into their own hands. Under such ruling of juries life is not safe, and justice becomes a mere mockery.

Maryland is to have a new county. Allegany County is to be divided; that part of it lying south and west of a line beginning at the summit of Savage mountain to the middle of Savage river, where that river empties into the Potomac, thence by a straight line to the nearest boundary of the State of West Virginia; then, with that boundary, to the Fairfax stone, to be the new county.

The county seat of the new county, which is to be Lestley Garrett, will be Oakland, a thriving town on the top of one of the ridges of the Alleghany Mountains.

On Sunday, 3d inst., a new Dunker Church was dedicated, on the farm of Mr. John Shank, near Greencastle.

Attention is called to the "Mansion House Hotel" card, Baltimore, Md., in today's paper.

Some of our physician the past week have been compelled to resort to the use of "Shanks' mare" in order to reach their patients in the country.

Messrs. Amberson, Benedict & Co. are now receiving their second supply of new fall and winter goods.—Go and see the new styles.

The Mount Vernon Literary Society will meet in the Town Hall this (Thursday) evening for the purpose of re-organizing. Public invited to be present.

Look to your chimneys and see that they are safe. A very little work now may save the building of a new house next spring.

"Meet me at the gate, love," has been changed to "Meet me at the grate, love." The cool weather has necessitated the change.

New Goods.—Messrs. Coon & Stonehouse have received a full stock of new dry goods, etc. for the fall trade. Give them a call.

A meeting will be held in the Town Hall this (Thursday) evening for the purpose of organizing a Military Company. A full turn out of those interested is requested.

Our friend Lew. W. Detrich, Esq., Clerk of the Courts elect, left town on Tuesday to take up his residence in Chambersburg. We are sorry to part with Lew. as a citizen.

A CALL.—The Lutheran congregation of Greencastle has extended a call to Rev. Frederick Klinefelder, of Tremont, Schuylkill county, Pa., to become their pastor.

COMING.—Mr. Geo. Stover of the firm of Stover & Wolf, is now East. In a day or two they expect to open out a stock of new fall and winter goods. Customers and the public are invited to call.

FOR SALE.—We have the Wilcox & Gibbs Family Sewing Machine just from the manufacturers, (with many persons the most popular sewing machine now in use) which we offer for sale $20 under price. Here is a chance for somebody.

We are informed that the try-weekly mail between Gettysburg and Hagerstown on Monday last was changed to a daily mail, and that Stephen A. Martin has contracted to carry the mail between Hagerstown and Ringgold.

We publish in our advertising columns to-day the affidavit of Dr. Jeremiah Hess of Quincy, denying certain injurious reports put in circulation touching his private character. It is unfortunate that such a state of things should exist among neighbors. According to his affidavit the Dr. has certainly been grievously wronged.

THANKSGIVING.—Business, according to custom, will be suspended in this place on Thursday next, Thanksgiving Day.—We expect to issue our paper on Wednesday instead of Thursday, that all hands may have the opportunity afforded them of joining in its observance.

PROPERTIES SOLD.—On Saturday last the new brick house and lot of ground belonging to the estate of Mrs. Susan Barr, dec'd, adjoining the new school building, was sold for the sum of $3,000. Purchaser, Mr. George Frick.

The small farm belonging to Mr. John Price, on the turnpike, about two miles West of town, has been purchased by Isaac Fox for the sum of $5,000.

ON FOOT.—B. F. Barr, U. S. mail contractor, owing to the horse epidemic, was compelled on Tuesday to carry the mail between this place and Monterey on foot. Between the latter place and Gettysburg we understand the mail matter is conveyed in the same way by the contractor.

SICK HORSES.—The horse disease—by horse doctors styled Epizootic—has taken a wide range. It is now reported East, West, North and South, and the people generally are in consequence subjected to great losses and inconvenience. In our town and neighborhood the sickness among horses prevails pretty generally. At this time there are not perhaps over half dozen in town unaffected by the disease, and of those on some of the farms not a single one is fit for use, farmers in some instances being compelled to pass to and fro on foot. Fortunately there has so far been but little fatality attending the malady. Mr. S. P. Stoner of the "Bowden Farm" lost one on Sunday night, the only death of which we have any knowledge in this section. Some persons are under the impression that the disease is contagious and caught by contact. This is entirely erroneous. Communicated by the atmosphere it is epidemic but not contagious.

Persons in all cases should refrain from working the poor brutes whilst weakened and suffering from the effects of the disease. It is stated that those thus used in the cities were taken with dropsy which proved fatal in almost every case.

MORE BIG TURKIPS.—The yield of turkips the past season in this region proved an unusual one. Since our last issue another lot from the "truck patch" of Mr. John Down was left at our office, the largest of which matched that of Mr. Detrich, noticed in our last issue, weighing seven pounds. But Mr. Peter Geiser is so far ahead of all competitors. He left one in our office on Saturday, which weighs seven and a half pounds; also a reddish weighing eight pounds. The latter was solid and very palatable.

For mammoth specimens Quincy township is not behind. Mr. James Heefner reports to us a turnip of his raising at 81 pounds.

SURPRISE PARTY.—REV. R. F. McClean met with a pleasant surprise on Thursday evening last. Returning to his room about 8 o'clock, he found a couple dozen of ladies, members of his congregation, occupying it, with a table spread with refreshments—cakes, confectioneries, nuts, fruits, a demijohn of sweet cider, etc.—To make the surprise to their pastor complete, the ladies resorted to a little strategy. He was accordingly invited out to tea with a friend and they were thus enabled to take possession of his study. We understand the evening was passed very pleasantly by all parties.

"INDUSTRIES OF THE UNITED STATES."—This is the title of a book which combines a whole library within its covers.—It gives a short and comprehensive account of every branch of industry in this country. It tells the process of manufacture, and if a patent article, who invented and who improved it. In fact it is a book which is of great value to every person who desires to obtain general information. All this is so arranged and indexed that a ready reference can be had to any subject. It contains 1300 pages and is well bound in cloth.

An old friend, Mr. E. W. Harper, paid us a flying visit the other day after an absence of about seventeen years.—Twenty years ago, or thereabouts, Mr. H. was prominent among our dry goods salesmen, and is still remembered as such by many of our citizens. His place of residence is Carthage, Missouri, where he has been conducting a pleasant and profitable business for a number of years. We are glad to note this evidence of his "good luck," for none are more deserving of business success.

The cold snap during the past week should serve as an admonition for winter preparations. There are not many, yet some very poor families in our midst whose wants should not be overlooked by the more opulent and charitably disposed.—By many it would hardly be believed that there are those so early in the season scant of the common necessities and comforts of life, yet such is actually the case.

To afford our farmer friends an idea how land sells in the rich county of Berkeley, Va., we quote the following: C. and A. H. Myers, executors of Aaron Myers, deceased, sold the property belonging to the estate on Saturday last.—The home farm of 215 acres, was purchased by Wm. Kilmier, Jr., at $61 per acre. The Tector Myers farm of 306 acres, was purchased by Cromwell Myers at $35 per acre. The Turner tract of 135 acres, was purchased by James Criswell, at $40,20 per acre. Twenty-five acres of timber land was purchased by Wm. Kilmier, Jr., at five dollars per acre. Twenty-four acres of timber land was purchased by Joseph Criswell, at $5,87 per acre.

TURKIPPE ELECTION.—At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Waynesboro, Greencastle and Mercersburg Turnpike Road Company, held at the Adams House, Greencastle, on 4th inst., the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year: President—A. B. Rankin. Treasurer—George W. Zeigler. Managers—Berkley Buhrman, George Harbaugh, of G. Alex. Gordon, John Wilhelm, John Ritchie, David Thompson.

Price & Hoefflich are now in the city purchasing their second supply of Winter Goods.

$75,000 IN CASH FOR $1.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of the Nebraska State Orphan Asylum. Here is a chance to win a fortune in a Public Legal Drawing, and at the same time help a worthy and noble institution.

CHANGE OF TIME.—Trains on the Western Maryland Railroad now leave Hagerstown for Baltimore at 5.10 A. M. and 1.45 P. M., and Mechanist w at 4.15 and 6.28 A. M. Trains leave Baltimore for Hagerstown and intermediate stations at 8.25 A. M., for Frederick and Hagerstown at 3.35 P. M. and for Mechaniststown at 3.25 P. M., daily, except Sundays. The 3.35 train from Baltimore is now the first line, making out three stoppages, and arriving here at 7 P. M. instead of 8 o'clock as heretofore.—Twice A Week.

NEBRASKA IS TO HAVE A STATE ORPHAN ASYLUM.—$230,505 is offered in Cash Prizes. The appeal is made on the grounds of humanity, from a new State, where the tide of immigration is immense and where such an Institution is greatly needed. The highest Prize is $75,000.—The tickets are $1 each, or six for $5.—J. M. Pattee, of Omaha, has been chosen the General Manager of this legal and human undertaking, which is endorsed by the Governor and best business men of the State.

[COMMUNICATED.] Mr. Editor:—A good deal has been said in regard to our new school building and the course pursued by our School Board in purchasing the lot, erecting the building and adopting its surroundings. Much has been said that is true and much that is good. The actions of our enterprising School Board have been fully examined, and approved, and we think a limit should soon be reached and a stop put to the carping and fault-finding by soreheads and others. No doubt our worthy School Board have made some mistakes in their work and efforts to serve the people and promote the interests of education in our town, but what other six men can be found who have vanity enough to say that they could have accomplished so great a work without mistakes, or at least without doing something that would not meet with the approbation of all the tax-payers of the town. We know the men who compose our School Board to be honest, capable men, and ever-animating they have erred in some points, this fact should not detract from the just credit due them for the good work they have accomplished in the face of so many difficulties. It has been the town's cry for some years, "Are we not to have a new school house, should we not, at least, be in the enjoyment of school facilities equal to those of other towns in our own county and State." And those who held the onerous position of school directors in past years, in this our town, received quite an amount of abuse on account of their want of enterprise and progressiveness. And now that the new house has come at last, and a new order of things with it, let us, instead of finding fault and throwing obstacles in the way of the success and harmony of our schools, do all in our power to aid the directors and teachers in making them a success, that our children may receive all possible benefit from the outlay incurred in money and time to erect the building, furnish it suitably, and employ and supply a competent corps of teachers.

Our School Board should not be discouraged at the fault-finding of those who are carping. If the present generation fail to appreciate their labors, posterity will not forget to honor them. And even the school house bell, as it swings in the lofty tower, having their names inscribed upon it as enduring tablet of brass, will hand them down to future generations as the benefactors of their race in Waynesboro.

SAGACITY OF THE COW.—We have been told of instances of sagacity in these animals, quite surprising. A friend had a cow that was very fond of biscuit with sugar on it. She would stay in the yard all day, bawling, before she would go to grass, unless a biscuit was given her with white sugar. She would reject common sugar. She seemed to have her feelings hurt if this little point of etiquette was not attended to properly—and it was really her due, for she gave gallons of rich milk every day.

Near Hartford, Conn., reside two old maids, who had lived alone thirty years, under a vow of celibacy, for a long time milking one cow, when both of them fell sick, and it was found that the brute would not submit to be milked, as she evidently construed the act into a robbery of her mistress, for there was no way of getting her to comprehend that they were in the house sick. At last stratagem was resorted to. A young man in the neighborhood dressed in the clothes of one of the sisters, and went out to milk. He got along well enough till the wind blew off his bonnet, when the cow, happening to look around just then, saw his short hair, and, detecting the fraud in an instant, kicked the pail and the milk over to gether, and galloped off.
