Poor Vanderbilt. He only controls a hundred million dollars.

Strawberries are selling in the New York markets at seven dollars a quart.

Rhode Island has made Decoration Day a legal holiday.

The Maryland House of Delegates last week decided to reduce the price of marriage licenses from $4 to $5.

We suppose the object of this reduction is to encourage matrimony.

The inflationists in Congress have triumphed and the 400,000,000 legal tender bill is awaiting the signature of the President to become a law.

At the special election in Baltimore county last week, Andrew Banks, democrat, was elected to fill the vacancy in the House of Delegates occasioned by the death of Hon. Robert Fowler.

A party of northern capitalists has purchased several thousand acres of land at Keyville, Va; the price paid was $23,000. A colony of forty families will be settled upon it.

Hon. Alexander Mitchell, member of Congress from Wisconsin, is one of the wealthiest members in the House. He is down in the mercantile agencies as the possessor of $16,000,000.

In the Western places where public drinking has decreased under the crusades of the women, it is said, the sale of bottled liquor for home consumption has proportionately increased.

The opinion is freely expressed in New York that "free soup is a premium on laziness." The number of applicants does not diminish, but will hold its own as long as the soup is good.

The fat men of Philadelphia had a ball in the Academy of Music on Thursday evening. The floors of the building were propped up with heavy supports to prevent them from breaking down under the unaccustomed weight.

The champion fat man in attendance was H. D. Bush, who weighed 420 pounds.

The latest accounts from the disturbed mountain in North Carolina state that, so far, there has been no volcanic eruptions of lava or fire, though the terrific and internal rumblings heard at a distance were so great on Tuesday morning as to induce the belief that a veritable and genuine volcanic outbreak had taken place.

The excitement throughout the entire western section of the State is intense, and people are repairing to the scene in the hope of witnessing for the first time a grand volcanic eruption.

Russian Mennonites, sixty thousand in number, offer to buy of the United States government 25 square miles of land and pay ten cent on each.

Ten thousand will immigrate this year. The Mennonites, or Menists, of Somerset county, Pa., have been settled there many years and converted the glades into a garden.

They are peaceful, frugal, temperate and industrious, very odd in dress and manners, but models of what a rural population ought to be, and well deserving the study of philanthropists, historians, and political philosophers.

In the Senate of the United States, Mr. Hager, of California, has offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to advise with the President as to the expediency of opening negotiations with the Emperor of China, so as to secure such modifications of the Burlingame Treaty as will prevent hereafter the importation of Chinese females into California for immoral purposes, and of Chinese males or coolies under servile labor contracts.

This question has assumed fearful aspects and proportions. It is not one of emigration or colonization. These Chinese are brought slaves to us or worse, and form no desirable accession to our numbers. But the problem is a hard one to solve and requires great wisdom to manage.

An exchange says: the late Senator Sumner's immediate family has been most tragic. He had three brothers. Of these four men, all may be said to have died violent deaths. Two were lost at sea, one, George, died in consequence of a beating he received, and the Senator's own death was probably hastened by the same cause.

Of the sisters but one survives—Mrs. Hastings, of California. Unless she has children, there are, we think, no nephews or nieces of the Senator. From his wife, as is well known, he had been divorced, and children he had none. At the obsequies at Washington only Congressmen and their families were present.—Alone! alone!

The woods of Florida, writes a correspondent, are covered with the snowy flowers of the dogwood, the borders of the swamp golden with jessamine, and the lawns buried in a bed of peach and plum blossoms: while the warm air is burdened with fragrance.

There is a Swede in Clearfield county who wears boots 10 inches long. He wears 10 1/2 lbs. feet.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Pittsburg, March 24th, 1874.

MR. BLAIR:—Your paper is a welcome visitor to those far away who regard Waynesboro' and its interests with a fond partiality; but we were sorry to observe in your last issue, that you have received a wrong impression in regard to J. B. Gough and his interest in the Women's Temperance movement.

It is not more than two weeks since this great friend of total abstinence was lecturing to an overcrowded audience in Liberty Hall, on the subject which is engaging the attention of almost everyone at present.

Not only did he lecture for his own as well as the public benefit, but delivered a free address to the ladies in Dr. Hanna's church on Sixth Avenue. John B. Gough has always been appreciated by Pittsburgers, but never before did the announcement of his coming herald so much joy as at this time, when a few earnest women were standing out against storms of opposition, firm in their convictions of duty but longing for encouragement from some authority that would be a support to them, and also be the means of exciting public sympathy in the work; and this sworn enemy of intemperance bid them God speed, and gave them credit in his eloquent style for being able to push forward a work which men have so miserably failed to perform.

A like report of Gough, as that which reached you, was for a brief time extant in our midst, but we heard without alarm; for not only did he stand out decidedly in this city, but only a few days ago, we were gratified by seeing the following notice in one of our leading papers: "John B. Gough recently lectured in Columbus, Ohio, on Temperance before an audience of 1500 or 2000 and in his peculiar and inimitable manner extolled the women's movement in the highest degree."

The enthusiasm of the audience as he did so was unbounded. He said, "Let the women sing and pray, mark no programme for them; but as Mr. Lincoln telegraphed to Hon. Richard Yates when he feared the emancipation proclamation was premature, 'I stand still and see the salvation of God.'" He said also, there has been more temperance public sentiment manufactured, more saloons closed, and more men have signed the pledge within the last six weeks than in any six years past through any other movement."

It is reported to have been one of the effective speeches of his life; it is a subject in which his whole heart is engaged and soul enlisted. Ever since his visit to our city the work of reform has been steadily going forward; meetings are held almost every day in various churches in the two cities, Pittsburg and Allegheny, whilst in Birmingham committees have visited saloons in the same manner as done in Ohio. On last Monday a delegation of six hundred ladies waited on the Mayors of both cities requesting them to have the Sunday law enforced, which was granted, and the police force received orders to strictly enforce the law, the neglect of which is immediate expulsion from their office.

At present in our portion of the city as well as in many others nearly every other door is a drinking saloon, but we are looking forward to a time when not only Pittsburg shall be free from this fearful curse but when an enslaved nation shall be able to rise and declare the bands of intemperance forever broken.

To-day we had the pleasure of seeing on the outskirts of the city that "Spring is on her way" for on some sunny slopes the blades of green grass were springing forth, and memory carried us back to our native village, and we pictured in our imagination how lovely it would appear when summer has fully come, and we thought too of the gentle spring flowers bloomed by our own hands which will soon bloom perhaps unnoticed by the stranger eye, but the memory of their beauty and fragrance in former years, is a sweet recollection now; and also the forgotten chiming of your Sabbath bells, your unlined sunsets and clear morning, unclouded by smoke and soot. We hope our friends in old W— will live long to enjoy many returns of spring and summer in that fair valley which nature has crowned with all that is beautiful.

Yours most Respectfully, "PITTSBURGER."

DEATH OF THE $40,000 Cow.—The celebrated Eighth Duchess of Geneva, the short horned cow which sold for the enormous price of $40,000 at the sale of Mr. Campbell, at New York Mills, recently died in giving birth to a calf. It will be remembered that the animal was purchased through a mistake by the agent of a noted English cattle breeder, and subsequently resold to Col. Lewis G. Morrison, of Fordham, N. Y., for $30,000. The loss is not only a heavy one pecuniarily, but a severe disappointment to the latter gentleman, as it was his object to use the cow as a means of materially improving the breed of short horn cattle in the United States. Col. Morrison has still a large fortune invested in choice stock.

Thomas Jefferson in a letter to Meriwether Jones, May, 1800, the editor of the Virginia Argus, the shield and spear of the old Republican Party in the darkest days of the Reign of Terror, said that he did not want to see a single soldier of the regular Standing Army in the United States no not one. Standing Armies answered very well to uphold Monarchies and Despotisms. But in a Republic, where the people govern, no soldiers in a time of peace were required. We don't want over five regiments in the field at the present time. Our army of 30,000 men now is costing us Thirty Millions of Dollars per annum. Let us save $25,000,000. Let the Army be reduced.

The committee on finance in the U. S. Senate reported adversely on the House bill to authorize the Citizens' National Bank of Hagerstown, Md. to change its location to Washington.

A man in Fillmore county, Wis., recently traded off his wife for a $16 watch, the lady freely consenting to the transfer.

Local News.

Easter on Sunday next.

The streets are dusty.

Whit Sunday this year—May 29th.

We issue the Record a day in advance this week to gain time for the removal of our office fixtures.

The recent action of the Legislature renders the repeal of the local option law very improbable.

Confirmation services will be held Good Friday evening in Trinity Reformed church.

ON HAND.—Messrs. Stover & Wolff are on hand with a supply of new goods for the spring trade.

NEW GOODS.—Messrs. Amberson, Benedict & Co. are now receiving their first supply of new spring and summer goods.

In consequence of our removal this issue of the paper has been gotten up hurriedly, which will account for lack of reading, etc.

WILD GESE.—On Sunday evening last a very large flock of wild geese passed over this place. They were steering in a south-westerly direction and flying low.

LARGE STOCK.—Price & Hoeflich have just opened their large stock of spring goods, to which they call the attention of the trade.

A petition has been presented in the legislature praying for an act prohibiting stock from running at large in this commonwealth.

ILL.—Our worthy Post Master, Mr. A. G. Nevin, whose illness we noticed a couple weeks since, continues in the same critical condition.

NOTICE.—We have for sale one large steel engraving, entitled "Men of Progress," and several large size Chromos.—Will be sold cheap. Call at the Record office, Odd Fellows' Building.

PICTURES.—Persons wanting fine pictures can now be supplied at the Diamond Gallery. Mr. Sweet, the present operator, is doing a fine trade. We are pleased to learn that his style of pictures meets with general favor.

CONCERTS.—The Old Folks' Concerts at the Odd Fellows' Hall, on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week were well patronized. The first evening the Hall was crowded and the next evening nearly filled. The entertainments were well conducted and of a most amusing and interesting character. We understand the parties realized about $75.00. On Tuesday evening they repeated—by request—one of their concerts at Greencastle.

The last day of March (Tuesday) was exceedingly disagreeable, its exit having been made with chilling rain and snow. The commotion among the wild geese on Sunday night the weather prophets will no doubt attribute to this sudden and unexpected change. The old adage—"come in as a lamb and go out as a lion"—seems to have been verified for once at least.

RELIGIOUS.—The Lord's Supper will be administered in Trinity Reformed church next Sunday morning. Preaching every evening during this week. The communion sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger, D. D. In the evening of same day Dr. Bomberger will preach a sermon to young men. The evening service is held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. The public is cordially invited to attend.

APPOINTMENTS.—Among the appointments made by the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the M. E. Church, which recently adjourned at Altoona, we find the following: Presiding Elder of this (Harrisburg) District, Rev. B. E. Hamlin; Chambersburg, First Church, Rev. F. Hodgson; Second Church, Rev. J. W. Buckley; Greencastle, Rev. W. V. Ganoe; Waynesboro', Rev. W. L. Spotswood; Mercersburg, Rev. F. Adams; Mount Alto, Rev. J. M. Guldin; Shippensburg, Rev. J. Y. Shannon.

Rev. J. Donahue, Pastor of the M. E. Church in this place, for the last four years, has been assigned to Everett, Bedford county. Mr. D. is a popular minister and highly esteemed by all classes.—The church and people here generally part with him with more than ordinary reluctance.

BARN BURN.—On Thursday morning last the barn of Mrs. Catherine Culbertson, Culbertson's Row, in this county, was set on fire, and the structure, together with a number of horned cattle and farming implements, were entirely destroyed. It is supposed to have been fired by some stragler, as a character of this kind was seen to leave the barn a short time previous to the bursting out of the flames.—We could gather no further particulars.—Opinion.

FISH.—The wholesale quotations at the Potomac Fisheries on Friday last for shad was $25 to $30 per hundred; herring $1.50 per hundred; large rock 8 to 11 cents per pound, and perch 60 to 80 cents per ten pound bunch.

This (Wednesday) is All Fools' Day.

FRICK & Co.—On Monday we visited the Steam Engine and Boiler Works of Messrs. Frick & Co. in this place, and are gratified to be able to say that we found them in a most flourishing condition. The firm never ceased operations entirely during the late season of business depression, and are now running an increased force of hands, the present force numbering about seventy. Persons who have not visited these works can have no adequate conception of the quality and quantity of machinery employed, and the amount of work turned out. Among other conveniences that particularly attracted our attention were the Elevator and Steam Hammer for forging. The lighter parts of the machinery are manufactured on the second floor, all of which is lowered or hoisted by means of the elevator.

Having heard much said about the new and beautiful engine designed and made by Messrs. Frick & Co. we had a curiosity to see it before it would be shipped to Virginia, and hence our visit. It is an entirely new designed Portable and Stationary Engine, which for simplicity, durability, and beauty of finish, excels anything of the kind known to the trade, and has many important advantages apparent to the common observer. We understand it has elicited the admiration of all practical men who have seen it. The builders anticipate a more than ordinary demand for the newly designed engine and have the whole force of the shop at work building them. An important feature about it is that it can be detached from the boiler by any one that can use a tool, by simply taking out a few bolts, so that it can be shipped in separate parts if desired. The shops and sheds are filled with engines of all kinds, some sixty finished and unfinished, ranging from 8 to 60 horse powers, among which are 24 of the new design, and boilers of different powers in various stages of completion.—The wagon or truck for the new engine and boiler is much superior to the common wagon in use. In order that it may be distinguished from other engines they have named it the "Eclipse," and to our eye it really does eclipse anything of the kind we ever saw.

We saw a number of the most complimentary testimonials from parties who have had engines manufactured at these works in use for years. Among the orders received within the past few days was one for a ninety horse power engine to be shipped to California. These works are an important auxiliary to the business interests of our town, and we are gratified to be able to make a statement of facts so favorably to Mr. Frick, who has supervision over the entire business, as well as the enterprising gentlemen who compose the firm.

The Phenological Journal and Life Illustrated. For the faithful presentation of old and new truths in a pleasant form, we must commend this veteran monthly, The April number blossoms with an attractive variety. We have in it a Portrait and Sketch of Mr. Cleveland Abbe, of the Signal Bureau, universally known as "Probabilities"; an Analytical Paper on the Causes of Vice and Crime, with some practical hints toward their remedy; a sketch of an eminent Authoress, Madame Schwartz, and a fine Portrait, Heads, Hats and Character, hits off some of the people we meet, both in its text and illustrations; in Physiology of the Sexes, a writer takes Mr. Spencer to task for some narrow views of "the sex"; besides we have something humorous, in My Impressions of Names, and Stolen Glances, and much that is agreeably instructing in Our Evergreen Trees; Press Notices; Anybody can do it, and much that everybody should read, in We are Born So? Vitality and Chemistry, Commercial Obstructions, Agricultural Hints, etc. Terms $3 a year. 30 cents a number. Address, S. R. WELLS, New York.

THE SHARPSBURG INFANTICIDE CASE.—The case of Ruth Knude, arrested for infanticide, was taken up in the Circuit Court last Saturday. To the indictment the prisoner plead "not guilty." The following proceedings in the case we take from the Hagerstown Daily News: The State proceeded with its testimony, which was of a most affecting character, and appealed loudly to the sympathy of all present. It appears that the girl's mother died when she was very young and her father, not possessed with those parental feelings that distinguish a true parent, cast her off, a lone waif upon the stream of time. She sought refuge among her friends, and has been kindly cared for during the past seven years by a Mrs. Schopper.

Proof was given of the girl's extreme ignorance. She could neither read nor write, and could not tell the time of day. In all her sufferings she had been very reticent, not comprehending her position nor the horror of the deed which she had committed. The evidence of the doctors was that they believed her to be incompetent to judge between right and wrong.—In accordance with the evidence, Mr. Keeley, State's Attorney, asked the Court to instruct the jury to give a verdict of "not guilty."

REFUSED.—The Central Pennsylvania Conference which met at Altoona last week, refused to restore the parsonages of Rev. E. W. Kirby, formerly of Chambersburg, but now residing in Philadelphia.

The Carlisle papers still insist that they have a hen in that town which lays black eggs.

WHEN NOT TO DO IT.—Look well to the time of doing any thing; there is a time for saving things. If your wife looks weary and worn out be sure it is not the right time to tell her that the dinner is not hot, or that the bread is sour. Comfort her, cheer her up. Use the ten thousand and little stratagems you were wont to handle so skillfully in the old days, to bring out the smiles around her lips.

If you are annoyed or vexed at people, just remember it is not the right time to speak. Close your mouth, shut your teeth together firmly, and it will save you many a useless and unavailing regret, and a bitter enemy.

If you happen to feel a little cross, and who among us does not at some times or other? do not select that season for reproving your noisy household flock.—One word spoken in passion will make a scar that a summer of smiles can hardly heal over.

If you are a wife, never tease your husband when he comes home weary from his day's business. It is not the time.—Do not ask him for expensive outlays when he has been talking about hard times; it is most assuredly the wrong time.

If he has entered upon any undertaking against your advice, do not seize in the moment of its failure to say, "I told you so!" In fact, it is never the right time for those four monosyllables.

If people only knew enough to discriminate between the right time and the wrong, there would be less domestic unhappiness, and less silent sorrow, and less estrangement of hearts! The greatest calamities that ever shadow our lives have sometimes their germ in matters as apparently slight as this. If you pause, reader, before the stinging taunt or the biting sneer, the unkind scoff passes your lips, pause just long enough to ask yourself, "Is it the right time for me to speak?" you would shut the door against many a heart-ache.

The world hinges on small things, and there are not many more trivial than the right time and the wrong.—Ez.

THE LICENSE BILL.—Since the virtual defeat of the Local Option bill in the Maryland Legislature, some amendments have been offered to the license bill, by which the issuing of a license can only be done on the order of the Circuit Court, sitting at a regular term. The applicant must file his petition thirty days before the beginning of the term, and must give notice that such application is pending in some newspaper published in the county at least once a week for three weeks before the first day of the term, warning all persons who may desire to object to such license being granted, to appear on the second day of the term to make such objections; and the Court before ordering such license to be granted shall be satisfied that the applicant is a person of good and respectable character, and of a peaceable and orderly disposition, and that the public good will not be injured by granting such license.

The Court may require bond and security for strict compliance with the law on the part of the person receiving such license, who shall be responsible for damage to person or property caused by a violation of the law.

There is a bill now before the Legislature providing for the collection of taxes. It dispenses entirely with collectors and provides that the Treasurer of the county shall publish in the newspapers the duplicate of assessments, thirty days, and by hand bills; also the time that he will be in the township or borough, at least one day, to receive the taxes of that township or borough, previous to September. All paying their taxes previous to that time into the county treasury, in person, will receive a deduction of five per cent, and on all taxes not paid sixty days after the 1st day of September, ten per cent. will be added to such tax. If the bill becomes a law, it will go into effect January 1, 1875.

The United States Senate has passed the bill creating a commission of five persons neither of whom shall be the holder of any office of profit or trust in the general or state governments, to examine into the liquor traffic of the United States. The duty of the commission will be to examine into the economic, criminal, moral and scientific aspects of the traffic, in connection with pauperism, crime, social vice, public health, and general welfare of the people, and as to the results of license and restrictive legislation for the prevention of intemperance. The commission is to serve one year, and shall be chosen without reference to their views on the question of prohibition, their selection being based upon their impartiality and fitness with a view to a candid and instructive report.

The debt of the city of Philadelphia now amounts to $60,000,000, more than double that of the entire State, and it is stated by the Philadelphia Inquirer that on Saturday a secret meeting was held by certain of the city and state officials at which it was proposed to increase the debt to $80,000,000, an appropriation of $3,000,000, to be made for Fairmount Park. The Inquirer strongly opposes the proposition, declaring that it is the increase is granted it will place the property of every citizen in peril of being almost entirely absorbed by taxation.

The Temperance Crusade.

WILKESBARRE, PA., March 27.—The Women's Temperance League made another raid upon the bar-rooms of this city yesterday, but did not succeed in inducing any of the proprietors to abandon the business. The White Horse Hotel, a prominent establishment on Market street, was visited. Mrs. Perrin is the lessee of the place, and refused to see the women in the bar-room. The band then knelt down in the middle of the floor and conducted prayer for about an hour. Another party visited the saloons in the western part of the city. The crusade awakened great excitement in the city, and many saloon keepers closed their places to keep the women out in case they should appear. The movement will not be abandoned and the crusade will be renewed either to-morrow or the next day. The police authorities are prosecuting a relentless war against disreputable houses, and several have been closed. About 200 disreputable women have been driven away from the city.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—The women prayed to-day during 'Change hours at a saloon next door to the Chamber of Commerce. A great crowd collected, and the police with great difficulty preserved order.

The Board of Aldermen to-day unanimously passed a resolution requesting the Mayor to enforce the city ordinance regarding crowds in streets, which will prevent praying bands from holding street services. The Mayor will probably issue a proclamation to-morrow.

LAFAYETTE, March 27.—The ladies to-day inaugurated a prayer crusade against the saloons keepers and visited a number of places. At one point a crowd of drunken roughs assembled in a bar-room, sung, yelled and indulged in blasphemy, completely drowning the voices of the ladies.

"Horse-Men," and others who pretend to know, say that following directions had better be observed in using Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders: Give a horse a tablespoonful every night for a week; the same every other night for 4 to 6 nights; the same for a milch cow, and twice as much for an ox. The addition of a little fine salt will be an advantage.

We have heard recently of several severe cases of spinal disease cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; one case of a man forty-five years old, who had not done a day's work for four years.—The back should first be washed, then rubbed with a coarse towel. Apply the Liniment cold, and rub it in well with the hand.

Venus feels no more like a "morning star." It now sheds its light in the evening and will continue to do so until December.

School Directors are requested to visit schools once a month, but many pay no attention to the law.
