The women of Iowa are rapidly preparing for the ballot by instruction in parliamentary debate and general business. There are nearly 2,000 granges in the State, in which 25,000 women are entitled to vote. In the 7,000 granges in the whole country there are nearly 100,000 women.

A Joint resolution, requesting the senators and representatives in congress to vote for and urge the passage of a bill introduced by Hon. Lemuel Todd providing for the payment of losses sustained by citizens of Pennsylvania during the late war, was reported favorably in the State Senate on Friday last.

Despatch from San Francisco gives a most extraordinary instance of a young man's hair suddenly turning gray. He happened to be standing near a railroad depot in Virginia, when a man was run over by a train and had his legs cut off. The frightened spectator of the dreadful accident fainted away, and when he was brought to consciousness his hair was white, although it had been black a few minutes before.

In the State Senate a bill has been passed fixing the salary of members of the Legislature at $1,000 for each session of one hundred days, with a promise that they shall be paid at the rate of $10 a day for each day, not to exceed fifty days over one hundred. That will make the salary $1,500 a session hereafter as the sittings will undoubtedly be prolonged to one hundred and fifty days.

The Press speaks pitifully of Parson Brownlow of Tennessee. He is taken to his seat in the Senate at twelve and carried back to his solitary house at five. There is no color in the tall, pale, dark-haired man except in his eyes, which grow restless when anything in the debate excites him. He never speaks nor moves, nor calls a page, nor talks to a neighbor.

The Milford (Del.) News has the authority of a respectable colored man, of Jones's Neck, named Alfred Craig, for the statement that John Young, colored, an old man who died near Frederica on last Sunday morning, confessed just before his death to one John Madison, colored attendant, that he (Young) was the man who killed the old pedler, for the murder of whom one Ed. Darnell was convicted and hung a few years ago at Dover. It will be remembered that the old pedler's body was found in a millpond horribly mangled, and showing every indication of having met with foul play. Circumstances pointed to the boy Darnell and a man named William Loper, who were arraigned. Loper succeeded in proving an alibi, was acquitted, and the boy convicted and hung. If this story is true, and there seems no reason to doubt it, it affords another illustration of the fallibility of circumstantial evidence and the possibility of hanging the innocent for the guilty.

The telegraph on Monday morning reported several fires, involving heavy losses, viz: One in Chicago, loss $75,000; one in Connecticut, destroying a large cutlery factory, loss $300,000, with an insurance of $450,000 in fifty-eight companies. The loss by the fire in Indianapolis, reported the previous day, is estimated at $75,000; and by that in Cumberland, Md., at $35,000.

Try to stand on one foot, with your eyes shut, and you will soon totter.

In both houses of Congress on Monday, (says the American) the business of most interest under consideration related to the currency question. In the Senate, Mr. Sherman, from the Finance Committee, reported the compromise bill, agreed upon by that committee, to provide for the redemption and reissue of United States notes and for free banking. It fixes the limit of the legal tender issue at $382,000,000, and also provides for free banking, but obviates expansion by requiring that tender notes shall be retired as fast as bank notes are issued. The working of the bill, as we understand it, will be to increase the banking capital of the country by $100,000,000 (this capital to be distributed to the States not now having their proper portion), and to reduce the legal tender issue to three hundred millions, so that when its provisions are fully carried out the amount of national currency will stand at $500,000,000 and legal tenders at $300,000,000, making the entire paper currency of the country $800,000,000. Nothing in the act is to be construed as authorizing any increase of the public debt of the United States. Mr. Sherman, in introducing the bill, said that it had been agreed upon as a compromise between the members of the committee, that some of its features were not approved of by several members, and that he had given his own consent to it with great reluctance. To-day he will make an explanation of its provisions and their effect if adopted. After the introduction of the bill the debate on the currency question was resumed, M. Morton arguing in favor of expansion, and a general debate followed on the power of the Secretary of the Treasury to reissue the forty million reserve, Mr. Conkling affirming this power and Mr. Sherman denying it.

DR. SCHOEPPE AGAIN IN TROUBLE.—The notorious Dr. Schoeppe, who it is alleged by several Western journals, has been operating extensively in that section by swindling and forging under the name of Count Schulenberg was arrested in Baltimore, on the 18th inst., charged with being a common swindler. He was locked up in the Western-district station house to await examination. While in the cell he was observed tearing up and throwing away a number of papers. He was seized and searched, and several railroad passes over Western roads, letters, notes, &c., all in the name of J. R. Schulenberg, were found on his person. An investigation took place before Justice Bell, H. Clay Dallam appearing for the executor of Miss Steinecke, who it will be remembered Schoeppe was charged to have poisoned at Carlisle, Pa.

A Baltimore correspondent, writing us under date of the 20th inst., says that at the hearing before Judge Brown on that morning, Paul sat composed and very attentive. After the hearing, the judge reserved his decision until the 21st. Two dispatches were read in Court, asking the retention of the prisoner—one from the Governor of Illinois, the other from the chief of Police of Chicago—until the arrival of the officer sent to take him to Chicago, where he is wanted.

The same correspondent informs us that his (Schoeppe's) picture was taken for the "rogue's gallery," but it is not a good one. Each attempt made to take a correct picture failed. The Doctor would draw his face out of all natural shape and would shed tears the tears, appearing in the eyes and on the face in the picture. He remarked to the operator that he was offered thousands of dollars in New York to sit for his picture, and always refused "and now to think, I must have it taken for the 'rogue's gallery.'" Next week we will give a brief sketch of his career since his release at Carlisle in 1872, showing that he was once again married and divorced, arrested as a swindler and escaped justice, &c.

ATTACK OF CRUSADERS.—At Jeffersonville, Ind., after Mrs. Hunt had finished her street lecture on temperance the crusaders started on their daily saloon visits. They held service in front of several, and arrived at John Little's on Spring street. Here they met Mrs. Little at the door, who attacked Mrs. Jackson, one of the leading crusaders, throwing her down. The police interfered and quieted the disturbance. Mrs. Little told the crusaders it would be better for them to be at home, where they belonged, and look after their own families, instead of trying to make trouble at other people's houses. The services were continued at the saloon for two hours, and the crowd did not disperse until several buckets of water were thrown upon them from the second story windows.

The Woodstock Democrat says: "Extensive beds of magnetic iron ore have been recently discovered on the lands of Major P. B. Borst, in Page county, Va., five miles in length and from one to two in width. Scientific and practical geologists have examined these wonderful deposits and pronounce them to be literally a mountain of ore of pure quality, resembling grey pig metal itself, and inexhaustible in quantity, there being millions of tons of it. It has been analysed by scientific mineralogists, and pronounced equal to the best Lake Superior ore."

A REMINDER.—As the first of April is fast approaching we would again remind those of our patrons who are in arrears for subscription, advertising, etc. that we have several hundred dollars of debts to pay at that time. We therefore appeal to this class to either call and settle their accounts, or, if not within bounds, to enclose us their check or a P. O. Order. A general compliance with this request would prove a great relief and we assure them to be highly appreciated. We have notified many subscribers by Postal card of the amount of their indebtedness and will expect a favorable response from each before the first.

We request a settlement of all accounts for sale bills and advertising contracted since the first of January, besides a few of longer standing.

RATHER SLIM.—Our postal card responses, so far.

A movement has been recently inaugurated for a Bank at Mercersburg.

Traveling "horse jockeys" seem to be more numerous this spring than formerly.

IN THE CITY.—Joseph Price, of the firm of Price & Hoeflich, is now in the city purchasing their spring stock. New goods next week.

DIED.—The little boy, son of Chas. Davis of this place, scalded on Wednesday last week, by falling into a bucket of boiling water, died the next morning.

THIEVING.—Some case-hardened night tramp recently relieved our hen coop of four fine pullets. We offer a "tan spot" for the villain's scalp.

LARGE SALE.—We call attention to the sale of valuable personal property in to-day's paper by Messrs. Benedict and Walk, of Quincy township, agents for Henry Reed.

THE ROADS.—The high winds which prevailed during the first days of this week have again made the country roads passable. Last week they were next thing to impassable.

Saturday last, according to the almanac, was the first day of spring, since which time the weather has been decidedly rough, strong western winds prevailing. On Tuesday morning ice formed to the thickness of an inch or more.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT.—This (Thursday) evening the Old Folks' Concert comes off at the Odd Fellows' Hall. Extensive preparations have been made to make it a success. All who have a fondness for old-time exhibitions should not fail to be present.

DECEASED.—Mr. Thos. Clingan, who has had charge of the toll-gate on the pike west of town, for many years, expired at a very advanced age, on Sunday morning last. Mr. C. was a very worthy citizen and was much esteemed by all his neighbors and acquaintances.

A lady on 'tother side of Quincy says that no one would believe how awful smart and industrious her husband has become since she has got to keeping a three-pronged pitchfork behind the parlor door. She's a Granger.

PROHIBITION.—Another Union Temperance Prayer-meeting will be held, this (Thursday) evening, in the Presbyterian Church. All are respectfully invited to attend. Steps are being taken to enforce the anti-liquor law, and remonstrances against its repeal are being circulated and signed.

RUN OFF.—On Monday last Mr. Benj. Frick's horse ran off with his Dairy Wagon when near this place, breaking one wheel and otherwise damaging the vehicle.—The horse started while the driver, a boy, was reeving his hat which the wind blew off.

EASTER SERVICES.—Rev. W. E. Krebs will preach for St. Paul's congregation during Easter, services commencing on Thursday evening previous. Preaching on Good Friday and on Sunday (Easter) the Lord's Supper will be administered. The public are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

REMOVAL.—After Thursday of next week we will be found at our new quarters, second floor of the Odd Fellows' new building. We extend a cordial invitation to all our patrons—and more especially to those who have failed to "settle up"—to call at our new place of business.

OUR ELECTION DISTRICT.—A correspondent in another column suggests the propriety of having our election district divided. One reason assigned is, that under the new election law too much labor, for the time allowed, is imposed on one set of officers. The change suggested is certainly, under the circumstances, one that is much needed, and an early move towards its consummation should be made. We understand Antrim township has a petition ready for April Court asking for reviewers. In that township instead one they propose having four voting places.

MR. EDITOR:—It has been thought for several years that our election district should be divided. And now under the new Constitution an opportunity is presented, and under the new general election law, the division is imperatively demanded. There are about one thousand voters in the district, and when a full vote is out, the election officers are too much hurried to perform all the duties enjoined upon them by the law, and as the vote is now required to be counted out and proper returns made to the county seat at noon of the next day succeeding the election, the change spoken of it will be seen is absolutely needed.

In order to have the division made before the November election, it will be necessary to present a petition at the April term of court, asking for viewers; their report must be confirmed at next regular term. So that if the voters want anything done, they should take action at once.

For the purpose merely of calling attention to the matter, I propose the following:—Begin at the Quincy line and run a straight line due south to the road in front of John Gehr's residence, and then follow that road to the turnpike, and take east branch of the Antietam from the bridge to the Maryland line. All east of the proposed boundary to have their voting place at Rousersville, and all west including the borough to vote in Waynesboro'. Or perhaps it would be more satisfactory to take the turnpike clear thro' as the dividing line, both precincts voting in Waynesboro' as the more central place.

ARM BROKEN.—Mr. Wm. Patterson of this place met with an accident on Saturday evening by which he had his left arm broken above the elbow. He was returning from Ringgold in company with Wilson Gregory. At the short turn in the road opposite the residence of Mr. John Johnston the horses upset the buggy, throwing both out. As they were traveling at a rapid pace at the time, it is fortunate, the consequences were not more serious. Dr. I. N. Snively set the broken bone. Mr. P. has since been about as usual and so far has experienced but little pain from the fracture.

The Hagerstown Free Press, so far as its weekly visits to this office is concerned, is a defunct institution. We have not seen a copy for the last two or three months. We take it for granted the editor has either proscribed us on account of the postage he is required to pay, or else he has again taken to "pine-top" bitters and gone on a protracted "bender." Let us have your reason, Andy?

Now comes the Waynesboro', Pa., Record and puts in the claim of the township in which that village is situated for the honor of having given a birthplace to Simon Cameron. This makes at least the third locality in which Old Winnebago was certainly born. Whence he came we know not; whether he will go—that's not for us to say, but we could give a guess.—Bucks County Mirror.

Mr. Cameron's own acknowledgment, in the presence of reputable gentlemen, should be sufficient to decide the "vexed question."

CONCERTS.—The Waynesboro' Band gave two musical entertainments (instrumental and vocal) in the Odd Fellows' Hall, one on Friday evening and another on Saturday evening. Each was well attended, the spacious room being filled on both occasions. They performed their several parts in a manner highly creditable. We regard, indeed, the instrumental part as having been first-class and no gratified to be able to announce that they were liberally patronized.

MORE POISONING.—Our neighbor, Mr. John R. Sellers, on Sunday night last had a hen with fourteen chickens, nearly four weeks old, poisoned. On Monday morning they were found dead in the coop.—For the credit of our town we trust the poisoning was the result of accident. If otherwise, the fact is established that we have at least one assassin in our midst, such a person would necessarily have a heart black enough for the commission of any crime.

THE WHIAT.—The grain fields in this section, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather for sometime, present a rather promising appearance. Should our farming community be so fortunate as to be favored with another season of good crops, the effect must certainly be to measurably relieve all classes of their financial embarrassments; and we presume there are few who are not more or less in that kind of dilemma.

COMING.—The happy time when the honest granger will plow his fields and catch the plow point on a stone, and tumble over the handle, and get up and swear at the railroad monopolies and mid-landers, and take a drink from the little brown jug.

COMMUNION.—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in Trinity Reformed Church, on Easter Sunday, April 5th. Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger, D. D. will preach morning and evening. His discourse in the evening will be to the young men.

DEAD.—A lady named Barbara Sites dropped dead, one day last week, near Upton.

ILLICIT DISTILLERIES.—Last week, Mr. T. J. Grimeson, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for this district, pointed down upon two alleged illicit distilleries, in this county. Samuel Wilson, a colored man, was in charge of one about a mile east of Upton, north of the turnpike.—Another was discovered in Peters township, about one mile from Williamson. Mr. Conrad Hartman was in charge of this one. The colored man has made disclosures implicating some seven or eight persons. The Wilson still was in a cellar, the other in a little stone building. Green-castle has been wonderfully excited over these discoveries. It is said that one of the establishments has been running for eight months and the other for a year, supplying the many who wanted it in their respective neighborhoods. It is not known whether the excitement at Green-castle is owing to joy over the suppression of the vile traffic, or sorrow over the cutting off of the commissary supplies.—Spirit.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—Last week a Company was organized and incorporated under the name of the "Hagerstown Steam Engine and Machine Company," which has purchased the Foundry of Garver & Flanneghan, on Baltimore street, and will for the present continue the business as it has been conducted by that firm, but it is designed, we believe, to increase the business a great while and make it a large and important manufactory.

The capital stock of the concern is $40,000, and the following gentlemen are the incorporators: Messrs. John H. Garver, Wm. E. Flanneghan, Wm. T. Hamilton, C. W. Humrickhouse, John Welby, E. W. Mealy, H. H. Keedy and Doctors J. F. Smith and Chas. B. Boyle.—Mail.

HOME LIFE IN THE BIBLE.—This is the title of a work more than ordinarily interesting, just issued by Messrs. Zeigler & McCury, 518 Arch Street, Philadelphia, by the gifted author, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., a copy of which is on our table. It is handsomely bound, the illustrations surpassing anything of the kind that has yet been brought to our notice. Every friend of religion or morality should secure a copy. It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that canvassing agents are wanted.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Last Tuesday the son of David Wiles, Esq., but little more than two years old succeeded in getting hold of a small pair of pointed scissors, with which he stumbled and fell upon the floor, holding them in his hand. The child struck his face upon the open points of the blades the base of which was on the floor, with so much force that one of the points was bent like a fish hook against the cheek bone just below the socket of the eye, both points having penetrated the cheek to the bone, inflicting an ugly wound. The escape of the eye from destruction was very remarkable and certainly very fortunate.—Hag. Mail.

The particulars of the death of a young girl named Louisa Ross, in a disreputable house in Hagerstown, were published last August. Her supposed seducer and the woman (Susan Hays) at whose house the girl died, were arrested on the charge of having occasioned her death by producing an abortion. Mrs. Hays was tried at Hagerstown last week and found guilty. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

DROWNED.—Joseph Eckert, an old school teacher of Chambersburg, on Saturday last was found drowned in the Mill race near that place. His mind had been disturbed for sometime and the supposition is that he committed suicide.

The Grand Council of the Independent order of Red Men of the State of Maryland will meet at Emmitsburg, on the coming Spring.

The wealth of the Hon. Robert Fowler, who died in Baltimore, is estimated at two millions of dollars.

FOR SALE.—We have for sale several fine large chromes, will be sold cheap. Apply at this Office.

HOW CANCER CAN BE CURED.—We publish the following, not because we know its excellence, but for the reason that it may be worth a trial: Take the inside of red oak bark something near a bushel and a half; burn it in a large kettle, and leave it from anything like grease. When the bark has burned to ashes, add sufficient water to them and boil the strength entirely out. Now let it settle until clear, then strain it through a fine cloth into a vessel that is clear of grease, and boil it down again until it becomes about the consistency of tar. When thus prepared, spread the salve on a piece of cloth the size of the lump or cancer, and apply it to the affected part. It may burn and be painful at first, but you must let it remain as long as you can bear it, if possible until it ceases being painful.—When the cancer is killed it will turn black and begin to fester around the edges and keep festering into the centre until it loosens itself and comes out. If, in applying it, it is too severe, rub it with sweet oil, which will allay the smarting.—Ex.

On March 2d some ex-Confederate soldiers exhumed the bodies of two Union soldiers who fell in a skirmish near Chester, S. C., in February, 1865. The remains were placed in burial caskets, on which were placed with the names of the deceased, and were forwarded to Colonel Black, commanding the post at Columbia, S. C., with a letter stating this action was "prompted especially by the following considerations: 1. The generous and fraternal conduct of survivors of the Union army, as exhibited in decorating the graves of the Confederate dead at Madison, Wis., in May last, in which ceremony, at the suggestion of the orator of the day, Gen. C. C. Washburn, Governor of Wisconsin, the orphans of many Union soldiers participated. 2. The recent successful recommendation by Gov. Noyes, of Ohio, that the Legislature of that State should make a liberal appropriation to surround the Confederate cemetery at Columbus with a suitable iron railing. 3. The utterances and action of the Union army who assembled in the convention of Mexican war veterans held at Washington, D. C., January 15th, 1874."

Colonel Black made a prompt and patriotic reply.

AN INDIGNANT LANDLORD.—The Temperance Crusade in the West has developed the fact that at least one landlord is pretty well 'booked' in the Scriptures, and meets the ladies with their own tools. An indignant saloon keeper in Ohio, with a determination to overcome the praying women by moral suasion, has printed in and prominently displayed a card containing the following selections from Holy Writ. He has hired a wicked man to read them over to the ladies when they stop to pray in front of his saloon:

"And when thou prayest thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the street, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward."
"But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet; and when thou hast shut thy door pray unto thy Father, which seeth in secret, and he shall reward thee openly."—Matt. vi. 5, 6.
"Let your women keep silence in the churches for it is not permitted unto them to speak."

"And if they will learn anything let them ask their husbands at home, for it is a shame for a woman to speak in the church."—I Cor. xiv. 34, 35.

A bill granting pensions to soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, and to restore to the pension rolls persons whose names were stricken therefrom for disability, a bill increasing the pensions of soldiers who have been totally disabled and a bill granting an allowance of $30 to each soldier who has lost an eye, to enable him to purchase an artificial eye, has passed the House of Representatives.

The Rhode Island House of Representatives and the Iowa Senate have adopted resolutions proposing an amendment to their State Constitutions authorizing woman suffrage. The Michigan Senate has refused to concur with the House in like measure, and the Ohio constitutional convention has refused to allow the same question to be voted upon separately by the people of that State.

W. S. AMBERSON.—Dear Sir:—Having understood that you are taking part in the question of Temperance, we would say, with all good feeling that if you not we must—that your son has violated the law equally with Mr. Stoner and Minters—can be proven beyond a doubt, in fact the evidence is at hand. As citizens we do not wish to interfere. But you proceed and we shall.

I wish it distinctly understood that I am on the side of temperance openly and above board, and further that I am not to be deterred from the discharge of duty as a good citizen by threats to prosecute my son. If he is as guilty as the parties named, let him suffer the penalty. Do not be ashamed to come out over your own name. Be manly and let me know who you are. Don't act the coward.
W. S. AMBERSON.
