Reports from India give distressing accounts of the famine prevailing there. In the Presidency of Bengal over a million persons are starving to death.

A terrific boiler explosion took place in Lancashire, England, on Monday. Twenty persons were instantly killed and thirty injured.

The advertising of the new Constitution in the different newspapers which were authorized to publish it has cost the State over $197,000.

Daniel Kelly, one of the masked burglars concerned in the late robbery at New Rochelle, N. Y., has been sentenced to twenty years at hard labor.

F. B. Evans, of Concord, N. H., was hung on Tuesday of last week, for murdering his niece. He confessed that crime, and also that he brutally murdered a young girl in 1850.

There was a very serious fire in Panama on the 16th ult., which consumed the major part of the city. The loss is roughly estimated at $1,000,000, the greater portion of which is covered by insurance.

Four masked burglars entered the house of Mrs. Wilhelm in Baltimore county, on Monday night of last week, but that lady repulsed them all with a yard stick, notwithstanding their threats to shoot her.

The first gun in the Congressional campaign of 1874 has been fired in the Sixteenth Illinois District, where the farmers have called a convention to meet at Vanadalia, August 27, to nominate a farmers' candidate.

At a meeting of the Fruit-Growers' Association, held at Dover, Del., on Wednesday, the general tenor of all the reports made favored the expectation of a very large yield, so far as can be foreseen now. The germs in the buds have not been killed by the severe cold, but, upon dissection, are found healthy and promising. The expectation of all is that the crop must be very heavy.

A young married man living near Columbus, Wisconsin returned home a few nights ago, unexpectedly, and found a young man there under suspicious circumstances. The next morning he took away his three year old boy, leaving the miserable woman to the fate into which she had fallen. A day or two afterward the mother was discovered in an insane condition about one of the outbuildings of a neighbor, with the shoes of her child in her hands, searching for him, under the frantic delusion that he was buried somewhere in the snow. She is still insane.

INFLATION.—The Cincinnati Gazette says that Hon. R. W. Thompson and Daniel W. Voorhees were the speakers at a currency inflation meeting at Terre Haute on the 24th of February. Voorhees recanted his opposition to greenbacks and paper legal tenders and pronounced them the best currency the sun shines on. He said we ought to have one thousand millions for a starter; that confidence, and not specie, was the true basis for paper money; that specie payment does well to talk about, but is a delusion and a snare, that greenbacks would always stay at par, if we were not for the gold gamblers of New York, and if the Government would issue three hundred millions more to-morrow everything would be lovely. He also said he foresaw the panic would come "unless the circulating medium was in increased commensurate with the growth of the country."

A MAN ROBBED OF HIS FAMILY.—A singular theft was recently committed in Catoch District, in this Valley, where all the parties resided. We are informed that on Thursday night of last week a man named Thomas Shelton eloped with the wife and two children of Lewis Smith, taking with them all the bed clothing belonging to Mr. Smith, who at the time was in Washington county at work.—Shelton was also a married man, and left behind him a wife and one child a little boy about six years of age. Smith's oldest child was also a boy of about the same age. As might well be supposed Mr. Smith was greatly astonished when he returned home on Saturday night last, to find his wife and children gone, and his house emptied of much of its most valuable contents. We are told, however, that he most regrets the loss of his children. It is reported that the runaway started for Pennsylvania, but their real point of destination is as yet unknown.—Middle-town (Md.) Both houses of the Maryland Legislature have passed the bill appropriating $125,000 to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Frederick. The House has passed a bill exempting $100 of wages from attachment, and a bill preventing the opening of barber shops in the State on Sunday. The present session of the Legislature terminates by law on the 6th of April next.

COMMUNICATED.

Editor of Record.—Having seen an article in your columns last week taken from the Repository respecting an effort on the part of the Seventh-day Baptists to induce our Legislature "to repeal the Sunday law of 1794, and to pass a law leaving the observance of the Sabbath to the conscience and judgment of men," which contains inaccuracies calculated to produce erroneous impressions. I wish to state that the Seventh-day Baptists are evidently misrepresented in the article alluded to, and the granting of such a petition would be unwise and improper.

It is true that a petition was circulated through this vicinity for signatures asking the Legislature to exempt members of the Seventh-day Baptist religious society from fines and penalties of the Sunday Law of 1794. But the petition did not ask for a repeal of the law; nor for any modification, nor change of the law from Sunday to Saturday. It was merely for a special act in their favor, on account of their peculiar religious scruples with regard to the particular day. Like as Quakers, Mennonites, Dunkards and others have petitioned to be exempt from swearing sakes from military duty and from appearing in courts of justice. The Seventh-day Baptists are favorable to the observance of a Sabbath day—and they do not desire to have the Sabbath abolished, so as to leave "it merely to the conscience and judgment of men."

The righteous judgment of all the earth established the Sabbath. The framers of our constitution recognizing the authority of Almighty God incorporated the Sabbath as a fundamental law. The people throughout the land ratified and adopted the constitution. The Legislature of 1794 enacted the Sabbath with Legislative sanction and protection, and we have the institution of the Sabbath for the benefit of all classes of society; and as a memorial of the wisdom and piety of our ancestors never to be revoked. The article quoted likewise represents the Seventh-day Baptists as existing in large numbers in Lancaster, Franklin, Adams and Bedford counties; which is not true. They never have existed in large numbers anywhere.

A small community of them emigrated from Germany and located at Ephrata, Lancaster county, Pa. during the last century. A similar colony in Franklin Co. From these a few families moved in Adams and Bedford counties. But, they never became numerous. Instead of increasing they have always been diminishing. Their acquisition of members has not averaged one per annum during the last half century, and putting them all together at the present time, including Ephrata, the Nunnery and elsewhere, do not exceed 50 exemplary members. It would therefore not be equitable to repeal our Sunday laws in mere obedience to the wishes of these few Sabbath-breakers—when all other religious societies (if we except the Jews) footing up their numbers by millions observe the 1st day of the week as their Sabbath.

But, by inspection we find very few names of Seventh-day Baptists on those petitions. And this is not the 1st nor 2d time, that this obscure religious society has been made conspicuous by infidels and rascals in efforts to repeal the law of 1794 thereby to abolish the Holy Sabbath Day!

When they had not the effrontery to say "they disregarded Law"—and "wished every man to act as he pleased"—they found it convenient to effect a pious compassion for the Seventh-day Baptists—though perhaps had never seen one and could not tell where one of them could be found. It was so in 1829 when Christians of all denominations petitioned Congress to stop the transportation of the U. S. Mail on the Sabbath and Dick Johnson objected—"Because if Congress stopped the mail on Sunday the Seventh-day Baptists might ask to have it stopped likewise on Saturday!" And in 1844 when the rascals and infidels petitioned our Legislature to repeal the law of 1794—backed by oyster suppers and other bribes; and assumed an air of piety by pleading that it would be compelled to keep Sunday when they kept Saturday. Some apprehended the repeal of the law under a rascally influence. But God bless the memory of the noble-minded and pure-hearted women of Philadelphia—who circulated remonstrances—and obtained signatures by scores of thousands—forming a roll that filled a man to carry what was actually rolled into the Capitol—and confounded the petitioners so that they went home saying, "there was too much religion at Harrisburg, and too many pious women in Philadelphia—for them to succeed."

And let it be so now. If a bill should be reported—let every first and every seventh day Baptist, and every other believer in the Bible, and every friend of law and good order, sign a remonstrance—and let the cars be crowded with women to go to Harrisburg with these remonstrances and beseech our Legislature to preserve our laws and protect society. H. M.

MARRIED AND DIDN'T KNOW IT.—The suit of Edward K. Winslip, the bankrupt broker, for a divorce from his wife, was before a New York court on Saturday, in relation to his marriage. Mr. Winslip says that while he was in the navy, one Butler, his ship mate, a Philadelphian, went home and was married and invited him to his house. He went there and the next day accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Butler to Germantown, and was introduced to the person from whom he is seeking divorce. On the trip something stronger than water was imbibed, and he knew nothing more until he awoke at his hotel on the following day, when he awoke and discovered a lady in his bed who said she was his wife, and exhibited a certificate to prove the fact. He did not know how they came to be married, as he had only known her two hours before the event took place, and up to the present time he has not been able to find out whether his wife's surname was Batesman, Beekman or Bachman.

Rachael Ferguson, aged 99 years living in Mansfield, Ohio, was burned to death on the 12th instant, by her clothes taking fire.

Local Items.

SALE REGISTRY.—The public sales advertised through the Record will take place in the following order:

John Hemminger, near Quincy, on Saturday the 14th of March. George Barkdoll, (of Jos.) Ringgold, Md., on Wednesday, March 13. Willoughby Thomas, Ringgold, Md., on Wednesday, March 13th. Detroit & Co., Ringgold, Md., on Wednesday, March 13. Fred K. McIntire and Wm. J. Sprengle, Fountain Dale, Adams county, on Friday, March 20. Mrs. K. G. Stover, in Waynesboro', on Saturday, March 21.

The weather is again spring-like. Wild Geese are on the wing. Lent will end on the 4th of April. Fourth of July this year on Saturday. Florida boasts of her new peas and potatoes. Potatoes are plenty here.

FRETTING.—Breaks down the spirits and consumes the vitality. GLOOMY.—The future prospects of those who cheat the printer.

Mr. S. Hays, of Greencastle, has leased the hotel known as the Taylor House, at Williamsport, Md.

CONCERTS.—The Waynesboro' Band propose giving two concerts in the Odd Fellows' Hall, on Friday and Saturday evenings, the 20th and 21st inst.

Subscribers who purpose changing their places of abode, or P.O. address, on the first of April, will please give us timely notice.

PREACHING.—Prof. Wolf of Franklin & Marshall College will preach for St Paul's Reformed congregation on next Sunday morning and evening.

BIRDS.—The local law for the protection of Birds in Washington County Md., has passed the Legislature and been approved by the Governor.

It is so cold in some parts of Vermont that whisky has to be chopped out of the barrels with a hatchet, but purchasers don't complain so long as hatchets are plenty.

Rev. I. N. Hays announced to his congregation in Chambersburg on Sunday that he had determined not to accept the call tendered him by the Presbyterian church at Junction City, Kansas.

The temperance men are making a vigorous effort to prevent the repeal of the local option law. Petitions against the repeal, signed by over 20,000 people were presented in the house on Saturday.

We will publish next week "My Poem," a poetical effusion, the first effort of one of our country school Misses, which we regard as a highly creditable production.

PERSONAL.—Rev. George B. Russell, editor of "Our Church Paper," published in Pittsburg, has been sojourning among his friends in this place the past week. He preached in St. Paul's Chapel on Sunday, morning and evening.

PUBLIC SALES.—We add to our sale register this week Messrs. McIntire and Sprengle, of Fountain Dale, Adams Co., Thomas, Detroit & Co., Ringgold, and Mrs. K. G. Stover of this place. Read their advertisements.

The temperance ladies of Cumberland Md., have formally notified the saloon-keepers of that city to close their bars within four days, or they will proceed against them after the manner of their sisters in Ohio.

PRINTING OFFICE SOLD.—Our friend, Preston O. Good, of this place, has purchased the Printing office at Littleton, Adams county, and will shortly revive the publication of the paper which was suspended in that place some time since. Mr. G. is a first-class printer. He has our best wishes for success.

TEMPERANCE PRAYER MEETING.—A union prayer meeting will be held in the Lutheran Church, this (Thursday) evening, on behalf of the temperance cause, and the interperate. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the members of all the churches and the community generally.

REMOVAL.—We have leased the second floor of the Odd Fellow's new building—the finest room in our town—to which place we expect to remove our office on the first of April. We surrender our old quarters with reluctance, twenty-seven years elapsing with this month since we first occupied the premises. The change is made because the present room is too small for our business.

TEMPERANCE.—Mr. Lorton the Temperance lecturer was unable to fill the appointment made for this place on Thursday evening last, but will lecture here on Tuesday evening, the 10th inst. The following evening he will address the people of Quincy. He spoke there on Friday evening last, but by special request of the audience has consented to deliver another address.

FOUND DEAD.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fahrney, an aged lady, was found dead at the house of her nephew, Mr. Andrew Seeger, near this place, on Saturday morning last, where she had been staying for some time past. She was engaged in singing and religious conversation until a late hour in the evening, retiring in health and good spirits. In the morning a member of the family as usual entered the room to make up the fire and found her a corpse at the bedside. She was a daughter of Jacob Holsinger, dec'd, and wife of Dr. Jacob Fahrney, a man of more than ordinary eminence in the profession, who located in this place many years ago, and who is still remembered by many of our citizens. He was a Presiding Elder or Bishop in the German Baptist Church. It will be twenty-six years on the 12th of April since he departed this life. Both are buried at Price's Meeting House.

ANOTHER SUMMER RESORT.—Our particular friend, Mr. Fred. McIntire, is building an addition to his already fine residence, for the purpose of keeping a summer boarding house. These buildings are situated at Fountain Dale, Adams county, Pa., mid-way between Emmittsburg, Md. and Monterey Springs.—Pure mountain air, cool spring water, plenty of ice, bath house, &c. are among the luxuries which will be found at his place. When his improvements are completed, which will be about the first of May, he expects to be able to accommodate about thirty boarders. Mr. M. like most persons of Irish descent, is big hearted, in other words, hospitable in the extreme. Those who may stop with him will, we predict, fare sumptuously, and not want for any desired comforts or conveniences.

EAGLE FANNING MILL.—The other day our attention was called to this Mill, which is now on exhibition at the Waynesboro' Hotel. We have seen a number of improved Fanning Mills, but this, by far, surpasses them all. It is not cumbersome, only weighing 165 pounds, and runs so light that a lad of 12 years can turn the crank with ease, but its great merit lies in separating grain and grass seeds. It does everything in this line combined, and to a nicety, even separating plants from clover, and oats and rye from wheat. We think farmers who will take the time to call and see it operated will agree with us that they never saw a more complete piece of mechanism of the kind.

APPOINTMENTS.—The following appointments for Chambersburg District were made by the Conference of the United Brethren Church at its late session in Mechanicsburg: Chambersburg, J. C. Smith, P. E.; Mechanicsburg station, S. A. Mowers; Chambersburg station, B. G. Huber; Shippensburg Mission station, J. T. Sheaffer; Rocky Spring Mission station, J. S. Wents; Greencastle station, W. Owen; Ornstown station, to be supplied; Newburg station, W. T. Lower; Newville Mission station, W. A. Dickson; Big Spring station, W. O. Smith; Alto Dale circuit, J. P. Anthony; Mercersburg, P. Corl; Path Valley, W. Quigley; Carlisle, W. H. Wagner; York Spring, L. A. Wickey; Bendersville, I. C. Weidler; Shippensburg, G. W. McBeatty; Fulton, J. Croft.

Since the consolidation of the Western Union and Atlantic Telegraph companies, the public are interested to know something as to the reliability of this monster monopoly. On last Saturday Mr. Josiah Fahrney availed himself of the use of the wires to summons several of his brothers to their mother's funeral. One dispatch sent to Dr. J. Fahrney, in Philadelphia, has not been answered. Out of three sent to Somerset Co., not one was delivered by the company, but entrusted to disinterested parties. Dr. P. Fahrney telegraphed from Meyers' Mill, Pa. that he was coming, but the dispatch was not delivered until after his arrival. Investigation proves that no blame rests on the company's employee at the office in this place. The question arises whether the company is chartered for the benefit of the public or merely to put money into its treasury.

A Bill is pending in the Legislature to compel all owners of dogs to have them registered and pay a tax of one dollar per year for each male and two dollars for each female dog. Each dog is to have a collar with number and date of registry attached. Stealing or injuring a dog thus taxed and registered is made a criminal offence. All dogs not taxed and registered are to be killed by police and constables. A neglect of this duty on the part of any policeman or constable is made punishable by a heavy fine. Should the above law be passed our canine will be for sale.

Mr. Philip Katsel was engaged in walling up a well near Hagerstown on Friday last, when the wall gave way on one side, precipitating him to the bottom. Both of his arms were broken, his head badly injured, and his body cut and bruised. It is feared his injuries will prove fatal.

QUINCY FOUNDRY.—We call special attention to the advertisement of Mr. John L. Metcalf, proprietor of the Quincy Foundry and Machine Shop, to be found in another column.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL.

March contains rich reading on self-knowledge, opening with Chief-Justice Waite, with portrait; Pre-Natal Influences; Immortality, considered Physiologically; Tastes and Temperaments, a reason for denominations; The Mound Builders, Ancient Americans, with illustrations; Conversations About our faces; Hereditary Character; An Elective or Appointive Judiciary; Alfred Dockery, M. C. of South Carolina; Domestic Help; Women at the South and at the West; A Royal Pair, with portraits; Vampires and Vampirism; The Siamese Twins, with illustrations, showing them at twenty-five, and at sixty years of age; Obligations of Character; Do Your Own Thinking; Timber and Ornamental Trees; Agricultural Hints, etc. Only 30 cents, or $3.00, a year. Address S. R. Wells, Publisher, 389 Broadway, New York.

A bill is now before the Legislature, providing what candidates for office may use money for, to secure their nomination and election:

First. For printing.

Second. For dissemination of information to the public.

Third. For political meetings, demonstrations and conventions.

The foregoing expenses may be incurred either in person or through other individuals or committees, or organizations duly constituted for the purpose; but nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to authorize the payment of other valuable things for the vote or influence of any elector, either directly or indirectly at primary, township, general or special elections, nominating conventions, or for any corrupt purposes whatever incident to an election.

OPENED OUT.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Mrs. C. A. Martin has opened out a stock of new goods at Tomstown.

A local option law has been favorably reported in the Maryland Legislature. The friends of temperance are sanguine of its final passage.

Sudden wealth upsets men as frequently as it makes them. Very few know how to use money unless have earned it by painful application to business. The man who drew the big Crosby Opera House, in Chicago, some years ago, died a poor man, for he had not been used to handling such sums of money, and lost it. The journey-man-carpenter in Peoria, Ill., who, three years ago, fell heir to $250,000, by the death of an uncle, has his money yet for he was so conscious of his inability to use it as other men do, and so afraid of losing it, that he simply hoards it, taking from the principal enough each week to pay his expenses. He thinks it will support him as long as he lives, as it doubtless will; but a more miserable man never lived. Jno. Steele, the Petroleum Prince, ran through his millions in riotous living, inside of three years. The number who have suddenly acquired wealth wisely, is very small. L. H. Keith, of Mass., is an exception. He held a ticket in the Third Gilt Concert of the Kentucky Public Library, and that ticket drew the capital prize of $100,000. Mr. Keith, a cool, self-poised man of business, simply went to Louisville, took his money at the hand of Gov. Bramlette, the manager, and went home without it, and without any particular fuss invested it in his business, and is rapidly converting that $100,000 into $200,000. Should he draw the grand prize of $250,000 in the Concert that takes place in Louisville in March next, he would be precisely the man that he now is. Such men are never unduly elated or unduly depressed. They are self-poised, and keep always on an even keel. Every man believes he could use money wisely but few do it. We should like to be tried with a million or two.—Toledo Blade.

Mrs. Sarah C. Desney, widow of a member of Congress from Ohio, has brought suit for $100,000 against the proprietors of a New York omnibus line, from one of whose stages, while getting out, she was thrown violently to the ground and seriously injured the horses having been started too soon.

Kerosene is only fifteen cents a gallon in New York; so that houses can now be burned at very cheap rates, and suicide is within the reach of the very poorest.

In a debate in Congress on the army bill, General Butler stated that of every hundred men wounded in the late war, thirty-three were wounded in the right arm. This he alleged, arose from the fact that they were compelled to raise the right arm in using the ramrod in loading their muskets.

A bachelor says if you hand a lady a newspaper with a paragraph cut out of it, not a line will be read, but every bit of interest left in the paper by the lady will centre in finding out what the missing paragraph contained.
