

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, March 19, 1874.

Gough does not approve of the female temperance praying bands.

A man has been arrested at Manly, Utah, who is claimed to be the old man Bender, the Kansas murderer.

It is estimated that 30,000 persons are supplied daily with soup at the New York soup houses. But for these institutions many would die of starvation.

Judge B. Daniels, of Baltimore, died suddenly at the St. Clair Hotel, in that city, on Sunday night a week, from heart disease.

The Illinois Grangers are moving in the matter of establishing a manufactory for agricultural implements. It is said that by making their own ploughs alone, a saving of fifty per cent can be effected.

The House has voted to the widow of Gen. Meade and the mother of General McPherson pensions of fifty dollars per month each, and increased the pension of the widow of Commodore Elliott from thirty to fifty dollars per month.

The affairs of Jay Cook are looking better. Claims against him are selling for 50 cents on the dollar. His brother, H. D. Cook, says Jay intends to pay every dollar of his indebtedness, if his assets are not sacrificed.

The Geneva award of $15,500,000 was made seventeen months ago, yet nothing has been done towards its distribution. A good many of the claimants fear that they are doomed to the same fate as the claimants upon the French Spoliation Fund, which has been in the treasury for more than half a century.

The temperance movement is unabated and in some parts of Indiana has been attended by violence—a woman in Jeffersonville having come out of one of the saloons and knocked down one of the women engaged in prayers. In California a bill passed the Legislature making it a misdemeanor to ask or accept and invitation to take a drink at the bar of a saloon.

Hon. Chas. Sumner died at his residence in Washington, on Wednesday afternoon of last week, at 2:45. The day before he had been in exuberant health, in the Senate when the resolutions rescinding the censure passed upon him by the Massachusetts Legislature, were received in Congress from that Legislature. His disease which was sudden and left no hope, was of the heart; but he died in full possession of his mental faculties in the 64th year of his age.

The Local Option bill was taken up in the Maryland House of Delegates. A motion to indefinitely postpone, a test vote, was taken with the following close result: Yeas, 34, nays 35. An amendment to the effect that places voting for prohibition should lay a tax equal to the amount of liquor licenses paid into the State Treasury for the year previous was voted down. A motion to postpone the bill to April 6th, the date of the final adjournment, and therefore the defeat of the bill, was carried amid a great deal of excitement and disorder, so that the Speaker had to refuse to entertain motions until members resumed their seats and order was restored. A motion to reconsider the vote was made, whereupon a motion was made to lay the motion for a reconsideration upon the table, which was carried by a vote of 40 yeas to 25 nays. This virtually is the defeat of Local Option in Maryland.

An extraordinary circumstance in the history of the country occurs on the death of Mr. Fillmore. Never before since the administration of Jefferson has it happened that only one person was alive except the incumbent, who had filed the Presidential office. Andrew Johnson is now the only ex-President living; and even he was not elected to that office, but came to it as Vice-President on the assassination of Mr. Lincoln. While the younger Adams was President, the elder Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe were living. When Buchanan was elected, Van Buren, Tyler and Pierce and Fillmore were alive. When Lincoln was inaugurated Van Buren, Tyler, Pierce, Fillmore, and Buchanan were living. Within the past thirty-seven years seven Presidents have been elected besides Grant. It is an extraordinary fact that not one of the seven is now alive.

A terrible outrage upon an American clergyman has been perpetrated in Mexico. At Ahualulco, in the State of Jalisco, on Sunday, March 8, a priest delivered an inflammatory harangue advocating the extermination of Protestants, and so worked upon the vindictive temper and besotted bigotry of his hearers that he incited them to a frenzy of intolerance. A mob gathered in the evening, and proceeding to the residence of Rev. John Steers, a Congregational minister sent out by the Boston Board of Foreign Missions, broke into the house, beat the brains out of the unfortunate gentleman and hacked his body to pieces. A mob in another town, under similar feelings, attacked a garrison, burned the public records and pillaged the houses of the town authorities. The Government sent a force of soldiers to the scene and arrested a number of priests.

Fort Monroe, March 13.—The military honors to the late ex-President Fillmore took place here to-day. Flags were displayed at half-mast, a salute of thirteen minute guns fired at sunrise, a gun every half hour during the day, and a salute of thirty-seven minute guns at sunset.

Harrisburg, March 16.—The Dauphin County Court to-day granted an order for the release of George O. Evans, on entering $25,000 for his appearance at the April term, to take the benefit of the Insolvent act. The condition of Evans' health is gradually worse. Physicians have certified that he cannot live more than a month if kept in confinement.

The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, met at Altoona yesterday. Carlise has a pullet that lays black eggs.

TERRIBLE DEATH.—Miss Ada Noyes, a young actress, died at her residence, in New York, on Thursday morning, of last week, from hydrophobia. She arrived about a month ago from Charleston, S. C., and was bitten in the nose by a little pet lap dog, which she brought with her. But little notice of the matter was taken at the time, but on Monday previous to her death symptoms of hydrophobia began to be manifested. The best medical aid was summoned, but to no purpose, the poor lady grew rapidly worse until death put an end to her sufferings. The coroner held an inquest on her remains. All the testimony went to show that the dog was not mad at the time. Doctor Elliott testified that he cauterized the wound with nitrate of silver on the 30th of January, and for ten days thereafter she seemed to be doing well, so well that she appeared on the stage with Lucille Western at Rochester on Monday night. During the performance, however, she became insensible, and in her quieter moments requested to be taken to New York. On the train she suffered the greatest distress, and frequently prayed to be killed.

Two weeks ago a woman named Martha Coggeswell wife of Anthony Coggeswell, a drover, died, as was supposed, in Chapmanville, Pa., and was buried.—Her husband was absent at the time.—His first knowledge of his beloved wife's death was on Saturday last, when he returned home. Wild with grief, he insisted on her body being exhumed, so that he could see the remains. This was done, and the coffin was opened in the presence of several friends. To the utter horror of all, the body had changed its position in the coffin, showing that Mrs. Coggeswell had been buried while she was in a trance. The body was lying on its face. Evidence of a fearful struggle made by the unfortunate woman when she recovered consciousness in the coffin, were visible. The flesh was torn from one shoulder, and the shroud was covered with blood. When Mr. Coggeswell saw what a terrible fate his wife had met, he fell senseless across the coffin, and has been a raving maniac ever since.

A Dayton (Ohio) despatch of the 10th inst. says: "This has been another day of intense excitement. The crusaders marched this afternoon in three detachments of twenty each and stormed thirteen saloons on Fifth and West Third streets. A large turbulent rabble followed them from place to place, and the turmoil at times was almost deafening. The voices of prayer and songs were frequently inaudible. Ribald jests were bandied about by the mob with indecent loud talk, and rough, swearing crowds of beer drinkers pressed into and infested the saloons and drank as fast as they could, mocking the praying women with loud blasphemy and louder bacchanalian songs.

Even women joined in ribaldry, and at one place flung out bits of bologna and fragments of crackers among the crusading women who meekly bore these galling insults, and persisted and prayed." Ribald jests were bandied about by the mob with indecent loud talk, and rough, swearing crowds of beer drinkers pressed into and infested the saloons and drank as fast as they could, mocking the praying women with loud blasphemy and louder bacchanalian songs.

CINCAGO, March 14.—The Erie Presse, a German newspaper of this city, publishes to-day a long and circumstantial narrative, purporting to give a true history of the career of Dr. Paul Schœppe, who gained widespread notoriety some four years ago in connection with the death of Miss Stinecke, of Carlisle, Pa. The Erie Presse claims to have discovered that Schœppe was forced to leave Germany on account of certain irregularities; that his career in America has been a dishonest one; that since his release from the Pennsylvania prison he has been living in various Western cities under the name of Count de Schulfberg, and that while in Chicago he succeeded, by means of forged checks, in swindling the German Relief and Aid Society out of $400, but managed to escape punishment.

The steamship Pennsylvania, arrived at Philadelphia from Liverpool, reports having met a violent hurricane on the 27th ult., at midnight. The sea carried away the bridge, on which were Captain Bradburn and the first and second officer and two sailors, who were all washed overboard and lost. The fourth officer had a leg broken. Mr. Brady, a steerman passenger, formerly third mate of the ill-fated Atlantic, (who, it may be remembered, swam ashore from the Atlantic with a line, thereby saving a number of lives,) took charge of the Pennsylvania and brought her into port.

FAT MAN.—Rev. Jacob Zarman is the "fat man" of Greencastle. His weight, taking the Echo for authority, is 333 pounds. This section has several who would be entitled to a seat in the fat men's convention, but no one to match Greencastle. The heaviest is a bachelor who draws about 250 pounds.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—Our venerable Post Master, Mr. A. G. Nevin, has been dangerously ill for about three weeks, with his old complaint, the Asthma. We understand his physician, Dr. John M. Ripple, until quite recently, abandoned all hopes of his recovery. We are pleased to announce however, that his condition at last accounts was somewhat improved.

SCALDED.—A small child of Mr. Chas. Davis was very seriously if not fatally scalded in this place yesterday morning. Mrs. Davis it seems was washing at the time, and being called away, the child in her absence fell over a board which had been placed across the door into a tub of hot water. At last accounts it was in a critical situation, but Dr. Benj. Frantz was doing everything possible for the relief of the little sufferer.

TURNPIKE MEETING.—Geo. J. Balsley, President of the Waynesboro' and Maryland State Line Turnpike Road company, requests us to announce that a meeting of the Board of Directors will be held at the office of H. M. Sibbett, Esq., on Saturday next, March 21st, at 3 o'clock, P. M. A general attendance is requested as business of importance will be brought before the Board.

Local Items.

A REMINDER.—As the first of April is fast approaching we would again remind those of our patrons who are in arrears for subscription, advertising, etc. that we have several hundred dollars of debts to pay at that time. We therefore appeal to this class to either call and settle their accounts, or, if not within bounds, to enclose us their check or a P. O. Order. A general compliance with this request would prove a great relief and we assure them to be highly appreciated. We have notified many subscribers by Postal card of the amount of their indebtedness and will expect a favorable response from each before the first.

We request a settlement of all accounts for sale bills and advertising contracted since the first of January, besides a few of longer standing.

- Improving—the roads.
—The Temperance Ball is still rolling.
—Flitting time draweth near.
—Lent ends on the 4th day of April.
—March came in lamblike. Will it go out like a lion?
—Dissolved—the firm of Beaver & Jacobs.
—Thankfully received at the Record Office—"greenbacks" and "local items."

There was less snow this winter than ever before within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

We are enjoying another season of mild weather, a welcome change after the cold and stormy siege of last week.

See Assignee's sale of real and personal property by Isaac Shockey, Esq., in another column.

TOWN PATRONS.—Persons in town owing this office for subscription, advertising or bill printing, will be waited upon in person before the first of April for the amount of their arrears.

A few patrons have generously and promptly responded to the Postal Cards sent them from this office. May they be rewarded with good crops, large profits, etc. for a year to come.

Our alleys at this particular season, as usual, stand in great need of cleansing. Would it not pay some near-at-hand farmer to remove the winter's accumulation of dirt to his lands.

TRADE.—We have the names of a number of subscribers upon our books, from whom any kind of trade will be acceptable, including corn, potatoes, apples, poultry and pigs.

If you wish a seat at the Old Folks' Concert, buy your tickets in time. We think it will be a rich treat for the people of Waynesboro. Don't forget the time, Thursday evening, March 26th.

REAL ESTATE.—John Phillips, Esq., offers for sale in to-day's paper a valuable tract of land near this place, belonging to the estate of John J. Ervin, dec'd, to which we call special attention.

THE FRUIT.—An examination reveals the fact that the fruit in this region was not harmed in the least by the recent severe weather, but the earlier varieties, owing to the advanced state of the buds, may yet be "nipped."

CHANGED.—Joseph Frantz has disposed of his confectionery, opposite the Bowden House, to George Mowers. Mr. M. made the ice business a success last summer, and the coming season proposes to try his hand at the ice cream business, etc.

FAT MAN.—Rev. Jacob Zarman is the "fat man" of Greencastle. His weight, taking the Echo for authority, is 333 pounds. This section has several who would be entitled to a seat in the fat men's convention, but no one to match Greencastle. The heaviest is a bachelor who draws about 250 pounds.

Ripple, until quite recently, abandoned all hopes of his recovery. We are pleased to announce however, that his condition at last accounts was somewhat improved.

Mrs. Davis it seems was washing at the time, and being called away, the child in her absence fell over a board which had been placed across the door into a tub of hot water. Balsley, President of the Waynesboro' and Maryland State Line Turnpike Road company, requests us to announce that a meeting of the Board of Directors will be held at the office of H. M. Sibbett, Esq., on Saturday next, March 21st, at 3 o'clock, P. M. A general attendance is requested as business of importance will be brought before the Board.

DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.—For many years past the course of legislation in Pennsylvania has been so uniformly against the creditor and in favor of the debtor that the Philadelphia Inquirer refers, as a novelty, to the fact that in the Senate Mr. White, of Indiana, has introduced a bill which seems to be the beginning of a retrograde movement. This bill proposes that where a judgement has been obtained and no property can be found to satisfy the claim, the defendant may be brought up before any judge and compelled to answer interrogatories as to whether he does not possess property which the sheriff has been unable to find or touch, with the full particulars of its amount, the place where it is situated and everything which will give to the plaintiff a knowledge of its proper remedy. This bill is so different from any proposed for many years in Pennsylvania that it may be characterized as an extraordinary novelty. It is the first intimation of the turn of the tide—a tide which for many years has been running in opposition to the dictates of common honesty.

RAID ON THE BOYS.—The Callithumpian Serenaders, despite the ordinance of the Town Council prohibiting such exhibitions, turned out on Saturday evening and gave Mr. Lewis Snyder the customary entertainment, with the "Horse Fiddle" accompaniment. It seems they met with an unexpected reception from Mr. S., who discharged several shots at the crowd, without however doing any harm. Next, High Constable Miller, elected, made his appearance and arrested one of the Serenaders, the others making good their escape for the night, but a number of arrests were made by officer Robinson on Monday, and the parties each fined $1.50. The authorities seem determined to dispense with these peculiar entertainments for all time to come.

VILLANOUS ACT.—Mr. Martin Funk (of J.) of this vicinity informs us that an attempt was made on Tuesday night of last week, by some person or persons, to destroy a valuable young Chester Lion Stallion belonging to him, by poison. The ingredient, about three table-spoonsful, was found in the trough the next morning, which was analysed and proved to be deadly poison. It was fortunately prepared in such a way that the horse refused to eat it. Mr. F. authorizes us to say that he will give a reward of $100 for any information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who committed the act. It must be a very depraved nature that could be guilty of an act so fiendish, and it is to be hoped that the guilty wretch may yet be brought to light.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature to change the Act of Assembly of 1849, exempting $300 worth of property, real or personal, from levy and sale upon execution, and making the amount $600. There is also a clause inserted making it a criminal offence for any one to waive this exemption. We hope this bill will pass, and that speedily. The $300 law was passed for the protection of wives and children, and no man should be permitted to take that right from his family. When any article of furniture is taken into the house, it is no longer the property of the husband (unless for his own special use), but of his family, whose right we are in duty bound to respect. Let this law be passed, and a cash system will be speedily inaugurated.—Merchants and others will not be so anxious to sell "on tick," and take a note for the amount, hoping to be paid in due time, and if not paid, "shave" the face of it, and allow a broker to distress the giver. We say again, let the bill be passed, and that right speedily.

GRADUATED.—We notice among the number who graduated at the Jefferson Medical College of Phila., on the 11th the name of a young friend, Martin L. Miller, student of Dr. I. N. Snively, of this town. We understand Mr. M. passed a highly creditable examination. His studious and exemplary habits considered we predict for him a bright future professionally.

COURT.—The following is a list of jurors from Washington and Quincy townships for court, commencing at Chambersburg, April 13th, 1874: Grand Jurors—George W. McCleary, Traverse Jurors—Chas. H. Buhman, W. H. Brown, Henry Besore, Samuel Benedict, Thos. S. Cunningham, B. C. Funk, Josiah Mentzer, Jacob Middour, Greenbury Whitmore, John Bonbrake, David Newcomer, David Willard.

We call special attention the advertisements of THE BEVERLY CO., Publishers of the The Photographic Family Record and The Gem Microscope. Both are valuable publications and should find a place in every family circle.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—On Thursday a week Solomon Crise, of the Emmitsburg (Md.) District died very suddenly, in the 70th year of his age. George Shaff, the same day, at Jefferson, same county, whilst pointing rails fell suddenly dead of heart disease. He was about 65 years of age.

IN TOWN.—The man with the trained Bear was in town yesterday. The huge animal's performance attracted considerable attention, especially among the juvenile population.

THE YOUNG CHILDREN.—It is worse than folly, says an exchange, to send children to school before they have developed reasoning faculties. To the infant of four years, school is a prison, the teacher a dread whose frown is death, and whose smile and kindly notice is overpowering. Therefore, children ought not to go to school until six years old. They should not learn at home during that time any more than the alphabet, religious teachings excepted. They should be fed with plain, substantial food, at regular intervals of not less than four hours. They should not be allowed to eat anything within two hours of bed time. They should sleep in separate beds, on hair mattresses, without caps, feet first well warmed by the fire or rubbed until perfectly dry; extra covering on the lower limbs, but little on the body. They should be compelled to be out of doors the greater part of the day, from after breakfast until half an hour before sunset, unless in damp, raw weather, when they should never be allowed to go outside the door. Never limit a healthy child; it is cruel, unjust, and dangerous. What you have to do, do it at once, and have done with it. Never speak harshly or angrily, but mildly, kindly, and, when needed, firmly—no more. By all means arrange it so that the last words between you and your children at bed time, especially the younger ones, shall be words of unmixed affection.

BARN BURNED.—On Thursday afternoon, the barn belonging to Mr. Joseph Hade near Kaufman's station, on the C. V. R. R., was discovered to be on fire and before assistance arrived the entire building with four horses a number of cows and a great many farming implements, were consumed. The stock and implements belonged to a Mr. Rhodes, son-in-law to Mr. Hade, whose loss will be considerable. Both gentlemen were absent at the time, and before the fire was discovered it had progressed so far as to preclude the possibility of rescuing any of the stock from the burning building. It is supposed to have been set on fire by a spark from a passing locomotive. A high wind was blowing at the time, and we understand that it was with some difficulty the dwelling house was saved from destruction. We also learn that the entire loss is covered by insurance.—Opinion.

MILL BURNED.—Last Tuesday night a week, Myers' Mill, near Newberg, Cumberland county, was consumed by fire.—The Oakville Enterprise says the entire contents of the mill, including about 8,000 bushels of grain and 160 barrels of flour, were consumed, as also all the books, papers, etc., belonging to Messrs. Myers & Co. The house and barn of Mr. Myers, although at some distance from the mill, were with difficulty saved. A hog-pen and corn crib adjacent to the mill, and a part of the wood work of the bridge across the Conodoguinet near the mill, was burned. The loss, which may be safely estimated at $30,000, will fall heavily upon Messrs. Myers & Co., as so far as we can learn, there is no insurance on the mill or its contents.

KILLED.—Mr. John Cufman, formerly of Chambersburg, and at one time a merchant of Ringgold, Md., was killed at Altoona on the 14th inst. An engine standing in the Railroad Company's yard it appears got started by some means with no one on it and ran through the round house into a large machine shop. Cufman was killed another man had his leg taken off.

DEAD.—Died at Scotland, near Yankton, in Dakota Territory, on the 27th inst., after a very brief illness, Norman Campbell, aged—Norman Campbell the only son of General Charles T. Campbell was a native of Franklin county, but a great portion of his short life was spent with his father in the far west, where they were engaged in the management of a stage line.

Five prisoners made their escape from the jail at Hagerstown, on Friday a week, as follows: Thos. Stevens, Jerry McCarty, Wm. Eichelberger, white, and Abm. McCushey and Daniel Hatton, col. Stevens, who is a resident of Hagerstown after visiting his home and gratifying his appetite with something to eat and drink, voluntarily returned to his quarters.

Editor of Record.—An article appeared in your columns a few weeks since written by "H. M." respecting the Seventh-day Baptists' petition to the Legislature merely for a special act in their favor on account of their peculiar religious scruples with regard to the particular day, that is the seventh day of the week. We conscientiously believe the seventh day to be the true and Evangelical Sabbath of the Lord our God, and for this reason we petitioned the Legislature for the passage of an act exempting us from the penalty of prosecution and fine for laboring on the first day of the week on our premises, not that we wish to disturb any person or religious denomination on their day of worship. The article of H. M. in the beginning appears to be in favor of the Seventh-day Baptists, but further on we discover several mistakes, to a few of which we advert. The Righteous Judge of all the earth established the Seventh Day Sabbath; the framers of the law of 1794 established a Sabbath on the first day of the week. Here is two Sabbaths. Judge for yourselves.

H. M. said a small community emigrated from Germany and located at Ephrata and elsewhere, summing all together at not more than fifty members. Not true. H. M. further says the Seventh-day Baptists never have existed in large numbers anywhere. Not true. John the Baptist was the first Seventh-day Baptist. Preaching in the wilderness, then went out to him Jerusalem and all the region round about Jordan and were baptised of him in Jordan confessing their sins. Christ was a Seventh-day Baptist and so were all his apostles. On the day of Pentecost three thousand were added to the church and endowed with the Holy Ghost. Seventh-day Baptists, so far as scripture informs us, must have been numerous then. For hundreds of years the same scripture, yet the same Sabbath, and yet I cannot find where the first first-day Baptist started from. The scriptures do not inform us of any first first-day Baptist within the lids of the Bible. This is the reason we keep the seventh-day Sabbath. There remaineth yet a remnant of the Seventh day Baptists, perhaps seven thousand, for what we know.

H. M. says this is not the first nor the second time that this "obscure religious society has been made conspicuous by infidels and rum-sellers in their efforts to have the law of 1879 repealed." In answer to H. M. we say that those who signed our petition were respectable citizens, such as first day ministers and members of first day denominations who wished their neighbors as themselves. They were not like H. M. or Balak who sent to Baalam to curse the children of Israel. Let the dumb ass forbid the madness of M. H. MEMBER S. D. BAPTISTS.
