[Published by Request. THE GENERAL SYNOD OF THE RE-FORMED CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES. This large and venerable body, whose last trienmial meeting was held in Cincip. nati, Ohio, adjourned on Thursday night, December 6th, after eight days' laborious | gan Mission institute, Heidelburg college sessions. The action of this Synod has and seminary, at Tiffin, Ohio, and Ursinbeen awaited with unusual interest. It is us college, Pennsylvania. No longer must well known to the church generally that they aid in the propagation of ritualism the denominations represented by this Synod are divided theologically by opposite tendencies. One of these is in the direction of ritualism or churchliners—the other is not a tendency away from but towards a closer adhesion to the doctrines. customs and spirit of the ancient Reformed Church. As the General Synod is the usually brought before it for adjudication from oppression. involving the questions growing out of their differences of opinion. The Annual District Synod of the United States, fully represented through its classes in this General Synod, is the especial stronghold of rituralistic and liturgical innovations, and as a natural result had its doings appealed from to the higher court. We make a resume of the matters of chief interest that came before it during its recent sessions.

The Super Appeal Case, had created the most profound interest in the church. This was an appeal from the action of the district Synod of the United States, or the Eastern Synod, as it is often_called, in which the conduct of Dr. Bomberger, president of Ursinus college, who, it was alleged, was teaching theology in the institution, was in his absence declared to be "disorderly," and he was or-dered to desist from such disorder, with a threat that should he not obey he would be proceeded against for contumacious disregard of Synodrical authority. The discussion was long and earnest, and the appeal was sustained by the General Synod by a vote of one hundred (100) ayes to seventy-eight (78) nays. This decision settles that it is not disorderly in Dr. Bomberger or any minister of the Reformed-church-to-teach theology, although not invested with the office of teacher of theology and not even conducting their theological teaching under the direction of a Synod.

It is aurther settled that it is unconstitutional for a District Synod to assume original jurisdiction, as was done in this case, over a minister of the Gospel-that he is amenable to his classis. This action is of vital-importance-to-the anti-Ritualistic party. Those who love the old Church will rejoice to hear that Ursinus college and its devoted president have not been crushed, as was the purpose of the Ritualists, but may go on their way blessing the Church by sending into its pulpits men trained after the fashion of the fathers .-Lancaster seminary has no longer a monopoly in the Eastern Synod of theological training within its jurisdiction.

The following paper was adopted as expressive of the General Synod, as to the points decided and the results reached in the Super-Appeal case, viz:

"1. That the General Synod has decided that the conduct of the Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger, D. D., and those associated with him in Ursinus College, in giving theological instruction at the request of the Board of Directors, is not disorderly or contrary to the constitution of the Reformed Church, although they have not been invested with the office of teacher of theology by, nor are conducting their theological teachings under, the direction of the Eastern Synod.

"2. That the General Synod has decided that the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States acted unconstitutionally in assuming original juristiction in the case of one of the ministers of the classis of Philadelphia.

trinal issue in the Church, and distinctly pronounced her as regarding the distrinal position of Ursinus College and its theologi cal teaching consistuent with her standards and worthy of her confidence.

Ursinus College is an institution founded by Anti-Ritualistic ministers and elders of the Reformed Church, in September, 1870, has a university charter granted by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, including of course the power to teach not merely the branches usually taught in our best colleges, but also law, medi-cine and theology. In this young insti-tution there are already about one hundred students in the various departments twenty-nine of whom have the ministry in view. It is located at Freeland, Montgomery county, Pa., and is under charge of an able faculty.

The next case of exciting interest was The Dunn Complaint.

The origin of the case is as follows: The Classis of Mercersburg made an assessment of a certain sum upon the Huntington congregation for the beneficiary education of students. Elder Dunn representing the congregation at Huntington, informed the classis that the congregation were unable to meet the assessment, whereupon the classis enjoined the congregation from using for other purposes any moneys obtained by collection until the assessment should be paid.

In behalf of the congregation, Elder Dunn appealed from this decision of the classis to the District Synod-that of Martinsburg. From the District Synod the appeal, on complaint, was carried to the General Synod.

The question before the Synod was:-Shall classis, when they make assessments upon their congregations, have a prior and exclusive claim upon funds in the hands of those congregations to the amount of the assessment? Nearly a whole day was taken up with the discussion. At its close Elder Dunn's appeal was sustained by a vote of ninety (90) ayes to eighty (80) nays.

judicatory has any right to alienate any in Washington is lively. funds from the purposes for which they were contributed; but that consistories have the undoubted right to designate the direction which funds in their hands for benevolent purposes shall take, when not specially designated by the denors.

The resolution was enpicusly discussed. and was finally divided into two sections. I live." The first in re; and to the alienation of funds for specific purposes by consistories, was adopted by a vute of 91 ayes. Thirty-five 'cr spoke were, "It is done."

members were excused from voting, on he ground that they had previously votd upon the same question.

The second section, comptising the renainder of the resolution, was adopted by the following vote: Ayes, 82; nays, 19. Upon this vote 39 members were excused.

This decision takes the fetters off many ministers and consistories and allows them to aid, through the regularly established boards of the church, students in Sheboyor the effette dogmas of the third and fourth centuries.

Once more the churches are free, and Elder Dunn deserves the gratitude of the entire church for his persistent labors under every kind of hindrance and every form of annoyance in pushing this matter to a decision in the highest court of final court of appeal many matters are the church. It is really a deliverance

> The action of the General Synod in these and other matters was so distasteful to those who have for several years used it to sanction innovations, that an effort was planned to divest the Synod of its iudicial character, allowing no appeals to be made from lower courts to it, and retaining for it only an advisory character after the platform of the Congregational Association. On a motion to refer such such amendment of the Constitution. it was promptly voted down. This was followed by an effort to send down to the classis a proposition for the creation of "a court of appeal," which should be a fi nal resort in all appeals and complaintsthis court was to consist of two members from each District Synod, and was to relieve the General Synod from all the irritation growing out of appeal cases. There seemed, however, to be a fear in the Synod that "a snake" was hidden under the thing, and it was referred to that quiet resting place, "the Committee on the Constitution.

Church Union. The union between the Reformed (German) and the Reformed (Dutch) Churches has been cherisheded with a fond hope for years. This item was brought directly before this Synod in the statement of the corresponding delegate of the Dutch Reformed Church, that he was authorized to request the views of the General Synod on this subject. The entire question was referred to a committee of three from each District Synod,-who agreed to propose the following as the action of the General Synod, viz:

Resolved, That this General Synod is in full accord with the prevailing sentiment in the Church, as it regards the desirableness of Christian unity, and look forward with pleasure to a union with the Reformed Church in America that may be accomplished on a basis satisfactory to both churches. Believing that the time be at hand when negotiations looking to this end should be initiated, it is resolved by the General Synod to appoint a committee of three from each of the five synods, composing the General Synod, which shall confer with a like committee of the Reformed Church in America, on the proposed union between that Church and our own, and report the results of their next meeting. To the surprise and gratification of many this action was adopted unanimously Doubtless it will form an era in the history of union among Protestant Churches. This movement also augurs well for the ultimate union of these two grand old churches of kindred faith and reformation origin.—Cor. Harrisburg Telegraph

A short time thereafter Mrs. Good, who was in the adjoining room attending a sick child, heard a strange noise, and repairing to the bedside found him lifeless. In the several relations in life, in the family, among friends and neighbors, the decoased displayed a disposition more than ordinarily kind and social. He leaves a young wife and several small children to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and father. On Tuesday morning his remains were conveyed to Antietam (Price's) burying ground, near this

CHRISTMAS GIFTS .- "Christmas is comng," and the practice of making presents that day is said to have originated in example of wise men of the East, who brought their offerings to the manger at Bethlehem, and laid them at the feet of the infant Saviour. Since then, Christmas gifts have been universal throughout Christendom, and many persons feel that they have not properly discharged their duty unless they bestow something among friends and favorites. Those who can afford, it usually do, and this holiday never passes around without an interchange of tokens of go.d feelings and kindness in almost every neighborhood. Be the gift over so small, and intrinsically ever so valuless, it is esteemed as a special favor. The anxiety with which children look forward to the approach of this popular holiday, is an indication of the great interest they feel in the receipt of those gifts, and their little hearts are made light and filled with gladness whenever they are made the objects of some special donation. The practice of decorating churches with evergreen on Christmas, originated with the ancient Druids, who wore garlands of ivy and misletoe on that day, and since their
