

The Pennsylvania prohibitionists have nominated a State ticket.

Marshall Jewell, the new Postmaster-General, will take charge of his department on the 1st of September.

The story from Bennington, Vermont, to the effect that little Charlie Ross, the abducted Philadelphia youth, had been found in that town is entirely unfounded.

In Missouri, after the 1st day of January, 1876, every person, in order to become a voter must be able to read and write.

There were 140,000 houses in Philadelphia searched for the abducted boy, Charley Ross, the police force being at the job three days.

The Governor, Attorney-General and Secretary of State will give a hearing to the counsel for Underwood, on the 8th of October, to show cause why the latter should not be executed as sentenced.

Grasshoppers have literally decimated everything in northern and southwestern Kansas and Nebraska. The corn crop throughout that region is totally destroyed.

A detailed account has been published of the recent massacre of ten thousand Roman Catholic native converts in China. The massacre broke out on the 25th of February last.

A pauper in the poor-house of Lee county, Iowa, is 94 years old, and has several children living, all of whom are in comfortable circumstances. One of them is a minister. He must be rather rusty on the ten commandments.

Mr. Ferdinand Bodman, a Cincinnati tobaccoist, whose estate is worth $2,000,000, died in that city last week. His father, who was a judge, came to this country and settled in Hagerstown, Md., in the year 1822, where he remained to his death, six years later.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that purchasers of confiscated real estate of rebels have a tenure only during the life of the disloyal owner. The effect of this decision will probably be to cause such estates to revert to the heirs of the original proprietors after their death.

Marshal Bazaine, of France, who was lately convicted of improperly surrendering his army at Metz, and sentenced to death, but whose sentence was afterwards commuted to twenty years exile on the Isle de Sainte Marguerite, made his escape from the island on Sunday night a week, taking passage for Italy. There is great excitement in Paris in consequence.

Some idea of the amazing number of locusts out West is formed by the fact that on the line of the St. Joseph and Denver Railroad, between Axtall and Beattie, they covered the track two inches deep, and although the engineers put on a powerful head of steam and tried to drive through them, the train was nine hours going eleven miles.

The reports from the Indian agencies are of an encouraging nature. The agent for the Cheyennes and Arapahoes writes, under date of August 8, that nearly the whole tribe of Cheyennes have come in and are gathered at the agency, and that an enrolment of the Arapahoes is being taken, a task never before attempted.

The coal operators have overstocked the market, and a dispatch from Pottsville states that there will probably be a general suspension of work at the principal collieries through the Schuylkill and Luzerne regions until the 1st of September. Very little coal has been mined during the last few days, and the cars which have been sent to the mines have mainly stood there empty. It will be fortunate for the workmen if the suspension last no longer than during the next two weeks.

The indiscriminate slaughter of game of all kinds in the United States has aroused leading sportsmen to the necessity of at once taking measures looking to the preservation of game and fish, and accordingly a call has been issued for a national sportsmen's convention, to meet at Niagara Falls on the 9th of September. In a circular accompanying the call attention is called to the fact that this unrestricted destruction has resulted in the total extermination in this country of some varieties of animals and birds, or driving them so far away from populated districts that isolated specimens are now only rarely found in the remotest wildernesses. Measures for the revision of the game laws in the several States is one of the principal objects of the meeting.

The New Postal Law.—Under the new postal law, which allows four pounds of merchandise to go through the mails for thirty-two cents, the forwarding of samples, instruments, &c., by mail has been largely increased. The highest postal rate for four pounds is about as low as that of the express companies to near points, and much lower than express rates to more distant parts of the country.

Mrs. Essar, whose husband was recently arrested in New York for forgery, won a $4,000 bustle.

Local News.

Dog days end on Sunday next.

The Summer is rapidly waning.

Squirrels cannot be legally shot until the first of September.

To-day Trinity Reformed Sabbath School is picnicing at Beautiful View Springs.

The Cumberland Valley Camp Meeting, near Oakville, commenced yesterday.

Rev. J. C. Caldwell has accepted the call of the Central Presbyterian church of Chambersburg.

Young men are so scarce in Carlisle that each one has to take from eight to fourteen girls to a pic-nic, and all want to hang on his arm at once.

LARGE HAUL.—Mr. John Russell, yesterday morning returned from a fishing excursion with out-liges, with thirty-three eels. The eels were caught in the creek near Mt. Hope.

ANOTHER MELON.—On Monday last a water-melon about the size of a nail keg was dumped down in our office, this time a present from our esteemed friend, Mr. Jacob H. Forney, of Baltimore.

GONE.—Mrs. David E. Stover with her two daughters took the cars at Greencastle on Wednesday of last week for California, where she will join her husband, who is now, says the Valley Echo, a Justice of the Peace and Conveyancer in the Golden State.

LARGE Calf.—Mr. Lambert Sanders of this place on Tuesday last purchased a calf from Mr. W. S. Reed, of Quincy township, which was six days old on that day and weighed one hundred and forty-five pounds. For large calves Quincy township beats the county.

SUN-STROKE.—At the pic-nic on Thursday Harry Funk, an employee in Frick & Co.'s Moulding Shop, had an attack of sun-stroke remaining in a critical situation for some time. Drs. Frantz and Herring were summoned and administered to his relief. He is about again as usual.

TRI-GRANGE BASKET PIC-NIC.—A Tri-Grange Basket Pic-nic will be held in Gordon's grove along the turnpike, near Shady Grove, on Friday, the 28th of August next. An invitation is extended to Patrons and the public generally. Prominent speakers and a band of music will be in attendance.

ARE YOU ASSESSED?—Persons not assessed in the township must hand their names to Jacob S. Good, assessor, on or before the 21 day of September next, otherwise they will be deprived of voting at the coming election. The last two days Mr. Good will be found at the voting place, Barr's Hotel.

J. W. Miller is the town assessor, upon whom citizens not assessed will call as above directed.

ADDRESSING PRESS.—We have purchased one of Rukenbrod's Patent Addressing Presses, and instead of writing print subscribers names on the paper or wrapper, showing the date to which each subscription account has been settled.—The dates in some instances will doubtless be found incorrect. With satisfactory evidence of such errors the corrections will be made.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.—The Democratic Convention on Tuesday nominated the following ticket:

For the Assembly—Simon Leeron, of Washington township; Milton Embick, of Antrim; Simon Bitner, Southampton.—Sheriff—John Sweeney, Green. Commissioner, Samuel Coble, St. Thomas. Director of the Poor, Wm. Bossard, Hamilton. District Attorney, O. J. Bowers, Chambersburg.

LARGE SALE.—In to-day's paper the Assignees of the Waynesboro' Manufacturing Company offer at public sale the machinery, tools, lumber and other property belonging to said company, with lot and buildings.

If an enterprising mechanic or two were to buy the machinery, tools and stock—and we have no doubt a bargain could be had in their purchase—they would do a profitable business. A manufactory of the kind is needed here and in the hands of a couple of practical men would be liberally patronized. If such offer is not made, the assignees purpose disposing of the valuable machinery, etc. by the piece.

FRIGHTFUL RUN OFF.—On the afternoon of the Pic Nic (Thursday) Mr. L. Sanders, visiting our town from Coalburg, Ohio, was riding out, and when near the pic-nic ground his buggy became un-coupled. He succeeded in getting out, but the horse afterwards took fright and getting away from him made frightful leaps with the front carriage of the vehicle in the direction where the crowd of children were gathered, but fortunately one of the wheels struck a stump which left the horse out of the shafts and turned him in another direction. But for this the consequence might have been serious.

Yesterday the Republican State Convention was held at Harrisburg for the purpose of nominating candidates for Judge of the Supreme Court, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and Auditor General.

UNION BASKET PIC-NIC.—The Union Sabbath School Basket Pic Nic on Thursday last was held in Lesh's woods along side of the Leitersburg turnpike, about one mile from town. The day proved a pleasant one, scholars, teachers and spectators all seeming to enjoy a pleasant time. The town and country seemed to vie with each other in sending the most persons to the pic-nic—they were there from the infant to the men and women of three score and ten; all seemed to take to the situation quite readily—places were selected, kettles swung, dinner prepared, to which the walk to and rambling through the woods gave zest. After dinner the usual plays and pastimes were indulged in to the no small gratification of not only the little but as well the "big" children, who entered into the spirit of the occasion as if the hand of time had rested lightly on them. This was in every sense a union pic-nic and all the petty jealousies of creeds and cliques were for the time forgotten. The Waynesboro' Band was in attendance and at intervals discoursed appropriate pieces of music.

We are requested by the managers to express thanks to Geo. J. Balseley, Esq., President of the turnpike company, who in his usual whole-souled way granted a free permit for travel over the road.

We have no recollection of witnessing on similar occasions such a display of delicacies as was in many instances there spread. For a basket pic-nic such profusion of eatables is, we think, out of place, and prove a great hindrance to pleasures the female portion would otherwise enjoy. A basket of substantial, without the usual array of queensware, glassware, cutlery, &c., ought to suffice on such occasions.

IN TROUBLE.—Some of our sporting young men who were recently fishing and bird-shooting along the Antietam, in Washington county have, it appears, made themselves amenable to the law, the Maryland Legislature having passed special acts for the protection of birds and fish in that county. The parties reported and for whom warrants have been issued were not aware that they were acting in violation of law, but once in the hands of the proper authorities this plea will be of no avail.

One of the parties referred to (three persons) a few days since played a flank movement on the Leitersburg constable. They visited the creek at an early hour in the morning for the purpose of raising out-lines. They were engaged in the vicinity of Bell's dam when the constable made his appearance at Dayhoff's shop, where they had left their horse and wagon. By some means the fishermen got an intimation of the august official's presence at the shop and his business, and beat a retreat over the line with a fine lot of eels, leaving behind a portion of their lines. They were not out of the dilemma however, the horse and wagon being at the place where the constable was still awaiting their return. They were not long in devising a plan to extricate themselves. A neighbor however was sent after the horse and wagon, whilst the officer was reconnoitering the ground, drove the horse and wagon across the line, the party thus making good their escape. The officer discovering that the fishermen had out-manoeuvred him left for home, report says, in no very amiable mood.—The fine it seems for fishing is $20.00 for each offense, the one-half going to the informer.

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY.—Trinity Reformed Sunday School celebrated its fortieth anniversary on the 9th inst. The occasion was improved by the pastor, Rev. H. H. W. Hibbsman, preaching a sermon to parents and teachers. Subject: "The true Christian training of our children." The year just closing was the most prosperous the school ever enjoyed. The statistics are as follows: Number of officers and teachers on the roll, 34; scholars in main department, 110; scholars in infant department, 66; total, 210 teachers and scholars. Average attendance 113; largest attendance in one day 157; number present on Sunday a week 146; number of persons visiting the school during the last eight months 390. A. N.

OLD CITIZENS PARALYZED.—Mr. Jacob Hoover, a well-known citizen of the Ringgold (Md.) District, aged about 70 years, was partially paralyzed in May last, since which time he has been entirely without the power of speech. At last accounts he was able to set up and with rollers to his chair could move around in his room.

Mr. Benj. Garver, another aged and well-known citizen of the same district, was paralyzed a couple weeks since, losing for a time the use of one side of his body, but at last accounts he was recovering from the attack. We understand this is the second time Mr. G. has been partially paralyzed.

The President Judges of the State are issuing orders, fixing the time for holding courts in the several districts.

In Franklin county, each Term is to continue two weeks, and will be held at the following times:

February Term—On Fourth Monday of February.

May Term—On Fourth Monday of May.

September Term—On First Monday of September.

December Term—On First Monday of December.

COURT.—We call from the Court proceedings as given in the Repository the following local option cases:

Com. vs. Andrew Shank. Selling liquor without license. The defendant was found not guilty and the prosecutor, Isaac Shockey, was sentenced to pay the costs.

Com. vs. L. B. Kurtz. Selling liquor without license. Oaths of L. B. Eyster et al. The prosecution failed to make out a case, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, but the defendant to pay the costs.

Com. vs. Wm. Cunningham. Selling liquor on Sunday. Oaths of John Cree et al. Defendant was found guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and to undergo an imprisonment in jail for ten days.

Com. vs. Samuel Brandt. Selling and furnishing spirituous liquor on the Sabbath day. The defendant has openly and defiantly violated the law. He was found guilty but failed to put in an appearance when he was wanted for sentence.

Com. vs. Michael G. Minters. There were two charges against this defendant for selling intoxicating liquor without license, one on the information of Conrad Ruths and the other on the oath of Wm. F. Horner, Constable. The defendant pleaded guilty to both charges and was sentenced to pay a fine of $150 and costs.

Com. vs. Wm. C. McNulty. Selling intoxicating liquor without license. Oaths of Jacob Streeby, L. B. Eyster, et al.—The jury found that the defendant was not guilty, but that he should pay one-third of the costs and the prosecutors two-thirds of the same.

Com. vs. Martin E. Ludwig. Selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday and without license. The jury found the defendant not guilty, and that the prosecutor, Caroline E. Walkers, should pay the costs.

Com. vs. Martin Ludwig. Selling liquor without license. Oaths of Jacob Streeby, L. B. Eyster et al. Defendant pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Com. vs. John Gelwicks. There were two cases against this defendant on charges made by the local option committee. In one case the defendant pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs; in the other case he was found not guilty, and the prosecutors to pay the costs.

MERCILESS JUDGES.—The Inter Ocean of recent date contained a good article on the subject of merciless judges, showing that those who make the most fuss over the Tilton-Beecher scandal, are, themselves, persons who are living lives of hypocrisy and shame. Says the Inter Ocean: "When a man who has stood aloft in society commits an offense which even the rabble rebuke, the sting and the punishment are indeed great. It will be noted however, that at the bottom of all this outcry of the seiled and polluted mob is the pernicious and defamatory assertion that all virtuous professions are shams, all religion a cloak, all goodness hypocrisy. This was the assertion of the shameless Woodhull and her still more shameless sister, Tannie C. Claflin, while in Chicago a few days ago, enroute for New York. It is the assertion of all whose own degraded lives make them long to drag others down to the level of their own immorality. But these infamous men and still more infamous women may as well understand that their efforts will be unavailing. The old principle of virtue, which comes to us like the benediction of the dying, which taught the ancient fathers and mothers of the race that its loss could only be wiped out in death, is still abroad in the hearts of the people, and will not be destroyed though a thousand traitors should fall and twice a thousand wives forget their fealty. The rebound from the blow inflicted by the fall of Mr. Beecher, if fall it is, will send this standard of human excellence higher and fix it more inflexibly in the hearts of good men and women than ever before. Such a sad, trying example, may indeed be needed to warn the people of the dangerous tendencies of the age. If freedom, with all its damnable heresies, its destruction of all that is best and loveliest in mankind, seeks to raise itself upon this latest scandal and, gaining immunity from this example, strike its poisonous fangs into the heart of society, let an indignant people frown it down. The children of this generation have had enough of evil and corrupting example. Be it the part of good men and women high or low, to teach the world that there is virtue, honor and decency still left in the land."

The following is a list of fines of violators of the Local Option law in Blair county: Levi Knott, $220, costs and ninety days in jail; Samuel Rhen, $50 and costs; Patrick Reimold, (the racer), $50 and costs; W. R. Smith, $200, costs and ninety days in jail; Mrs. Ann Lasher, $100, costs and ninety days in jail; Jauo Higgins, $50 and costs; John Ehringer, $100, costs; John Ehringer and Geo. Geesey $200 and costs, and Ehringer ninety days in jail; Gebhart Myers, $100 and costs; Cameron Johnson, $100 and costs; F. W. and Chas. Rauch, $200 and sixty days each in jail. Total amount of fines, $1,470.

All the year round, Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders should be given to horses that are kept up. To horses and cattle that graze in summer they should only be given in winter and spring.

SAD CASE OF SUICIDE.—Mr. Samuel Strook residing at Cashtown, Hamilton township, ended his life by hanging himself to a girder in his stable on Friday morning last. It appears that he was greatly annoyed about a suit in court with one of his neighbors. On the day before, the case was tried and decided against him—the verdict of the jury throwing him into the costs of probably fifty dollars. Returning home in the evening he remarked to his daughter that this was his "first suit in court and it would be his last," but the apparent careless manner in which it was expressed, excited no suspicion on the part of the members of the household. On Friday morning about half-past six o'clock, he left the house to attend to the feeding of his stock. He was called to breakfast, but not appearing, Mrs. S. went to the stable and found him hanging to the girder. Greatly alarmed, she called in several of the neighbors who cut him down and sent word of the occurrence to Esquire Davidson of this place, who engaged a jury, proceeded thither and held an inquest on the body rendering a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The following gentlemen constituted the jury of inquest: Messrs. W. C. McKnight, F. A. Zarman, John Forbes, Jacob Krider and Frederick Mish. Mr. S. was aged about 70 years.—Opinion.

BLACK LIST.—The following individuals have swindled us out of the sums annexed to their names, or, so far, at least, have refused to settle any part of their accounts, and in order that they may not successfully play the part of "dead beats" in other localities, we give the public their names, and will continue to add a few more of the same sort from week to week, and as they appear their names will be dropped from our list as subscribers:

The Hagerstown Daily News says that the hand of affliction has fallen upon Mr. George S. and Louisa Miller of that place. They had laid seven children under the sod, and on Thursday their hearts were redden by the loss of their infant child, Frederick Guard. Eight little graves nestle in the church-yard—eight pure spirits have gone to mingle with the beauties of heaven—eight heavy strokes from a chastening hand—but eight little links to bind the hearts of the living to the Hereafter.

LYNCHING.—On Thursday night last the negro Talliaferro under sentence of death at Martinsburg, Va. for the murder of a girl named Annie Butler, was taken from the jail by a mob and suspended to a locust tree about a mile from that place. The negro to the last protested that he was innocent of the crime.

SCHOOL.—The public schools in our town will be opened on Monday, the 31st inst.

One man, at least, comes out of the Beecher-Tilton scandal with an unspotted reputation. His name is Horace Greeley. When Tilton urged him to call at his house during his absence, Mr. Greeley declined. He said he did not think it a good habit to visit a wife while her husband was away. These were creditable words.

Mrs. Martha Mugee, 35 years old, of Cynthia county, Ky. owns 400 acres of land in the blue grass region, and raises cattle and takes them to market like other drovers. The last time she came to Pittsburg she brought two car loads, and was helped by her son of seventeen years.—She is a smart woman and is respected by the other drovers.

Several months ago a man named Benjamin Ridenour, who has a wife and children living near Cavetown, Washington county, eloped with a young girl named Diffendal, but recently he returned to his home, bringing the girl with him.—The grand jury found an indictment against him.

Officers and soldiers who served in the army, physicians, surgeons, and eminent men and women everywhere, join in recommending Johnson's Anodyne Linctment to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

George Stanley, living in Carrollton, Mo., went home late last Friday night, and observing someone in his hen-house, took a shot gun and fired at the object, and killed his mother, who had gone there to catch some chickens.

A want has been felt and expressed by physicians for a safe and reliable purgative. Such a want is now supplied in Parsons' Purgative Pills.

Henry K. Bond, of Jefferson, Maine, was cured of spitting blood, soreness and weakness of the stomach, by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Linctment internally.

A mob of white and colored men hanged a negro at Warrensburg, Mo., on Friday night for ravishing a white child six years old.

Five years ago there were but six Protestant Churches in Mexico. Now there are ninety-eight.
