

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, May 1, 1873.

Over a thousand hotels in the State have closed since the election on the license question.

The epidemic is now afflicting San Francisco. Just the same scenes as we were familiar with a few months ago are now enacted in that city.

The trial of Holohan and Nicholson for the murder of Mrs. Lampley will commence at Annapolis on Monday, May 5th.

Albert Zitzer, aged 16, was convicted of manslaughter at Carlisle, last week, for the killing of his father, Dr. C. F. Zitzer, in January last. The defense was that Dr. Z. did not die from the blow given by his son; that the blow was delivered in self-defense; and that the Doctor had given his son liquor, and was therefore responsible for his son's conduct.

Two of the worst bands of Apache Indians have unconditionally surrendered to Gen. Crook. The general, during his campaign against these Indians, gave them no rest, but fought them whenever he found them until they surrendered. These tribes have defied the troops for twenty years, but are now completely subdued.

The recent snow storm in Nebraska was one of the most severe ever known there. Men were frozen to death whilst attempting to reach their stock in the immediate vicinity of their homes. A man named Marshall, a Mrs. Keeler and child, and the wife and child of Mr. Bent, were frozen to death in different sections. The destruction of horses and cattle were great. Some farmers lost all they had.

On Friday night Jack Frost made a raid through the Southern States that seems to have done considerable damage to the tender buds of spring. A despatch from Goldsboro', North Carolina, reports heavy frosts over the eastern portion of the State and great injury to the fruit. All the cotton that has been planted is killed. A despatch to the same effect comes from Columbia, South Carolina. In Tennessee the fruit was badly nipped; also the growing corn and wheat.

Nearly $250,000 in U. S. bonds, which had been obtained from the Bank of England by the forgers, McDonnell and his associates, were recovered in New York on the 21st. A trunk had arrived by express from England; its contents being suspected, it was taken possession of by the receiver appointed by the court, and found to contain a quantity of wearing apparel, and wrapped up in soiled linen, three packages of bonds. The bonds were found to correspond in number and description with those advertised by the Bank of England. Out of about $300,000, obtained by the forgers, all but $30,000 has been now recovered, while the forgers themselves have all been arrested.

Governor Kellogg, of Louisiana, has finally plucked up his courage, and brought to a decisive test the question whether his administration or that of McEnery shall rule the State. He has ordered the prosecution of McEnery and others for treason, and for participation in the Colfax slaughter. This takes the issue into the Courts, and gives hopes of some action that may restore peace in distracted Louisiana. Meanwhile Kellogg has fitted up an armed steamer, and organized a battalion of cavalry to be ready to reinforce the authority of the Government in any part of the State. If this precaution had been sooner taken the massacre at Colfax might have been prevented.

You can take a dutchman and make a mere military machine out of him; you can drill him into a regular attendance at school or at church; you can mould him into obedience to the harshest and most cruel system of law, but take away his lager beer and you make him a rebel and a mutineer. In Frankfurt, Germany, on Tuesday last, a most dreadful riot occurred in consequence of a rise in the price of beer. The rioters destroyed seven Breweries, and were only quelled at last by the military.

Serenity does not settle over the Indian complications. Whilst we are waiting to hear of the punishment of the Modocs, news comes by way of the Red River country that the troops upon the border have been fighting with the Blackfeet, and that there has been considerable loss of life. There appears to be prospects of a general war in the vicinity of the Canadian frontier. After having been supported on reservations by the Government all winter those Indians, like many others, are ready to take the war path with the opening spring. With regard to the Modocs there is not much that is new, except the announcement that they will probably split up into small bands, whom the cavalry will have to hunt down. Mr. Meacham, who narrowly escaped death, thinks they must be entirely subdued. He is the most thoroughly converted Peace Commissioner in the world.

The Agricultural Society of Washington county has secured a lease on ten acres of ground lying on Fankstown pike, one mile from Hagerstown, and will hold their annual exhibition there this year.

THE BLOODY MODOCs.—Our information from the lava beds (says the Harrisburg Telegraph) is not, so far, quite as satisfactory as we would wish it to be; in fact it is by no means encouraging to the belief we would fain entertain that the murderous horde of savages will soon be surrounded and wiped out, or made prisoners to be subsequently summarily dealt with as their treachery and bloody deeds merit. There are reported to be but fifty fighting men among them, and if this be so, with the Military force now at the disposal of Gen. Gillem, it would seem possible to make short work with them. But we are bound to believe that all has been done that could be done by the military, and yet comparatively little has been accomplished. But the very paucity of numbers of these Indians renders them more difficult to get at, and in the wild country which they occupy, with so many hiding places familiar to them, their weakness constitutes their strength.

At this time, when the indignation and excitement created by the murders of Canby and Dr. Thomas are yet alive, and when war for the extermination or capture of the whole band of assassins is being waged by our troops, some information regarding the bloody drama will probably be acceptable to most of our readers. A reporter of the San Francisco Chronicle, who accompanied the commission, and who, on several occasions, had shared the tent of Captain Jack, gives an interesting account of the personal appearance and characteristics of the members of the band prominent in the massacre. Captain Jack, he tells us, is a full-blooded Modoc of about thirty years of age, though he looks much older. He has a good head, though, like all Indians, the forehead is low and retreating. His complexion is dark, being a bright copper color, and his eyes are black, full and piercing. His hair is long, hanging down to the shoulders, and his face is entirely destitute of beard. His mouth is large, and its shape indicates firmness and determination, though it by no means denotes cruelty and baseness—traits which Jack seems to possess above all others. In manner he is cool, self-possessed and very dignified. He was said to be the last man in the tribe who it would be thought could be guilty of so base an act—an act entirely out of keeping with his past character.

Schonchin, whose death has been reported, though on doubtful authority, is a brother of the former chief, Jack's predecessor, and a rival to Captain Jack himself, believing that he has a hereditary right to the position. In all the negotiations he has been more exacting than the chief or any other of the tribe. Boston Charles, the man who killed Rev. Dr. Thomas, is a young Indian not more than twenty-two years old. He is practically white, and had always been supposed to be one of the best disposed Indians in the tribe. He was, the correspondent tells us, good-humored, always laughing and talking, and seemed to like the whites better than the Indians. Hunka Jim, who is not a Modoc proper, is stated to be the worst man among them, and one of whom Captain Jack was at times afraid. He with Black Jim, were leaders in the horrible murders of the settlers last December, and both are looked upon as the most desperate warriors in the party. Such are the individualities of these men as described by the graphic pen of one who was in their company daily for weeks. Types of a rapidly perishing race, distinguished only for treachery and cruelty, they have struck the blow whose recoil will result in their annihilation sooner or later; a consummation perhaps not devoutly wished for, but certainly not to be contemplated with any great degree of regret. It is written, and cannot be blotted out, that barbarism must give way to civilization—that the savage must go down before the civilized man.

At the Cumberland County Court, last week, startling developments were made concerning the conduct of the Steward of the Poor House, in his treatment of those at the small-pox hospital, last winter. The hospital was opened last September, and placed in the charge of a vagrant woman, unusually drunken and degraded. At 8 P. M. she would lock up the sick in the dark, and go to bed, leaving them without attendance during the night. In two cases, she tied the poor creatures at night, and left them alone; finally they died in this condition. Many of the patients were in high fever, and unable to obtain a drink of water during the whole night of suffering. The room was not warmed, and a child who had recovered from the small-pox, died from the cold. The breakfast given to the patients was dry bread, and poor coffee, sweetened with molasses. For dinner, soup from which the meat had been removed. This soup was served from the common wash bowl. This food was served to all, from infant children up. Supper was the same as breakfast, with applebutter added. On Sunday, supper was omitted altogether. These sickening details were fully proved on the trial, and the Steward convicted.

Dr. Jacob Thomas, convicted on the 16th of March at Frederick, Md., of manslaughter in the killing of John L. Belt, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years. The killing occurred at Adamstown, Frederick county, and was the result of a misunderstanding about a colored boy.

At the election for Chief Burgess, Councilmen and High Constable, will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, the 6th day of May. The tickets to be voted will, we presume, be Democratic and Reform.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—The railroad station house at the crossing of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago and the Lake Shore Railroads was burned on Saturday night, and a man, aged seventy, named Kless, his daughter, and five children, living in the station house, perished in the flames.

Local News.

The weather continues cool with plenty of rain.

The State Normal School at Shippensburg has three hundred students.

The Republican Committee on Saturday decided upon Tuesday the 3d day of June next, for the meeting of the County Convention.

BACK.—Mr. Jos. Anderson has again taken up his residence in this place and commenced the Tailoring business on Leistersburg street. See advt.

Jurors are now allowed by law two dollars a day and mileage. The increase will no doubt be acceptable to those drawn to serve in that capacity.

TURNPIKE ELECTION.—The annual election for President and Managers of the Waynesboro' and Maryland State Line Turnpike Company will be held on Monday next.

NUNNERY MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Snow Hill Society or Seventh-day Baptists, near this place, will be held on Saturday the 10th inst. Should the weather prove favorable the attendance of strangers will doubtless be usual or large.

BEER and ale, says the Shippensburg News, are now delivered to parties in town in kegs, at club rates. We presume a choice chromo accompanies each keg as a premium, and will be hung on the nose.

THE FLY.—Some of the wheat fields in this region are said to have been damaged to some extent by the ravage of the fly. The destruction for the most part, as usual, is confined to the early sowing. But the general prospects, it must be admitted, are rather flattering than otherwise.

CHANCE FOR A MERCHANT.—A rare opportunity is offered to some enterprising business man who may wish to engage in the business of merchandising. Ringgold, Md. is one of the best paying country locations of which we have any knowledge. The stock of goods is offered at private sale. See advt.

BEES DYING.—We understand some of the bees in this section owing to the backwardness of the season are dying from starvation. Owners of bees should look after and supply them with honey, and if this cannot be obtained, furnish a substitute by mixing water with white sugar and boiling to a syrup.

STONE COAL.—A few days since Mr. G. V. Mong exhibited to us a sample of stone coal taken from the lands of a Mr. Grosh, near Franklin Furnace in this county. It is a whitish coal but burns well. The vein where first discovered was about six inches in width, but had increased at the depth reached at last accounts to four feet. Vast quantities are believed to be imbedded in that region.

GOSE.—Mr. A. D. Gordon on Sunday morning last took final leave of home and friends. Mr. G. had been one of our most active and enterprising citizens. The Waynesboro' Brewery and dwelling, one of the finest improvements in our town will serve as a reminder of an absent but kind-hearted man and public spirited citizen. He took the train at Chambersburg on Tuesday morning for Salt Lake City where he expects to engage permanently in business.

FINE IMPROVEMENT.—Dr. John M. Ripple on the first ult. occupied his new dwelling erected last fall on the site of the Western School House. The building is a handsome one and contributes materially to the appearance of things at the "West end." The Dr. is now engaged in cleaning off the grounds, setting out evergreens, shrubbery, etc. When the whole is enclosed with fencing and other necessary improvements added, he will have one among the most desirable residences in our town.

STILL SEILING.—All licenses taken out previous to the first of January, '73, it seems hold good until the time granted expires. Owing to this fact Mr. Hiram Henneberger of the Waynesboro' Bakery, Confectionery and Restaurant, is the only person in town who can lawfully set up ale or lager at his counter at present, and this he can continue to do till the 1st of October next. Of course Hiram has a "run," but his house, as usual, is orderly and well conducted.

BOROUGH ELECTION.—An election for Chief Burgess, Councilmen and High Constable, will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, the 6th day of May. The tickets to be voted will, we presume, be Democratic and Reform.

P. S. Since the above was in type the following Reform ticket nominated on Tuesday evening was handed us for publication: Chief Burgess—J. W. Miller. Councilmen—David Rider, W. A. Reid, John W. Bell, George Middour, Geo F. Lidy. Auditor—Jacob F. Reisinger. High Constable—Jacob Beckner. Supervisor—Emanuel Diefenderfer.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—The railroad station house at the crossing of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago and the Lake Shore Railroads was burned on Saturday night, and a man, aged seventy, named Kless, his daughter, and five children, living in the station house, perished in the flames.

PUBLIC CEMETERY.—For sometime past the importance of a public Cemetery has been agitating the minds of many citizens. It appears a meeting was recently held, at which a temporary organization was effected and a Committee appointed to make selection of ground, etc. We understand the committee have already made choice of about sixteen or twenty acres of timber land about one mile and a quarter south-west of town, along side of the Waynesboro' and Maryland State Line Turnpike, belonging to Mr. John Leshar. The spot selected is sufficiently elevated and otherwise well adapted for a Cemetery, but it is urged by many that the distance from town is too great, and we think there is reason for objection on this account. To satisfy all persons as to a location would perhaps be impossible, but one with less inconveniences would certainly be more desirable and material to enhance the prospects of final success. A few thousand dollars should not be permitted to stand in the way of a more convenient and desirable location. We understand it is proposed to take the stock in shares of $50.00. The necessity of a public cemetery is admitted on all hands and if a selection of ground can be made that will give more general satisfaction success we believe would follow, and a public enterprise, so necessary, and so long talked about, be secured. There is scarcely a town anywhere with a population equal to ours that has not its public Cemetery. Chambersburg, Greencastle and Mercersburg have long since been provided for in this respect. Our burying grounds are rapidly filling up making prompt action in reference to the matter a necessary duty. Our country friends are equally interested for a public Cemetery and will contribute their quota in stock. Harmonize on a location and the work will go forward successfully.

NEW HALL.—We announced some time since that the Odd Fellows of this place purposed taking down their present Hall and erecting a handsome three-story structure in its stead. But it seems that the matter of location has not yet been fully determined, some of the members favoring a different site for the building. We presume the Hall as it now is could, with a comparatively small expense, be converted into a first class dwelling house and disposed of for such purpose to advantage. In this way it is contended they would be enabled to secure a more eligible location with ground sufficient for two fine business rooms instead of one. The present location is certainly not as desirable as some that might be selected. The ground is low and the lot too narrow for such a building. The Order would display wisdom we think by selecting a site on higher ground on Main street, either East or West.

THE OLD CUMBERLAND FURNACE.—Messrs. P. A. & D. V. Ahl have recently purchased the property of Mr. Peter N. Tritt, at Milltown, in this county, the former site of "Cumberland Furnace." They have also bought the farm of Wm. H. Miller, Esq., of which the celebrated "Heller ore bank" forms a part adjoining the above, as well as a number of other farms and large tracts of timber and mineral lands in the immediate vicinity. Their purchases extend for several miles along the Yellow Breeches Creek, and line of the H. & P. R. R., embracing within its limits the famous "Peach Orchard Ore Mines," amounting in the aggregate to near five thousand acres, and re-uniting in a great measure, which was formerly the estate of the late Gen. T. C. Miller. The location at this point for an iron works is said to be the finest in the Valley, and with recent large discoveries of iron ore on these lands, the "Old Cumberland" is destined to more than regain its former glory as an iron producing estate. The investment of the Messrs. Ahl in re-uniting this old estate is said to have been over one hundred thousand dollars. —Shippensburg News.

HITCHCOCK'S ANALYSIS OF THE HOLY BIBLE.—For almost two weeks our town has been visited by our clever and worthy friend, Mr. L. V. Gloss, who is canvassing for "Dr. Hitchcock's Analysis of the Holy Bible." The book sells readily. Indeed no man should be destitute of a copy of this valuable work. But this is the main point you should notice. Although you have been duped by many book agents heretofore, be careful not to turn a cold shoulder to the above named gentleman, as he intends to call upon every family in this township. We can commend him to the hearty reception of all upon whom he may call. Look at the work for which he is canvassing, let him explain it to you, and whether you will buy or not, you will derive many important truths.

The new Synod of the Reformed Church, met at Frederick, Md., and organized by electing Rev. Dr. J. O. Miller, of York, President, Rev. W. H. Deatrick, of Gettysburg, Stated Clerk, and Rev. J. W. Santee, Assistant Stated Clerk. The Synod is composed of Maryland, Zion, Mercersburg, Virginia and North Carolina Classes, and numbered over one hundred ministers. The Synod adjourned to meet at Chambersburg, Pa., on the 22d of October next.

Cleanliness and a free use of lime will keep the doctor and typhoid fever away.

Give the steady printer his dues.

WESTERN MARYLAND RAILROAD.—A large force of laborers are now employed on the Western Maryland railroad, between Baltimore and Owings Mills and an early completion of the road to Williamsport is promised. The "Independent line" from this city to Owings Mills and known to the officers of the road as the 'Baltimore division,' beginning in the city at the west end of the Baltimore and Potomac tunnel, (Cooke and Fulton streets), and runs in a tolerable direct line to its junction with the present track, about one mile east from Owings Mills. The distance from the same point to Calvert station by the existing line is sixteen miles. The chief benefit anticipated from the work now in progress is not the shortening of the distance, but the control the company will have over its own operations, which are now dependent on the Northern Central railway. At Owings Mills a large quantity of rails have been delivered, and others are daily arriving. An immense number of cross-ties are upon ground and ready for use and a few hundred feet of track laid.

Of the six miles of the road between Hagerstown and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, at Williamsport, one-third is graded and all is under contract, and will be vigorously pushed to an early completion, four months being the limit. When completed it is hoped that considerable quantities of coal will be transported over the road for distribution along its line, for the city supply and perhaps for shipment, the road having direct tide-water communication through the Potomac tunnel and over the Union railroad to Canton. —Baltimore Sun.

HASSON'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF TAR.—This celebrated preparation for the cure of coughs and colds, long and favorably known in most of the Northern States can now be had at the principal Drug Stores and Dealers in the United States. It is an infallible remedy for the cure of coughs and colds, hoarseness, sore throat, bronchitis and croup in children. For the cure of chronic catarrhs and asthma, it never fails in curing the worst cases. For hooping cough and croup, there is no preparation known to the profession superior to it. It will relieve hooping cough in an hour or two, and a few bottles will make a permanent cure of Asthma. It is no private quack preparation. It was originally prescribed by some of the most celebrated physicians in the United States, and is now recommended by the most eminent doctors throughout the country. The proprietors are willing to give a full list of the ingredients it contains to any respectable physician, but its own merits alone can recommend it to their favor and their patronage. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States. P. S. See that the signature of RUSSELL & LANDIS, Proprietors is on each wrapper. For sale by Dr. J.
