

Thursday, Jan. 16, 1873.

There were 37,647 deaths in New York city during the past year.

D. Jones, a New Orleans jeweler, was chloroformed and robbed of $22,000 in jewelry and money.

Chig (col.) was hung at Cumberland, Md., on Friday last, for the crime of rape. He made no confession.

DEATH OF NAPOLEON.—Charles Louis Napoleon Bonaparte, died at Chislehurst, England, on Thursday last.

The Banking Committee of the House of Representatives, Washington, reported a bill on Friday to increase the currency of the national banks twenty-five millions of dollars.

A PERILOUS POSITION.—Harry Smith, about 16 years of age, at Harrisburg, on Saturday last a week, whilst engaged in cleaning off snow from the roof of the capitol building, and standing at the bottom of the gutter, an avalanche of snow came down, showing him down over the slate roof, some twenty-five feet to the gutter on the verge of the wall, where fortunately he was held by his clothing; his legs hanging over the roof. The distance from this point to the icy pavement below was at least sixty-five feet. A rope was procured, and after the lad had been suspended for half an hour he was rescued, chilled through and through, and almost insensible. By means of stimulants, rubbing, &c., he was finally restored, and remarked that he thought it was "all up with him" and expected to be dashed to pieces.

BUYING A PICTURE.—A lady residing in the Eastern section of the city some months since purchased at auction an old dab of a painting, which no one would bid for, paying only fifteen cents for it.

The picture was carried to the residence of the lady, where it has, until within the past few days, hung in the nursery for the amusement of the children. By some means or other a few days ago the back of the old picture was taken out, and between it and the picture was found a bank book of one of the principal banks, noting deposits to the amount of fifteen hundred dollars, subject to the order of the depositor, and $100 in bank notes. The lady at once proceeded to ascertain the actual heir to the treasure, and finally succeeded, and, on handing it to him, he generously presented her with $100 as a Christmas gift.—American 1st inst.

SINGULAR MURDER CASE.—The Criminal court of Waynesboro, Green county, has been trying a remarkable murder case during the past week. The case is that of Thaddeus Younk, for the murder of his father, Charles Younk. The prisoner is a young man, twenty-one or twenty-two years of age, and the father was aged fifty-six. It is claimed by the Commonwealth in the trial that the old man was shot while quietly sitting by the cooking stove, awaiting his supper. The defense admit that the accused shot him, but contend that the father was a dangerous man. He had given his wife ten minutes to get supper and furnish warm bread, threatening to kill her if she failed. The allotted time was well nigh up. She had run to the cellar for cream, and had returned to get flour. The deceased had followed her and struck her with a dipper. Becoming still more enraged he threw aside the dipper and ran for a butcher-knife. Not succeeding in getting this, he endeavored to snatch a large iron shovel. The mother was in the meantime screaming and crying. The son, to save his mother, shot his father dead.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—An interesting son of Mr. William Watson, of Oakville, aged four years, accidentally hung himself in the following curious manner: The boy had left the house while the mother was attending to some work, and on being missed she went in search of him to different places. Not finding him, she went into the lot in the rear of the house and to her horror discovered the child hanging with his head between two boards in a partition in the pen, and dead. The boy had evidently climbed up the partition and inserted his head in a crack, which was scarcely wide enough to admit it, when his feet slipped, and being unable to help himself, he was strangled.

REGULATING A COAL STOVE.—Never till a stove more than half or two thirds full of coal, even in the coldest weather.—When the fire is low never strike the grate or disturb the ashes, but add from ten to fifteen lumps of coal and set the draft open. When these are heated through and somewhat ignited, add the amount necessary for a new fire, but do not disturb the ashes yet. Let the draft be open half an hour. Then shake out the ashes. The coal becomes ignited, and will keep the stove at a high heat from six to twelve hours, according to the coldness of the weather. In very cold weather, after the fire is made, add coal every hour.

Mrs. Durham, who was so severely burned a few weeks ago at Keedysville, Washington county, Md., by the explosion of coal oil while filling a lamp, died on Saturday morning of her injuries.

Local News.

The days are lengthening.

Sore throats and colds are prevalent. Keep your feet dry.

The almanac sets down the 22d and 23d of this month to be the coldest.

Two hobs will last a cow a lifetime. Sixteen men require more than that before breakfast.

A large male panther was killed near Scalp Level, in Somerset county, last week. It took sixty men to do it.

Frank Koppisch is appointed postmaster at Leitersburg, Washington county, Md., vice John W. Nigh, resigned.

Judge Smyser of Norris town, died at the residence of his son-in-law, David Wills, Esq. in Gettysburg, on Saturday last.

Mr. Jacob King, a soldier of the war of 1812, died near Leitersburg, on the 20th ult. aged 78 years, 10 months and 1 day.

Alex. Deal of Loudon, has purchased the Parnell's Knob property of John H. Dittman, paying $6,000 for the same. There is 150 acres in the farm.

A sudden change in the weather since our last issue has terminated the sleighing season for the present. The rain on Monday night left the public roads in many places bare.

SALE LIST.—Persons wishing to secure the services of Mr. Geo. V. Mong, as auctioneer, who is one of the most popular sale criers in our county, will find the list of his appointments at this office.

The editor has been "under the weather" for several days from an epizotic attack, or similar plague, common to this latitude at present, which will account for lack of local matter in this issue.

Stoner, of the Bowden House, filled his ice house yesterday. If the local optimists win at the March election, he will be prepared to dispense ice-cold lemonade after the first of April next, in lieu of the present time-honored beverages, lager, &c.

WINTER IN THE WEST.—One of our subscribers, Samuel B. Wingert, writes to us from Fair Haven, Carroll county, Ill. that since the cold weather set in the mercury in that region has ranged from 26 to 36 degrees below zero. Here the coldest day it fell but 4 degrees below.

The officers of the Young Men's Christian Association elected for the ensuing year are—

President—Joseph Price. Vice Presidents—(one from each church) Samuel Haeffel, M. A. Gordon, Daniel Berlin, W. J. Bieckle. Secretary—D. M. Good, jr. Cor. Secretary—Clarence Eyer. Librarian—Robert Hoover.

A CARD.—In another column we publish the card of Capt. Wm. H. Davison, of Greencastle, announcing himself as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. The Capt. is one of Antrim's most worthy citizens, and of his party none are more deserving of perhaps better qualified to discharge the duties of that important office.

ACCIDENT.—A. D. Gordon, Esq., of Waynesboro, was thrown from his sleigh a mile beyond Fayetteville, and fell with such force upon his right shoulder as to dislocate it. The sleigh, which was moving very rapidly, struck a stump covered by the snow. The blow broke the shafts, but caused no other serious damage except what we have mentioned above. Mr. Gordon seems to be getting along comfortably.—Reporter.

The Harrisburg Patriot says that that the Harrisburg & Potomac R. R. will certainly be run to Waynesboro' and when that far, will soon connect with the Baltimore and Ohio road. The Patriot also asserts that the building of a bridge across the Susquehanna between New Cumberland and Bridgeport has been decided upon. The recent concentration of so much capital along this road seems almost to ensure its success as a through line, and that with the coming year.

VALUABLE WORK.—Mr. Oliver Besore, of this place, has the agency for the sale of a popular work, in Washington and Antrim townships, entitled "Extensive Discoveries and Adventures of the Great Explorer, LIVINGSTONE, During 28 Years in the Wilds of Africa." The book contains 600 pages, is elegantly and substantially bound, with the finest illustrations. This is a work of thrilling interest, and at the low price at which it is offered for sale, $2.50, will doubtless find ready sale. Already there is an unprecedented demand for it in certain sections. The publishers are Hubbard Bros., 723 Sanson St., Phila.

The Constitutional Convention re-assembled in Philadelphia on Tuesday. It holds its sessions in the old Presbyterian church building on Spruce street between Fifth and Sixth, which has been especially prepared for it.

Simon Cameron was re-nominated in caucus on Tuesday evening for United States Senator. The vote stood Cameron 81, Kelly 4, Wickoreham 2.

EXTRAORDINARY PHENOMENON.—On Tuesday last, between the hours of 11 o'clock in the morning and 11 o'clock at night, the most extraordinary sounds were heard in that portion of our valley which is bounded by the Conococheague on the west, and the base of the South Mountain on the east, and as we learn, at Mechanistown in Frederick county. Within this range it was heard in Hagerstown, Funkstown and Beaver Creek, where persons ran out to see what was the matter with the excited cattle and dogs. It was heard at Smithsburg, Ridgeville and all through that region; also at the same time at Middlekauff's, Downey's, Hardscrabble, Zeller's and Kershner's.

The sound in all those places is singularly described as the distressed cry of some wild beast. It everywhere created the greatest alarm among cattle and dogs. It was heard at the many places at the same time, they being remote from each other. What caused it no one can surmise, but it is supposed to have been produced from some atmospheric cause. Hagerstown Mail.

DEATH OF WM. M'DOWELL.—On the 3d inst., near Shady Grove, Mr. Wm. M'Dowell, an old and well known citizen of Antrim township, died at the age of 68. He was more familiarly known as "Uncle Billy," to his numerous friends, and was a remarkable, earnest and conscientious man—very decided and emphatic in his manners, and was rated one of the best blacksmiths that ever struck a hammer, and gained for his shop—M'Dowell's—a wide-spread reputation. In his younger days he was considered one of the best marksmen in the State, and it is said of him that he could place a glass of water on the end of his rifle and fire without spilling a drop; which required an extraordinary amount of coolness and nerve. And as a mark he was a centre shot, and as a hunter he always returned with a well filled bag. His remains were interred in Cedar Hill Cemetery on Sunday last, followed by a large number of relatives and neighbors.—Greencastle Echo.

NEWSPAPER SPONGE.—We learn from the late Boonsboro' Old Fellow that a pedagogue named Noah Brummett was brought in that place recently, under the following circumstances: The person referred to, it appears, had been sponging his newspaper reading for years by borrowing and otherwise, though amply able to pay his way. The aforesaid Brummett after patronizing the establishment of a Mr. J. E. Welty, dealer in newspapers, in his peculiar way, for a period of ten months, had a bill presented for reading at 30 cts. per month, making the amount $3.00. Declining to "foot" the bill, legal proceedings were instituted, and the result was that his ten months "sponging" just cost him $3.00. It strikes us the proceedings in this case are alike creditable to Mr. Welty and the Justice who rendered the verdict, and should prove a warning to persons of Mr. Brummett's class who frequent country stores and post-offices and carry away subscribers' papers.

TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE.—The following transfers of real estate were filed for record in the office of A. A. Skinner, Register and Recorder of Franklin county, during the month of December: Alexander Hamilton to Jacob F. Oller, several lots of ground, in Waynesboro, for $1,500.

Alexander Hamilton to Jacob F. Oller, lot of ground in Waynesboro, for $3,500, Isaac H. Witmore to Jacob Witmore, lot of ground in Greencastle, for $4,000. Joseph F. Bolt to Susanna Heckman, lot of ground in Borough of Waynesboro, for $900.

ONLY A COLD.—Just so, it is only a cold, and people are apt to speak and act as if this were a trifling matter. Only a cold means that one of the most important functions of nature is suspended and if she is not relieved, and speedily too, fever, inflammation, or some other of the certain precursors of death will develop themselves. Never neglect the warning that nature gives in that sensation of chill, or as some call it a "creeping all over." The citadel is in danger and the signal is thus sent to the out-works; don't neglect the warning.

LOCAL OPTION.—The first election under the Local Option act of last session of the Legislature took place in Clearfield county on the 29th of December. At the municipal and township elections held there on that day a majority of upwards of six hundred votes was cast against liquor licenses. This result in the strong Democratic county of Clearfield, the Pittsburg Dispatch thinks, may be taken as a fair indication of what will be the decision when the question shall come up next March in the several counties and cities affected by the bill.

DON'T TIE THEM.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has decided that its agents shall prosecute all persons who bring chickens, ducks or turkeys to market tied together as has been the practice from time out of memory by our farmers. These agents exist in nearly every town in the State, and are constantly on the watch for offenders. The object of the Society is to prevent needless cruelty to animals of all kinds, and its members think that chickens when transported with their legs tied together are hurt beyond all necessity.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—FIRST ANNIVERSARY.—On Monday evening last the new officers of the Association took their seats, and the following address was delivered by Mr. Jos. Phibbs, the incoming President. He has consented to have it published at the request of some of the members of the society: FRIENDS AND BROTHERS.—In the Providence of God we have met here, this evening, the first anniversary of our full organization as the Young Men's Christian Association of Waynesboro.

Let our hearts go out with profound gratitude to our Heavenly Father for the blessings which have attended us during the past year; let us seek wisdom from Him to direct us in the future management of its affairs. We may not have seen as much fruit of our labors as we might have expected, but surely our labors have not been entirely in vain. Our Sabbath afternoon prayer meetings have been well attended, and are weekly growing in interest, and we have every reason to hope they are doing much good.

This disposition to pray is a sign of God's intention to bless us, the prayer meetings being the means of obtaining the blessings. We have had a few sprinklings the past year, not the showers of blessing.—When will they come? This year? Why not this year? God is able to do it, God is willing to do it, if we ask him in faith. Christ said, "Whoever ye shall ask the Father in my name that I will do. Then let us not pray as an experiment, doubting whether He will answer; but let us take him at his word, and pray with faith, believing he will bless us if we ask aright.

What we want to make this Association vigorous and successful is, not bustle, but business; not parade and puffery, but patient, prayer, and persevering work.—We want the full following of Christ with the whole heart, for the whole time, and for the whole life campaign. Christ started his church on the principle of entire consecration; and he said, "Whosoever would follow me, let him leave all." Again he said, "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon," and again he said, "He that is not for me is against me." It was entire consecration or nothing. Christ would have no half hearted disciples.

A thorough-going Christian loves duty, and never says: I pray thee, have me excused. Let us pray the Lord of the harvest that he send us many such laborers, for truly the fields are white to the harvest. I had intended recommending some financial measure, as our present arrangement is not sufficient to meet our current expenses, but I will refer that to the committee of ways and means.

The Phrenological Journal for January, 1873, is a most creditable beginning of the new year for this standard monthly. Rich with valuable reading and fine illustrations, it should receive a cordial greeting. Shakespeare and his Dramatic Characters, with more than fifty illustrations; Will and Mind, their identity; Cause and Effects, illustrated; Pauline Lucca, with elegant portrait; The late General Meade, with portrait; The Unpardonable Offense, a lively domestic sketch; Agra and the Taj, illustrated; Clark Braidell, with portrait; John Warren's Ideal, Psychological; "The Man with a Secret;" The late Horace Greeley, with portrait; The True Idea in Translation, with illustrations from Homer; Roman Catholicism in America; Legend of the Skull, etc. Price 30 cents. For a year, $3. Subscribe now. Address, S. R. Wells, 389 Broadway, New York.

THE CHAMPION HOG.—Mr. John Mowen, on New Year's day, brought his mammoth hog to town on a sled and had him weighed, when he balanced the beam at 930 pounds. This hog is a Lancaster white, and is three years old. The Steiger hog of Mercersburg weighs 4 pounds more than this one, but considering that he is older and has been longer and stronger fed, "hogologists" claim that the Mowen hog is the better of the two and entitled to the belt.—Echo.

DAUGHTERLY SPORT.—Numerous accidents to children through sledding have occurred during the past month, but the most distressing is reported to have taken place at Hagerstown on Saturday last. Two little brothers, sons of Urias Kretzinger, ran their sled against a dry horse. One of them was kicked on the head and instantly killed and the other had one of his thigh bones broken. Truly a sad affair, and another warning to boys.

MR. BLAIR.—For several months past our paper has contained a number of communications denouncing the acts of the Waynesboro' School Directors. We do not object to have our labors in the school cause criticised, if done in a fair, manly and dignified manner, but when truth is disregarded and the criticisms display such unmistakable evidence, that the author has adopted this plan, under the mask of secrecy, to gratify the personal dislike he entertains for at least some members of the board, we cannot refrain from pronouncing his criticisms contemptible.

We do not intend to reply to the various charges made against us, but we do demand that the name of the author be placed before the public; and when this is done, the critic and the criticisms placed side by side, they shall thus unitedly receive, from an appreciative public, the consideration due them—no more, no less. Let the brave Knight appear! Respectfully, E. A. HERING, JNO. W. COON, WM. L. HAMILTON, JOS. H. CREES, F. FORTMAN, J. B. HAMILTON. Waynesboro, Jan. 10th, 1873.

According to the report of the Department of Agriculture for November and December, which we have just received from Hon. Frederick Watts, Commissioner, the following is the average yield per acre of the principle crops of this State for the year 1872: Corn, 39; wheat, 11.2; rye, 13.4; oats, 33.5; barley, 21.2; buckwheat, 16.6; potatoes, 99; sweet potatoes, 70; leaf tobacco, 1,300, and hay, 1.12 tons.

The grain fields are fortunately still protected by the snow, but should the present mild state of the weather continue a day or two longer they are likely to be left minus their present warm covering.

HEARTH AND HOME.—This elegant illustrated journal is one of the most welcome of our many weekly visitors. Though devoted more especially to the home circle, it treats of a wide range of subjects.—The engravings are all in the highest style of art. The reading matter is of the choicest kind, chaste, instructive and interesting to young and old. The department devoted to the little folks is ably edited by Mrs. Dodge, who understands thoroughly the art of combining fun and pleasure with instruction. The household department is full of valuable hints and practical information which must greatly aid every housekeeper. The editorials show evidence of much ability, and treat the topics of the day with candor and fairness. It is published by Orange Judd & Co., 245 Broadway, New York. Terms $3.00 for one copy, one year.

Dear "Backwoods Grumbler," an answer seems scarcely necessary to your flatteringly tergiversations, and yet a duty devolves upon me as enjoyed by the wise man. See Prov. 26: 5. Your school-boy style of composition is indicative of failure in out-growing the crude, ill-digested ideas of childhood. You seem to be so thoroughly impressed with the importance of quotations; that you have rummaged "The Book of Familiar Quotations" in search of what you seem painfully destitute of—ideas. Your strong hold seems to lie in quotations; your weak one in hitching them together. These fit into their places with about the same appropriateness and relevancy, as the Hardsell Baptist text, "He shall flee to the mountain of Hepsidam where the lion roareth and the whang-doodle mourneth for his first-born," into his immortal discourse, "the harp of a thousand strings."

Dear Grumbler (or Grumble, if the types choose to make you so) did you ever reflect that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link? Your quotations are beautiful! sublime!! exquisite!! But the links, man! The links are miserably weak and cannot bear the strain to which they are submitted. Your attempt at "sarcasm" is about as successful as the golden fleecy Argonaut leader to find the golden fleece "ding, dong, bell, pussy in the well, &c." Sweet Grumbler, (or Grumble as you like it) think you that the school bell will ring the less clearly and sonorously, because of the worthy names upon it? Are they not worthy ones? Have not their fellow-townsmen so declared? Candidly, Grumbler, does not the trouble lie, not so much in the names, as in the side to which they belong? Should you ever have the courage to emerge from your backwoods obscurity, you may discover that blind devotion to party, unwillingness to attribute pure motives to an opponent; is evidence of a craven spirit only worthy of the dark ages.

It is no fault of mine that your cogitation is not to-day upon that bell. You must lay the blame on the community where you have been suffered to bloom unnoticed. It is vain for you to resist the inevitable. A minister once met a Dutchman who had just lost his wife by death. "Was your wife resigned?" said the sympathizing divine. "Resigned? Resigned? My vein God, she had to be resigned!" So you, dear Grumbler, when the sweet tones of that bell breaks the stillness of the morning, will have to be resigned.

As to the additional expense incurred by the inscription, be easy, my boy. Your purse will never be made the lighter thereby, as the bell did not cost one farthing extra by the addition, as the Messrs. Fultons will inform you. Your gratuitous assault upon the worthy men who direct the educational affairs of their thrifty town can do them no harm. I presume your hefty contribution weighs about as heavily upon them as did the goat upon the ox's horn.

One parting word, and I will leave you to your own reflections, promising not to deign further reply to anything you may say. Jangling quotations have ceased to be regarded as conclusive evidence of talent. The prattings of a parrot are no mark of intelligence. Puppy dogs bark fiercely at the honestest of men, but are otherwise harmless. Should your attack of bell on the brain prove fatal, the muffled notes of that school bell may yet be called upon to toll out your requiem. Until then, good bye, John.
