

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, August 21, 1873.

The cholera cases in Southern and Western towns and cities are diminishing.

The Gettysburg Springs Hotel has over 100 guests.

Mrs. E. Yost died in Wilkesbarre, Pa., on Tuesday, aged 105 years. She was born in Germany.

The Democratic State Convention will meet at Wilkesbarre on the 27th instant.

Ladies toes are worth money in Auburn. A lady who broke her big toe by a fall on the sidewalk made the city pay $1,500 damages.

An estimate of immigrants who have arrived in the United States since the establishment of the Government and up to the end of the year 1872, places the whole number at 8,620,452.

The saloon-keepers of Saginaw City, Mich., have resolved that they will sell no liquor, wine or beer to married men without a permit from their wives.

The constables of Blair county returned about forty persons for selling liquor without license, and bench warrants for their arrest were issued. They were arrested and gave bail in $500 each for their appearance at next term of court.

The Democratic State Convention which assembled in Baltimore on Tuesday last, renominated the present incumbents, Hon. Levin Woodford for Comptroller, and Jas. H. Franklin, Esq., for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

A colony of Menonites, numbering, it is said, 40,000 persons, and now residing in Russia, are about to emigrate to this country this Fall and settle in some of the Western States. The Menonites (commonly called Menists) are quite numerous in Lancaster, Pa., and other portions of this State.

Hon. Wm. M. Meredith, one of the most distinguished lawyers of Philadelphia, died in that city on Sunday, aged seventy-seven. He was President of the Pennsylvania Constitutional Convention now in session in Philadelphia, and he also presided over the Constitutional Convention of 1838.

A terrible casualty occurred near Lancaster, Pa. A large number of women and girls were on a mountain gathering berries when a terrific thunder storm arose. Twenty-one of the berry pickers took shelter in an abandoned shanty, and almost immediately afterwards the building was struck by lightning. Two women were instantly killed. Seven others were severely injured.

It appears that the Democracy in Maryland are not having a very harmonious time of it just now. In Allegheny and Anne Arundel counties there is an open rupture in the party. Second conventions have been called by some of the leading spirits of the party who utterly repudiate and refuse to support the ticket nominated by the "ring," as they term it, and accuse Gov. Whyte of getting up the monopoly for his own benefit.

A terrible accident occurred at half-past ten o'clock on Saturday night near Lemont, on the Chicago and Alton Railroad, an incoming freight train colliding with a south bound express passenger train, almost entirely wrecking the latter. Six persons were killed outright and some thirty-seven others fearfully injured, many of whom, it is said, will die. The cars caught fire, and numbers of the injured were burned badly, while others were scalded by the hot water from the locomotive boilers.

A Harper's Ferry correspondent writes: "Of all the old Government buildings in the armory enclosure before the war, the only one that has escaped destruction is John Brown's engine house. Situated in the exposed position, it stands as intact now as the day when John Brown and his party were taken prisoners. Not a quarter of a mile from the engine house, where, only fourteen years ago, the first blow was struck at the fetters of the American slave, now stands Storrs College an institution originally endowed by the munificence of a private gentleman, for the education of the freedmen. Every year graduates of both sexes leave its hall."

Of the recent murder in Chester county, a correspondent of the German-town Telegraph writes: "There is no longer any doubt that Wm. T. Goss was the man murdered. It is true, however, that the public as yet have no information of the strength of the defense, and the prisoner having supplied himself with counsel, it will doubtless be the most exciting trial ever had at this Court. On the part of the Commonwealth and insurance companies there have been two hundred witnesses already docked for the trial which comes off at the October term of Court."

SALE OF FOX HOUNDS.—Mr. A. Winters, of Westminster, Md., has sold a pair of his celebrated Irish fox hounds to Mr. Jas. Lutzel, of Columbus, Ga., for $100. Mr. W. sold last fall to a gentleman living in the same city a pair for $300. From the sale of twelve dogs he has realized the sum of $700.

To the Citizens of Pennsylvania.

Your attention is especially invited to the fact that the National Banks are now prepared to receive subscription to the Capital Stock of the Centennial Board of Finance. The funds realized from this source are to be employed in the erection of the buildings for the International Exhibition, and the expenses connected with the same. It is confidently believed that the Keystone State will be represented by the name of every citizen alive to patriotic commemoration of the one hundredth birth-day of the nation. The shares of stock are offered for $10 each, and subscribers will receive a handsomely steel engraved Certificate of Stock, suitable for framing and preservation as a national memorial.

Interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum will be paid on all payments of Centennial Stock from date of payment to January 1, 1876.

Subscribers who are not near a National Bank can remit a check or post-office order to the undersigned.

FREDK. FRALEY, Treasurer, 904 Walnut St. Philadelphia.

NOT A NICE PLAY THING.—A Lehigh county man and woman went to the hayfield the other day and took their baby and placed it in the shade. Sometime after, the mother noticed the child playing with a black strap which the little one would every now and then let fall out of the wagon and then crawl out after it, seemingly being very busy with the object it had in possession to amuse itself. Not knowing how it got the strap, she persuaded her husband to go and see what it was. Imagine the father's horror and terror when, on drawing near he found that the child was actually fondling a black snake, at least four feet in length, now wrapped around the little one's body, then again entwining itself about its neck, and going through all kinds of frightful movements, its red tongue darting out of its mouth with lightning-like rapidity, and the child all the while stroking it, and joyfully laughing until the tears rolled down its cheeks. The snake was killed, to the grief of the child.

One hundred of the Menonites, who have exiled themselves from Russia rather than submit to military service and adapt themselves to Russian manners and customs, arrived in New York on Friday, and started for Kansas on Saturday, where they will settle. There are between forty and fifty thousand of this sect in Russia, and probably very nearly all of them will choose expatriation in preference to giving up their peace principles. They are Baptists, but with reference to war hold the same views as the Quakers. For many years they have been exempted from the army conscription in Russia, but the Czar has recently revoked this privilege, and given them ten years in which to leave the country or become Russian subjects in every particular. This country will profit by receiving thousands of these industrious and thrifty people among its citizens. Various delegations have been searching through the Western States to determine on suitable homes for the emigrants, and a colony of 5,000 will come out in May. Notwithstanding its harsh measures toward them, the Russian Government is loth to let them depart, and the few who have already arrived here had trouble in obtaining permission to leave the country.

DEATH BY INCHES.—The Philadelphia papers tell a shocking story of the confinement and starvation of a young girl in that city by her stepmother. Since last Christmas she has been a close prisoner in one room, and fed with kitchen refuse, when she was given anything at all, which was not frequently. On some occasions, when her sufferings had driven her to the verge of insanity, muddy water would be handed to her, and she would greedily drink it. A few days ago she escaped from the room to a shed, and thus reached the ground. Some charitable people took compassion on her, but the cruel treatment and deprivation of food which she has undergone have reduced her to such a condition that it is impossible for her to live much longer. She is a mere skeleton, and when she escaped she was so filthy as to be positively disgusting. The brutal woman has been arrested and committed to jail.

BLEEDING AT THE NOSE.—A correspondent of the Scientific American says, "the best remedy for the bleeding at the nose, as given by Dr. Gleason, in one of his lectures, is a vigorous motion of the jaws, as if in the act of mastication. In the case of a child, a wad of paper should be placed in its mouth and the child instructed to chew it hard. Of course an adult does not need the paper. It is the motion of the jaws that stays the flow of blood. This remedy is so very simple that many will feel inclined to laugh at it, but it has never been known to fail in a single instance, even in very severe cases."

Ben Mishler, original proprietor of Mishler's bitters, Lancaster, Pa., erected a three story house in that city, last week in fourteen hours. This is the second enterprise of the kind which he has undertaken.

The prize baby at a recent California baby show, weighing two and a half pounds when dressed is to be exhibited through the United States.

Local News.

The Oakville Camp Meeting, owing to the continuous wet weather, was rather simply attended last week, according to reports.

Last week Henry Barnhart had one of his fingers crushed so badly in a horse-power at Leitersburg that amputation was required.

The hotel men in this county against whom true bills were found by the Grand Jury for selling liquor without license had their cases postponed until next court, each giving bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at that time.

LECTURE.—The weather permitting, Mr. John Kelsey, the Bucks county "harrow man," will deliver another open air lecture in this place on Saturday evening next. Subject—"Woman's Rights and Wrongs."

BUSINESS RESUMED.—It will be seen by reference to his advertisement, that Mr. L. K. Morrison, late of the firm of Hamilton & Morrison, has re-commenced the coach-making business at the old stand on Mechanic Street.

NEW STORE.—Jacob Snider, of Fulton county, has leased rooms in the Oellig building, on the Diamond, and purposes opening a boot and shoe store next week. He is now East making purchases. Advt. next week.

NO "TEN CENT MAN."—We are pleased to announce that we have not had one "ten cent man" on our list—that is, subscribers who stopped their paper on account of the new law requiring postage to be paid on it.

Two years advertising of Ursinus College ($15,00) has been on our books for over three years. We think it high time the party who ordered its insertion, the institution, or somebody, would settle the account.

RINGGOLD STORE.—Mr. Horine Dutrow has purchased the stock of goods at Ringgold, formerly owned by Mr. John H. Gehr, and will continue the mercantile business at that place. He is said to be a clever gentleman and a correct business man.

Subscribers to the Record will receive their papers as usual at his store.

LECTURE.—Mr. Jno. Kelsey, the Bucks county "harrow man," gave his promised lecture off of the Bowden House porch on Saturday evening last. He had a large audience, resembling somewhat a political gathering. The lecture consisted of a history of Mr. Kelsey's life, which was a very eventful one, with his peculiar views of "the Bible and its Teachings."

CHOLERA MEDICINE.—We acknowledge the receipt of a very acceptable present this week, a one dollar bottle of Dr. Wickley's Cholera Medicine, from our friend, Mr. David Mort, who has been extensively engaged in the manufacture of the article for 10 or 12 years. We can vouch for its being the genuine article.—No family should be without a bottle summer or winter.

WAYNESBORO' BREWERY.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that the Gordon property, Waynesboro' Brewery and Dwelling, will be sold on the 20th day of September next.—The buildings are new, the Brewery two stories and the Dwelling three stories high. It is one of the finest properties in our Borough and very advantageously situated for business. It is understood the property will positively be sold on that day.

A correspondent in the last Public Opinion congratulates the people of our county that the "day of freedom has dawned." That the "last liquor license expired on Saturday." The writer is a little mistaken. Waynesboro' has one licensed house, and the only one in the county, that of Mr. Hiram Henneberger. Hiram "sets it up," ice-cold ale, porter, etc., but at the same time conforms to the letter of the law. His license will expire on the 2nd day of November next.

CHANCE FOR A NURSERYMAN.—Mr. Daniel Crouse, Proprietor of "Antietam Nursery," near this place, owing to his advanced age and declining health, wishes to retire from the Nursery business. Any person wishing to engage in the business can no doubt make a profitable investment by purchasing the said Nursery.—Next month he proposes offering at public auction about 6000 peach trees, in case the Nursery is not disposed of in the meantime. For further particulars call on Mr. C. or address him at this place.

John W. Brown, M. E., of this township, was one day last week elected to take charge of the High Department of the Graded Schools of Mercersburg. From what we know of Mr. Brown, the School Board of that place will have no cause to regret their selection of a Principal. Mr. B. is an experienced teacher, and graduate of the Cutstowa Normal School. A couple years since he declined the Principalship of the graded schools of Stroudsburg, county seat of Monroe county, Pa., at a handsome salary, in consequence of a previous engagement with the School Board in Quincey township.

PUBLIC SALE.—We call special attention to the sale of personal property by Mrs. McCauley.

Y. M. C. A.—The Young Men's Christian Association will hold meetings on Sunday next, at 3 o'clock, at Tomstown and Pleasant Hill school house.

The appointments made for holding prayer meetings in Pikesville, Tomstown, Ringgold, Pleasant Hill, or elsewhere, will be punctually filled. The people in the districts where the meetings are to be held may rest assured that the indefatigable zeal of the Committee of the Association will not allow a little rain, or slight inconvenience of any kind, to prevent the persons who are to lead the exercises from attending promptly at the hour set. We are requested to make this announcement for the reason, on one or two cloudy sabbaths recently, the attendance at the prayer meetings, was rather slim, the people not expecting our town brethren to risk the foul weather. They evidently do not know Mr. (who is chairman of the committee to attend to this work) or they would not expect any ordinary circumstance to hinder him and other earnest members of the association from fulfilling the appointments made from time to time.

BAD PAVEMENTS.—It would be well for our Borough Council, whilst on the grading and paving question, to look after property holders on Main Street, East and West. If any town in the county or adjoining counties has worse pavements, strangers who visit here say they have no knowledge of such place. The majority of our citizens keep their side-walks in repair, but there are others scattered here and there who are just public spirited enough to wade through mud-puddles and have the more cleanly disposed do the same, the year round. If such persons are too careless or too parsimonious to keep up their pavements, the Council should do the work and tax the owner of the property with the cost. If too poor to pay, let it come off the Borough at large. A public nuisance should at no time be permitted on the highway. If our authorities will canvass Main Street some dark evening after a heavy or protracted rain, they will be convinced that reform in this respect is much needed, we think.

COURT DOINGS.—The case of Hiram Henneberger, who was charged with selling ice to a miner, was disposed of last week. Verdict not guilty, but required to pay costs of prosecution. David Cramer who was tried for assault and battery, on oath of John H. Baker, was declared not guilty, and costs of prosecution divided between prosecutor and defendant. Alex. M. Dunn, a lad 15 years old, charged with rape, plead guilty, and was sentenced to pay costs of prosecution and undergo an imprisonment of six months in the county jail.

C. L. Vance, "Indian Doctor," charged with rape, and aiding and abetting A. M. Dunn to commit rape. He was declared guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10, costs in the case, and undergo an imprisonment at labor in solitary confinement in the Penitentiary for seven years and seven months.

The outrage referred to was committed by the boy in July last upon an adopted daughter of a Mrs. Whytemyer, and it was proven that the Dr. had been a accessory to the commission of the crime. He should have been sent fifteen instead of six years to the Penitentiary.

FARMERS CLUB.—This organization—says the Hagerstown Daily—met on the farm of Mr. John Welty in the Ringgold district on Saturday and was largely attended showing that the interest in these meetings is on the increase. After the regular discussion had been concluded and lunch partaken of Mr. David Oswald read an essay which was much applauded and a copy solicited for publication. The next meeting will be held at Druid Hill Park, near Baltimore, on Wednesday September 17th, for which occasion Dr. H. H. Harvey has been selected to read the essay.

The excursion will be over the Western Maryland Railroad with which company an arrangement has been made to furnish round trip tickets for $2, the tickets to be good for three days. Persons who desire to accompany the Club will report to Geo. W. Harris, Esq., on or before the 11th of September.

The subject for discussion at the next meeting will be: "Wheat and the best method of raising it."

S. S. Pappas Nrc.—The Sabbath School connected with Trinity Reformed Church of this place, held a Basket Pic Nic at Beautiful View Springs, on the Mountain, on Friday last. The School formed in procession in vehicles at the Church, and were escorted to the point selected by the Waynesboro' Band. The weather in the morning presented a threatening appearance, but fortunately they escaped a heavy rain shower which fell here. The day was therefore passed pleasantly, the little ones being especially delighted with their mountain trip.

Mr. Emanuel Brosius has sold the Fulton House in McConnellsburg, to Dr. Jacob S. Trout for the sum of $4,500. So says the Republican.

A Baltimore girl was going to sue a false-hearted lover for breach of promise, but she agreed to compromise the matter for $61 and a new "switch."

MEMORIAL.—"Friend after friend departs;— Who hath not lost a friend? There is no union here of hearts That hath not here its end."

It has often been written, and no doubt in many cases with much truth, that "death loves a shining mark;" but in no case, we think, has the truth of the maxim been more fully exemplified, than in the death of our young friend, John Frick. The possessor of an amiable disposition, a kind heart and a generous hand; he by his many social qualities, gathered to himself a large circle of friends from every walk in life, who have been called to mourn his untimely end.

In his death the community has lost a worthy citizen, his associates a kind and steadfast friend, and his family an obedient son and affectionate brother. He was seldom known to be angry or to allow himself to be governed by the baser passions which too frequently rage within the human breast. The cry of the distressed never fell unheeded upon his ear and the suppliant was never turned empty handed from his door. Although not a member of any church he has by his charitable deeds set an example worthy of imitation to many who make a greater profession.

In this writing of a dear departed friend and schoolmate, "I speak of that which I do know and testify to that which I have seen," and to those who knew him best what I have here written will be a true and fitting tribute of respect to one who "was my friend faithful and just to me." Thus one by one our friends pass away from the scenes of mortality, bearing evidence to the truth of the sacred word, "we all do fade as a leaf."

It is to be earnestly hoped, that in the death of my friend, the lesson, though severe, will not be without its effects for good.

RINGGOLD, Md.

THE BIGGEST SNAKE.—The Barnesville Enterprise reports that Joseph Selby, while picking berries, came to what he supposed to be a log, and being somewhat tired he sat down upon it to take a rest, when, much to his surprise, he commenced moving down the hill. He was so much frightened that he did not know for some time what was the propelling power, but when he recovered himself he found that it was a monster snake carrying him upon its back. He supposed it to be from fifty to sixty feet long, and as thick as his body. He fell off during the journey, and the snake continued down into the hollow.—This snake has been seen by various parties for several years past, mostly in the berry season, but nobody has enjoyed such intimate acquaintance with the monster as Mr. Selby.

The above snake tops the snake of snakes, the Newville Star's horny one included.

UNRIPE FRUIT.—This being the season of ripe fruit, a Massachusetts newspaper makes pertinent suggestions concerning the same—for instance, that it is well to whip soundly all small boys found near orchards on general preventive principles. It is likewise well to feel their pockets whenever they enter the domestic domain. To find the deadly apple there indicates an intention to eat, and to find none shows that they have already been eaten. Either way there is but one thing which an able and conscientious parent can do. But however much he does this thing, there is no hope of parting the average small boy from his beloved green apple. Not if every apple tree in the country was guarded by a ghost and a dozen rattle-snakes would the small boy forego his favorite fruit. Can we say more.

FAT MEN'S CONVENTION.—The Maryland Republican says of the "Fat Men's Convention," at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, September 10, no credentials will be needed, save adiposity, and of the proper averlupose of delegates. A bulky doorkeeper is to be the judge. What the portly gentlemen are to do for the country's good it is not stated. Their discussions are to be secret, but no apprehensions need be entertained of their ultimate designs. Your Daniel Lambert is never a conspirator, but a good natural, frank philanthropist. High authority assures us that lean and hungry men are dangerous to the welfare of the State. Let us be thankful, therefore, that it is the fat, and not the slender men that are to take counsel together in Ohio, on the 10th of September.

THE WEATHER.—"The wet spell" which set in on Sunday a week, continued up to Tuesday morning of this week, since which time we have had clear weather. The ground has not perhaps been more thoroughly soaked for years. The benefit to corn, potatoes, etc., has been general and beyond computation. It is not often that fine wheat and corn crops are gathered in the same year in the same locality. This year promises an exception however.

The Hagerstown Herald and Torch says that the cost to Carroll county in the murder trials of Davis and Shue, charged as principal aid accessory in the murder of Abm. L. Lynn, foots up the sum of $2,359.81.

Harrison Robinson, indicted in the Circuit Court of Washington county for stealing a horse from L. G. Stanhope, plead guilty, and was sentenced to 6 years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The signature of F. E. Spinner is said to resemble a Chinese prescription for chills.

[COMMUNICATED.

MR. EDITOR.—I had the pleasure of spending a few hours at your County Alms House. The religious services being under the supervision of our venerable friend, Rev. A. Bickley, who has been appointed Chaplain, and our enterprising young townsman, Mr. Geo. Miller, who has just organized a Sabbath School for the special benefit of the paupers, 118 being enrolled, of whom but 46 are able to read, leaving the large number of 72 who can neither read nor write, but having the word of God simplified in a well conducted S. S., they may comprehend many things that pertain to their present and future welfare. I presented the Bible cause, not that I expected pecuniary aid from those who were already poverty stricken, but to ascertain their wants, and I was sorry to learn that but few Bibles were found in the Alms House, and the Hymn Book and Bible in the Public Hall, used for worship, are so much worn that the congregation, by a rising vote, expressed a desire for new ones, and I hope the Honorable Directors at their next meeting will give us the privilege of supplying their wants at the expense of the county, as we shall ask no profit. We dined with the Steward and his estimable lady, who, Martha like, "was cumbered about many things," and knows how to entertain guests, and if we can judge by outward appearances, and the meagre expenditure in the gathering in of the late harvest when compared to former years, in our opinion, our county has been very fortunate in the present selection of Mr. J. Middour and lady, who conducted us through the different apartments, all of which we found clean and in ample order. During the short period of their charge several important changes have occurred which are worthy of note. Three of the paupers who were held in chains have been liberated, one of whom (David W. German), a pair of hobbles being shown us, weighing 73 pounds, which the above wore on his ankles day and night for 18 years, fastened to the floor by a heavy steeple, in a dismal cell, until the irons had become imbedded in his swollen limbs. In witnessing the sight I was amazed and moved to tears. By order of Mr. Middour those rude and heavy shackles were removed, the cell vacated, and those feet which had been bare and in "fetters," were covered with a pair of new shoes, which I saw him wear the first day, seated comfortably in the shade in the enclosure, "lamb" like, and close by his side a full-grown cat which he called "Susie," and which he raised in his cell from a small kitten. I was forcibly reminded of the man dispossessed of devils, Luke 8: 35, "Clothed and sitting at the feet of Jesus." His nails are about one inch in length, and resemble the claws of an eagle. The question arose in my mind, who should "crop" them, Directors, Steward or Bible Agent. The latter would respectfully decline, as the man is athletic, and might be disposed to resist the operation. In view of the foregoing, a fearful responsibility rests somewhere. Who will assume it? The day of Judgment will tell.

Yours, &c., JOHN FOHL, Mill Agt.

CHAMBERSBURG, Aug. 18, '73.

ANOTHER ARTICLE SUPERSEDED.—Associated with the earlier recollections of a great many men and women is the memory of the Bath brick and emery stone wherry with the knives and forks, and pans and kettles, and other kitchen articles were at stated times "scoured up." That primitive mode prevails to-day in thousands of families who have never used Sapolio. But once let Sapolio be used for this purpose and that housewife never wants bath brick or emery stone any more. Sapolio not only scour's off all rust and tarnish, it brightens, bestows a polish as brilliant as new, and does it in one tenth the time required by any other substance. Sold everywhere. Housekeepers, try it.

SINGULAR DEATH.—A blind man, Andrew Goodenberger, aged 65 years, a resident of Conowago township, Adams county, died from a singular cause on the 27th ult. He was engaged the morning before in feeding some poultry, and reaching his hand to the ground to properly scatter the corn thrown out, received a severe peck from one of the chickens. The wound proved very painful, and in two or three hours the hand became greatly inflamed and swollen. Medical aid was summoned and everything possible done for his relief, but he died the next day.—Compiler.

Try what you can make of the broken fragments of time. Glean up its golden dust, those raspings and paring of precious duration, thoseavings of days and remnants of hours which so many sweep into the waste of existence. Perhaps, if you be a miser of moments—if you be frugal and hoard up odd moments and halt hours and unexpected holidays, your careful gleanings may eke you a long and useful life, and you may die at least richer in existence than multitudes whose time is all their own.

The Mormons have a hymn, "We are not ashamed to own our Lord." Very good; but the question is whether the Lord isn't ashamed to own them.

The Second Annual Exhibition of the Berkle County Agricultural and Mechanical Association, will be held at Martinsburg, on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th days of September.

SCANDAL.—The great curse that hangs over every small community is scandal, and a disposition among some few to pick up the merest trifles of gossip and magnify them into hideous deformities. Some people have a peculiar faculty of making themselves intolerable by excessive indulgence in this business, and sometimes so well succeed in injuring the reputation of others that even they themselves must recoil with horror at the reflection. Be sure that you are not one of them.

The Republican State Convention met in Harrisburg on Tuesday a week.—R. W. Mackey, of Allegheny, was nominated for State Treasurer on the first ballot, receiving 115 votes out of 133. On the tenth ballot, Judge Isaac G. Gordon of Jefferson, was nominated for Supreme Judge.

RELIGIOUS.—According to the last census (1870) the number of Protestant communicants in this country was about 5,750,000. The estimated number of nominal members of that church is about 20,000,000. There are 1,990,514 communicants of the Roman Catholic church, and 9,000,000 nominal members.

The Christians observe Sunday, the Greeks Monday, the Persians Tuesday, the Assyrians Wednesday, the Turks Saturday, Catholics Friday and Sunday.

Persons owing this office are asked to settle their accounts before the 10th day of September. A heavy paper bill will be due and payable in Bank at that time.
