The Democratic State Convention is to be held at Pittsburgh, on the 22d of August.

The Ohio constitutional convention has settled the liquor question by adopting the local option law.

The Republican State Committee has fixed on Wednesday, Aug. 19th, for holding the State convention at Harrisburg.

Some women crusaders in Portland, Oregon, were sentenced to pay a fine of $5 each, but they didn't pay it. They served out their time in jail.

The contestants for the governorship of Arkansas, Brooks and Baxter, are both members of and pewholders in the same Methodist church in Little Rock.

The bill in the Legislature to erect a commission for examining and procuring uniformity of school books was negatived in the House on Monday, and on Tuesday a motion to reconsider the vote was not agreed to.

The court of inquiry which has been engaged in the investigation of the alleged irregularities of Gen. O. O. Howard while commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, adjourned on Saturday week, the findings of the court honorably acquitting him on every charge.

Edward Payson Weston on Monday week accomplished the wonderful feat of walking 115 miles in twenty-three hours fifty minutes and forty-five seconds, in the American Institute Hall, N. York. The hall is well adapted for a trial of this kind. The circuit measures one-seventh of a mile.

The iron trade throughout the country is greatly depressed. It is estimated that one hundred and seventy-five thousand men who are usually employed at rolling mills, furnaces etc., are out of employment to-day, in consequence of the paralyzation of the iron business.

A woman in Capeer, Mich., took her husband's knife a few days ago to open a felon; shortly after her husband used the knife to extricate sliver from his hand, and inoculated it with the virus of the felon. His hand began to swell, and in four hours he was a raving maniac, and in less than forty-eight hours dead.

The question of license or no license was voted on at Hannibal, Mo., Tuesday of last week, and a novel feature of the contest was that many ladies on both sides of the question remained at the polls all day and electioneered with great vigor. "No license" carried.

The faint hope that the present Congress would appropriate at least $3,000,000 to the Centennial has at last been abandoned by the Philadelphians. It is stated, however, that they are now willing to accept a million and half, and an effort will shortly be made to secure that amount.

Senator Jones of Nevada, whose recent speech on inflation created so marked a sensation in the Senate, is said to be the possessor of the largest income of any person in America, if not in the world, his annual revenue amounting to $6,000,000. He is the owner of a silver mine more productive than any on earth. His part of the profit recently amounted to $250,000 a month, has just been double by the discovery of a new vein. He is a bright, keen, generous, quick witted man, and entertains with great hospitality and munificence, and with no ostentation.

President Grant on Friday issued his proclamation recognizing Baxter as Governor of Arkansas, and it was accompanied with the publication of the opinion of Attorney General Williams upon the legal questions connected with the case. The news reached Little Rock during the day, and brought general rejoicing to the unfortunate people, who have been living under mob rule for a month. The day passed off quietly, with the exception of the firing of a few shots without any one being hurt. There was some little skirmishing on the preceding day, but the number of casualties was wonderfully disproportionate to the amount of powder burned.

The New York Express says that the evil that the crusaders are doing will live after them, and intimates at the same time the good will be interred in empty whiskey bottles. This is illustrated by the fact that the crusaders destroyed the business of a woman in Marshall, Michigan, who kept a saloon, whereby she got a living for herself and family, an invalid husband included. Left to destitution and starvation, she became insane and cut her throat. She did not die, but it is feared she will become hopelessly insane, all of which cannot be particularly gratifying to the consciences of the temperance crusaders. Reform is well enough in its way, but that way should not be through death and the insane asylum. The "tidal wave" of crusading, concludes the Express, appears to be dying out somewhat at present, now that spring bonnets and Saratoga trunks are beginning to be thought of, and the conservative portion of the community will not be particularly sorry.

See notice of Dr. Bowls.

The Senate unexpectedly finished the finance bill before adjourning on Thursday, passing it by a vote 25 to 19. All the New England Senators with the exception Sprague, voted against it on the ground that it would result in expansion to a large extent. Senator Scott, of Pennsylvania, voted against the bill. The bill provided: First, for the abolition of the bank reserves on circulation. This, it is held, will liberate about $35,000,000 of circulation, and to this extent it is expansion. Second, it provides for a coin reserve to be kept by the banks, to be formed out of one-fourth of the interest received by them for their bonds deposited with the Treasurer of the United States. This looks in the direction of ultimate specie resumption. Third, it requires the banks to keep their reserves on deposits in their own vaults. Fourth, it legalizes the amount of legal tenders now issued (three hundred and eighty-two millions), and provides for their redemption at the rate of twenty-five per cent. until the sum is reduced to three hundred millions. Fifth, the retired legal tenders are to be funded into a gold-bearing four-and-a-half per cent. fifteen-year bond, which Senators maintain may be used for banking and fixes the date for resuming specie payments at 78. It is believed the bill will pass the House this week, under a suspension of the rules, without a reference to a committee. Whether the President will approve it is a subject of considerable speculation. Senators who voted against it predict, with a good deal of confidence, that he will veto it because, as they assert, it is a more reckless inflation measure than the eight hundred million bill which he has already vetoed. On the other hand, those who voted for it say the President will sign it, as it contains a redemption clause, and also provides for resumption of specie payment.

A TERRIBLE CALAMITY.—Haydenville, Mass., May 16.—A large reservoir about four miles north of this place burst about 8 o'clock this morning, and the water came rushing down the hills, carrying everything before it. It struck the southeastern portion of Williamsburg village, about two miles north of this place, carrying away a large number of dwellings, thence to Skinnersville, where it swept away Mr. Skinner's large silk mills and his boarding and dwelling houses. Continuing on, it struck the large brass manufactory of Messrs. Hayden, Gree & Co., sweeping it away in an instant. Large stones and machinery were swept through the main streets at a fearful rate, and well-built houses were instantly crushed, not giving the inmates a moment's warning. The flood then struck the village of Leeds where a large number of shops, dwellings, &c., were swept away. The loss of life is very heavy, whole families in some instances having been carried away over dams, and were either killed or drowned. It is impossible at this time to give the number of lives lost. Twenty-three bodies so far have been taken out of the rubbish on the shore. Whole blocks of tenement houses filled with women and children were swept down the stream, and all the inmates, of course, were lost. At this hour (12 M.) bodies are constantly being brought in and laid in the church. Most of them can be recognized.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 16.—Reports of the disaster in consequence of the breaking away of the reservoir at Goshen, Hampshire county, this morning, came in thick and fast. The damage to property must amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars, while it is impossible to estimate accurately the loss of life. Bodies are constantly being found, and in some cases those of persons who were not supposed to be lost, so it seems perfectly safe to say the total loss of life will exceed one hundred and fifty, if, indeed, it does not more nearly approach two hundred.

Reading boasts of having a man who is the father of forty-one children. His name is John Hepler. He was born in Germany in 1815 and was married in 1840. His wife lived eight years after their marriage and during that time gave birth to seventeen well formed children, two pairs of twins, four sets of triplets, and one a single birth. About a year after the death of his first wife he was again married, and within a year a child was born unto them, ten months afterwards another, then followed twins five times in succession, and afterwards three more children at single birth, making fifteen in all. After being married nine years his second wife died. Twenty years ago he came to this country, and soon after the death of his second wife, he married a third who is still living, and during the sixteen years of their married life has blessed him with nine children each by single birth, making forty one in all.

Van Pelt, the converted saloon keeper in Ohio, declares in the following pithy communication to a Cincinnati journal that he is no backslider: "Your Paper has been very energetic in reporting I have not left off Lecturing and again turning to my wallow. thank god I have been so far steepest and stronger in the Faith of it Being the work of God. I hope you will be as Prompt in undoing the great evil as you was in making a false report that you knew to be false for I am still in the field of labor ansering all the calls I can which keeps me on the constant go."

One of the difficult things in this life is to attempt to write up locals when nothing has happened.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Drs. Forrest of Chambersburg and D. W. Jones, of Martinsburg, Va. in to-day's paper.

The bill for the repeal of the local option law was defeated in the House previous to the adjournment of the Legislature, which took place on Friday last.

A thunder gust passed over this town on Sunday evening last—the first of the season—thoroughly saturating the ground with water.

Antietam Cemetery, at Sharpsburg, Washington county, will be decorated on the 30th of May. Gen. Negley, of Pittsburg, Pa., will deliver the oration.

If there is one time more than another when a woman should be entirely alone, it is when a line full of clothes comes down in the mud.

Mr. John H. Herr has again commenced the barbering business. His shop is in the room in the Walker building formerly occupied by Dr. Benj. Franz.

BURGESS.—On Saturday last the oath of office was administered to E. W. Washburn as Chief Burgess of this town. The town at present is under Republican rule, the first time in many years.

Under the late apportionment this county sends three representatives to the Legislature. The thirty-third Senatorial District is composed of Franklin and Huntingdon counties.

The late rains and warm weather have wrought a marked change in the appearance of the grain and grass fields in this section of the county. The prospects at present are not discouraging by any means.

CLOCKS.—Mr. E. Elden has just now the largest collection of clocks perhaps ever before offered for sale in this town, all of which we are assured were purchased at panic prices and will be sold accordingly. Persons in want of correct time keepers should give him a call.

Occasionally there is to be found a man mean enough to take a paper several years without paying for it, then attempt to discontinue by sending back a copy to the publisher, marked "refused." If the devil don't get such fellows, what is the use of having a devil?

What a foe the farmers have to contend against in the potato bug is shown by the experience of a man in Joliet, Ill.—He placed some in a bottle eight months ago. They have been exposed to the extreme of winter and summer, have had nothing to eat, and are still living.

THE STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY met at Easton, last week, and was characterized by nearly a full attendance of its members. The annual address was delivered by Dr. S. B. Kieffer, of Carlisle. Dr. Jno. Montgomery, of Chambersburg, was elected one of the Vice Presidents, and Dr. I. N. Snavely, of this place was placed on the committee on "nominations and censorial action."

SQUIRRELS.—The following supplement to the game laws passed by the Legislature, was signed by the Governor on the 17th of April:

SECT. 2. No person shall kill, or expose for sale, or have unlawfully in his or her possession, after the same has been killed, any gray, black or fox squirrels, between the 1st day of January and the first day of September, in each year, under a penalty of five dollars for each and every squirrel so killed or had in possession.

The Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church, at Lancaster, held its annual commencement in the College Chapel on Wednesday evening a week.

Among the Theses delivered on the occasion was one by Mr. Josiah D. Detrich, of this place on "The Mosaic Account of Creation," a defence of the scriptural account of creation against the attacks and theories of modern science.

SMITHSBURG.—Our Smithsburg correspondent sends us the following items of local interest: The Rev. H. Smeltz, Superintendent of the Maryland State Sunday School Union has devised the plan of organizing District conventions in Washington county, with a view of creating a deeper interest in the S. S. work. Leitersburg has been selected as the place for the first meeting in the Eastern portion of the county, and the day designated is the 27th inst., which will be immediately after the adjournment of the Western Conference of the Maryland Lutheran Synod, which is to convene on the 25th inst. for the discussion of several important topics relative to the Church.

The Protestant Episcopal congregation of Smithsburg, Md., are building a Chapel on Maple street, near the Depot. The walls which are of stone are nearly half their height. The congregation now worships in the Methodist church, every second Sabbath, supplied from Hagerstown.

The beautiful weather of the last two weeks has made all bustle and life in the country and even the villages are not exempt from it. In Smithsburg the ladies are out in full attire during the pleasant evenings promenading. Doorstep and front gate parking is now the rule. The Sunday store box brigade is fully organized, and can be seen on duty all hours of the Sabbath day.

STREET CLEANING.—On Saturday morning last the work of street cleaning was commenced at an early hour on Main street and continued up to about 10 o'clock. Shovels, brooms, carts and wheelbarrows were all in use. Owing to some cause there were a number who failed to take part in the work, and the "cleaning-up" in consequence was only partial. It is surprising what an amount of work can be performed in so short a time when there is a general turn out with the necessary implements; yet there are some who are too busy or too indifferent to lend a helping hand at such a time. There is nothing perhaps that reflects more credit on a town or that contributes more to the comfort and health of its occupants than clean streets and alleys.

THIEVES ABOUT.—One night last week between 11 and 12 o'clock an attempt was made to enter the Grocery Store of Martin Geiser in this place. The party succeeded in effecting an entrance to the basement of the building and had removed to the yard in the rear a sack of flour and some other articles, when an effort was made to force one of the shutters open to the grocery, but the noise attracted the attention of the family, and the thief or thieves were put to flight, leaving their booty behind. With this evidence of thieves in our midst it would be well for merchants and others to have an eye to their locks and window fastenings.

SMALL ENGINE.—We understand the Council purpose keeping the present fire engine in thorough repair and also contemplate the purchase of a small hand engine with hoses with which to enter buildings in case of an emergency. Two or three hundred dollars thus invested would no doubt receive the sanction of all property holders.

RUN OFF.—On Thursday last a horse of J. R. Wolfersberger, hitched to a buggy belonging to Joseph Walter, took fright from the rattling of a hand-cart and dashed up street at a frightful speed, turning into the Walker and Miller alley he continued his flight to the vicinity of the Brew House where he was captured. The buggy was badly wrecked, one wheel smashed, the top torn off, a shaft broken, etc.

THEFT.—Of an evening a few weeks since Mrs. Daniel H. Baker of Antietam Junction came to this place in a wagon in company with one of her sons to attend preaching at the German Baptist church. During services a half bushel measure was stolen from the wagon. Mr. B. claims to know the guilty party and threatens exposure unless the measure is returned within one week from date of this issue.

LOSSES PAID.—Mr. Geo. J. Baisley, representing the Waynesboro' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of this county, was in town one day last week, paying the damages sustained by the fire which occurred in the Millinery store of Miss Maggie M. Stover, a few weeks ago. This is speedy work, and speaks well for the Company above named.—Mercesburg Journal.

WILL ACCEPT.—The Rev. I. N. Hays, of the Central Presbyterian church of Chambersburg, through the action of Presbytery has been induced to accept the call tendered him some time since by the 1st Presb. church, of Junction City, Kansas. The earnestness of the call and the importance of the field induced the action of Presbytery.

DEATH FROM LOCKJAW.—The Hagerstown Twice A Week says that on Sunday afternoon last a son, aged seven years, of Mr. Wm. Irwin of that town died from the effects of lockjaw, he having suffered several days from that disease, caused by his treading upon and running into one of his feet an iron prong of a rake.

Governor Hartranft last week signed the bill appropriating $1,000,000 to aid in the erection of the Centennial Exposition buildings at Philadelphia, and the State is now bound beyond recall to furnish that amount.

Man loves the mysterious. A cloudless sky, the full-blown rose, leaves him unmoved; but the violet which hides its blushing beauties behind the bush, and the moon, when she emerges from behind a cloud, are to him sources of inspiration and pleasure. Modesty is to merit, what shade is to figure in painting; it gives it boldness and prominence. Nothing adds more to female beauty than modesty; it sheds around the countenance a halo of light which is borrowed from virtue. Botanists have given the rose the name of "maiden blush." This pure and delicate hue is the only paint that Christian virtue should use; it is the richest ornament. A woman without modesty is like a faded flower, which diffuses an unwholesome odor, and which the prudent gardener will throw away from him. Her destiny is melancholy, for it ends in shame and repentance.—Beauty passes like the flower of the alce, which blooms and dies in a few hours, but modesty gives the female character charms which supply the place of the transitory freshness of youth.—Ez.

The bill—says the Newville Star—to secure uniformity of text-books in common schools was defeated in the house on the 11th inst., by a decisive vote. As it came from the senate it had been so amended as to preclude jobbery. Both political parties were to be represented, and the Superintendent of Common Schools was given a veto power, his single voice being sufficient to defeat a choice of books. The price of books was to be reduced fifty per cent., and changes were not to be arbitrary for the term of five years. In this shape the bill had no active friends. But it had very active enemies in the publishing houses who now yearly fleece the people and the school boards through whose agency they act. This result might have been foreseen.

An Ind. lady has a divorce from her husband in her pocket, and whenever he doesn't mind she takes out the document and shows it to him and he "weakens immediately."

THE BENEHOFF ROBBER.—The arrest of James Saeger, in the Far West, on the charge of being the principal in the celebrated Benehoff robbery, in the oil region of Pennsylvania, has brought out in the Lancaster-Intelligencer the following brief account of his swift journey on the downward path: "Saeger came to Lancaster in 1856, and was a student at Franklin and Marshall College for about a year and a half. His father had recently died, after accumulating property to the amount of $75,000. He was an upright man, of fine business talents, and the village of Saegerville is named after him. The son who was an only child, was too liberally provided for on leaving home by his guardian and indulgent mother. He came to Lancaster with a thousand dollars in his trunk, which he at once prepared to spend in riotous living. That sum was spent to corrupt himself and a few students among whom he associated. After remaining at college 18 months, he left without graduating and went into business in Venango County. With such habits as he had formed, success was very improbable, and he soon ran through his own share of his father's estate, and ruined his mother. He loafed about for years and finally became the leading character in the Benehoff robbery. He stopped in Lancaster a week or so before the robbery was committed, and stated to an acquaintance here that he had been spending some time in Philadelphia, and while there he had slept in the engine houses "with the boys." There is every reason to believe that his visit to Philadelphia was made for the express purpose of engaging the services of the professional burglars who were his partners in the robbery."

A NEW FEATURE IN ORGANS.—WATERS' CONCERTO PARLOR ORGAN.—The great merit of the concerto stop, is that it approximates nearer than any other to the human voice. If we avert the attention from the instrument while this delicate addition is being operated, the impression is instantaneous that it is to the human voice under exquisite culture that we listen. Of course the origin of this improvement, and the exact manner in which its advantages have been made so prominent in this organ, are known to the patentee alone; but we doubt if the inventor can make it plain why the result has occurred. The effect of the concerto attachment is simply softening and vocalizing. It seems to catch a note that might have been shrill and reedy, and at once soothes it into something as sweet and musical as a human whisper. The writer was informed by Mr. Waters that on account of the popularity of the new stop, the instruments were bought up almost as rapidly as it was possible to manufacture them.—Bloomington Union.

The American Tract Society held its forty-ninth annual meeting in New York Wednesday. The old officers were reelected and resolutions adopted providing for the celebration of the jubilee year of the society by the preparation of a special reunion and historical discourse. Receipts of the society for the year were $552,391, including $391,013 from sales and $148,801 from legacies. The expenses were $551,545.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cuvetry Condition Powders, he would, no doubt, have had his mare to-day—yet she are death on worms.

See private sale, D. D. Fahrney.

Don't Dodge!—The following story comes from Ireland. Two men had a quarrel in a liquor shop. They adjourned outside to settle the dispute. The first man being from Connaught, immediately seized a stone and let fly at the head of his opponent, who dipped his head and missed the stone, which went through an expensive plate glass window, and did much damage. A magistrate was called upon the next morning to determine which of the two should pay the cost. The evidence clearly showed that the aim was a good one, and that if the second man had not dipped his head he would have been struck. "Therefore," said the magistrate, "he must pay the damages, as it is certain the first man didn't injure the window, and the window would not have been injured if it had not been for the act of the second man."

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

Anthony R. Walsh, a railroad agent, jumped from the first story window of the Galt House, St. Louis, about 11 o'clock Sunday morning, while suffering from temporary aberration of mind, and, striking the pavement nearly 100 feet below, was instantly killed.

All persons indebted to said Company are requested to make immediate payment, and all those having claims present them for settlement immediately. J. W. MILLES, Assignee.

DR. D. W. JONES, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, MARTINSBURG, W. VA.

Consulting Office, No. 32 West King St., a few doors from the Court House. Observe the sign on the side of the door. Office hours from 10 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M., and 6 to 8 in evening.

The Doctor's long and successful practice at Hagerstown, Md., and the past five years at Martinsburg, W. Va., and nearly four years at the bedside in the different Hospitals of the large cities amply indicate the full satisfaction to the afflicted, without the use of that deadly poison Mercury, and other powerful Minerals that annually send thousands to a premature grave.

All Nervous Diseases speedily cured. Let the weak and nervous bear in mind that when they have symptoms indicating any other disease, it originates principally from the nerves.

SEMI-NAI WEAKNESS. This dreadful scourge of suffering humanity, brought on from unwholesome habits of youth, or learned from evil companions at school or while alone. Both sexes, old and young, are guilty of it, and it is hastening thousands to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. For all such Dr. Jones has discovered a never-failing treatment that will soon bring about new life and fully restore enfeebled manhood.

STYPHILIS. This disease strikes with terror to the boldest heart, where it is soon discovered in the roof of the mouth and throat, with discoloring of the eyes, and the head and body, fast becoming the unhappy victim, death ending the suffering.

Make an early application, and be cured without any change of diet or hindrance from business or detention of friends.

GRAVEL CURED. Without the dangerous medium of an operation.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS of every form speedily cured. Affection of the Kidneys and Bladder, and all kinds of Chronic Diseases, no matter how long standing, speedily cured.

Dr. Jones can be consulted by letter describing symptoms, age, and how long standing. All letters strictly confidential.

The completion of the Cumberland Valley Railroad to Martinsburg, will make it convenient for patients from Maryland and Pennsylvania to call and consult with the Doctor.

Dr. Jones will not visit patients except where they are not able to consult him at his office. His family practice at Martinsburg is sufficient evidence of his success.

All letters must be addressed to D. W. JONES, M. D., may 21 1y

TEETH! TEETH!! TEETH!!! BEAUTY! BEAUTY! BEAUTY! BEAUTY! BEAUTY! BEAUTY!

Nothing contributes more to beauty of the features than a PERFECT DENTURE. CLEAN SET OF TEETH, while a neglected, filthy, diseased breath, disgusts every beholder. Such things are noticed now—a days and a sweet breath are considered indispensable to every LADY AND GENTLEMAN.

BEWARE of all preparations which are highly recommended for whitening the teeth. They contain an acid which destroys the ENAMEL. Dr. Forrest keeps constantly on hand of his own Preparation a superior TOOTH PASTE, which keeps the Teeth absolutely clean, leaving the color of the Enamel just as nature made it. For the convenience of my patients, I have adopted the patented TOOTH POWDER, so contrived as to distribute the powder nicely on the BRUSH, and can be carried when traveling and several may use from the same bottle with propriety.

Having had an experience of over seven years in the manufacture and administration of Nitrous Oxide Gas, I am prepared at all times to administer this popular Anesthetic, either to children or adults for the extraction of teeth, without pain or any unpleasant effects. Insertion, Filling and Filing of Teeth carefully executed.

Office next door to Bishop's Art Gallery, Main St., Chambersburg, Pa. H. FORREST, D. D. S. N. B.—Teeth that have become discolored, I am prepared to bleach and restore to their natural color. Prices very moderate. may 21 1y
