

The U. S. Senate has adopted a concurrent resolution to adjourn sine die on the 22d of June next.

John Kilpatrick, while drunk at Wilkesbarre, Pa., Friday night, shot and killed his only son, aged 19.

The fifth annual reunion of the Ninth Pennsylvania Cavalry will be held in Carlisle on Thursday, June 4.

The jury in the case of Peter O. Fox who sued the Louisville and Nashville railroad for the loss of a leg, claiming $150,000 damages, gave the plaintiff $85,000.

Gov. Moses of South Carolina, was arrested for larceny on Tuesday. He at first resisted the warrant, and defended his home with colored troops. By the advice of his counsel, he yielded, and gave bail.

Samuel Hartzell, aged 44 years, died in Baltimore, last Monday week, while under the influence of chloroform, administered by physicians previous to setting a dislocated shoulder joint.

It is understood that the President has finally consented to Gen. Sherman's long-entertained desire to have the headquarters of the army removed to St. Louis, and that such transfer will be made about the first of June.

The weather in the Holy Land has this Spring been unprecedentedly severe, the various roads to Jerusalem being blocked with snow. Notwithstanding this, a vast number of Greeks and American pilgrims, besides many English and American tourists, are now in Jerusalem.

The new constitution having increased the number of representatives from 100 to 200, the old desks in the hall of the House for over half a century have been removed, preparatory to placing in their stead new and more convenient ones for the accommodation of the additional 100 members.

The Civil Rights bill was passed by the Senate on Saturday morning after an all night session, by a vote of 23 yeas to 16 nays. A Washington despatch says it is doubtful whether the bill will be reached in the House of Representatives, although there is a clear majority in favor of it.

The New York Compulsory Education bill, which has recently received the assent of the Governor, requires parents and guardians of children between the ages of 8 and 15 years to give them, in a school or at home, at least 14 weeks regular instruction every year, in reading, writing, arithmetic, English grammar, and geography. It prohibits the employment of children within the ages named at any labor during the time when the district schools are opened, and school officers are given authority to see that it is enforced.

The following touching incident of the recent flood in Massachusetts is told by Dr. E. M. Johnson, whose wife was a Miss Hemstead, of Montgomery Co., Md.: "Most prominent among the victims at Williamsburg, was Dr. E. M. Johnson, thirty-six years of age, the village physician. He was seen rushing out of his house toward a place of safety, with two of his three little children, his wife carrying the other, but the whole family were overtaken by the flood and drowned together."

Twenty-one years ago a daughter of Peter Hawk, Esq., of Stroudsburg, Pa., was bitten by a mad dog. Although cattle bitten by the same dog were seized with hydrophobia, the girl did not show any symptoms of the disease. She grew to womanhood, and was married. Recently, as she was raising a glass of water to her lips, a shudder ran through her, and in a few minutes she was seized with hydrophobia in its worst form. A number of physicians were called, but they could do nothing for her. She died in great agony.

The Centennial Commission, at a meeting in Philadelphia on Friday, took stock to their intentions and their means. The chairman of the Finance Committee reported that the contracts for the art gallery and museum will soon be given out. This will cost $1,500,000, provided for by appropriations of the city and State. The conservatory, to cost $200,000, is provided for by city appropriation. The machinery hall, costing $800,000, is also provided for. The main exhibition building will cost $2,000,000, and the agricultural hall $250,000. The latter is only partially provided for, which, with the grading and contingencies, make the total unprovided for nearly $3,000,000. A resolution was presented by the committee authorizing the abandonment of the plans for the main building and the adoption of a modified plan for the same. After discussion the whole report was recommended.

Destroying Birds' Nests.—Last week, a man named Peoples, of Lancaster county, was arrested upon the charge of destroying bird nests. He agreed to settle the matter by paying the cost, amounting to $30.59. This prosecution was made under the Act of 1869, and amended in 1873, imposing a penalty of $10 for the willful destruction of each and every nest of an insectivorous bird, which in this case would have reached the sum of $590 exclusive of costs of suit.

On the first page of the Record of last week, friend Editor you published a "Card" taken from the Reformed Church Messenger. It is calculated to produce an erroneous impression, hence the request to insert also for the benefit of your readers the following: The Monthly did not make Dr. Gerhart say in his Tract No. 3 what the Card insinuates, as will appear in the article below. What Dr. Gerhart now says the Reformed Church always tenaciously held in opposition to the Mercersburg Theology. The Pastor of Trinity Reformed Church of this place never asserted anything else when preaching on that vital question, "How does the sinner receive an interest in the saving benefits of Christ Jesus," but that "All the benefits of Christ are received, that is, appropriated by us and thus made our own, not by baptism, not in the way of any sacramental transaction, but by personal faith, and by the exercise of personal faith exclusively." But the article in reply to the Card from the Christian World speaks for itself:

The Mercersburg writers, it is well known; have put themselves forward as great reformers; and as oracles in theological lore. They affect to teach by authority. They assume great learning. They are thoroughly acquainted with the modern theology of Germany, and in accord with it. They understand the Heidelberg Catechism far better than did Ursinus. They are "for the Church," and whoever dares to call in question their oracular deliverances; opposes "the Church," etc., etc.

And yet the suspicion has been gradually creeping through the Church that their theological knowledge is not quite so overwhelming as they seem to assume; that it is quite prudent to examine and try their utterances by the Bible and the Catechism, and that at best they are very unreliable guides; nay, that in assuming to teach all modern Christendom it would be well if they would become learners for some time yet, so as to know whereof they affirm.

This suspicion will be confirmed by a recent exposure. On the subject of baptism which has been their hobby for years, on which they have preached at times innumerable, and written interminably, it now appears that they have no definite opinion at all, and that so far as the very marrow of the matter is concerned; they are on both sides of the question. This will become plain to every one by feasting two deliverances; both by Dr. Gerhart, and which we give here, side by side, so that everyone can compare them: Dr. Gerhart in Tract No. 3. Dr. Gerhart in Messenger.

"All the benefits of Christ are received, that is, appropriated by us and thus made our own, not by baptism, not in the way of any sacramental transaction, but by personal faith, and by the exercise of personal faith exclusively."

"There is no external washing with water without the internal washing with the Spirit."

1. Dr. Gerhart will not call in question the genuineness of these quotations. The first is taken from his Tract No. 3, published, we think, in 1870, the second is taken from a card lately published by him in the Messenger. Dr. Gerhart will pass this contradiction by in dignified silence, which is at least convenient.

2. The two statements cannot plausibly be reconciled. Because (to use his own language) the one "asserts just the contradictory opposite" of the other. This one asserts that all the benefits of Christ "are received" or "appropriated" or "made our own," not by baptism, but "by personal faith exclusively." The other affirms that "we become partakers" of all the benefits of Christ by baptism, and the Tract urges that this is done by baptism exclusively. But there is no difference, as every one can see, between "to receive" and "to become partakers of." In the case of the benefits of Christ, he who "becomes partaker of them" must have "received" them.

came to make this error we know not, and Dr. Gerhart has a perfect right therefore to correct it. The sentence complained of was not printed in the Monthly in quotation marks (and therefore the Monthly is not to blame); but is contained in an article written by the undersigned (in the January 1871, number of the Monthly), reviewing said Tract No. 3, and given as a summary up of what we understood Dr. Gerhart to teach. That summary up was correct. This we unhesitatingly affirm. Dr. Gerhart did teach that doctrine, if the English language has any definite meaning. The single extract given above will prove it. But the matter is examined more at length in an article sent on for the June number of the Reformed Church Monthly, to which interested readers are referred.

We regret that Dr. Schneek made the mistake. But the only mistake was the quotation marks. That sentiment (now complained of and now repudiated) is the whole burden of the Tract No. 3, written by Dr. Gerhart. That Tract was published in full in the Monthly, November '70. H.

Local News.

The wheat is heading. Orphans' Court next Tuesday, June 2d.

Rev. Dr. J. Swartz, of Williamsport, Pa., has been elected Pastor of the English Lutheran church of Chambersburg.

Messrs. Ambersson, Benedict & Co. will this week receive their second supply of summer goods.

The Republican County Convention will meet in Chambersburg on Tuesday the 9th day of June to nominate a ticket for the fall election.

PRICE'S MEETING.—The German Baptists will hold their annual meeting and communion services at Price's Church, near this place, on Wednesday next, June 3rd.

Hail.—A very severe hail storm is said to have passed over Frederick and Washington counties, Md., on Monday last, unroofing houses and doing considerable damage to the growing crops.

DIVIDEND.—The Board of Directors of the First National Bank of this place have declared a semi-annual Dividend of six per cent. clear of tax, which is now payable.

Several refreshing rains during the past week have contributed much to the growth of both grain and grass. The broad acres just now present a charming appearance, and farmers' spirits are no doubt revived in consequence.

ARRESTED.—The Valley Spirit of this week announces the arrest of Levi Sanders, formerly of this place, at Niagara Falls. The particulars of his case are so familiar to our readers that we deem further comment in reference to the unfortunate affair unnecessary.

ACCIDENT.—A little boy, about 11 years old, son of Mr. John R. Eberly, fell off a loaded wagon near Franklin Furnace, in this county, on Saturday last, one of the wheels passing over his body and killing him almost instantly.

CALL ACCEPTED.—Rev. Wm. C. Scheffer, a recent graduate of the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, has accepted a call from St. Paul's Reformed congregation in this place; and will enter upon his pastoral duties about the first of July.

NURSERY MEETING.—The annual meeting of Snow Hill Society on Sunday last was not as numerous attended as formerly, owing to the fact that there were several similar gatherings not far off. Fortunately, however, good order prevailed among the spectators.

FAMILY MEDICINE.—Dr. Jacob Fahrney, of Philadelphia, prepares an excellent family medicine, an advertisement of which will be found in to-day's paper. We have used his preparation and have no hesitation in recommending it to the afflicted.

The Mechanicstown Clarion says the first instalment of summer boarders from Washington city passed through that place on Thursday last, en route for Frederick McIntire's beautiful Retreat at Fountain Dale. Mac. has things cozy, no doubt.

Saturday next, 30th of May, will be Decoration Day. It has been set apart as a legal holiday for the decoration of soldiers' graves. Will the mounds that mark the resting places of our departed soldier friends be again neglected?

The Music of the Sabbath School Festival in Trinity Reformed Church on last Sunday evening is said to have surpassed that of former occasions, each part being creditably performed. The Solo by Miss Van Lear, one of Miss Miller's pupils, was especially charming.

LARGE ORDERS.—We are pleased to learn that the prospects for a large trade by the Geiser Manufacturing Company was never more encouraging than the present season. They are in receipt of orders daily for their celebrated Grain Separator. A few days since they received one from Richmond, Va. for nine machines.

The strongest glass will sustain 2,000 pounds to the square inch. It also has been known to twist a man's leg so that he couldn't walk. Paris eats nearly 5000 horses every year.

POTATO BUGS.—Those destructive pests, the Colorado Potato Bugs, have this early in the season made their appearance, and feats are entertained that great damage to the potato crop will necessarily follow unless some means for their destruction is devised. D. B. Russell, Esq., the other day gathered several dozens from his vines in this place. Paris Greist having been recommended for their destruction, a strong solution was made and the bugs put into it for a minute or more at a time, but it proved ineffectual. Keroseene was afterwards used and even that failed to destroy them. Mr. R. thinks the best plan to get rid of them is to go through the vines once a day with small paddles and thus destroy them. It is stated that these bugs confine themselves to the same locality for only three seasons. A correspondent of the Hagerstown Herald thus describes them:

"The eggs are deposited on the underside of the leaf in diamond shaped patches, are of light orange color of about the size of a pin's head. The old bug is oval in shape, about three-eighths of an inch long, six legs, body hard and crusty with alternate stripes of lemon, green and light 1-32 inch in width running lengthwise of the body. It would appear at first sight to be only a horny-like shell entirely destitute of wings, but on a more careful inspection it will be found that the shell of the back is in two pieces forming a sort of shield which is capable of being raised. Under these shields will be found carefully folded gossamer-like wings by which the insect makes its journey. I have never yet seen them use these wings. When ever disturbed they fall as if dead."

"The full grown larva attain the length of 1/2 to 3/4 inches, 5-16 inches in breadth. They are of a dark liver color with two rows of black spots on each side low down. The number of these spots in each row is by no means uniform, sometimes 6 and 8 or 8 and 10, two rows on a side. The color of the larva seems to change sometimes nearly red, then shade of orange. There will be no danger of mistaking the identity of these pests when they come!"

"The juice of the larva and bugs is poisonous and care should be taken that it be not communicated from the hand to the eyes. I have known several persons who were rendered nearly blind for a time by the poison thus communicated."

These bugs, as an army, it is asserted, have for the last ten or twelve years been steadily moving eastward from beyond the Rocky Mountains.

COMMUNICATED. Editor of the Record.—Having read in your paper a few weeks ago an important address of Mr. Smith, County Superintendent of Common Schools, which does great credit to his head and heart; and should be read by every school director—by every teacher, by all the parents and a copy of the same suspended in every school room to be seen any read by the scholars. By liberal appropriations of our Legislature and other accumulative means we find ample support for a system of common schools in Pennsylvania not surpassed in any other state or government.

The office of school director is one so honorable and so responsible that no one should be invested with the honors who is not willing to give time and attention to discharge the duties of the office. And yet we find lamentable deficiencies in our schools. The many illiterate and rude children on the street shows that their education has been defective—aid upon entering a school room where there is confusion, and the teacher to enforce obedience says "you must" or "you must not" or "if you do so, I'll strap you," or with a coaxing; whining, babyish strain strives to constrain children to a compliance—we could wish such teachers should be classed with those of a former century.

As the whole community is deeply interested in the matter of our public schools we submit these suggestions and will be pleased if you publish them with the accompanying article taken from a late issue of the Lancaster Express.

KILLED BY A HORSE.—Early one morning last week the dead body of Geo. Boren was found in the stable of Mrs. Annie Knoke on Potomac street, and from the wounds upon the head and other portions of the body of the deceased it was evident that he met his death by being kicked and afterwards trampled upon by a horse in close proximity to where he was found. The unfortunate man was in the habit of sleeping in the stable, and it is supposed that he laid down near where he was found, and that the horse, in arising in the morning, struck him with one of his hoofs, as blood was found thereon. —Hagerstown Times & Week.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—A day or two since Miss Mollie Flanagan, daughter of Mr. Wm. E. Flanagan of this town, whilst walking in the garden trod upon an iron rake one of the prongs of which ran into and through one of her feet. So complete was the puncture that the iron, after penetrating the sole and passing through the foot, projected out of the top of her shoe. We are pleased to state that the young lady is doing well, though suffering badly, and with good hopes of speedy recovery. —Twice A Week.

Street cleaners should be careful where they deposit the dirt or scrapings hereafter. Last week a large quantity of dirt and rubbish was conveyed to the premises of Mr. John M. Bonbrake at the end of Church street and piled up in such close proximity to his house as to be anything but satisfactory to Mr. B. The very inconsiderate party, whoever it may be, should be required to remove the nuisance to a more suitable locality.

The case of March, R. R. contractor, vs. the Franklin Railroad Company, which was removed to Westminster, Md., was tried last week and resulted in a verdict for March for $15,000. Mr. M. was contractor for the construction of the extension of the road to the Potomac, and the suit was in consequence of unpaid and disputed estimates claimed to be due him.

One of our apprentices took "french leave" since our last issue without notifying us of his intended departure: We have since been compelled to take his place at the case, and consequently have not had the time to look up our usual local varieties: We expect to have another hand in his place in a day or two, when our business will once more right for us.

The negro, Talliaferro, who outraged and murdered the little girl at Fall ing Waters Va., last Summer, has been tried and found guilty of murder in the first degree, which means hanging. He has not yet been sentenced.

We should not hesitate to recommend to any friend of ours, Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are scientifically prepared, and are adapted to all the purposes of a good purgative medicine.

Decidedly, the best remedy that has ever been discovered for rheumatism, swollen or stiff joints, flesh wounds, sprains, bruises, cuts, and burns, is Jonson's Anodyne Liniment. We use it, and always recommend it to our friends.
