Smokers, chevers and snufflers may take timely warning. In closing an address in New York the other day, Dio Lewis declared that "when this war against whiskey is over, we shall go for tobacco."

The Forrest case is settled. The widow gets $95,000, and the balance of the estate is estimated at $1,000,000, with which it is supposed the directions left by him for the building of an actor's home, will be carried out.

Georgia convicts have built the greater portion of the railroads constructed in the State during the past three or four years. It is said that no more escape under the hiring out system than used to get over the walls of the penitentiary. Besides the profit to the State, the shame of working in public acts as a wholesome restraint upon crime.

There is a gentleman living on the Southwestern Railroad near Columbus, Ga., who has thirteen daughters. He buys clothing for them by the wholesale. Thus, when last in the Columbus he bought 376 yards of calico, 100 of lawn, 13 corsets, 26 pairs of shoes, and other goods in proportion.

The flat has gone forth and the jaw has passed in New York that henceforth all unmuzzled dogs found in the streets will suffer capital punishment at the hands of the authorities, and not all the tears of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will save them.

John Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who had been suffering for some time from a complication of diseases and been for three weeks confined to his bed, died at his residence in Philadelphia, between 12 and 1 o'clock Thursday morning. He was born in Delaware County, Pa., in 1808, and had consequently reached his sixty-sixth year at the time of his death.

The Chicago Times publishes several columns of crop reports from various points throughout the States of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri, Minnesota and Kansas, from which it appears that the average acreage of wheat now is much in excess of last year, and that the yield promises to be quite up to the average; and in corn, oats and barley fully up to the average. The average amount of land has been seeded, and crops will be large. Fruits of all kinds never looked better. In several counties in Iowa, Kansas and Minnesota grasshoppers and chinch bugs have made their appearance.

A brutal man in Orange county, Ind., recently sent one of his children for water, and because the child did not move fast enough to please him struck it on the head with a piece of wood, killing it instantly. He afterwards fled, and at last accounts had not been captured.

Some person has been kind enough to discover and publish the secret of the two-score millionaire, A. T. Stewart's success. System, says the Columbus, in the realm of wealth is the key of all. Therefore it behooves all of our young men desirous of amassing large fortunes to be systematic. There is not money enough on earth, and it is fair to assume never will be, to permit all men to become the very fortunate possessors of millions. Yet, a fixed method of doing things, no matter how trivial—an inflexible and well contrived system—is a high and broad stepping stone to success in every calling. Merchant, banker, manufacturer, author, lawyer, all have need of practicing a fixed and unalterable system. It may not always bring millions; invariably, however, it will add to the success of every business and the efficiency of the practitioners of all the professions. Your unsystematic man is by the practical, every-day world called shiftless; his mortgages are foreclosed, his notes protested, and his children do not rise up and call him blessed.

A great mistake, however, is often made, in holding out the idea that getting money is a prime object of life. The truth is it would not do for all to be rich. Were this the case, that dependence on one another, so indispensable to progress and the improvement of our globe, would cease, and very little could be done towards outworking great, desirable ends; neither could there be any contrast between riches and poverty, nor opportunities to demonstrate the beauties of charity and benevolence. Let those, therefore, who cannot amass fortunes strive to be honest and comfortable as possible.

Gov. Dix has ended the trouble in New York by the appointment of Abraham Lansing, to be State Treasurer. For the past month the Treasury of the State has been virtually closed to the most important business on account of the Treasurer, Mr. Raines, being in the Insane Asylum. The defalcation of Phelps, amounting to more than a quarter of a million of dollars, preyed upon him to such an extent as to unsettle his mind and render him unfit for duty. But there was no provision in the law for meeting any such emergency, and the Governor could find no authority for any action in the matter. Checks and drafts for money necessary to carry on the business of the Government were worthless without the signature of the Treasurer, and he was incapable of attending to duty. The Governor has managed to surmount the difficulty by regarding Mr. Raines as "incapacitated" and appointing a successor in office.

After all the arrests that have been made of persons supposed to belong to the Bender family, who committed so many murders in Kansas, all of that family are still at large. The person arrested in Utah recently, as the elder Bender, and who, it was reported, had been satisfactorily identified, proves to be a demented old man of the name of Koch. The county attorney for Labette county, Kansas, publishes a description of the senior Bender, in which the criminal is described as a man having an intelligent countenance and resembling in no wise the vagrants so frequently taken for members of the Bender family. He adds that all of the Benders, notwithstanding their fenshish nature, appear agreeable and pleasant in their manners, and, as they are supplied with money, it is not likely that they will be found acting the part of fools or vagrants.

Franklin J. Moses, Governor of South Carolina, who was recently indicted for grand larceny by one of the County Courts of the State, did not put in an appearance when his case was called for trial on Saturday. The solicitor of the State asked for a Bench warrant, but this the Court refused. The counsel for the Governor moved for a dismissal of the proceedings on the ground that the Governor of a State cannot be indicted or tried for any crime unless first impeached. To the non-professional mind this seems like a very absurd proposition, but the Judge to whom it was addressed thought it of sufficient importance to justify him in postponing the case till October in order to give him time to make up his judgment. By that time Governor Moses' term will have expired.

Miss Ellen Wrenshall Grant, daughter of President Grant, was married to Mr. Algeron Charles Frederick Sartoris, of Litchfield, England, on Thursday a week, in the East room of the White House, by Dr. Tiffany of the Metropolitan M. E. Church. Some two hundred invited guests were present, and numerous gifts were bestowed as bridal presents, aggregating in value, it is said, $60,000. The newly wedded pair sailed for England. The young couple are just in the hey-day of life, Mr. Sartoris being twenty-three years of age and his bride eighteen. Mr. Sartoris is the only son of Edward Sartoris, of Hampshire, England, and is himself the owner of large landed estates in this country. He and Miss Grant met for the first time on the steamship Russia on the latter's return from her European tour eighteen months ago.

Hon. A. K. Syester, Attorney General of Maryland, is spoken of as a candidate for Congress in his district.

Some say when fruit trees bloom as they did this year in the dark of the moon, fruit will be plenty.

We call special attention to the advertisement of Geo. F. Lidy, who furnishes plans and specifications for buildings, etc.

The Republican meeting to select delegates to attend the County Convention on Tuesday will be held in this place on Saturday afternoon next.

Messrs. Frick & Co. are now engaged at putting new flues in a steam fire engine for one of the fire companies in Hagerstown. The flues were burnt out.

The old, and said to be never-failing sign of a good corn crop, a shower of locust blossoms, have made their appearance. We are not advised as to what the effect has been upon the price of the article still in market.

In districts containing a newspaper one or more publications therein by School Directors of the annual statements will render publication by handbills of the financial statement unnecessary; but in all other cases they are indispensable. So says the Repository.

DECEASED.—Mr. George Bell, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen of Washington county, Md., father of Jason Bell of this place, expired at his residence near Leitersburg, on Wednesday of last week, in about the 61st year of his age. His disease was of the bowels or stomach and his illness a protracted and more than ordinarily severe one.

SCALDED.—On Wednesday of last week a child of Mr. Henry Howel of this place, in the absence of its mother, fell into a tub of hot water, so seriously scalding itself as to leave faint hopes of its recovery. Its condition at last accounts was not much improved. The little sufferer is only about two years old. Another warning to careless mothers.

The great curse that hangs over every small community is scandal, and a disposition among some few to pick up merest trifles of gossip and magnify them into hideous deformities. Some people have the peculiar faculty of making themselves intolerable by excessive indulgence in this business, and sometimes so well succeed in injuring the reputation of others, that even they themselves must recoil with horror at the reflection. Be sure that you are not one of them.

SNAKES.—These reptiles have thus early made their appearance according to some of our exchanges. Except D. W. Mickley, of Adams county, who reports the capture of several huge black snakes on his farm, nothing very marvelous in this line has yet been brought to our notice. As the season advances the customary "narratives" will no doubt make their appearance.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies of Trinity Reformed church of Waynesboro' will hold a Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival, in Beaver's Hall, formerly occupied as the New York Store, commencing next Thursday evening, June 11th, and continuing several evenings. Refreshments of all kinds will be served in the best style and fruits will be furnished in abundance. Let there be a good turn out.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM.—A thunder gust of more than ordinary violence passed over this part of the county on Sunday evening last. A few miles Southwest of town hail fell in large quantities, many of the stones says our informant being as large as ordinary hen eggs. We regret to learn that Mr. Jacob J. Miller sustained a loss approximating $1000. About thirty acres of wheat are said to have been destroyed for him, twelve or fourteen of his finest apple trees were blown down, fencing prostrated, etc. The crops of David R. Miller, Lewis Lecron, Simon Lecron, Geo. Sheffer (tenant on the Jacobs' farm) were also very seriously damaged. There are doubtless other farmers in that section who were equally unfortunate. Forrest trees were also uprooted, window lights broken, etc. A stable at Shady Grove was capsized during the same storm. A second storm passed over our town about 9 o'clock, the same evening, drenching the earth with water, but inflicting no damage.

SMITHBURG ITEMS.—The Independent Order of Good Templars was reorganized on Monday evening, May 18th, after a lecture delivered by Rev. Calahan, L. L. D., of Baltimore State Lecturer employed by the Grand Lodge of I. O. G. T.—The Lodge elected officers immediately who were installed by the Dr. before leaving for Baltimore.

The Colorado potato bug has commenced his depredations in this vicinity. Every small lot is infested with them. It is feared that the crop will be a failure in consequence.

Rev. J. W. Sauté, Pastor of the Reformed congregation of Cavetown, administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to a large number of communicants on Whit-Sunday. Nine persons were admitted to the church by confirmation.

On the 26th ult. in Smithburg, at the residence of Mr. Aaron Bachtel, by the Rev. X. J. Richardson, Mr. Stocksdale of Mechanicstown, Md., to Mrs. Kate Crooks, of the former place.

SEASONABLE WEATHER.—The late refreshing rains were just in the niche of time to bring forward vegetation of all kinds. The grass fields particularly, have been much benefited, and the indications favor a bountiful supply of hay the coming season. They have also had the effect to revive the growing corn which was very backward and much of it not more than through the ground, owing to the previous unfavorable weather.

Whilst some of the wheat fields present a most promising appearance, others look the reverse. The latter are generally confined to the early sowing, and have of course been damaged by the fly. For several years the quite early sowing has proved a failure owing to the same cause.—There was not, however, as much early seeding last fall as the previous season, and consequently a larger yield is promised the coming harvest than that of last year.

PAVING.—There seems to be a spirit of improvement, in this part of our town at least, this Spring. A short time since Dr. Hering relaid his pavement, as did also D. B. Russell, Esq. and now a new brick pavement is being put down in front of our office, Odd Fellows' building. Our friends on the other side of the Diamond will have to look to their laurels, or property holders on this side will eclipse them in this respect. There is perhaps no town in the county where there are more room for improvements of this kind than in Waynesboro'. The material is plenty and easy of access, and the summer season the best for the work. If the right kind of brick are selected they make the most desirable pavement. Their appearance is certainly more inviting than the clumsy flag stones sometimes used for this purpose.

RECEIPTS.—The following is a list of our subscription receipts for May: Mrs. Isabella Ott, $2.00; James H. Clayton, 2.00; John A. Schaller, 2.00; Philip Beaver, 2.00; Michael Goeter, 2.00; David Gilbert, 2.00; D. R. Miller, (of Jno.) 2.40; John Neal, 2.00; A. E. Price, 2.00; J. W. Barkdoll, 2.00; Samuel H. Funk, 2.00; Jacob S. Royer, 5.00; Lew. W. Deitrich, 4.00; Robert McKean, 2.00.

STOVE QUESTION.—An exchange says don't take them down at all unless it is necessary to do so to clean them; do not poke them into the storeroom or attic; it is trouble enough getting them up and down the stairs, without the loss of comfort which a chattering fire gives on some of the chilly, damp, misty days which we often have. "How they look!" we heard a housewife say, when the subject was spoken of. Wife, mother, don't be overnice when your health and the health of your family is concerned. When a person is compelled to live in a room where there has been no fire for three or six months, that person is breathing air that certainly breeds disease. We have but little more to say on this subject; but, housekeepers, when you clean your house, don't take down your stoves.

DECORATION DAY A LEGAL HOLIDAY.—The following bill was approved by Governor Hartrauf on Monday, and it is therefore a law: AN ACT making Decoration Day a legal holiday.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc. That the thirtieth day of May, commonly called Decoration Day, or when that day falls on the first of the week the day preceding it shall be a holiday.

SECTION 2. It shall be lawful to require payments of all notes, checks and bills of exchange, due and payable on such holiday, to be made on the secular day next previous thereto, and in default of such payment the same may be protested, and such protest shall be as valid as if made on the day on which such note, check or bill became due by its own terms.

A BIG HAUL.—On Wednesday last, Mr. Frederick Foreman, of the vicinity of Greencastle, having disposed of a lot of cattle, in Philadelphia, left that place in the Pennsylvania cars, on the morning of that day, having in a side pocket the result of his sale, $4005.00. Upon arriving at Harrisburg he discovered that his wallet containing the above sum was missing. The car in which he was seated, was searched thoroughly, but without recovering the lost money. He telegraphed his loss to Philadelphia but as yet no information has been received. He has no idea how he was relieved of the pocket book—whether he lost it or whether it was stolen.—He remembers having been in a crowd at the depot in Philadelphia, and the probability is that some light fingered gentleman snatched it from his vest pocket, which is very shallow, allowing the pocket book to protrude. Mr. Foreman has been in the cattle droving business for twenty years, and this is the first time he has lost money in this way.—Opinion.

Another proof—says the Maryland Republican—that the bad blood engendered by the war against slavery and secession is fast becoming sweet and wholesome, with not the faintest vestige of bitterness remaining, is afforded by Knoxville, Tenn. inviting General Burnside to come and make a speech. On July 4th the ex-commander of the Army of the Potomac will mount the rostrum in East Tennessee, and the journals of that region promise him the attention of an audience, the like of which, in point of numbers, never before assembled in the State. That General Burnside will speak fittingly on the occasion, and make the most of his opportunity to heal the wounds of the war, is reasonably certain. Let him be intensely patriotic, but not forget that the intensity of patriotism now is the furtherance of the good work of conciliation, begun by the late lamented Sumner, and continued by all true lovers of our common country.

The Phrenological Journal for June is an admirable number, and closes the 58th volume of that standard monthly. It contains Dr. J. Dio Lewis, with a fine portrait; A Parable of the Kingdom, or a New Rendering of the Book of Job; The Late Jacob Knapp, Revivalist Preacher; John and James, How They Kept House; Miss Caroline S. Brooks, the Western Artist; Bella French, the Poet and Publisher; A Sunday Evening in Water Street, or What a Visitor Saw and Heard; Dudley W. Adams, Master of the National Grange, with Portrait, and a sketch of the Grange Movement; The Teetotal Muddle; Our Opportunities; Plant Life in Our Territories; Emil Lowinstine, the Handsome Murderer, etc. Full of spice, of the healthful sort. 30 cents a number. $3.00 a year. $1.50 for a half a year. Address S. L. Wells, 389 Broadway, New York.

THE DUNKARDS IN CONFERENCE.—The National Conference of Dunkards assembled in Girard, Ill., on Sunday last a week. It is stated that 10,000 persons were present. An enormous tent was erected for their accommodation, capable of holding 6000 persons, but it was found to be too small, and various religious services were held under trees. A dining hall was erected, capable of seating nine hundred persons at one time. The brethren invited all to partake with cordiality, and over four thousand persons sat down to dinner.

On Saturday a week at the village of Mainsville, this county, one Mooney, a boy, struck another boy named Gilbert on the head with a stone, during a quarrel and injured him to such an extent that he died on the following Thursday. Young Mooney voluntarily gave himself up and is now in the Chambersburg jail.

The following is the first section of the civil rights bill as passed by the Senate on Saturday last: Sec. 1. That all the citizens and other persons within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be entitled to the full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities, and privileges of inns, public conveyances on land or water, theaters, and other places of public amusement; also of common schools and public institutions of learning or benevolence, supported in whole or in part by general taxation; and also institutions known as Agricultural Colleges endowed by the United States; and of cemeteries so supported, subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law, and applicable alike to citizens of every race and color, regardless of any previous conditions of servitude.

STOCK SALES IN THE WEST.—At Dexter Park, Chicago, on the 21st ult., there was a large auction sale of short-horned cattle, the property of Wm. L. King, of Minneapolis, Minnesota. In all there were 58 cows and heifers and 21 bulls sold, bringing an aggregate sum of $126,990. One bull brought $14,000, and two heifers sold for $11,000.

On the following day there was another large sale of short-horned cattle, the property of Gen. Meridith, at Cambridge, Indiana, in which a bull was sold for $17,410, and another for $11,505, while several cows brought as much as $2,000 each.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—Mr. Carlisle and wife, residing at a place called Allsburg, N. J. were struck by lightning on last Monday. The wife Martha Carlisle, was instantly killed. The gentleman is still unconscious, but it is thought he will recover.

THE APPLE PROSPECT.—A writer in the Germantown Telegraph says: We never saw the apple trees so covered with blossoms as they are this season. Old trees with scarcely any life in them are an exception. Every tree in large orchards are frequently crowded with blossoms. If the season, at least in this region, does not give us plenty of apples, we shall wait in vain for one that will. The same promise of an abundance comes to us from nearly all over the country. The same is the case as to peaches, pears and cherries.

One Patterson, of Michigan, was a soldier during the late war, and was so unfortunate as to get into Libby Prison, and while there was beaten and bayoneted by one Major Cady, a rebel officer.—The other day Patterson met Cady in Monroe, Michigan, and reminding him of the beating, told him the time had come to square accounts, and immediately proceeded to do that very thing. He gave Cady a terrible flogging, using no bayonet, however, in the operation. And then Patterson was arrested and fined $25, and his friends paid the fine.

LIGHTNING TRAINS.—Forty-five miles an hour and but two stops between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia! It is currently reported that arrangements are being perfected by which two trains on the Pennsylvania railroad will make the above speed. Troughs are to be erected at proper intervals, so that the tanks will be enabled to take water while flying over the track at forty miles an hour.—When these facilities shall have been introduced the three hundred and fifty-four miles between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will be gone over without stopping at any place but Altoona and Harrisburg. Water troughs are now being put up at Leamarr Place, below Lancaster.—On the western division they have been in use for several years.

It is stated that within the last two weeks a species of black bug has appeared in countless numbers in the peach orchards near Denton, Caroline county, Md., and has done serious damage in that locality. In one nursery the grafted stocks of 93,000 trees were entirely killed. The insect is even capable of destroying large trees as it thickly covers the leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insects seem to avail, as this scourge is very tenacious of life, and a liquid application that will kill the trees does not affect them.

Thirty-five dollars and seventy cents for a day's work in these hard times is rather good pay. Yet that is just the amount a majority of the late Legislature voted each member of that body. They were in session just one hundred and fourteen days, counting weekly adjournments and excluding the vacation of two weeks about the first of April. For the one hundred days they appropriated $1000, and for the fourteen days $500, or $10, and $35.70 per day. How do you like it taxpayers?—Ducks shouty Minor.

Toothache proceeds from ague in the face, operating upon the exposed nerve of a decayed tooth. Rub the gum thoroughly with the finger, wet with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, heat the face well, and lap a flannel wet with the liniment into the cavity of the tooth on cotton.

The system frequently gets out of order and should be at once regulated, else other troubles will ensue; when physics is needed take Parson's Purgative Pills; they are a safe, wholesome, and natural medicine.

An important arbitration is going on in Carlisle between Rehill and McTague, plaintiffs and John and P. A. Hall defendants. The plaintiffs claim for money alleged to be due them on their contract for the construction of the Harrisburg and Potomac railroad.
