

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, April 28, 1874.

The Pennsylvania Legislature is not expected to adjourn before the latter end of May.

California exempts editors from jury duty, thinking they have trials enough in their business.

There are still some people living in the mountains of Kentucky who have never seen a grain of tea or coffee in their lives.

Old man Bender and his son, the notorious Kansas murderers, have been again arrested once more, this time in Utah.

Governor Groome has signed the Tunnel bill which gives the W. M. Railroad the right-of-way through the Baltimore and Potomac Tunnel, at Baltimore.

The Legislature of Maryland passed at its late session a law requiring all the property of the State to be re-assessed, and authorizing the Governor to appoint an Assessor for each district.

The dead-lock in Massachusetts on the election of a Senator to fill the place vacated by the death of Sumner was broken on Friday, and Governor Washburne elected.

The inflation bill giving us an increase of forty-six million dollars more of greenbacks, has passed both Houses of Congress, and now only awaits the President's signature to become a law.

The wedding of Mrs. John W. Geary took place at the residence of Mr. Jas. W. Bossier, Carlisle, Pa., on Thursday evening, the 9th inst. The groom was Henry Ernest Goodman, M. D., of Philadelphia, and Rev. T. H. Robinson, of Harrisburg, was the officiating clergyman.

Dispatch from Pittsburg, Pa., says the mayor has been instructed by the police committee to arrest any women cursing against soldiers, together with the persons following them, on account of their interference with business and disturbing the public peace.

Despatches from New Orleans report that the whole country from Monroe to the mouth of the Red river is under water, and that ten thousand people in that district will soon be on the verge of starvation.

In the United States Senate, on Friday, a memorial from citizens of Philadelphia, representing one hundred million dollars of capital protesting against any re-enactment of the duties on tea and coffee. Memorials from Cincinnati and Portland, Me., against inflation were also presented.

There is a man at Colusa, California, who took an oath during the late civil war never to wash his face or comb his hair until the cause of the South had triumphed. An exchange says that his face reminds one of a half acre lot skirted by a growth of tangled brush.

John L. Anderson, a son of the Mayor of Lebanon, Tennessee, and R. J. Breckenridge, a student at a law school at that place, and a son of the late Dr. Breckenridge, became involved in a dispute over an umbrella. After the difference had been adjusted, and they had stepped up to a bar to take a drink together, young Anderson clipped a Derringer to Breckenridge's head and put a bullet through his brain. Anderson then fled. Both belong to the "first families."

An interesting insurance case is about to be tried in Philadelphia. Monroe Snyder, a wealthy citizen of Bethlehem, Pa., had policies on his life amounting to $600,000. On the 13th of March, 1873, he was found dead between his house and the railroad depot. He had just returned from New York, and was supposed to have a large sum of money on his person, of which he was robbed. His heirs claim that he was murdered, and the insurance companies allege that he committed suicide. The suit about to be tried is against the Mutual Life of New York.

The "statesman" who is now struggling with untoward fate in a pair of striped trousers, but who tempers his political exile by keeping up some fictitious state with his private reception room and private secretary, is remembered in his retirement by his friends and allies, who got up a little conspiracy for his benefit, but which has come to signal grief. The sharp criticism which the prison authorities have received for favoritism towards Tweed, it was feared, would force them to subject him to prison discipline, and reports of small-pox were circulated to furnish an excuse for leniency. The scheme was exposed, and two of the convicts confessed that they had gotten up eruptions by the use of croton oil. The order of the hospital has been dismissed and an investigation ordered.

Mr. Packer, member of Congress from this State, under a suspension of the rules last week, introduced a bill restoring the former newspaper privilege to printers and subscribers. The bill passed the House by a large majority. If the Senate concur in the action of the House, subscribers in the county where a paper is published will receive their paper without postage.

Local Items.

A warm and sickly summer is predicted.

See advt. Miller Bros. in another column.

The time for white-washing is at hand. Get your lime of Hess and Bro.

A careless or short-of-stamps delinquent is requested to favor us with a few barrels of corn.

The cold snap of last week damaged to some extent the peach prospects in this section.

The Y. M. C. A. of this place will hold a meeting in the Lutheran Church in Quincy on Sunday next at 3 o'clock.

BUILDING LOTS.—George Stover, Assignee of John M. Ervin, offers for sale two desirable building lots. See advt.

At the municipal election in Hagerstown, the democrats elected the Mayor and three out of five councilmen.

George Boerner, Merchant Tailor, has received and opened out his first supply of new goods for the spring and summer trade.

The recent delightful rain showers have very materially brightened the grain prospects in this region. Most of the fields present a luxuriant appearance.

The Sunday Union Prayer Meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at 3 o'clock during the spring and summer months.

Rev. Dr. Kieffer will be installed as Pastor of the Gettysburg charge of the Reformed church, on Wednesday of next week, at 2 o'clock.

NEW STOCK.—T. J. Filbert, Merchant Tailor, has returned from the cities and opened out a fresh stock of new goods for gentlemen's wear.

STOVES, TIN-WARE, &c.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that D. B. Russell & Son are well supplied with all articles in their line of business.

PUBLIC SALE.—Messrs. Stoner & Amberson, Assignees of James McIlvancey, offer at public sale in to-day's paper a large collection of stock and other personal property.

Mr. Michael Newtomer, of Better Creek, Washington county, Md., and formerly a member of the House of Delegates of Maryland, has been struck with paralysis.

DECEASED.—Rev. Dr. Schneek, of the Reformed Church, died rather suddenly at Chambersburg Sunday morning last, in the 69th year of his age. He was at one time editor of the Reformed Messenger.

NEW OFFICE.—Dr. Benj. Frantz has erected a new office building adjoining his residence at the West end of Main Street, where persons desiring his professional services will call in the future. See advt. in to-day's paper.

Mr. Ignatius Harbaugh and family who removed from the Marsh about the first inst. have taken up their residence at Mansfield, Richland co., Ohio. The Record has been ordered to their address.

LUMBER YARD.—We call special attention to the advertisement in this issue of Greenacres Lumber Yard and Sash Factory, Messrs. J. B. Crowell & Co. proprietors. It will be seen that they have a heavy stock of worked building lumber on hand and the Michigan Shingles (white pine) all grades.

BOOK BINDERY.—We call attention to a long established business house, that of J. N. Salder, Stationer and Book-Binder, Chambersburg, Pa. Mr. S. is an experienced and accommodating business man. Persons wanting stationery or books of any description neatly and cheaply bound will not go amiss by giving him a call. Advt. in another column.

GONE WEST.—H. M. Sibbett, Esq., is now on a western tour. He will visit Ohio, Illinois and Iowa and will be absent several weeks.

W. S. Amberson, Esq., also left for the western part of this State, Mercer county, on Tuesday morning. On Monday evening he received a telegram that his father was in a dying condition. The old gentleman we understand is in his 80th year.

GOING TO LEAVE.—We regret to learn that we are to lose our popular Barber, Mr. Wm. A. Price. He will leave for Adams county next week. We understand he purposes engaging in the farming business near Gettysburg. The Barbering will be continued by his nephew, Robert Price, who is quite an expert at the business.

Our friend, Mr. Hiram E. Wertz, announces himself in to-day's paper as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. Mr. W. is one of Quincy township's most trustworthy citizens. This section of the county will give him a cordial support.

JOHN C. McLAUGHLIN, Esq., a Justice of the Peace for Montgomery township, died at his residence at Camp Hill, on Monday, the 13th instant. He was interred near Claylick on Tuesday following.

FAHNEY'S PANACEA.—A few days since business called us to the house of Dr. P. Fahney, Bros. & Co. in this place, where the famed Panacea is manufactured. Judging from the quantity of bottles there displayed and stacks of boxes filling for shipment we were forced to the conclusion that their business was largely on the increase. We made inquiry as to their business operations and was informed that they are filling orders ranging from 60 boxes to 120 boxes, that they are shipping to all parts of the country, including California and the Gulf States, and even to Canada. They state that wherever their medicine has been introduced large orders have followed. Than this no better recommendation could be desired. This is one of our home enterprises and it is gratifying to us to be able to make so flattering a statement as to its business prospects.

THE GRANGES.—An article will be found on first page of to-day's paper which pretty clearly defines the object or purposes of the Grange movement. It is a declaration of purposes from the National Grange of Patrons of Husbandry. The article will prove interesting to those who are not posted on the subject.

Washington township Grange numbers about eighty members. They hold their meetings in the Odd Fellows' Hall. The regular meeting was held on Saturday afternoon last. The meetings hereafter will be held every third Saturday through the summer season and weekly during the winter season. Many of our most respectable farmers are identified with the Grange and manifest a great interest in it. Ladies take part in the meetings.

THE DUNKERS.—The religious denomination known as "Dunkers" was first organized in this country about the year 1810, at Germantown, Pa. They now have some 1200 ministers, of whom several hundred are bishops. The number of churches is estimated at 400, and the membership at 24,000, of whom nine-tenths, ministers included, are farmers. Ministers are only remunerated when engaged in missionary work. They baptize by immersion, and we believe, deny the doctrine of the Trinity and the endless duration of future punishment.

The above paragraph has been passing among our exchanges for some time. We do not think it true that as a whole or society they disbelieve in the doctrine of endless future punishment. Some of them are restorationists in theory, but not all, and this doctrine, if we have been correctly informed, they are not even allowed to discuss in their churches.

ADVERTISING.—This issue of the Record contains a number of new advertisements, to which we ask particular attention. The present circulation it has attained makes it a safe and reliable advertising medium, and we are glad a respectable class appreciate and are willing to avail themselves of the advantages thus afforded. We further ask a perusal of our business locals from week to week. Thirty cents thus expended will bring a three lines notice before a thousand readers.

A fatal accident occurred to Samuel Stake, only son of A. K. Stake, of the House of Delegates, of Maryland, near Hagerstown, on Saturday week. Whilst out gunning he attempted to draw his gun through a break in the rock, when the hammer was pulled back and the gun discharged the load taking effect in the young man's groin. Medical aid was soon in attendance, but he died in two hours afterwards. Deceased was about 19 years of age.

RELIGIOUS.—There will be communion services in the Presbyterian church, next Sabbath. Preparatory services will be given on Wednesday evening prayer-meeting. On Friday evening, the Rev. J. H. Fleming, of Welsh Run, who is to assist the Pastor, will preach. He will also preach on Sabbath evening, at a union service to be held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. The public is invited to attend these services.

A friend ours who is chief clerk in the Government Dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of so much importance to the soldier and sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Veterinary Surgeons all over the country are recommending Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the following troubles in horses:—Loss of appetite, roughness of the hair, stoppage of bowels or water, thick water, coughs and colds, swelling of the glands, worms, horse ail, thick wind, and heaves.

The Shippensburg Sentinel gets off the following: "Now that some one has fixed upon Waynesboro', Franklin county, as the birth-place of the great and good Simon Cameron, the inhabitants of that locality are thinking of emigrating, for fear of an earthquake."

MILLINERY.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Mrs. M. A. Kester has opened a Millinery and Fancy Store in the room recently occupied by Mrs. K. G. Stover, next door to Kinehart's Hardware Store.

On Sunday a week's inches of snow covered the Allegheny Mountain.

OUR OLD FOLKS' AT GREENCASTLE.—Our Old Folks' gave one of their entertainments in Greenacres and received justly the following complimentary notice in the Valley Echo:

The "Old Folks" of Waynesboro', gave one of their excellent entertainments in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, 7th inst., to one of the best audiences assembled there since the lecture of Theodore Tilton. Public expectancy was at a high point to see and hear them, and therefore people who never went out before joined in with those "who have been there" to greet them. They opened with an old time party of more than a hundred years ago, in which the guests sang "Auld Lang Syne"—and nobly and grandly did they render it. This was highly applauded. Other scenes of equal interest followed and were well enacted. "Coming through the Rye," as sung by Miss Emma French, was a grand vocal effort, and made the lady and the audience fast friends for the remainder of the evening. Mrs. Wolfenberger's rendering of "John Anderson, my Jo John," also made a hit, and she, too, was a favorite. Mr. Coon's tenor in "Home Again" was full, melodious and sweet, and praises were as lavish upon him as if he were a Mario. Mr. Pilkington, the comic man of the troupe, sung "Susan Jane" in a happy, rollicking manner, and nearly upset the audience with mirth and excitement. Mrs. Geo. Foreman sustained the character of the Pennsylvania Dutch dame to perfection. Her self-reliance and nonchalance, and perfect enunciation of broken English, her gestures and rural movements, all combined to make her the ruling spirit on the stage. Miss Florence Richardson as Mrs. Spriggings, was vivacious, witty, and apt, and rendered her part in a faultless manner. Mr. Charles Bush, as Squire Swiffler, with his rolund form, looked the character to perfection. Mr. William Smith showed his ability as a manager and costumer; and was no doubt highly satisfied with the manner in which his troupe acquitted itself. Gen. Daniel Mickle represented that sharp, free and easy American gentleman of the last century, and looked happy, while our friend Adam Forney, as Gen. Lafayette, "with the front and bearing of Jove," looked as if he would "seek the bubble reputation even at the cannon's mouth." Mr. Elden, violinist, and Miss Wengley, organist, furnished the music for the entertainment, and elicited the applause of the audience, and even excited the envy of some of our amateurs. The troupe was composed of twenty-four persons, but the above mentioned are all the names we could ascertain. We would say to our Waynesboro' friends that they are always welcome in Greenacres whether as "old folks" or young folks.

CASE OF DROWNING.—The following particulars of a sad case of drowning are from the Mechanicsville Clarion: "On 10th instant, Mr. Daniel Harp, residing near Utica, left his residence about 10 or 11 o'clock, A. M., going with a wagon and team of four horses, taking some corn to Myer's mill to have it chopped. The mill is located on Hunting creek, near the Monocacy, about half a mile below the Creagerstown Bridge. His son-in-law, Mr. Freshour, accompanied him as driver of the team. Mr. Harp being seated in the wagon bed. The Monocacy had been very high, and the back water had dammed up Hunting creek, so that it was still as a lake—8 or 10 feet deep. When they got to the fording place, which was a bad fording at best, Mr. Freshour looked at the stream and said he thought it was too high to cross, but Mr. Harp thought otherwise, and said to the driver, 'we can cross it.' The horses and wagon had scarcely got a few feet from the bank, when the water came against the bed of the wagon with full force and lifted it off from the running apparatus and upset it. Mr. Harp clinging to the wheels, remarking 'we are lost.' Mr. Freshour was also precipitated into the stream and floated down a few yards when he clung to a vine or bush on the bank, and hung there until assistance came to his relief, and he was taken out. Mr. Harp bobbed up and down three or four times, and then sank to rise no more! Mr. Freshour was near him when he came up on the surface of the water, but was unable to reach him. Two of the horses were also drowned. Deceased was 69 years 5 months and 24 days of age. He was quite well off and leaves his widow and children in comfortable circumstances."

One of the greatest frauds upon the citizens of the State is the frequent change in school books. This is no doubt often done by collusion between teachers or directors and the publishers, who share the profits from the introduction of the new books. The action taken by the Legislature to secure a uniform series of text books, for the use of schools throughout the State, will if successful be a very acceptable arrangement to parents and guardians. It will not only prevent frequent changes, but will enable persons to remove from one portion of the State to another without compelling the purchase of new books; and the persons who most frequently remove are the ones who are the least able to incur such expense.

We call special attention to the new book advertised in another column, entitled "THE NEW YORK TOMBS." This work is intensely interesting for both old and young. It is sold cheap, and therefore within the reach all. It will be seen by the advertisement that the publishers want good and reliable agents everywhere.

The act passed by the legislature at this session and approved by the Governor on the 12th ult., for the relief of the soldiers and sailors of the State in the war of 1812, provides that the sum of $100 per annum be paid all soldiers and sailors who served in that war.

BUSINESS LAWS.—The following compilation of business laws is worth a careful preservation, and it contains the essence of a large amount of legal verbiage. It is not legally necessary to say on a note "value received."

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced.

A note by a minor is void.

A contract made with a minor is also void.

A contract made with a lunatic is void, unless obtained by fraud; or from a person in a state of intoxication, cannot be collected.

If a note is lost or stolen it does not release the maker; he must pay it, if the consideration for which it was given and the amount can be proven.

An indorser of a note is exempt from liability if not served with notice of dishonor within twenty-four hours of its non-payment.

Notes bear interest only when it is so stated.

Principals are responsible for acts of their agents.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for the whole amount of debts of the firm.

Ignorance of the law excuses no person. It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

The law compels no one to do impossibilities.

An agreement without consideration is void.

Signatures made with a lead pencil are good in law.

A receipt for money is not always conclusive.

The acts of one partner bind all the other partners.

At a special meeting of the Waynesboro' Brass Band, on Thursday the 9th inst., the following resolutions were adopted: WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his wise Providence to remove from us, by death, our beloved leader and teacher Peter Dock, therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death the family have lost a kind and affectionate father, and the band a sincere and devoted friend; always ready to give advice when needed, untiring in the advancement of music, the morals, and good discipline of the band.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the family and friends of our deceased brother in this their sad bereavement.

Resolved, That the above resolutions be published in the Record and a copy be sent to the family.

W. H. FRENCH, J. H. HARBAUGH, A. J. GEORGE, Committee.

In Indianapolis the other day a three-and-a-half year old child climbed through an attic window and walked along the edge of the roof, thirty-two feet from the ground, the whole length of the house, and there stood unconcerned and enjoying the prospect. She was seen by the maid of all work, who pleasantly called out, "Come down; I've got something for you." "All yite," cried the little one, and retraced her steps and disappeared through the attic window in safety.

When Senator Sumner's death was officially announced in Hayti, the flags on the President's palace and public buildings in Port-au-Prince were placed at half-mast and so remained from the 21st to the 26th of March. On the 26th of March a solemn service of commemoration was held in the Cathedral, the President and other Government officers attending. During this service minute guns were fired and the military kept under arms.

Annette McKee, of Pittsburg, Pa., is the wealthiest young lady in America. She has $2,000,000, in her own right. She is single.

The limits of Baltimore city are to be extended two miles north and one mile east and west.
